Several Northland Community College students performed at the Fine Arts Festival April 28 and 29 at Arrowwood Resort in Alexandria. The two-day event showcased top vocal and instrumental music students from each of the Minnesota Community College campuses.

Students participating in the event were Karlace Johnson, Dawn Klopp, Jodie Meiby and Kyle Svendsgaard of Thief River Falls; Val Horachek and Andy Dahlin of Goodridge; Dennis Buegier of Baudette; Isaac Peterson of Oklee; Blair Jenson of Badger; Jason Gusek of Red Lake Falls; and Chris Davidson of Warroad.

The festival choir, directed by Larry Bach, performed "Kyrie Eleison" from the "Nelson Mass" by J. Haydn; "Let Nothing Ever Grieve Thee" by J. Brahms, "the Shepherd's Chorus" from "Amahl and the Night Visitors" by G.C. Menotti, "Zion's Walls" by A. Copland, and "O Sifuni Mungu" arranged by D. Maddux.

The festival band, directed by Fred Nyline, performed "Hounds of Spring," "They Hung Their Harps in the Willows," "Star Puzzle March," "Sakura, Sakura," and "Medley from Miss Saigon."

Larry Bach received his vocal performance degree from West Virginia Wesleyan college and his MM in conducting from the University of Minnesota. He has studied at American Institute of Musical Studies in Graz, Austria.

Frederick Nyline is a professor of trombone and low brass at Luther College. He conducts the Luther College concert band and the varsity band. Before joining the Luther faculty in 1973, Nyline served as assistant director of bands and conducted the University Men's Chorus at the University of Minnesota.

With a rider on the ground (note boot at left side of photo), Todd "Chief" Propson attempts to distract this bull during the Thief River Falls Stampede bull riding event Saturday night. The young Wisconsin bullfighter seems to have the bull's undivided attention.

Teamwork between horse and rider with a little help from the steer makes for a successful steer wrestling ride. This PRCA cowboy at the Thief River Falls Stampede is about to descend upon his steer in an effort to grab the horns, bring the animal to a stop and take it off its feet.

Local students make MSU honor society

Moorhead State University's chapter of Delta Mu Delta, a national honor society for business majors, inducted 35 juniors and seniors at its annual initiation ceremony and banquet last Saturday.

To be eligible for membership, students must have a cumulative DPA of 3.2 or higher, be in the top 20 per cent of their class, have completed at least half of the course work required for a baccalaureate degree, and be of good character.

Officers elected to serve for the 1994-95 school year: president Sheila Hansen of Fargo, ND; vice president, Jane Carlson from Thief River Falls; treasurer, Nicole Greni from Beulah, ND; and secretary, Sandy Wirth from Wadena.

Patricia Johnsen of Thief River Falls, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Johnsen, is also a member of the organizaton.

Iowa cowgirl promoter of rodeo at every opportunity

by Marvia Lundio
Times Editor

If a person were to have three guesses what an Iowa community college horticulture professor would do on a weekend, chances are none of them would be professional rodeo barrel racing.

That being the case, the person doing the guessing wouldn't know Donna Rankin of Crescent, IA. She was into rodeo before she was into college and it seems she would rather talk about rodeo than roses just about any time.

Donna has a good reason to talk rodeo. She is currently the vice president of the Women's Professional Rodeo Association (WPRA) which has its headquarters in Blanchard, OK. She represented this Great Lakes Circuit as its director on the board of the association for half a dozen years before she was encouraged to run for the vice presidency.

Donna coached the college rodeo team at Murray State University and later worked on recruiting members for the team. Then she moved to the Omaha, NE, area to work and it was there she was nominated for the directorship from the Great Lakes Circuit.

There are 12 circuits in the WPRA and 14 members on the WPRA board—the president, vice president and secretary and one representative from each circuit except for the Big Sky and Badlands circuits which have one representative between them. When Donna became vice president, she had to relinquish her Great Lakes Circuit directorship.

In Thief River Falls last Friday for the opening performance of the Third Annual Thief River Falls Stampede, Rankin welcomed the opportunity to talk about the WPRA, its history, evolution and its involvement in rodeo today.

The association grew out of a group of Texas ranch women who formed in 1948 to add a little color and femininity to the rough-and-tumble world of rodeo. Saddle bronc riding and trick riding were the only things women were allowed to participate in at the early rodeos and wild west shows.

The cloverleaf-shaped barrel racing competition then developed and continues to be a major women's event. But it is not the only event for women rodeo enthusiasts. The Professional Women's Rodeo Association is under the umbrella of the WPRA and the women of that organization conduct competition in riding and timed events similar to their male counterparts.

"All-girl rodeos are common and popular in Texas, Arizona, New Mexico, Colorado and Wyoming," Rankin said. "They use stock from the high school and junior rodeos but they do bull riding and the whole works."

Donna used to compete in the goat-tying and break-away roping events but now restricts her participation to barrel racing. Goat-tying is similar to the calf roping event with a goat being roped and tied instead of a calf. Breakaway roping is similar to the calf roping except that no tie is made and the rope is released by the rider after the calf is roped.

Donna has a couple of personal interests that she is working on through the WPRA. One is the importance of having good ground on which to have rodeo events take place. She says that conditions vary extensively from place to place with virtually every kind of soil and situation experienced at one time or another. The WPRA is working on a video to help local rodeo associations become familiar with what can be done to make rodeo grounds better.

Another of Donna's interests is in defending rodeo against charges of inhumane treatment of animals. She emphasizes the tradition of rodeo and that most of its events have their roots in actual practices required in cattle ranching years ago—and still taking place to some extent today. She said that rodeo participants and stock contractors make their living from the animals and that it is important to keep them in top condition.

"A good horse or a bucking bull is worth thousands of dollars," she said. "With that kind of an investment it only makes sense to take good care of it."

Rankin said that ropers, steer wrestlers, barrel racers and others who must trailer their horses from event to event stop every few hours on the road to take the animals out and exercise them. She said the horses can and do sleep on the road—a luxury that often isn't afforded to the contestants themselves.

While it is not a requirement that officers of the WPRA are active participants in rodeo events Donna thinks that it is important for her to be a contestant. "I feel I should be competing to stay current," she says. "Unless you are involved in the sport it is easy to miss what is going on out there and to understand the feelings and concerns of the members."

Within the WPRA itself, Donna said that updating is being done on the computer system which will make it more responsive to the members and easier to coordinate with the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association (PRCA).

In the WPRA as well as the PRCA, contestants are not paid a salary. Their earnings are based on the money they can win in competition and the sponsors and product endorsements they can attract. They are free to decide where they want to go and when. Donna Rankin chose to come to Thief River Falls to compete in the Stampede. She is an educated and articulate spokesperson for her sport and her association. We hope she chooses to come back and compete here again.

Donna Rankin, vice president of the Woman's Professional Rodeo Association, competed in the barrel racing event at the Thief River Falls Stampede Friday evening. She finished out of the money but said she feels the need to continue competing in order to be in tune with the members of the association.

When a ton of agitated bull wants a piece of your hide, evasive action is in order. Bullfighter "Chief" Propson of Chilton, WI, had a number of close encounters during the TRF Stampede last weekend.

Area students receive awards at BSU banquets

Area students have received special awards at Bemidji State University in May.

Denise Edgar of Thief River Falls was the recipient of the Native American Student Academic Excellence Award. She is a social work graduate of the university.

Edgar received her award at the annual Indian Awards Banquet, which honored all graduates and enrolled students who had a 3.0 grade point average or higher during any of the past three quarters.

Susan Wetenkamp of Red Lake Falls and Jill Moe of Grygla were among students at the university who received 1994 Promising New Writers Awards. Wetenkamp is a freshman and Moe is a senior majoring in sociology.

BSU faculty identify students who show promise as writers at the end of the year, based on stories, essays, poems and research papers written by the students throughout the basic English sequence of courses. Students were honored at a banquet held during English Week at the campus.

Lumberjacks rock Prowlers

■ Bemidji belts six home runs in 18-6 win

Bemidji put on a long ball hitting display Thursday, the likes of which may have never been seen before at Irv Wilson Field, in an 18-6 high school baseball win over Thief River Falls.

The Lumberjacks hit six home runs in the five-inning mis-match – by six different players. Four of those fence-clearing shots came during a 10-run Bemidji first inning.

After losing season-opening North Sub-Section 8AA games to Detroit Lakes and Fergus Falls, Thief River Falls' upcoming playoff hopes were boosted earlier in the week with a 4-3 eight-inning win at Moorhead. But the 5-6 Prowlers were no match for the 10-1 Lumberjacks, whose only loss this spring came against Moorhead.

The often-used "it ain't over, 'till it's over," athletic quip was shot to pieces when the Lumberjacks hit double figures in the run column in their first at-bat.

Half of the eight first inning Bemidji hits were homers – a lead-off shot by Jeff Breyen, additional solo efforts by D.J. McGauran and Matt Stevens, along with a three-run blast by Paul Oelrich.

The home run hitting contest later included two-run pokes by Ray Mostad in the second inning and Caleb Cochran in the fourth.

When the dust settled, the Lumberjacks had 14 base hits, including a 3-for-4 showing by Stevens, the No. 8 hitter in the line-up, and two hits apiece for Cochran, Oelrich and Mostad, who matched Oelrich's three RBI.

Bemidji's power show hiked the Lumberjacks' home run total to 18 in 12 games.

The Prowlers, meanwhile, recorded their third homer of the year when they joined the long-ball parade with a three-run job by Nathan Anderson in the bottom of the fifth. That made the score a little more respectable, but still didn't stop the game-shortening 10-run rule from going into effect.

Thief River Falls starting pitcher Jayson Olson failed to make it out of the first inning and was tagged with the loss after giving up the first six Bemidji runs. Brian Minks was charged with 11 runs in 2 1/3 innings of work and John Elizando gave up the final run in a two-inning stint at the end.

"Obviously they hit the ball," said Thief River Falls coach Lee Alger. "We got the ball up and they hit it."

While Bemidji hit rockets around, and out of the ball park, in defense of the Thief River Falls pitchers, only four of the Lumberjacks' 18 runs were earned because of inning-extending Thief River Falls errors.

The Prowlers managed to pick up eight hits off Bemidji pitchers Mike Christianson, the starter and winner, and Cory Johnson, who threw the final two innings. Elizando was 2-for-2 after entering the game in the fourth inning, while Nick Chiodo and Chanc Keefe were both 2-for-3.

Bemidji runner Matt Stevens was able to dive back to the bag before Thief River Falls first baseman Joby Looker was able to make the tag on this fourth inning pick-off play in Thursday's North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball game at Irv Wilson Field. The Lumberjacks beat the Prowlers 18-6.

Prowlers lose tennis dual to Panthers, 4-3

Injuries might have played a part in the outcome Tuesday as Thief River Falls lost a 4-3 boys high school tennis dual to Park Rapids.

The Prowlers played without the services of seniors Kyle Jordet, out with a broken wrist, and David Johnson, sidelined by an ankle sprain.

"It hurt not having Jordet and Johnson, but we still had some close matches, and the guys played hard," said Thief River Falls coach Jay Fomey.

Oklee/Red River Falls/Plummer cooperative is a winner...

Numbers produce track title

By pooling their resources, Oklee, Plummer and Red Lake Falls have produced a winning combination in boys high school track.

The spring combination, which adds Red Lake Falls to the Oklee/Plummer cooperative that operates as Red Lake County Central throughout the fall and winter, won championship honors in the Section 7A True Team meet May 5 at Bemidji.

Sponsored by the Minnesota State High School Track Coaches Association, the True Team format rewards depth instead of having a few top individuals deciding the outcome – a frequent occurrence in Minnesota State High School League-sponsored sectional and state meets. Only the top placing individuals earn points at MSHSL meets. Every finisher is a point-producer in the True Team concept.

With close to 100 boys in sweats and running shorts this spring, the joint Red Lake County team is a major benefactor from True Team scoring.

"I like it," said Lawrence Vettleson of Oklee, talking about the True Team format. "It's for all the kids, not just a few."

Vettleson and Red Lake Falls' Brad Gran serve as the Red Lake County track coaches. Vettleson works mostly with the boys; Gran directs the girls.

The boys collected 468 1/2 points in winning their first-ever sectional meet. Clearbrook-Gonvick and Pequot Lakes were their closest challengers in the 10-team field with 455 1/2 and 455 points, respectively.

They didn't win, but the girls also showed well at the Section 7A meet, finishing behind only Bertha-Hewitt/Verndale, Bagley and Northland (Remer).

The Red Lake County boys will be rewarded for their efforts with an appearance at the 1994 True Team state meet May 21 at the National Sports Center in Blaine.

"Everybody is psyched," reported Vettleson. "They're really looking forward to the opportunity to compete at the state level."

The depth-producing numbers keys the team's success, but there are also some outstanding individuals, many of them bunched in the shorter races.

"We've got a lot of sprinters – some very good sprinters," noted Vettleson.

Leading the speedsters is senior Shannon Willett, an MSHSL state meet qualifier in the 100 meters last spring.

Willett, Nathan Patnode, Darrin Hofstad, Eric Reinbold, Scott Lambert, and Paul Peterson have all been used in the 4x100 relay, which should be a top contender when the MSHSL Section 8A meet unfolds June 4 in East Grand Forks.

"Actually, we're pretty strong all around," said Vettleson, who is in his sixth year as coach. It's the second year of the Red Lake Falls/Red Lake County Central combination. "It's the best team I've ever worked with."

Vettleson doesn't want the girls, who are led by sprinter Farrah Brantl and distance runner Melissa Magner, to miss out on recognition, either. "They're young, but they have a lot of good kids," he said. "They'll be really tough the next couple of years."

The program is successful, despite lack of a track to train on. Practices are held in Plummer. "We just run around the football field and in the gym," pointed out Vettleson. "We tell the kids at the beginning of the season we want to do two things – first, to have fun; then to win."

They've accomplished both goals.

Red Lake County 11-1 winner over T-C/MCC

Tri-County/Marshall County Central mustered just three hits off Aaron Chaput Thursday in an 11-1 high school baseball loss to Red Lake County.

Barret Germundson had an RBI single in the fourth inning to plate the only run for the visitors.

Blaise Larson was 3-for-3 to lead the Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer cooperative.

Chaput struck out nine in the five-inning game. Tollef Olson pitched the first three innings for the 4-10 Tri-County/Marshall County Central squad and took the loss. Shawn Leach pitched in relief.

Prowlers part of 8AA True Team track field

All finishers were point-producers Thursday as Thief River Falls took part in the 1994 Section 8AA True Team high school track meet at Park Rapids.

When the numbers were totaled, the Little Falls boys and Park Rapids Area girls were state meet bound as team champions.

Minnesota State High School League track meets score points for the top place finishers, only. The Minnesota State Track Coaches Association-sponsored True Team format awards points to every finisher in every event.

Thief River Falls boys finished in a seventh place tie in a field of 12. Thief River Falls girls also wound up seventh in a field of 11.

"It's a different type of meet," acknowledged Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson, who was happy with the Prowlers' efforts. "We had some nice surprises. We're starting to put the pieces of the puzzle together."

Errors lead to 4-1 TRF baseball win

Lee Alger gave Cory Jenkins his first varsity high school baseball start Tuesday and the junior right-handed pitcher made the most of the opportunity with a complete-game, four-hit effort that helped lead the Prowlers to a 4-1 win over Red Lake County.

Jenkins struck out four and walked seven. He faced his biggest challenge in the bottom of the sixth when he recorded a bases-loaded, two-out, full-count strike-out to preserve a 1-1 tie.

His teammates provided him with the win by scoring three times in the top of the seventh without the benefit of a base hit.

"He (Jenkins) deserved a chance to pitch," said Alger, the School District 564 Activities Director who added the baseball head coaching duties to his work load this spring. "He did a really nice job. He got into trouble a couple of times, but he kept his composure and got through it."

The two teams sailed through five scoreless innings before both came up with sixth inning runs. The visiting Prowlers struck first on a one-out single by Steve Bursile, a sacrifice bunt by Chanc Keefe and a run-producing error.

A 5-4 winner when the two teams met earlier this spring in Thief River Falls, the Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer cooperative came up with three walks, an error and a base hit in the bottom of the sixth, but got just one run out of it – on a wild pitch.

Red Lake County then fell apart defensively in the seventh. Two errors and a walk gave the Prowlers a one-out, bases-loaded opportunity. A fly ball to short left field resulted in the second out of the inning, but an error on the throw back to the infield allowed the tie-breaking run to cross the plate, then back-to-back infield errors scored two more runs for the 4-1 final.

"We were happy with the win," said Alger, whose team was coming off a headline-producing 5-4 eight-inning North Sub-Section 8AA victory at Moorhead the previous day. "We were a little down emotionally coming off our game against Moorhead the day before," acknowledged Alger, "but the kids hung in there and got the job done."

Dan Gagner was the losing pitcher, giving up seven hits while striking out three and walking three in a route-going effort.

Joby Looker was 3-for-4 and Nathan Anderson went 2-for-3 for the Prowlers. Ryan Salberg had a 2-for-4 game for the home team.

It was fifth win in 11 starts for Thief River Falls. Red Lake County Central lost for just the second time.

Northland comes up with two wins against Brainerd

Concentration on matters at hand didn't prove to be a problem for the Northland Community College baseball team Wednesday.

En route to the Twin Cities area for the Friday/Saturday National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 tournament, the Pioneers stopped in Brainerd on the way for a regularly-scheduled Northern Division doubleheader. At stake was a bid to stay among the leaders vying for a Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament bid.

Focused for the day on Brainerd, Northland came up with a 6-2, 9-0 sweep to go 16-6 for the year; 15-5 in the MCCC.

Northland 6

Trever Magner's bat is a key to success for Tri-County/MCC

Trever Magner was 4-for-4 with two doubles Monday to lead Tri-County/Marshall County Central to a 13-2 five-inning high school baseball win over host Ada-Borup/Norman County West/Climax.

The winners' offensive attack also included two hits apiece for Nathan Peterson, Jason Blomquist, Corey Schouten, and Travis Black. Blomquist homered; Schouten broke open a close game with a three-run double on a 2-2 pitch in the fourth inning.

Blomquist was the winning pitcher.

The win put Tri-County/Marshall County Central at 4-9 for the year.

Fergus Falls takes softball twinbill vs. Northland 5-2, 10-0

Northland lost a close first-game decision and a not-so-close second game verdict Tuesday in a Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader against visiting Fergus Falls.

The Spartans won 5-2 and 10-0.

"We played pretty well the first game, except for the errors," said Northland coach Rick Nikunen. "Celeste (Cormican) pitched really well. It was a well-played game."

That wasn't the case in Game 2 when Fergus Falls won in shortened 10-run rule fashion.

"We hit the ball, but we couldn't bring the runners around," explained Nikunen. "Fergus Falls had one big inning and it took us right out of it."

Gopher caravan to make promotional stop at Crookston

Crookston has been selected as one of the stops for the 1994 Golden Gopher March Across Minnesota promotional tour.

Head football coach Jim Wacker, Athletic Director McKinley Boston and radio announcer Paul Flatley will be traveling around the state promoting the 1994 Gophers football season.

The group will be at the University of Minnesota-Crookston upstairs Brown Dining Room Wednesday, May 18, for a breakfast gathering. The event starts with a 7 a.m. news conference, followed by a breakfast/Gopher '93 highlight film, then an open house format opportunity to visit with the trio.

Advance sale tickets, priced at $3, are available at KROX Radio in Crookston, 208 South Main. Tickets at the door will be $4. Shirts, caps, football tickets and posters will be offered as door prizes.

Oren Lund (left) and Dave Wehl are two of the members of the Greenbush Race Park Corporation. The Greenbush Race Park is the only race track in northern Minnesota. Races at the Greenbush track begin May 21 and will continue every Saturday until September 5. Wehl is the 1990 World Champion of the Eagle River Snowmobile races.

because people come to see the races and stick around to see what else Greenbush and surrounding towns have to offer. "It's a shot in the arm for Greenbush," he said.

Track organizers are looking forward to sunny weekends this year to bring out racing fans. The past couple of years have been wet and/or cold and kept people away. "We're looking for nice, warm weather this year," he said. "It's been hard to get a good turnout when the weather hasn't cooperated with us."

The track has seating for 2,000 people, so there should be room for everyone. The concession stand sells barbecues, hot dogs, soda pop, and all of the other treats and snacks needed for a night at the races, so Mom won't have to cook. There is also a beer garden for those who want something stronger than soda pop.

Race drivers from all around the area come to race at the Greenbush track. Races are run in the mini sprint, street car and Wissota modified classes and this year a new class has been added — sportsman. The sportsman class is geared toward beginners, to let them "get their feet wet," so to speak. According to Lund, "This class of racing is for everyone, so it will get a lot more people from the area involved in the sport."

There are special events planned along with the regular races, including the following:

• An air show on May 28.
• Vavoline Say No to Drugs special on June 11.
• Powder Puff women's race on June 24.
• Modified specials on July 20.
• Performance by the Northern Outlaw Sprints from Grand Forks on July 30.
• Fathers' race on August 5, and
• Modified Powder Puff race on August 20.

Demolition derbies are set for July 1 and September 5 for those of you who like the crunch and bump type of race.

The last race of the season, "Cheater's Night," will be held September 5 when, Lund says, "We throw the rule book away." At this race, anything goes. Any type of car modification, unusual fuel, weird driver or combination thereof is acceptable. Cheater's Night is a rollicking, just-for-fun finish to the racing year.

The races run from 7 to approximately 9:30 each Saturday. Pits are open at 4 p.m. and "hot laps" are run from 6 to 7 p.m. for those who want to check out their favorite driver. Admission is free for ages five and under, $4 for ages six to 12, and $7 for age 13 and up.

Red Lake Co. places youth in custody

Red Lake county sheriff's department placed a 16 year old Red Lake county juvenile in custody at the Polk county juvenile center in Crookston last week. The juvenile was placed in custody because of his connection with several house burglaries that occurred in Red Lake county within the past year.

The juvenile made his first appear in juvenile court in Red Lake Falls on May 11, 1994. Some of the items taken in the burglaries have been recovered.

Officials looking for stolen car

Law enforcement officials are looking for a brown 1984 American Eagle wagon. The vehicle with license plates 311 JNX, was reported stolen from a garage Thursday night. Ronald McPahit, Thief River Falls, reported Friday morning that the vehicle had been taken out of his garage sometime during the night.

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Twomey continued, "We are looking forward to fiscal 1994 with optimism, because of several factors, including the strengthening economy, increasing consumer confidence and continuing growth in both the snowmobile and personal watercraft industries. Last year, the personal watercraft market rose more than 30 per cent at retail and we are gratified by the expanding interest in our exciting Tigershark line. The snowmobile industry also showed strong growth at the retail level, and dealer inventories ended the year at historically low levels. Accordingly, based on the snowmobile orders received to date, and expected personal watercraft orders, we anticipate a significant increase in fiscal 1994 revenues."

Swantek new director of Engelstad Village

Bonnie Swanteck

Bonnie Swantek has been named director for the Pedar Engelstad Pioneer Village by the board of directors of the Pennington County Historical Society, according to Bill Dee, president.

Mrs. Swantek is a 15-year resident of Thief River Falls and teaches special education classes to students with learning disabilities at Franklin middle school. She has served as secretary of the historical society for the last three years and worked at the village as a volunteer, handling displays of artifacts at fairs in the region. She also served as typist for the Pennington County Historical Book, published in 1991, which contains over 500 biographies of county residents, businesses and churches.

Plans for the historical village this year include maintenance, clean-up and general beautification of the artifact displays and buildings, display booths at the St. Hilaire Cultural Festival and Pennington County Fair of items from the 1920s and 1930s.

Arrangements are being made to create a new office for the historical society in the Engelstad Building, constructed last year in cooperation with the County of Pennington and City of Thief River Falls with funds donated by Ralph Engelstad of Las Vegas, NV, to house farm equipment, machinery and other large items.

Mrs. Swantek said she would like to develop an advertising program using different media in order to inform the public about what the Pioneer Village has to offer. With the addition of the Engelstad building, larger pieces of equipment which once stood out in the elements have been moved into the building and some have been restored, including horse drawn, steam and gasoline powered farm equipment.

The city's old fire engine has been restored by the fire department and is on display along with a number of individually-owned antique cars. A new exhibit features the F. W. Woolworth lunch counter, welcome mat and sign.

Under the direction of Donna Myhrer the past several years, the village has had many changes of displays, addition of buildings and restoration. Much of the maintenance and restoration work was done through federally-funded programs such as the Summer Youth Program, "Green Thumb" program and individuals performing community service through the law enforcement center's "Sentence to Serve" program.

Some of the additions include a blacksmith shed, clothing exhibit and refurbishing the Hendrickson House and Soo Line Depot stationmaster apartment (still under restoration).

Mrs. Swantek said she hoped to continue the restoration process of artifacts and buildings (there are 22 buildings at last count) and "maintain a high standard of excellence in the beauty and cleanliness of the site.

"It's a big place and has lots to see," she added. "There are picnic tables and a large grass area. Families are encouraged to plan outings at the village and the pioneer church on the site is available to rent for weddings, receptions and church services. Bike riders are welcome, too."

The village will open on Sunday, May 15, at 12 noon and the public will be able to visit the village from noon to 6 p.m. from Thursday through Monday through September 30.

Mrs. Swantek is the daughter of Stanley and Lois Hallett who operated the Hallett Weatherstrip and Insulation business at Moorhead. She taught elementary and middle school for eight years in California following graduation from Moorhead State University. She met her husband, Ed, who grew up in the Buffalo, NY, area, in San Diego, CA.

The Swantecks decided to move to Thief River Falls to be closer to Bonnie's parents, brother and sister and because Ed was interested in the hunting and fishing opportunities of northern Minnesota. They also were looking for a quieter and slower-paced lifestyle.

"Thief River Falls represents to me the typical small town atmosphere," she said, "relatively safe and secure but not far from art and cultural activities of the larger communities of Fargo, Grand Forks and Winnipeg. Thief River Falls has a lot of those neat activities right in the community, including historical sites like the Pioneer Village."

The Swantecks reside in Rocksbury township southeast of Thief River Falls, not far from the original homesite of Pedar Engelstad, after whom the Pioneer Village was named.

Pennington County Historical Society is an independent, nonprofit organization which invites private membership. Annual membership dues are $10 per person or $18 per family and entitle the holder to visit the Pioneer Village throughout the summer season.

When bullfigher "Chief" Propson jumped between this bull and its fallen rider at the TRF Sempede, the bull gave him a sudden ride. Propson took a hooking but kept on cooking throughout the four performences.

Benefit dinner for Stoner family in Oslo on Wednesday

Olso — There will be a benefit dinner from 5 to 7 p.m. on Wednesday, May 25, for Janet Stoner and her five children at the Oslo school. Her husband, Don Stoner, was killed in an electrical accident at his home in April. He was a teacher and coach and lived in Oslo. There will also be a water fight and games for all ages following the dinner. Donations may be sent to Rick Anderson, Valley State Bank, Oslo, MN 56744.

Mahnomen man injured in Detroit Lakes accident

Mahnomen — A Mahnomen man is in satisfactory condition in a Fargo hospital after a boating accident last weekend in Detroit Lakes. Ronald Francis Williams, 21, was struck by a propeller after being thrown from a boat that made a sharp turn too close to the shore on Little Detroit Lake. Williams was rescued by a paramedic from EMS who was driving past the lake and saw the accident.

Wes the Lake of the Woods School Board pulling a faat one?

Warroad — Parents and the Lake of the Woods school board disagreed over a proposed change in next year's school calendar that would extend the school year into the second week of June. About 50 disgruntled people attended a special meeting for parents' input held at 8 a.m. the morning of the fishing opener. Charges that the school board was trying to operate in secret and that the board set the meeting date and time to intentionally conflict with the fishing opener were made. The school board stated that the changes in the calendar were made to give the students breaks at times when attendance is traditionally low, like during deer hunting season and at the end of the second trimester. Parents who attended the meeting were unanimously against the longer calendar and proposed a shorter spring break and Christmas break so that school could end for the year shortly after Memorial Day, as it does at the present time. The board finally decided to accept an alternate calendar which has school opening on September 6, an 11 day Christmas vacation, a full week off in March and school closing on June 2.

Fertile police will be bike patrolling

Fertile — From now on, Fertile will have a bike patrol. Police Chief Pat Tuseth says the bike will save wear and tear on the new police car, which is a Blazer. He also said his children will not be riding the new police bike — his children have their own bikes. Tuseth believes that the bike will definitely be a deterrant to crime in the city of Fertile. For one thing, he said the bike is much quieter than the police car and can catch crooks unaware.

"Melodies of May" concert Tuesday night

"The Melodies of May' concert by Lincoln high school choirs under the direction of Darcy Reese will be presented Tuesday, May 24, at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Admission is free to the public and students involved in the vocal music program at Lincoln would appreciate a large attendance at their last concert for the 1993-94 school year.

"The choirs and I would like to thank the Thief River Falls community and surrounding areas for all of the support—financially and by attendance—they have shown throughout this busy year. It's so satisfying to prepare concerts for such a supportive community," Mrs. Reese said.

Opening the program Tuesday promptly at 8 p.m. will be a gypsy song entitled "Zigeunerleben" (A Gypsy's Life) by Schumann and including all 130 singers involved in the various phases of the concert. Soloists within the selection will be Lori Golightly, Jessica Hoffman, Chris Tveitbakk, Dan Spielman, Laura Toren and Chris Tsukichi with accompanists including Cathy Hagen on piano, Chris Tveitbakk on triangle and Danae Dekkers on tambourine.

The second mass choir selection will be "Fire in the Furnace" by Kirby Shaw. "This contemporary spiritual has a powerful message that all should see and hear," Mrs. Reese said. Laura Toren will be the narrator with Chris Tveitbakk as the evil herald, Robby Farbo as Shadrach, Preston Treat as Meshach, Dan Spielman as Ahednego and Les Oyster as the evil King Nebuchadnezzar.

Following the mass choir selections the men from the concert choir will sing the "Skye Boat Song" which they performed at Bemidji State University's Chorfest along with 90 other male singers from across the state. Accompanist for this number will be Missy Lampe.

The 35-voice Freshman Choir will present the acapella selection "The Water Is Wide" and a spirited spiritual entitled "Carry the Light" with Lana Rodahl and Heidi Johnson as soprano soloists and Jill Dekkers as piano accompanist. The familiar tune of "Give Me Oil In My Lamp" is incorporated into this selection.

Male members of the "Swingsations" jazz choir will present "In the Still of the Night" with Chris Tveitbakk as tenor soloist. Female members of the group will then join in to perform "St. Louis Blues" with Jill Dekkers at the piano.

Females from the concert choir have been rehearsing after school with those from the Varsity Singers to prepare "Coulter's Candy," accompanied on the piano by Heidi Johnson. "This gorgeous lullaby is sure to spark reflections of days gone by for all the mothers and grandmothers in the audience," Mrs. Reese said.

Varsity Singers will be performing two selections—a spirited dance tune entitled "Tomorrow Shall Be My Dancing Day" by John

Marshall County Central school receives foreign exchange student award

Marshall County Central school of Newfolden has been chosen to receive the Year of the School award by EF Educational Foundation for Foreign Study (EF Foundation) for 1994. Only 100 secondary schools were chosen from across the country to receive the award. The school was nominated by EF Foundation's local representative, Sharon Braaten, and selections were made from a pool of nearly 2,000 participating schools.

Sharon Braaten, with the help of Andrea Heir, Arton Henderea, Marisol Bermudz and Florian Lechner, exchange students at the school this year, will present the Year of the School award to Marshall County Central on May 24. Braaten said, "Marshall County Central has welcomed all of our students with open arms. The exchange students never want to leave because they become a part of the school and the community." Special recognition will be given to Mr. Paggen, the principal, for his outstanding involvement with the foreign students.

"As the local international exchange coordinator, I have been extremely impressed with the dedication of the faculty and staff of the high school to foreign exchange students, as well as to our own students," said Braaten. "By involving exchange students in the life of the school, guiding them during this challenging year, and supporting their host families, the staff of this school has made our students' experiences truly extraordinary. I would like to offer an extra thank you to Mr. Paggen, who has shown our students how much American educators really do care about each and every child. To all of you who have shared yourselves with an exchange student, thank you."

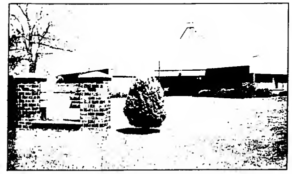
Receipients of the award were selected because of their commitment to promoting international understanding and foreign student exchange and because of their dedication to individual EF Foundation students attending the school.

EF Foundation is a non-profit organization dedicated to promoting international understanding through foreign student exchange. Local representatives, like Sharon Braaten, match students from 22 different countries with host families who provide room and board in exchange for a positive and memorable cultural experience. To become involved with foreign student exchange, contact Sharon Branten at 694-2182 or EF Foundation at 1-800-44-SHARE.

Delegates selected from Plummer for Boys State

Scott Lorenson

Delegates to American Legion Boys State have been selected by the Plummer American Legion Post. Both boys will be seniors at Pershing high school in Plummer next year.



Dan Oagner is the son of Clarence and Diane Gagner of Brooks. He plans to attend college after completing high school and is considering computer engineering or education as possible areas of study.

Scott Lorenson is the son of Richard and Lorraine Lorenson. He plans to begin his post high school education in the fall of 1995 at either Mayville State University or the University of North Dakota to major in elementary education.

The 46th annual Boys State event will take place June 12-18 at St. Olaf College in Northfield. It is a practical learning experience in state and local government.

Feith Lutheran Church in Goodridge will celebrate its 25th anniversary Sunday, June 5. First Lutheran Church and Goodridge Lutheran Church joined to form the Faith Lutheran congregation on May 9, 1969. The new Faith Lutheran Church building was dedicated on June 12, 1977, and seats 180 people. The anniversary will be celebrated with Festive Worship Services at 11 a.m. and Cecil Johnson, former president of the Northern Minnesota District of the American Lutheran Church, will be guest speaker at the dinner after the service.

Faith Lutheran Church to celebrate 25 years

But the roots of the Goodridge church can be traced back a hundred years

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Faith American Lutheran Church of Goodridge will celebrate its 25th anniversary on Sunday, June 5, but the roots of the church go back further than 1969, even further than 1914 when Goodridge was incorporated as a township.

The first church services conducted in the Goodridge area after it was opened for homesteading in 1904 were held in homes by different pastors, most of whom were from Thief River Falls.

The church bell of Faith Lutheran Church in Goodridge rings to announce worship for one and all. The congregation of Faith Lutheran is made up of people from diverse backgrounds, members having come from several area townships as well as two Goodridge churches.

In 1914, one of the churches that would later become Faith Lutheran Church of Goodridge organized a congregation named Den Norske Evangelisk Lutherisk Menighned. Services were held above Lattimore's Print Shop until 1916, when the Ladies' Aid contributed the grand sum of $275 to purchase the Urdahl school house for church services. The lot the building sat on was purchased for one dollar. In 1933, Articles of Incorporation were filed and the name of the church was changed to First Lutheran Church of Goodridge.

First Lutheran Church grew and prospered, adding a 22x26 foot addition in 1936 at a cost of $1,200, adding the "Old Glory" school house in 1949 (purchased for $300), and adding a new entry, cloak room, furnace room, indoor toilet facilities and a sacristy in 1958. During this time, the ever-ambitious women of the parish, the Ladies' Aid, raised funds to pay the ministers' salaries and the church's operating expenses with sewing projects and an annual "Fancy Work Sale," the highlight of the year.

The church had regular Sunday School, an "ABC" class to teach English, adult education and a Luther League which was started in 1936. The young Leaguers held fundraisers such as waffle suppers, ice cream socials and ball games that brought in enough money to help in the purchase of an altar ring in 1937, a piano in 1939, and church seats and hymnals in 1942.

The other church that was to become Faith Lutheran Church of Goodridge began in a school house with Rev. Bornson as pastor. In January of 1915, the Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran Church of Goodridge was formed.

The church building committee was formed at that time and proceeded to purchase two lots north of the railroad tracks in Goodridge from Dan Shaw for $100. In the spring of 1916, work was begun on the new church building, which would be 26x36 feet with a 14x16 addition to the north and a 10x10 entry and steeple to the south. Most of the labor was donated by parishioners.

The new Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran Church of Goodridge was dedicated in October of 1916. From 1917 to 1919, worship services, confirmation and Sunday School were conducted in the Norwegian language.

Attendance in the church dwindled during the years of the Great Depression as people left the area to seek work elsewhere. Then, from bad to worse, disaster struck the church on a cold Sunday afternoon in April of 1930. An overheated stove caused a fire that burned the church to the ground. Only the altar ring, pulpit and pews were saved from the fire.

After the fire, Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran Church held services in a vacant bank building, then purchased a building that had been a barber shop and shoe store, which the church members renovated, utilizing the altar ring, pulpit and pews from the burned church. In 1945, members of the congregation moved the new church building to School board elections held

Voters turned out in large numbers Tuesday in Middle River, Plummer and Warren for school district board elections.

In Grygla, School district 447, the two candidates running for office were elected to serve three-year terms. Lowell Smehy received 51 votes, and Richard Englestad, 50 votes. There were two write-in candidates with each receiving one vote. The total number of votes cast was 53.

In Goodridge, School District 561, where three candidates were running for two three year terms, the turnout was a little heavier. Joe Philipp and Marlin Kotrba were elected to the positions. Philipp received 68 votes, Kotrha 64, and Kurt Wiseth 25. Two write-in candidates received four votes. Total votes cast was 83.

In Middle River, School District 440, they recorded the heaviest turnout at the polls than they have recorded in the past 10 years. There were four candidates vying for two three-year terms. Both incumbents were re-elected. Tom Gullikson received 142 votes, Richard Filpula 141, David Thompson 106, and Jack Betto 76. Total votes cast was 240.

In Newfolden, School District 441, there were two three-year terms up for grabs and three candidates. Eldon Augustine and Doreen Amundson were the top vote getters. Amundson received 121 votes, Augustine 107, and Nancy Maurstad 39.

In Oklee, School District 627, three were two three-year terms on the ballot and one two-year term. John Larson and Gary Lee were the only candidates running for the three-year terms. Larson received 71 votes and Lee 73. Greg Hilgeman ran unopposed for the two-year term and received 69 votes. The total votes cast was 76.

In Plummer, School District 628, a total of 120 voters cast their votes for two of three candidates running for the two three-year terms on the school board. Eldon Vigstol and Tony Gerardy were elected to the positions. Vigstol received 147 votes, Gerardy 129, and Stan Tvedt received 44.

In Warren, School District 446, Ron Abrahamson and Douglas Safar, were elected. Abrahamson received 391 votes, and Safar 390. Ed Rosendal, incumbent, received 352 votes, and Philip Awes 276, and Naomi Mathsen 149. There were five write-in candidates, but they did not receive a signficant number of votes.

Burning issues at RLF council meeting

Red Lake Falls — The citizens of Red Lake Falls are having trouble getting rid of their leaves and lawn debris. Many people have been burning leaves and this is prohibited in town. The only way to dispose of leaves in Red Lake Falls is to haul them to the landfill and there have been complaints that the landfill is not open at convenient hours. Mayor Ken Tischart suggested the city purchase a leaf vacuum, but was told the cheapest vacuum would cost $10,000. It was suggested that the landfill be open more days, but Alderman Matzke said "If we extend the hours we will have people throwing everything into the brush pile." Alderman Hartel suggested hiring someone to watch the landfill to make sure no one threw away anything they shouldn't. It was also suggested that the sheriff's office keep a sharp lookout for leaf burning and enforce the city's regulations, but Sheriff Morken said this wouldn't be possible because it doesn't have enough men. "We've got enough other things, big things, to worry about." He added that smoke didn't always mean someone burning leaves — it could be someone barbecuing.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Today we'll have more recipes for entertaining, a fruit tray and three different cold, non-alcoholic drinks you can serve your guests.

This is a pretty addition to your serving table, and taste-tempting, too:

ASSORTED MELON TRAY WITH DIP

1 small cantaloupe melon, seeded
1 small honeydew melon, seeded
1 small crenshaw melon, seeded
1/4 whole watermelon, seeded

Cut each melon into thin slices, removing rind. Cut slices in half and arrange on large serving plate or tray, leaving an opening in the center.

DIP

2 (3 ounces each) packages cream cheese, softened
1/4 cup powdered sugar
1/4 cup frozen limeade concentrate, thawed
1 (16 ounce) container (2 cups) vanilla yogurt

In small bowl, combine cream cheese, powdered sugar and limeade, beating until well blended.

Add yogurt and blend until smooth. Pour into small bowl and place in center of melon slices. (Recipe serves 18-20.)

Very pretty and very refreshing for those guests.

RASPBERRY MINT REFRESHER

1 cup fresh mint leaves
2 cups boiling water
2 cups cold water
2 (10 ounce) packages frozen raspberries in syrup, thawed
1 (12 ounce) can frozen pink lemonade concentrate, thawed
16 ounces sparkling water, chilled (2 cups)

In 3 quart non-metal container, combine mint and boiling water. Let stand 5 minutes then strain and remove leaves.

Add cold water, raspberries in syrup and lemonade concentrate, stirring to blend. Refrigerate 3 hours or over night.

RASPBERRY ICE CUBES

1 cup fresh raspberries
2 ice cube trays
Water

Place a raspberry in each section of ice cube trays. Fill with water and freeze.

To make punch, place raspberry mint refresher in punch bowl. Add raspberry ice cubes and sparkling water and stir gently. Serve immediately. (Recipe makes 20 1/2 cup servings.)

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I read the letter in the Northern Watch (April 9, 1994) from Arnold Hoel. Mr Hoel criticized my voting record based on a National Taxpayers Union (NTU) report.

The NTU has a very strange method of coming up with its "biggest spending" awards. NTU looks at all the bills I've either co-sponsored or sponsored, does a cost analysis based on estimated spending projections, and then adds up those numbers.

What the NTU does not do is assess the fiscal benefits of those bills. Nor does the NTU factor in any cost savings that will result. So, for instance, I did introduce a health care reform bill. According to the NTU the "cost" of this bill is $534 billion—which accounts for the bulk of its "big spending" label. However, what the NTU does not mention is that the non-partisan Congressional Budget Office estimates that my legislation would save up to $702 billion by the year 2003—more than any other health care reform legislation—if implemented in 1997. The Government Accounting Office has offered a similar savings analysis. Indeed, Consumer's Union has endorsed my bill.

The other thing the NTU fails to mention is that while my proposal is partially financed by a payroll tax, private premiums and out-of-pocket co-payments would be eliminated. As a result, the savings most people would enjoy would far offset any increase in payroll taxes, while providing superior health care coverage.

Similar points can be made about the other bills NTU highlights.

The NTU also fails to consider actual votes that cut spending. In 1993 I voted to cut federal spending more than $6 billion from both the defense and domestic side of the federal budget. For instance, I voted to cut the Supercollider, Space Station, nuclear testing funds, agricultural subsidies, intelligence spending, the liquid metal reactor program and a host of other programs. All these cuts were actually voted on, and some have been enacted into law, yet they were never mentioned by NTU.

Second, the NTU fails to say anything about my vote in favor of the very large spending cuts that were part of President Clinton's economic package early last year. The Clinton budget has $255 billion in spending cuts over the next five years, with every penny locked into deficit reduction. The program is working: the projected federal deficit has been reduced from approximately $300 billion a year ago to less than $180 billion for the next fiscal year.

If there is going to be a rating, it seems fair to me that organizations such as NTU give the whole picture and actually do a cost/benefit analysis—and not just offer a deceptive "cost" analysis of proposed legislation based on estimated spending.

I work hard to be responsible and prudent in the bills I sponsor and co-sponsor. And I stand by them because I believe they are good for Minnesota and the country.

Sincerely,
Paul Wellstone
U.S. Senator

Saving CRP May Be Big Order For Peterson

Certainly not everyone is enamored of the Conservation Reserve Program, the federal land rental program that permitted rural land owners to lease their land to the federal government for a bid price in exchange for doing not much of anything with it for a period of 10 years. They were supposed to seed a cover crop and pay attention to control of noxious weeds.

Because the program took what was supposed to be erodible land out of production, it cut back on the sales of farm equipment, fuels, fertilizer and chemicals that are necessary elements of active farming. If it is your business to sell one or more of these items, the CRP program may be looked upon as a threat to survival.

From a purely conservation viewpoint, the program probably has done at least some good, if not in proportion to the expenditures. Along with greater attention to conservation tillage, the CRP has indeed reduced erosion of topsoil by wind and water.

For certain species of wildlife, CRP arrived just in time to take a drastic population decline situation and turn it around into a near explosion of life. Primary beneficiaries among game species have been the ringneck pheasant and whitetail deer. Lesser advantages have accrued to sharptail grouse, Hungarian partridge and waterfowl. As a parallel detrimental side-effect, however, there has been an increase in predators as well.

Despite its detractors, CRP has strong support from farmers, including those who believe it has helped crop prices by holding back overproduction as well as those who benefit directly by having land enrolled. It certainly has the blessing of conservationists concerned with environmental damage from erosion. And hunters think it is the greatest thing since the old Soil Bank program which had much the same effect on wildlife populations.

Seventh District Rep. Collin Peterson of Detroit Lakes has joined as a co-sponsor of legislation to extend the Conservation Reserve Program. "The key to reauthorization is getting the funding," he said, "but it's crucial that we begin the debate now—before we look around and see that the rug's been pulled out from under us."

There should be room and funds in a federal farm program for at least a modified CRP system which idles and protects highly erodible land. It might have to exist at a reduced amount of compensation or under a more restrictive determination of eligibility, but it should not be allowed to simply fade away.

Early Conservation Reserve Program contracts will begin to expire in 1995, so this is not at all too early to begin an effort toward renewal. The task of selling continuance of the program will not be easy. It will take a lot of convincing and require a good deal of political maneuvering. We think Congressman Peterson is on the right track in this case and those who agree with his position should advise him of their support.

Brady Law Provision Not Only Meddlesome But Unconstitutional

Intrusion of the federal government into the affairs of the states took a well deserved chopping from a federal judge Monday in Helena, MT. Judge Charles Lovell ruled that the Brady Bill's provision that local law enforcement officials run background checks on handgun purchasers is unconstitutional.

A county sheriff in the area brought the suit, claiming that his duties on behalf of the county's taxpayers didn't permit him time or finances to do the federal enforcement work.

The Brady Bill passed last November 30 by the U.S. Congress, and which went into effect February 28 of this year, requires a five-day waiting period for the purchase of a handgun. During that period, local law enforcement agencies are to do a background check on the applicant to determine if he or she is an adult and doesn't have a felony record or drug, alcohol or mental problems.

Judge Lovell said the law's order for local law officers to perform the background check commandeers other than federal officials to administer a federal program. That violates the constitutional limits on the federal government's power over the states.

We may expect the decision to be appealed, of course, but the point has been well made and an unbiased view by the Supreme Court should uphold the ruling. We applaud Judge Lovell for his decision and eagerly await it being upheld by the Supreme Court.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

LHS choir concert Tues.

Rutter, accompanied by Cathy Hagen, and "Scarborough Fair." The latter is a melody made popular by the "Beatles" and has now been arranged for three-part women's voices.

The Concert Choir along with the 27 honored seniors will conclude the program.

"Die Mit Tranen Saen" by Schein, with its rich lines and always changing tempos, was very challenging for the choir because there were no bar lines and before they could sing it they had to be able to count the entire piece and sing it with numbers," Mrs. Reese said. "You will certainly enjoy this wonderful selection."

Lincoln high school "Alma Mater," featuring the 27 seniors in the choir, will end the night of song.

Workshop for artists May 21 at NWRDC

A professional development conference for artists of all disciplines will be held Saturday, May 21, at the Northwest Regional Development Commission in Thief River Falls. The session is scheduled from 9:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Chris Osgood, artists' services manager of Resources and Counseling for the Arts in St. Paul, will conduct the sessions.

The session topics will include "A Guide to Grants for Minnesota Artists," which will consist of an overview of grant opportunities for Minnesota artists of all disciplines with a discussion of fundraising research and grant applications.

A session on "Marketing" will include a look at marketing models, highlighting effective use of individual artists' marketing plans. Artists are provided with skills to create their own marketing plans.

The "Professional Presentation" session will encompass a discussion of portfolio and resume development, highlighting personal presentation skills and development of promotional packages and materials. Participants may bring their own materials for review.

The final session will be comprised of an "Open Forum" which will be a discussion of artists' concerns on all facets of professional development, career planning, and business topics.

The full day registration fee is $25, which includes lunch and refreshment breaks. Special arrangements for persons with handicaps will be made if requested in advance. To register, call Mara Lunde, arts council director, NWROC, at 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637. The event is made possible through funding from the McKnight Foundation.

The First Lutheran Church of Goodridge in 1936. Originally named Den Norske Evengelisk Lutherisk Menighned, First Lutheran is one of the churches that merged to become the present Faith Lutheran Church of Goodridge.

Goodridge Lutheran Church began in an old schoolhouse as the Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran Church of Goodridge in 1915. It is pictured here in 1970, shortly after Goodridge Lutheran Church and the First Lutheran Church of Goodridge merged to become Faith Lutheran Church. Worship services were alternated between the two churches, which were a block apart.

the site of the burned church north of the railroad tracks. In 1952, an entrance was constructed with a lighted cross in the tower. For some time now, services had been conducted in English and the name of the church had been shortened to Goodridge Lutheran Church.

The congregations of the two churches were rich in diverse backgrounds, made up of people from not only Goodridge, but townships and farms from all around the area. Over the years, several Lutheran churches in the townships had closed and their members came to be a part of the Goodridge churches. Parishioners came from Highland Lutheran Church (began in 1910) of Highlanding township, Zion Lutheran (began in 1898) and the German Lutheran Church of Mavie (1898), Emmanuel Lutheran Church (1917) of Star township, and Aanstad Lutheran Church (1900) and Rosendahl Lutheran Church (1904) of Reiner township.

On May 9, 1969, after several attempts, the two congregations of the First Lutheran Church of Goodridge and the Goodridge Lutheran Church merged and became Faith American Lutheran Church of Goodridge.

First trustees of the new church council were Oldrich Hoffman, Palmer Paulson and Richard Nelson; deacons were Merlin Drangstveit and Leon Iverson; president, Clarence Peterson; vice-president, Wallace Payne; treasurer, Dayle Kalnz; and financial secretary, Clarence Ellingson. Rev. Bruce Anderson became the first pastor of the newly formed congregation, and worship services were alternated between the two churches, which were located only a block apart.

In 1976, the Goodridge Lutheran building was sold and moved and services were held exclusively in the First Lutheran Church building until construction was begun on the present building in July of 1976. Many church members volunteered their labor to build the new brick church, which seated 180 people.

The first worship service was conducted March 10, 1977. Dedication ceremonies were held June 12, 1977.

At the present time, the pastor is Robert W. Oahlen, who serves the three-part parish of Bethany Lutheran Church in Smiley township, Ekelund Lutheran in Highlanding, and Faith Lutheran in Goodridge. Glenn Palmer, who is originally from Maine, is presently serving as pastoral intern. Marjorie Iverson is parish secretary.

Other pastors who have served Faith Lutheran Church are Bruce Anderson, 1969 to 1976, and Gene Broughton, 1978 to 1986. Several interim pastors and pastoral interns have also served the church during its 25 year history.

At the present time, membership runs from 300 to 350 people, with approximately 223 confirmed members. The church has a Sunday School and youth Luther League, and the women of the church continue to be active as always in the American Lutheran Church Women of Faith in Bible study circles, home missions, Lutheran World Relief and support of Bible camps. The six circles meet monthly and are made up of members and non-members from the community.

Twenty-fifth anniversary celebrations at Faith Lutheran Church will be held Sunday, June 5, beginning with Festive Worship Services at 11 a.m. and a dinner to follow. Cecil Johnson, former president of the Northern Minnesota District of the American Lutheran Church, will be guest speaker.

Olive Wiskow, Marjorie Iverson, Sandy Henrickson, RaeAnn Pittman, Gwen Blaine, Hilda Hoffman, John Lovly, Harold Holen, Pastor Oahlen and Pastoral intern Palmer make up the anniversary committee.

All members and formers members of the church, as well as other interested persons, are welcome to attend the 25th anniversary celebrations. For more information, contact Marjorie Iverson, parish secretary, at 218-378-4191.

This story idea was submitted by Marjorie Iverson. It will be considered for the Northern Watch Story of the Month contest for May.

Northland gains twinbill split with division champs

One bad inning cost Northland an opportunity to sweep Brainerd Tuesday in Minnesota Community College Conference softball.

But 11 solid innings did allow the Pioneers to gain a regular season-ending split against the Northern Division pennant winner.

Brainerd won the first game 10-1. Northland took the second game 10-2.

It was just the fourth win in 17 tries for the Pioneers, but it did send them into the MCCC state tournament on a high note. The 14-team, double-elimination invitational-type format began Friday.

Three Northland errors opened the doors for a nine-run Brainerd first inning and the Raiders coasted to a 10-1 Game 1 win.

Northland pitcher Celeste Cormican started slow, but gave up just one run the rest of the way.

The Pioneers managed just three hits of Brainerd pitcher Angie Kummet.

Renee Pomplun was 2-for-3 with a pair of triples to lead Northland past Brainerd 10-2 in Game 2.

The Pioneers scored three times in the third inning, then turned a 4-1 edge into a nine-run spread by scoring six times in the top of the sixth.

Celeste Cormican scattered six hits for the win, and was backed by a solid Northland defensive effort.

Northland shortstop Trish Prickett scooped up the ball, but Brainerd runner Kim Tschida was safe at second with a stolen base in the first inning of Tuesday's community college softball doubleheader opener in Thief River Falls. Pioneers second baseman Renee Pomplun came over to back up the play.

Sub-Section 8AA draw announced

North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament starts Thursday, May 26, when No. 6-seeded Thief River Falls visits No. 3 Fergus Falls and No. 5-seeded Detroit Lakes drives to No. 4 Alexandria for 4:30 p.m. games.

Winners will advance to the four-team, double-elimination portion of the tournament beginning Saturday, May 28, when Thief River Falls or Fergus Falls will be at No. 2-seeded Moorhead, while Detroit Lakes or Alexandria will head to No. 1-seeded Bemidji.

Play continues Tuesday, May 31, and Friday, June 3, at Matson Field in Moorhead.

TRF girls turn in strong final meet performance

They did it Thursday at the Crookston/Warren Invitational. Now the Thief River Falls girls will try to duplicate their 400 score at the 1994 Section 8AA high school golf meet, scheduled Wednesday in Park Rapids.

Three Prowlers – Keri Schommer, Anne Padilla, Shari Evenson – broke the 100 mark in their final regular season meet that included nine holes at Crookston and nine more at Warren.

East Grand Forks won the event with a 375. Thief River Falls was fifth in a field of 11 with their 400 – a score they would like to match at the sectional meet.

"We'd love to break 400," said Thief River Falls coach Charlie Cornell, looking ahead to the post-season tournament. "We're certainly capable of it. We'll take five kids down there who all have the potential to break 100. We need four of them to do it. We're certainly not going to win, but if we can break 400, we should be somewhere in the middle."

Recent Thief River Falls outings also included a triangular meet in East Grand Forks Monday and an appearance at the Detroit Lakes Invitational Tuesday.

Thief River Falls wound up third in the East Grand Forks meet and finished 17th among 21 teams at Detroit Lakes, where the Prowlers competed without three of their top golfers – Schommet, Kelly Liden and Sara Tyler.

The meet winners included the host Green Wave Monday and Alexandria Tuesday.

Spuds belt Prowlers 15-0

Stevo Anderson had a big day both on the mound and at the plate Tuesday to lead Moorhead past Thief River Falls 15-0 in a breezy North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball game at Irv Wilson Field.

As a pitcher, Anderson threw a one-hitter, striking out eight and walking just one in the five-inning game.

As a batter, Anderson was just as effective with a 3-for-4 day that included two home runs and six RBI.

Lone hit off the hard-throwing right-hander was a bad-hop fourth inning single by Steve Burslie that caromed over the head of first baseman Adam Tow.

Only other Thief River Falls base runner came on a third inning walk.

It was the second straight one-hit effort thrown against the Prowlers on their home field. They lost a 6-1 decision to Crookston the previous night when the Pirates' Chris Bruggeman struck out 13 and gave up only an infield single.

Thief River Falls surprised Moorhead 4-3 earlier this spring, but was no match for the Spuds the second time around as the visitors scored nine times in the second inning when a seven-hit assault included three home runs.

Anderson, hitting No. 9 in the batting order, got the ball rolling with a grand slam home run over the center field fence. Shortstop Dan Geisler added a three-run homer to right field, and right-fielder Jason Redfield made it consecutive round-trippers with a shot to left field.

It was a rough outing for Thief River Falls junior Cory Jenkins, who was making his second varsity start after a strong effort in a 4-1 May 10 win at Red Lake Falls. Jenkins left after the Redfield homer. Six of the nine runs he gave up were earned.

Jayson Olson finished the mound chores, giving up six runs (five earned) on eight hits over the final 3 1/3 innings, including Anderson's second home run – a solo shot in the third.

Redfield was 3-for-3, while Adam Neppl and Andy Schmidt both had a pair of hits for the winners. Eight of the Spuds' 15 hits went for extra bases, with the four home runs being matched by four doubles.

Dee sets TRF discus record

■ Prowlers compete in Fergus Falls track meet

Strong showing by the Thief River Falls girls, featuring a school-record discus effort by Carly Dee, highlighted the Prowlers' performance at the 51st annual Otter Invitational high school track meet Tuesday in Fergus Falls.

Dee won the discus with a toss of 115-feet, 11-inches, breaking a school record held by Alice Dunning since 1987.

Thief River Falls girls finished fourth in a field of six, but scored 72 points, just 7 1/2 behind third place Detroit Lakes. Alexandria and Bemidji were the top finishers with 176 and 127 points, respectively. The Prowlers scored points in all but four events.

"For a small group, they covered themselves pretty well," said Thief River Falls coach Tim Olson. "We were very happy with the girls' performance. They did a heck of a job. The throw by Carly was the highlight of the entire meet."

The Thief River Falls boys didn't have much success, picking up just 26 points to trail the seven-team field that was led by Moorhead's 140-point performance.

"We just didn't come through in some events like I thought we would," said Olson in his assessment of the performance by the Thief River Falls boys.

The Prowlers close out their 1994 regular season schedule with an appearance at the East Grand Forks Lions Invitational Monday. The North Sub-Section 8AA meet will be held Thursday, May 26, at Detroit Lakes.

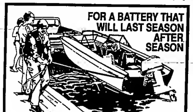
Pioneers lose softball games to UMC

Last regular season Minnesota Community College Conference softball doubleheader between Northland Community College and the University of Minnesota-Crookston went to the Trojans 19-13, 13-12 in a late-reported May 12 match-up in Thief River Falls.

A scheduled Northland appearance at the May 14 Hibbing was called off because of rain.

A combination of 21 University of Minnesota-Crookston hits and nine Northland Community College errors added up to a 19-13 Trojans win in Game 1.

Trish Prickett was 3-for-4 and Carlene Jadmy went 2-for-3 to lead the Pioneers' offense.



Final-inning Northland rally fell short as the Pioneers dropped a 13-12 second-game decision.

Down 13-4, Northland scored eight times in the bottom of the seventh to make it close.

Prickett and LuAnn Marlowski were both 3-for-5 as Northland out-hit UMC 15-13.

Celeste Cormican was the losing pitcher in both games. Maslowski pitched the final two innings in relief in the nightcap.

Bemidji wins 7-3 rematch vs. TRF

Bemidji scored three times in the bottom of the sixth inning Wednesday to secure a 7-3 high school baseball win over Thief River Falls.

The North Sub-Section 8AA match-up was a make-up game from an April 29 weather-forced postponement, and was considerably closer than an 18-6 Bemidji home run derby win at Irv Wilson Field six days earlier. But it was also the Prowlers' third loss of the week, dropping them to 6-10 heading into the regular season-ending Mike Bugliosi Classic this weekend in Hibbing/Virginia.

Bemidji took a 2-0 lead on a run-scoring second inning sacrifice fly by Caleb Cochran and a third inning RBI single by Ben Hopkins.

Thief River Falls tied it on a two-run fourth inning home run by Adam Henney and went ahead 3-2 in the fifth when Joby Looker drew a bases-loaded walk.

An RBI single by Hopkins and a run-scoring sacrifice fly by Paul Oelrich put Bemidji back on top 4-3 in the bottom of the fifth.

The Lumberjacks iced it in the sixth on an inning that started with a walk and an error. RBI singles by Cochran and Jeff Breyen made it 6-3 and an error on a botched rundown brought the final run across the plate.

Nathan Anderson filled his role as designated hitter with a 2-for-3 effort to lead the Prowlers' seven-hit offense. Hopkins was 3-for-4, while Breyen was 2-for-3 and John Imsande went 2-for-4 in the Lumberjacks' 10-hit effort.

It was a complete-game pitching effort by both starters – the Prowlers' Chris Vanyo, who struck out two and walked one, and the Lumberjacks' Brian Winge, who struck out three and walked three.

Prowlers are part of Moorhead scramble

A two-man Texas scramble format was used Tuesday at the Moorhead Invitational boys high school golf tournament.

Three sets of scores were then added together to determine the team results. Fargo South and Moorhead both finished at 218 to lead the 18-team field. Thief River Falls wound up 13th with a 236.

The Dick Tyler-coached Prowlers will close out regular season play Monday at the East Grand Forks Invitational. Section 8AA meet will be played Friday, May 27, at Perham.

Moorhead Invitational

■ Team totals - Fargo South 218, Moorhead II 218, Fargo North 219, Moorhead I 221, Red Lake Falls/Oklee/Plummer 223, Fergus Falls 223, Roseau 225, Fosston 225, East Grand Forks 228, Fargo Shanley 229, West Fargo 233, Bagley 235, Thief River Falls 236, Detroit Lakes 238, Crookston 241, Breckenridge 248, Perham 252, Pelican Rapids 264.

■ Individuals - 1. Sustad/Rasmussen, Moorhead 66; 2. (tie) Ooeden/Uselman, Shanley, and Olson/Nagle, North 70. TRF scores - Mark Tangquist/Chad Hanson 78, Chad Nordhagen/Tim Berry 76; Adam Nordin/Chris Sjerken 79.

Spuds out-score Prowlers 27-17 in softball match-up

Offense had the upper hand over the defense Tuesday as Moorhead and Thief River Falls combined for 44 runs and 35 hits in a high school softball match-up. When the dust settled from all those runners circling the bases, the host Spuds had themselves a 27-17 six-inning win.

It started with a seven-run Thief River Falls first inning and ended on the 10-run rule when Moorhead capped it off with a five-run surge in the bottom of the sixth.

Traci Rendulich had three hits in four at-bats and Odetta Blomker was 3-for-5 to lead the 16-hit Thief River Falls attack. Rendulich legged out two triples; Blomker had one. Bobbi Jo Teiken, Kara Boughton and Erica Owen had two hits apiece for the Prowlers.

The loss sent Thief River Falls into a scheduled regular season finale at Badger/Greenbush-Middle River Friday with a 3-14 record.

North Sub-Section 8AA tournament play starts Monday, May 23, with the No. 6-seeded Prowlers playing a 4 p.m. game at No. 3 Fergus Falls.

TRF boys finish tennis schedule with 5-0 victory

Duplicating results from an earlier Thief River Falls vs. Mahnomen match-up, the Prowlers shut out the Indians 5-0 Thursday in dual meet high school boys tennis.

It was the final regular season outing for the Prowlers, who went 3-10 in dual meet competition. Two of those three wins were 5-0 decisions over Mahnomen.

Northland sweeps UMC to reach 20-win plateau

Northland Community College ran its record to 20-8 Wednesday with a 9-3, 15-3 Northern Division doubleheader sweep over the University of Minnesota-Crookston.

The Pioneers, scheduled to complete regular season play today (Saturday) at home with a 12-noon twinball against Itasca, will take part in the 1994 Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament May 28-29 in the Twin Cities area.

TRF Legion baseball fund-raising effort to include Sunday meal

Fund-raising breakfast for the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball teams will be served Sunday, May 22, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Legion.

Cost of the breakfast has been set at $4 for adults and $3 for children.

The event is part of a continuing effort to raise funds to meet the projected $15,000 budget for the two Thief River Falls summer baseball teams – the Post 117 squad and the Bombers.

Howard Dalager-coached Post 117 ball club is scheduled to open its 1994 season with a 4:30 p.m. Tuesday, June 7, doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field against perennial power Fargo.

Plummer man arrested Wed.

Red Lake County sheriff's department arrested Palmer Soderlund, age 49, Plummer, Wednesday after investigating a 911 emergency reported from a residence in Plummer.

A resident of Plummer reported at about 12:57 p.m. that someone was attempting to break into their residence. Upon investigation, Soderlund was taken into custody without incident and transported to the Regional Corrections Center in Crookston. He was expected to make his first appearance in a Ninth District courtroom in Crookston on Friday.

CARD OF THANKS

The family of Shawn Sprosty wants to thank everyone for the love, comfort and prayers at the time of his death and now. Special thanks to Pastor Cameron and Alana Stratton for being here for us in this most difficult time. Thank you to Chuck and Mike Dubore. Thank you to Our Savior's Lutheran Church and Pastor Luedke for letting us use the church. To family, friends and neighbors, thank you all for the beautiful flowers, cards, visits and the food brought to our home.

Pat, Barbara, Jason and Dan Sprosty 1t41p

THANK YOU

Words can not express my feelings of gratitude for the wonderful birthday party my family put on for me. To my many relatives and friends who came, brought gifts and flowers. I thank each of you, and God bless you for making my day so wonderful.

Conflict between school and label-collecting mom

Hallock — A problem has developed between Rose Headley and Kittson County Central School in Hallock. Headley is the mother of Jonathan Headley, the little boy with cerebral palsy, who was collecting Campbells' soup labels to get computers for him. It seems that Headley ordered more than computers and printers with the 538,000 labels she collected from all around the U.S. and several foreign countries. She also ordered a microwave oven, camcorder, 13-inch television, telephone with speaker and two electronic thermometers. When the microwave and camcorder arrived at the school, Superintendent Don Vellenga sent them back to the Campbell company, stating the items were not ordered for the school. The school is also upset because Headley listed herself as "chairman, Hallock Schools" on the order form she sent to Campbell's. Headley told the Grand Forks Herald that she meant she was chairman of the label collection drive. A Campbell's spokesman told the Herald that the rules of the label campaign state that it is not for individuals but for schools, libraries and military installations. Vellenga says that Headley will have to work the problem out with Campbell's. Headley told the Herald she is still collecting labels for a van to transport Jonathan and is trying to get a local library to sponsor her endeavor. Vellenga said the school purchased a van last year and one of the reasons it was purchased was to transport Jonathan.

Hallock man injured in accident

Crookston — A Hallock man was in critical condition in United Hospital in Grand Forks after an accident about 1 p.m. last Thursday in Crookston. A 1987 Plymouth driven by Berger Anderson of Crookston sustained minor damages when it collided with a 1989 Honda motorcycle driven by Robert Koskela of Hallock. The cycle was extensively damaged and Koskela was transported to United Hospital by the Polk County ambulance.

Car thefts in prompt Sheriff's warning

Roseau — After five cars were stolen last week in Eastern Roseau county, Sheriff Patrick Novacek is advising car owners to remove keys from their ignitions. Three of the five vehicles stolen were taken from garages and two were taken from residences. In all five cases, keys were left in the ignition. "Take the extra time to take the keys out of the vehicle and lock it up," advised the sheriff. "Let's make it harder (for thieves) by removing the keys."

To track movement of Franklin's gulls in a population study being conducted by Joanne Burger of Rutgers University, approximately 200 gulls have been trapped and wing tagged in the past two weeks at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge. The tagged gulls should now be feeding off the refuge. Persons who observe birds with the plastic wing tags (green for young birds, orange for adults) are asked to note the date and location of the sighting, the color of the tag and, if possible, the tag number. This information should be sent or called to Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, Middle River, MN 56737, phone 449-4115. Digi-Key hourly workers receive $1 per hour hike in pay schedule

About 400 hourly wage workers at Digi-Key, Inc. in Thief River Falls had a pleasant surprise when they opened their pay envelopes Thursday morning. Their checks reflected a $1 per hour increase in pay retroactive for the prior two-week period.

Company president Mark Larson said that the increase may have had a greater than normal impact on the employees and the community in that it had not been announced ahead of time and that it affects virtually all hourly employees to the same extent.

"Digi-Key has made periodic adjustments to its pay scale over the years," Larson said, "and this most recent increase was implemented to assure the company of being able to attract and retain the most qualified and capable employees possible."

Larson also said the virtual across-the-board wage hike was made in part in anticipation of hiring more employees in the near future. Projections are for the company to hire between 100 and 150 additional people within the next 12 months.

"Over the past five years or so we have worked to strengthen our wage and benefit package," Larson said. "This effort has included such things as initiating a 401-K retirement plan, making available a cafeteria plan, shortening qualification for the company-paid disability policy from 90 to 30 days, increasing the company-paid life insurance policy from twice to three times the annual salary, as well as making several upward wage adjustments.

"In addition," he said, "the company has continued to absorb the increasing costs to provide fully paid single health insurance coverage and avoid raising the modest employee contribution for family plan coverage."

Digi-Key continues to experience steady growth, Larson said, and recognizes the need to be in a strong position in the increasingly competitive job market in northwestern Minnesota.

The wage increase plus planned additional employment will add approximately $2 million to the community's economy within the next 12 months. Information on Digi-Key's building expansion plans will be published in the next issue of the Northern Watch.

Plummer wins Challenge

Plummer high school students won the 1994 Seat Belt Challenge — a statewide contest sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Public Safety and the Minnesota Passenger Protection Program. The Challenge winners were honored at the school on Thursday, May 26.

The Plummer team won the contest by sponsoring seat belt awareness activities at school and in town from March 1 through May 10, earning points for each activity. The team racked up 61,870 points.

Second place went to Melrose high school with 54,300 points, and third place honors went to Grand Rapids high school, which scored 45,600 points. All participants received a safety-themed t-shirt for their work. The winning schools receive cash prizes. Plummer high school's grand prize included tickets to a June 30 Twins game and cash to help pay for transportation to Minneapolis and for lunch at the Metrodome.

"The kids worked hard and really showed initiative," said Mark Lee, advisor to the Challenge winners. "It was unbelievable how many activities these students completed, said Ann Tressel, Minnesota Passenger Protection Program project director. "They integrated seat belt messages into everything! What's even more astounding is the fact that they are a small school, one of the smallest in the competition, and they still earned more points than any other team."

ABATE promotes motorcycle safety

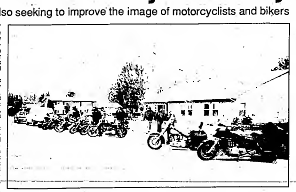
The Northwest Chapter of ABATE is also seeking to improve the image of motorcyclists and bikers

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

Governor Carlson proclaimed May as Motorcycle Awareness month. Oh, oh! Motorcycles — bikers — wild gangs wearing leather and tatoos — wild girls — speed and lawlessness. Not so!

Today's motorcyclists are nothing like the image people have of the bikers they remember from the 50's and 60's. Today's motorcyclists are not only good, law abiding citizens, but may be your next door neighbor. Motorcycling has become a family affair and motorcyclists and their families are just as concerned about community and national issues as anyone.

Many cyclists in Minnesota belong to a group called ABATE, which means American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education. This is a not-for-profit organization which promotes safe motorcycling, political awareness, and an improved image of motorcyclists and bikers.



The Northwest Chapter of ABATE includes motorcycle enthusiasts from the entire northern corner of Minnesota. Officers of the organization are from several northern towns. From Red Lake Falls are President Kevin Reynolds, Publicity Chairman Gail Healy, Treasurer Rose Carriere and Northwest Regional Director Steve "Chopper" Carriere. Vice President Steve Tischman is from Mentor, Secretary Stacy Davidson and Sergeant-at-Arms Jeff Davidson are both from Thief River Falls, and Chapter Representative to the State Board is Brian Holmes from East Grand Forks.

ABATE members not only come from all around the area, but they come from all walks of life. Reynolds said, "We have a great variety of people who belong to the organization. We have storekeepers, businessmen, teachers — all types of people like to ride motorcycles."

As well as safety awareness, the Northwest Chapter of ABATE promotes brotherhood and increased community involvement with several social activities held during the year that have goals of raising funds and collecting other needed items for community service agencies and groups, as well as sharing the common bond of love of cycling with others.

In September the Northwest Chapter of ABATE has a Food and Toy Run when members make coordinating runs to collect food from businesses and people in the community to stock area food shelves. Toys are also collected and donated to agencies that will make good use

Conflict between school and label-collecting mom

Hallock — A problem has developed between Rose Headley and Kittson County Central School in Hallock. Headley is the mother of Jonathan Headley, the little boy with cerebral palsy, who was collecting Campbells' soup labels to get computers for him. It seems that Headley ordered more than computers and printers with the 538,000 labels she collected from all around the U.S. and several foreign countries. She also ordered a microwave oven, camcorder, 13-inch television, telephone with speaker and two electronic thermometers. When the microwave and camcorder arrived at the school, Superintendent Don Vellenga sent them back to the Campbell company, stating the items were not ordered for the school. The school is also upset because Headley listed herself as "chairman, Hallock Schools" on the order form she sent to Campbell's. Headley told the Grand Forks Herald that she meant she was chairman of the label collection drive. A Campbell's spokesman told the Herald that the rules of the label campaign state that it is not for individuals but for schools, libraries and military installations. Vellenga says that Headley will have to work the problem out with Campbell's. Headley told the Herald she is still collecting labels for a van to transport Jonathan and is trying to get a local library to sponsor her endeavor. Vellenga said the school purchased a van last year and one of the reasons it was purchased was to transport Jonathan.

Car thefts in prompt Sheriff's warning

Roseau — After five cars were stolen last week in eastern Roseau county, Sheriff Patrick Novacek is advising car owners to remove keys from their ignitions. Three of the five vehicles stolen were taken from garages and two were taken from residences. In all five cases, keys were left in the ignition. "Take the extra time to take the keys out of the vehicle and lock it up," advised the sheriff. "Let's make it harder (for thieves) by removing the keys."

EGF man pleads not guilty to charges on stolen property

Crookston — LaVelle Mayfield, 29, of East Grand Forks, plead not guilty to one count of possession of stolen property and one count of bringing stolen property into the state in Ninth District Court in Crookston last week. Emily Aronson, who had been living with Mayfield for about five months, told authorities that the couple had been stealing property from several Grand Forks stores on almost a daily basis throughout the time they had been living together. She said Mayfield told her he would kick her out if she didn't steal items for him. She said the couple had stolen 15 to 20 phones and answering machines and 15 to 20 clocks, as well as clothes, shoes, brass and ceramic collectibles, wine glasses and hair clippers from stores that included Dayton's, Sears, The Why Not Shop, Special Occasions and Pier One. She said Mayfield also stole a television set, VCR, an entertainment center, mirror, umbrella and a gold chain from an apartment. Mayfield faces a maximum sentence of 20 years and/or $40,000 in fines. Trial is set for June 28.

Spring Clean Up Days

Thief River Falls Mayor Robert Reeve has proclaimed June 1 as Share Your Junk Day. On that day residents may set out used items they wish to dispose of but may be of value to others. If the items are not picked up by "others", it will be picked up on Thursday and Friday as part of the regular garbage pick up service.

Thursday and Friday, June 2 and 3, has been proclaimed as the 1st Annual Spring Clean Up Days. On those days, city crews will pick up all normal refuse without the required use of the orange stickers or City of Thief River Falls bags.

Items not included are such items as rocks, concrete, batteries, tires, cast iron, steel items, sod and similar items.

Items included in the pickup are household refuse, appliances, televisions, mattresses, box springs and other such items.

Thursday, June 2, will be the special collection day for all residents who normally have their refuse picked up on Thursdays. Friday, June 3, will be the special collection day for all residents who normally have their refuse picked up on Fridays.

Anyone with questions about the special clean up days should contact the city's sanitation department at 681-4603.

Memorial Day service set

Memorial Day services will be conducted at Rosendahl Lutheran Church of rural Goodridge on Sunday, May 29, beginning at 2 p.m. Rev. Bob Dahlen will conduct the service and a potluck lunch will follow the program. Everyone is welcome to participate.

Burglaries in Warroad area

Warroad — Three juveniles and an adult who have been on a $10,000 crime spree in Roseau county have been arrested. Two of the those charged stole three four-wheelers and clothing from D&E Sports in Warroad last Friday, and also broke into a pop machine. Also, a juvenile and an adult were apprehended after trying to steal a car. They were charged with burglarizing the Four Seasons Car Wash, as well as with several other burglaries and a car theft in the area.

River bank falls into Red Lake River north of Gentilly

Gentilly — A large portion of the Red Lake river bank fell into the river just north of the Gentilly Bridge on County Road 11 Friday, May 20. There was a 60 to 65 per cent blockage of the river because of the fall. Three residents were evacuated for safety measures and the bridge was closed for about an hour and a half. Preliminary reports indicated that the ground had shifted but that the bridge was secure. The Polk County Sheriff's Department of Emergency Management will continue to monitor the situation.

EGF men pleads not guilty to chargee on atolen property

Crookston — LaVelle Mayfield, 29, of East Grand Forks, plead not guilty to one count of possession of stolen property and one count of bringing stolen property into the state in Ninth District Court in Crookston last week. Emily Aronson, who had been living with Mayfield for about five months, told authorities that the couple had been stealing property from several Grand Forks stores on almost a daily basis throughout the time they had been living together. She said Mayfield told her he would kick her out if she didn't steal items for him. She said the couple had stolen 15 to 20 phones and answering machines and 15 to 20 clocks, as well as clothes, shoes, brass and ceramic collectibles, wine glasses and hair clippers from stores that included Dayton's, Sears, The Why Not Shop, Special Occasions and Pier One. She said Mayfield also stole a television set, VCR, an entertainment center, mirror, umbrella and a gold chain from an apartment. Mayfield faces a maximum sentence of 20 years and/or $40,000 in fines. Trial is set for June 28.

Public attendance at the recital is invited.

Spring Clean Up Days

Thief River Falls Mayor Robert Reeve has proclaimed June 1 as Share Your Junk Day. On that day residents may set out used items they wish to dispose of but may be of value to others. If the items are not picked up by "others", it will be picked up on Thursday and Friday as part of the regular garbage pick up service.

Thursday and Friday, June 2 and 3, has been proclaimed as the 1st Annual Spring Clean Up Days. On those days, city crews will pick up all normal refuse without the required use of the orange stickers or City of Thief River Falls bags.

Items not included are such items as rocks, concrete, batteries, tires, cast iron, steel items, sod and similar items.

Items included in the pickup are household refuse, appliances, televisions, mattresses, box springs and other such items.

Thursday, June 2, will be the special collection day for all residents who normally have their refuse picked up on Thursdays. Friday, June 3, will be the special collection day for all residents who normally have their refuse picked up on Fridays.

Anyone with questions about the special clean up days should contact the city's sanitation department at 681-4603.

Memorial Day service set

Memorial Day services will be conducted at Rosendahl Lutheran church of rural Goodridge on Sunday, May 29, beginning at 2 p.m. Rev. Bob Dahlen will conduct the service and a potluck lunch will follow the program. Everyone is welcome to participate.

DEATHS

Head Start at Badger earns national award

Head Start program of Northwest Community Action, Inc., Badger, recently was presented the second place award at the National Head Start conference in Louisville, KY, for excellence in the adaptation of computer technology to work with children and families in areas of management, operations and service delivery.

The $1,000 award given by the National head Start Association was accepted on behalf of the Badger Head Start staff by Mark Carlson, director. The first place award went to a Head Start program in Long Island, NY, with the third, fourth and fifth place awards going to programs in Florida, California and New Jersey.

Key features of Northwest Head Start's program include adapting an Early Childhood curriculum for use on computers and the use of color notebook computers by teachers on home visits and at centers to provide appropriate learning activities that are enhanced by integrating technology into those learning experiences.

The Head Start program of Northwest Community Action serves 220 pre-school children and their families at sites in Grygla, Newfolden, Middle River, Karlstad, Lancaster, Hallock, Greenbush, Badger, Roseau, Wannaska, Warroad and Baudette.

SOUPCON
Sherry LeCouraiere

Recipes today are good for entertaining, just in case you are one of those who is still planning a spring celebration like graduation or confirmation. They are also good for any summer get-together.

You might like to serve this elegant cold salad to your guests — it not only looks good, but tastes good too:

MANDARIN CHICKEN SALAD
2 cups cooked chicken
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 teaspoon salt
1 cup green grapes
1 cup chopped celery
1 cup mandarin oranges
1/2 cup slivered almonds
1 cup macaroni rings
1 cup salad dressing
1 cup whipped cream

Combine chicken, onion and salt. Refrigerate several hours. Add grapes, celery, oranges, almonds, macaroni and salad dressing. Mix and refrigerate.

Add whipped cream. (Recipe serves 12.)

Here is another tangy cold salad that will please your guests:

SEAFOOD PASTA SALAD
1/2 cup salad dressing
1/4 cup Italian Dressing
2 tablespoons parmesan cheese
2 cups (8 ounce package) corkscrew noodles, cooked and drained
1 1/2 cups chopped crab meat (imitation is fine)
1 cup broccoli flowerets, crisp cooked
1/2 cup chopped green pepper
1/4 cup green onion slices

Combine dressings and cheese, mixing well. Add remaining ingredients and mix lightly. Chill. (Recipe serves 10.)

Cheese balls are great for entertaining — just make them ahead and bring them out of the fridge at serving time. Here are two that you will enjoy:

DRIED BEEF CHEESE BALL
8 ounces cream cheese
2 tablespoons chopped chives
1 small onion, chopped finely
2 ounces dried beef, very fine
Chopped walnuts

Combine cheese, chives, onion and dried beef and form into a ball.

Roll in chopped nuts, wrap and chill.

CHEDDAR CHEESE BALL
8 ounces cold pack Cheddar cheese
8 ounce package cream cheese
1/2 teaspoon onion or garlic powder
Chopped nuts

Mix ingredients and refrigerate before making into two balls.

Roll in chopped nuts, wrap and chill. (May be frozen.)

Another handy recipe, delicious with vegetables, chips or crackers:

DILL WEED DIP
1 cup mayonnaise (not salad dressing)
1 cup sour cream
1 tablespoon Beau Monde seasoning
1 tablespoon parsley flakes
1 tablespoon green onion flakes
1 tablespoon dill weed

Combine all ingredients and chill.

This cold, fresh-tasting drink should take care of a substantial amount of thirsty guests:

SLUSH PUNCH
1 1/2 cups honey, sugar or white syrup
6 cups water
2 (12 ounce) cans frozen orange juice
2 (12 ounce) cans frozen lemonade
1 (48 ounce) can pineapple juice
5 crushed ripe bananas
4 liters of ginger ale

Dissolve honey in water and chill.

Add undiluted juices and bananas.

Freeze in two ice cream pails. Chop frozen mixture before placing in punch bowl. Add 2 liters of ginger ale to each pail of slush. (Recipe makes 2 punch bowls full.)

This will be a refreshing, non-alcoholic thirst quencher for your guests:

SUNNY SHERBET SLUSH
1 (6 ounce) can frozen orange juice concentrate, slightly thawed
1 (6 ounce) can frozen lemonade concentrate, slightly thawed
3 cups unsweetened pineapple juice
3 cups softened orange sherbet
2 (33.8 ounce) bottles ginger ale, chilled (8 cups)

In large, non-metal container, combine concentrates, pineapple juice and sherbet, mixing until well blended. Cover and freeze.

To serve, let stand at room temperature 15-30 minutes to thaw slightly. Scoop into punch bowl and add ginger ale, stirring gently to combine. (Recipe makes 29 1/2 cup servings.)

ASSERT® OR AVENGE®. YOU CHOOSE WHEN TO GIVE WILD OATS THE BOOT.

For early control of wild oats and mustards, wild buckwheat and catchweed bedstraw, you can't buy a better herbicide than ASSERT® herbicide. ASSERT protects your wheat and barley fields by attacking and eliminating wild oats during the 1- to 4-leaf stage.

And to get rid of big wild oats in wheat and barley fields—even up to the 4- and 5-leaf stages—AVENGE® wild oat herbicide gives you the proven consistent control you need. Plus, you can tank mix AVENGE with many broadleaf herbicides for one-pass weed control.

Come in and pick up the herbicide that's right for you. ASSERT or AVENGE. Both give wild oats the boot!

"COMMUNITY CHURCH"

I John 4:7 Dear friend, let us love one another for love comes from God. Every one who loves has been born of God, and knows God.

Jesus' earthly ministry ended when the religious community crucified Him on the cross. He prayed, "Father, forgive them, for they know not what they do."

Do you know someone who has done you wrong? If so, can you find love, acceptance and forgiveness for them?

Let us follow the Master's example and forgive, for this is the will of God.

To the Editor:

This is a huge "thank you" to our area lawmakers for their hard work and successful efforts in the 1994 legislative process in securing our Northwestern Minnesota Juvenile Training Center (NMJTC) project funding. At the very first we were pleased to have had the strong support of our legislative leadership: Senate Majority Leader Roger Moe and Speaker of the House Irv Anderson.

Our "journey" began long before the 1994 legislative session. We received the unanimous support of our NMJTC new facility project from the State of Minnesota Ninth Judicial District Court Bench and our Joint Powers County boards, as well as the complete support of at-large counties, county attorneys, county sheriffs and other area law enforcement agencies, the Bemidji Area Intergovernmental Council, the City of Bemidji, the Great Reservations of Leech Lake, Red Lake and White Earth, the Bemidji Area Indian Employment Council, the Independent School District 31, Bemidji and other area schools, county probation and court service officials, and human service officials.

The support of past and present officials of the state of Minnesota Department of Corrections at all levels, in particular, Commissioner Frank Wood, and Deputy Commissioners James Bruton and R.T. Mulcrone, and District Supervisor Richard Crawford was key. Corrections must be acknowledged for having included the NMJTC project in its Capital Bonding package, and for having facilitated the project's inclusion in the Governor's Capital Budget plan.

The NMJTC governing board of directors has worked unceasingly to further the project, as did the governing board's task force, which stood from June 1990, until January 1991. The task force rendered the proposal recommendation to design and build a new facility to sustain the future operation of NMJTC. Additionally, the wide support of the public and individuals was tremendous.

And, a selfless NMJTC staff team, whether administrative, correctional or educational, has labored long and hard for the passage of this bill. Staff at NMJTC will continue to facilitate meaningful and positive change in the lives of adolescents directed to the new NMJTC facility by court process.

The work of our local legislators in obtaining funding for the NMJTC project was key. They mustered state-wide bipartisan support for the NMJTC project, and gave it their all.

I maintained virtual omnipresence during the session. I had the opportunity to observe first-hand our legislators' incredible schedules and task dedication. The result of our legislators' hard work was successful passage of bills which sustain local projects. Our local legislators and staff somehow summoned the energy necessary to maintain near round-the-clock output in our behalf. Yet I still found them congenial and willing to give time and advice to us in our advocacy.

I am greatly impressed: All our area legislators had key roles in the accomplishment of NMJTC project funding, and they delivered. Sen. LeRoy Stumpf, as bonding committee conferee, was solidly in support of us, fought for us, and made the NMJTC project a key element in the bonding bill.

We cannot know what our legislator do for us unless we've followed in their footsteps during the legislative session. It is a journey which gives one a fuller realization of what legislators do in our behalf. Our legislators work hard and dedicate themselves unremittingly to our locale, our projects and our people. We are grateful to them.

Joe Vene, Superintendent
Northwestern Minnesota Juvenile Training Center

Area students in Sinosummer

Several area residents are among 29 students to participate in Bemidji State University's Sinosummer program from June 8 to July 7.

The program provides students with two weeks of academic study at Liaoning University in Shenyang, the People's Republic of China, then a two-week study tour including Beijing in northeastern China, Xian in north central China and Guilin in southern China.

Participants include Ella and Melinda Hausken of St. Hilaire, Jeffrey Foss of Newfolden and Paul Troskey of Middle River.

Troskey is a senior at BSU majoring in business administration. Foss is a senior majoring in social studies. Ella Hausken is a special undergraduate student and her daughter Melinda is a junior pursuing a degree in elementary education.

Etiquette Of The Stars And Stripes

As the nation prepares to observe Memorial Day on Monday as a time for special honor of its war dead, many citizens are also preparing to fly, carry or otherwise display the flag of the United States. The Federal Flag Code—Public Law 344 passed by the 94th Congress—is the guide for handling and display of the U.S. flag.

There are 42 flag rules to be followed in order to properly display and use the U.S. flag, and they are contained in a booklet entitled "Etiquette of the Stars and Stripes," published and distributed by the Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States. "The flag is very much a part of our daily lives," the foreward to the booklet states. "We should always respect it because it represents everything we are as Americans—everything we hope to be."

There is no legal or official designation of stars in the flag as representing certain states. However, one can presume the first state admitted to the Union to be represented by the star in the upper left-hand corner and the latest state admitted to be the star in the lower right-hand corner. That being the case, reading across from left to right, row by row, top to bottom, the order would be as follows:

Row 1—Delaware, Pennsylvania and New Jersey, 1787; Georgia, Connecticut and Massachusetts, 1788;

Row 2—Maryland, South Carolina, New Hampshire, Virginia and New York, 1788;

Row 3—North Carolina, 1789; Rhode Island, 1790; Vermont, 1791; Kentucky, 1792; Tennessee, 1796; and Ohio, 1803;

Row 4—Louisiana, 1812; Indiana, 1816; Mississippi, 1817; Illinois, 1818; and Alabama, 1819;

Row 5—Maine, 1820; Missouri, 1821; Arkansas, 1836; Michigan, 1837; Florida and Texas, 1845;

Row 7—Kansas, 1861; West Virginia, 1863; Nevada, 1864; Nebraska, 1867; Colorado, 1876; and North Dakota, 1889;

Row 9—Utah, 1896; Oklahoma, 1907; New Mexico and Arizona, 1912; Alaska and Hawaii, 1959.

Following are some rules selected from the VFW flag etiquette booklet which the public may be interested in knowing for this Memorial Day and other holidays and observances:

(1) It is the universal custom to display the flag only from sunrise to sunset on buildings and on stationary flagstaffs in the open. However, when a patriotic effect is desired, the flag may be displayed 24 hours a day is properly illuminated during the hours of darkness.

(2) The flag should be hoisted briskly and lowered ceremoniously.

(3) The flag should not be displayed on days when the weather is inclement, except when an all weather flag is displayed.

(4) The flag should be displayed on all special days (Memorial Day is included).

(8) When the flag is displayed from a staff projecting from a window sill, balcony or building front the union of the flag should always be at the peak of the staff unless the flag is at half-staff. When suspended over a sidewalk from a rope between a building and a pole at the edge of the sidewalk, the flat should be hoisted out from the building, union first.

(9) When displayed over the middle of the street, the flag of the U.S.A. should be suspended vertically with the union to the north in an east and west street or to the east in a north and south street.

(10) When carried in a parade front with other flags, the U.S. flag should always be to the marching right of the other flags, or to the front and center of the flag line.

(11) When displayed on a float in a parade, the U.S. flag should be mounted on a staff or, if displayed flat, it should be so suspended that its folds fall free, as though the flag were staffed.

(12) The flag should not be draped over the hod, top, sides or back of a vehicle....When the flag is displayed on a motor car, the staff should be fixed firmly to the chassis or clamped to the right fender.

(14) During the ceremony of hoisting or lowering the flag or when the flag is passing in a parade or in review, all persons present except those in uniform should face the flag and stand at attention with the right hand over the heart. Those present in uniform should render the military salute....The salute to the flag in a moving column should be rendered at the moment the flag passes.

(24) Do not let the flag of the United States touch anything beneath it, such as the ground, floor, water or merchandise.

(26) On Memorial Day the flag should be displayed at half-staff until noon only, then raised to the top of the staff.

(38) The flag should never be used for advertising purposes in any manner whatsoever. It should not be embroidered on such articles as cushions or handkerchiefs and the like, printed or otherwise impressed on paper napkins or boxes or anything that is designed for temporary use and discard. Advertising signs should not be fastened to a staff or halyard from which the flag is flown.

(41) When the flag is placed upon a grave, see that it will not touch the ground. Do not leave it there indefinitely. In Arlington and other National Cemeteries, flags are removed the following day.

(42) A torn flag may be mended, or if soiled it may be washed or dry cleaned. When the flag is so badly torn, soiled or faded that it is no longer a fitting emblem for display, the flag should be destroyed in private, preferably by burning and without ceremony.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

First household hazardous waste collection held

The first Household Hazardous waste collection in a 10-county region was held in Thief River Falls Thursday. By 3 p.m. cars were lined up to Highway 1 and up to the entrance of the Curling building.

Howard Person, Pennington county solid waste officer, said about 300 surveys went out and only 100 returned. Despite the return, he expected that there would be a lot of people who would just show up.

Officials from the Regional Household Hazardous Waste division were dressed in special protective suits. Some were also wearing goggles and gloves, others were wearing breathers. An emergency first aid station had also bee set up. Despite the fact that most, if not all of the material, collected during the event came from homes, they can still be hazardous. They can become even more hazardous if improperly mixed with other products. That's why a special collection procedure had been developed, and why residents were asked to fill out surveys.

Brian Hauge, regional director for Household Hazardous Waste in Northwest Minnesota, explained that household hazardous waste can ben just about any hazardous material except explosives, biologicals (needles, and syringes) and radioactives.

Person said most of the material collected would be recycled. Paint might be reused or combined with other paint in large barrels and sent to plants where it can be recycled. Pesticides were sorted depending upon the category they fit into. Oils and flammables were also separated. Once these items are packed and labeled they are taken to a regional facility in Bagley where it is either recycled or given to the State's disposal contractor, and disposed of according to Minnesota Pollution Control Agency guidelines.

Person said they expect to hold the Household Hazardous Waste Collection annually from now on.

Board tackles beaver damage

Minnesota legislature has given approval to an appropriation of $50,000 for beaver damage control in six northwestern Minnesota counties, according to Gerhard Ross of Fisher, a member of the Red Lake Watershed District's board of managers.

Once they identified the common problem of beaver damage, the six counties joined to form a joint powers board to address the situation.

Lowell Enerson, administrator of the watershed district, said funds will be distributed at the township level once beaver damage problems are identified. Beaver and beaver dam removal will require township chair approval and the appropriate county would pay the removers. Enerson adds that beaver and beaver dams will be removed only where they cause damage to local landowner property.

Members of the joint powers board are Delray Larson, Marshall county; Lee Nielson, Red Lake county; Don Jenson, Pennington county; Rupert Syverson, Polk county; Jon Brooks Jr., Clearwater county; and Rich Florhaug, Beltrami county.

90th Birthday celebration to be held at Lake Bronson

Citizens of the community of Lake Bronson are planning a 90th birthday celebration for Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3, with events Saturday geared to the downtown area and those on Sunday centering around Lake Bronson State Park.

One of the features Saturday, July 2, will be a craft show and flea market with exhibitors to set up their tables in open areas downtown. A $10 fee will be charged to set up for the day and the committee arranging the celebration would appreciate advance registration. Contact Louise Coffield at the Lake Bronson Motel, Lake Bronson, MN 56734 or call her evenings at 754-4355.

Another highlight July 2 will be a rhubarb baking contest. Entries will be judged and cash prizes awarded. Entries will also be donated to the celebration committee and sold to the public to help provide funds for the birthday party. A list of categories and prizes will be announced later.

Entries are also being sought for a horseshoe tournament to be held Saturday. Other events include a kiddie parade and adult parade to begin at 1 p.m. and games for the children to be held throughout the day.

A special feature will be an open house at the Ernie and Glenna Hansen home which was built in 1904, the same year the community of Lake Bronson was founded. Rides from downtown to the home by horse and carriage will be provided during the day July 2.

One of the events at the state park Sunday, July 3, will be a boat parade. All persons with any type of watercraft are invited to participate in that event.

Anyone with questions about any of the birthday party events is welcome to call Louise Coffield at the number listed above.

Business meet at Landstad

Annual business meeting of the Landstad Lutheran church located seven miles west of Thief River Falls will be held Tuesday, June 7, at 7 p.m. at the church. The meeting is open to all members and other interested persons.

Road work on highway 89

Construction has resumed on highway 89 from Roseau to Wannaska, according to Bernie Stinson, project supervisor for the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Motorists will experience delays during paving operations and should look for flag persons or pilot cars directing traffic in the construction area. The project is expected to take two weeks to complete.

During the project, eight miles of gravel shoulders and four miles of the driving surface will be paved. In addition, some paving on highway 310 from Roseau to the Canadian border will take place, necessitating the use of pilot cars and flag persons for two days.

"Motorists are reminded to watch for signs indicating single lane closures during construction hours and slow down and obey flag persons directing traffic," Stinson said. "Motorists should be aware of highway construction workers as they pass through the area and remember to 'give 'em a brake.'"

Artists sought for Roseau Art in the Park, which will be held July 10

Fifth annual Art in the Park exhibit and sale at Pioneer Farm near Roseau is asking new and returning artists to register for the event to be held Sunday, July 10, from noon to 5 p.m.

In past years from 1,000 to 1,500 people have attended the event. Returning artists must register and pay the required entry fee by June 6. Late registrants can not be included in the brochure and advance publicity.

All artists who create original two dimensional fine art (such as paintings, drawings or collages) or original three dimensional pieces (such as pottery, blown glass, basketry, weaving, wood carving, etc.) are welcome to submit three samples of their work to be juried.

Sponsoring Roseau Area Arts Association does not accept ordinary crafts for this event in order to not compete with area crafts shows.

Art in the Park coordinators Evelyn Bilberg, Pat Roth and Betty Johnson welcome suggestions from anyone who knows an artist who might be interested in participating. To suggest artist names or to obtain information, call 463-3070 or write to P.O. Box 13, Roseau, MN 56751.

Artists who have previously exhibited at Roseau's Art in the Park need not be juried again unless they intend to show work in a new form different from earlier exhibits.

Public admission to the event is free as the sponsoring RAAA seeks to provide a unique opportunity for the public to view and purchase fine art created by area artists.

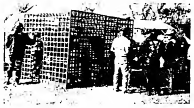
Cyclists ask motorists for awareness



More and more motorcycles are on the road each year and are not always easily seen in traffic, according to the Minnesota chapter of American Bakers for Awareness, Training and Education (ABATE).

In asking the motoring public to look twice and be aware that cyclists are on the road, ABATE noted that motorcycles are entitled to the whole lane of the roadway and that cyclists and motorists need to cooperate and share the road.

Particular care should be taken at intersections. Statistics show most motorcycle accidents at intersections occur because the motorist does not yield the right of way, according to ABATE.

Cleaning ditches along a three mile stretch of Highway 2 is just one of the community service activities that the Northwest Chapter of ABATE performed this year. ABATE means American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education, and it is a not-for-profit organization which is trying to improve the image of motorcyclists, as well as promote safety in the sport. The group's members include motorcyclists from the entire northwest corner of Minnesota. Shown above are President Kevin Reynolds and Jim Scott, both from Red Lake Falls; vice president Steve Tischmen from Mentor; and secretary Stacy Davidson and Sergeant-at-Arms Jeff Davidson from Thief River Falls.

The Jail and Bail at last weekend's Spring Ride-In was one of the events that raised nearly $500 for two area organizations. The Ride-In was put on by the Northwest Chapter of ABATE, American Bikers for Awareness, Training and Education. Violence Intervention Project based out of Thief River Falls and Northwoods Group Home of Red Lake Falls were the recipients of this year's donations. About 400 motorcyclists attended the Ride-in, coming from Canada, North Dakota and Minnesota.

ABATE chapter works to improve image of bikers

of them. Last year the group participated in a Buddy Bears program in which they provided stuffed bears for law enforcement officers to give to children in traumatic environment situations.

Each summer the group has a "Bikes and Brats" weekend event for members and their families. Activities are planned for all ages, but especially for the children. Last year it was held at Huot Park near Red Lake Falls.

Share the Road is one of the community education programs put on by the Northwest Chapter of ABATE, in which members visit schools, civic organizations, senior citizen groups or anywhere else they are invited to teach awareness and understanding of motorcycling to the motoring public as well as to motorcyclists. "We even put on a presentation for a quilting group," said Past President Nick Frohling. "But we were glad to do it. We'll put on a presentation anywhere they ask us to."

The group has also begun work on a Young Riders program in which bicycle safety, first aid, motorcycle safety, and drug and alcohol resistance are taught to those under the age of 18. The group also participates in Dial-A-Ride, which utilizes a state-wide 800 number to prevent drunk driving, and has kept a three-mile stretch of Highway 2 cleaned through the Adopt-a-Highway program.

Last year the Northwest Chapter participated in a benefit for Bethany Mattson, the Warren girl who was severely injured in a motorcycling accident.

Last weekend the group's sixth annual Spring Ride-In was held at Voyageur's View in Red Lake Falls with Nick Frohling as coordinator. Events for the weekend were selected with an eye toward wholesome family fun and fund raising. Nearly $500 was raised in several events. In one event, Dale "Crank" Schmitz served as jailer for a Jail and Bail. Other events utilized motorcycles in unique ways, such as a water balloon toss, a weenie bite contest, slow riding race and barrel toss.

The two day Ride-In also included, of course, a motorcycle ride from Voyageur's View to the Sno Sled Inn in Gentilly and back and, for the adults, dancing to live bands in the evening, along with a bonfire.

"We are known for our bonfires," said Frohling. "We always have a big bonfire at the Ride-In and every year we try to have a better one."

Approximately 400 people attended the Ride-In, coming from areas as far as 400 miles north of Winnipeg and other parts of Canada; Bismarck, Fargo and Grand Forks, ND; and Duluth. Motorcycle riders from almost every age group were represented.

Recipients of donations are chosen by each member placing the name of his or her favorite charity in a hat. The charities or organizations drawn from the hat receive the donations from the social event. This year's recipients were the Northwood Group Home in Red Lake Falls and the area Violence Intervention Project out of Thief River Falls. Other donations were given to the Share and Care in Crookston and the Red Lake County Food Shelf and Blue Line Club.

ABATE promotes members' participation in local, state and national government. "We encourage members to participate in local political caucuses and conventions," said Frohling. One of the group's goals is to insure that motorcyclists have a voice in the political process of the state, advocating education to reduce motorcycle accidents and fatalities and promote safety in the sport rather than legislation that uses tax money. President Kevin Reynolds stated, "Tougher mandates won't prevent (motorcycle) accidents — education and awareness on the part of motorcyclists and motorists will."

According to Gail Healy, "Minnesota motorcyclists have donated over $6 million to finance the Minnesota Motorcycle Safety Program, which is the first comprehensive and totally self-funded program of its kind in the nation." She added, "Minnesota has won over 20 national awards for its motorcycle safety programs, which have all been developed and funded by motorcyclists. It has one of the most comprehensive rider education programs in the nation."

Anyone interested in joining or obtaining more information about ABATE should contact Gail Healy at 253-2493.

(Suggestion for this story was submitted by Gail Healy. It will be considered for the Northern Watch Story of the Month contest for May.)

People in this area are saying . . .

"Count Me In!" . . .

. . . and joining the new

Northwest Medical Center Foundation

"My granddaughter is expecting a baby. Our family plans on that baby being born at Northwest Medical Center right here in Thief River Falls."

"As a businessman, I recognize Northwest Medical Center's $8 million plus annual payroll as an important industry is critical to our area's economic health. This fact alone is worth my investment in this new Healthcare Foundation."

"It's nice to have a complete out-patient facility available right here at our hospital. I'm going to join the Northwest Medical Center Foundation."

"I appreciate the convenience of receiving physical therapy right here in Thief River Falls. It's important to me that Northwest Medical Center not only survive, but be state of the art. I'm in!"

"One of the key factors in our business locating in Thief River Falls was the accessibility of a strong, viable hospital."

"My dad had a heart attack while working on the farm. We feel the hospital being so close is why dad is still living today."

"I'm a family man. I know accidents can happen. When my child has an accident, I want Emergency Room care minutes away rather than an hour."

"My mother is in a Thief River Falls nursing home. It's comforting to know she's blocks away from her family . . . and also her hospital."

"I want to join in Building A Foundation For Excellence. Count me as a supporter of the Northwest Medical Center Foundation"

NCC makes state appearance

Capping the most successful season in the history of Northland Community College baseball, the Pioneers are in the Twin Cities this weekend for the 1994 Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament.

The six-team, double-elimination Saturday/Sunday tournament features the top three regular season finishers in the MCCC Northern and Southern Division standings.

Play today (Saturday) takes place at Brooklyn Center High School. Sunday games are scheduled for Parade Stadium in Minneapolis.

Northland played at those same sites two weeks ago as a National Junior College Athletic Association Region 13 tournament qualifier. That was also a six-team, double-elimination event that included the top two MCCC mid-season divisional leaders, plus representatives from North Dakota and Wisconsin.

The Pioneers' Region 13 results included first-day wins over Bismarck (ND) Junior College 7-2 and North Hennepin 2-1, but second-day setbacks at the hands of eventual champion Madison Area (WI) Tech 9-3 and Normandale 11-1.

Northland drew Normandale as a first round MCCC foe today at 10 a.m.

Other state tournament opening round match-ups include North Hennepin vs. Hibbing and Itasca vs. Bethany.

Northland went 18-6 in MCCC play this spring en route to a second place finish behind Hibbing in the Northern Division. The Pioneers are 21-9 overall.

The Terry Wiseth-coached Pioneers, who made their second-ever Region 13 tournament appearance this year, are playing in the state tournament for the first time.

Saturday – Brooklyn Center

■ 10 a.m. - North Hennepin vs. Hibbing, Northland vs. Normandale.

■ 1 p.m. - Itasca vs. Bethany, North Hennepin/Hibbing winner vs. Northland/Normandale winner.

■ 4 p.m. - Itasca/Bethany winner vs. North Hennepin/Hibbing loser, Itasca/Bethany loser vs. Northland/Normandale loser.

Sunday - Parade Stadium

■ Games scheduled at 8 a.m., 12-noon, 5:30 p.m. and 8 p.m.

Among those recognized during the annual awards banquet held recently at the University of Minnesota-Crookston were Donevon Quam of Goodridge, who was named the most valuable player on the men's basketball team, and Jenny Welter of Plummer, who was selected as the most valuable player and most versatile player on the Trojans' volleyball team. Quam (top photo) received his award from UMC men's basketball coach Gary Senske. Welter (bottom photo) is pictured with UMC athletic director Marv Bachmeier. (UMC photos).

8AA golf tournament won by Bemidji girls

Bemidji won team honors and Tracy Melby of Alexandria was the individual champion Wednesday in the 1994 Section 8AA girls high school golf meet at Park Rapids.

The Lumberjacks finished with a 353 and an eight-shot victory margin over defending champion Alexandria, a team that shares a record with 11 state meet appearance since 1977. Thief River Falls tied for tenth in the 13-team field with a 409.

Entire Bemidji team will make an appearance at the 1994 Minnesota Class AA state meet June 7-8 at Bunker Hills in Coon Rapids, along with the top five individual finishers who were not on the Bemidji team.

Thief River Falls fell short of shooting a pre-tournament goal of 400, but the 409 was still the best post-season score the Prowlers have turned in for coach Charlie Cornell.

"Our goal was 400, and we're a little disappointed we didn't get it," acknowledged Cornell, "but they still did a nice job."

Caliber of the competition was impressive, according to Cornell. "It's amazing how well they play," he said. "The scores keep getting lower and lower. Last year a 360 won it and a 91 got you to state. This year you needed an 88."

Otters double Prowlers 12-6

■ North Sub-Section 8AA baseball tournament

Fergus Falls scored six times in the bottom of the sixth inning Thursday to turn a 6-5 lead into a 12-6 North Sub-Section 8AA high school baseball tournament win over visiting Thief River Falls.

The victory sends the 8-10 No. 3-seeded Otters into the four-team, double-elimination portion of tournament, while the loss ends a 6-14 season for the No. 6-seeded Prowlers.

Thief River Falls stayed right with Fergus Falls until the bottom dropped out in the sixth when the Otters scored those half-dozen runs after a one-out, bases-loaded potential inning-ending double play ball got through for an error.

Two runs scored on the play, and moments later an error on a pick-off attempt made it 9-5. The inning continued with a single by Dave Weinricht, a double by Nick Riba, a single by Dave Thacker, and an infield ground-out by Darren Goltz that plated the final run of the inning.

Thief River Falls got one run back on a Fergus Falls error in the seventh, but got no closer.

The Prowlers had erased an early 2-0 deficit with four runs in the top of the third on a two-out, two-run double by Andy Peterson, a run-producing wild pitch and a RBI single by Nathan Anderson.

But the Otters matched that with four runs of their own in the bottom of the inning on back-to-back run-scoring sacrifice fly-outs by Josh Harworth and Ryan Olson, a triple by Weinricht and and consecutive RBI doubles by Riba and Thacker.

Anderson drove in another run with a fifth inning single to close the gap to 6-5, but the Prowlers left the bases loaded, and then fell victim to that sixth inning Fergus Falls outburst.

Thief River Falls starting pitcher Eric Bjorgaard left in the sixth after giving up 10 hits, walking four and striking out one. Ten of the 11 runs scored off Bjorgaard were earned. Chris Vanyo got the final two outs.

Brad Anderson was the Fergus Falls starter. The win went to Olson, who pitched four innings. They gave up five hits, walked eight and struck out nine.

Anderson was 3-for-4 to lead the Thief River Falls offense. Thacker was 3-for-3 to pace the Otters, while Sean Lisko, Chris Horgen, Weinricht, and Riba had two heads each.

NCC recruiting lands TRF, Fosston players

Lisa Ulrich of Thief River Falls and Gina Salverson of Fosston have signed letters of intent to attend Northland Community College next year and play basketball for the Rick Nikunen-coached Pioneers.

Ulrich, a 5-8 forward, averaged 7 points and 5.2 rebounds per game for the Prowlers.

"Lisa is a welcome addition to our program," said Nikunen. "She will bring a solid overall game to our team. One of our recruiting goals is to bring in people who are hard-working and play with intensity. We feel that Lisa possess those qualities and we look forward to working with her. We look for her to contribute at either of the forward positions."

Salverson, a 5-6 guard/forward scored 6 points and grabbed 5 rebounds per game for the Section 8A champion Greyhounds.

"Gina is a tremendously hard worker who can play several different positions. Passing skills and court sense might be her strongest assets, but she has solid all-around basketball skills. She comes from a winning program and knows what it takes to be successful."

The Pioneers were Minnesota Community College Conference state tournament qualifiers this winter.

A thirty-year-old "Thank you!"

Roseau — Michelle Stotts of Roseau and her sister, Terri Hawkins, returned to England early last month to meet with a man who helped save Michelle's life 30 years ago. A television show called "Surprise! Surprise!" paid the fare and accommodations for the sisters and members of their families to fly to London to meet with and thank David Cox on the television program. Cox was passing by the house in Raunds, England, where the Brau family lived when he saw smoke pouring out of the duplex. He heard a child crying and immediately climbed the drain pipe and entered the burning building through a window, where he found Michelle in her crib. He dropped her out of the window onto a tarpaulin which was held by neighbors, but Cox was then trapped inside of the house until he was rescued by firemen. Terri Brau was rescued by a fireman. The girls' mother was killed in the fire, and, at the time of the fire, their father was on duty at the U.S. Air Force base in Alconbury.

Add events to "An American Festival" here

Celebration on July 2-3-4 involves whole community with activities planned

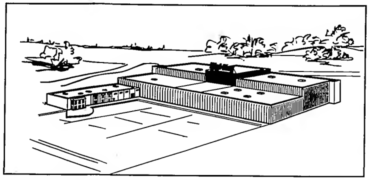
Events continue to be added to "An American Festival," the community Fourth of July weekend celebration to be held Saturday, Sunday and Monday, July 2, 3 and 4, in Thief River Falls.

"We wanted something in Thief River Falls on this big weekend," states committee chairman Paul Nelson, "and decided if we're going to do a celebration, why not do the biggest and best celebration in the area? 'An American Festival' is for the entire family—a three-day event for everyone to enjoy and celebrate."

Events scheduled for Saturday, July 2, include a 5K and 10K walk or run, parade, helicopter rides, food stands, saddle club play day, beer gardens, Bingo, dog show, music by "Bob and the Beach Combers," craft show, three professional lumberjack shows, Kitty Cat races, lip sync contest, petting zoo, Passion play performance (also scheduled Friday, July 1) and a teen dance.

Events on the schedule for Sunday, July 3, are a bike race or tour, pancake breakfast, helicopter rides, softball tournaments, patriotic speaker, Arctic Lites gymnastics performance, beer gardens, food stands, music by "Sparky and the Time Pirates" and the "Smokey Mountain Boys," lip sync contest, Bingo, K-9 demonstration of guard dogs by personnel from the Grand Forks Air Force Base, scuba diving demonstrations, beach party, hoop shoot, duck races, kite flying, personal watercraft exposition, hike on the Riverwalk, golf tournament and a $6,000 fireworks display.

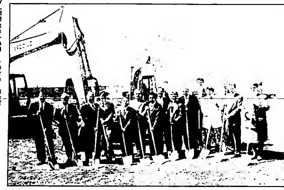
Events Monday include helicopter rides, memorial service, tours of the Pedar Engelstad Pioneer Village and a family picnic with games for all ages.



For further information about "An American Festival" contact the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce at 681-3720.

Craft festival reservations being accepted

Reservations from artists and craftspeople interested in participating in the Creative Crafts Festival scheduled for Saturday, June 25, in Thief River Falls are still being accepted, according to the sponsoring Thief River Falls Women of Today chapter.



To make reservations to participate in the festival, contact Jan Ness at 681-2767 or Kim Novak at 681-6313.

The festival will be held from 9:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m. June 25 at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center lot on the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. Any area art or craft person may register to display and sell their art work or crafts.

When Digi-Key Corporation of Thief River Falls completes its 170,000 square foot addition, the building will resemble the drawing shown above. The new section will add about 40 feet of two-story construction before changing to three-story construction for the remainder of the building. About 45,000 square feet of the additional space will be used for office space for sales and marketing and 125,000 square feet for order fulfillment and warehouse. Digi-Key has been the top rated electronic component distributor in the United States for the past three years with a 90 per cent "excellent" rating by its customers.

Digi-Key breaks ground for 170,000 square foot addition

Groundbreaking was held recently for the new 170,000 square foot addition to the Digi-Key Corporation building in Thief River Falls. Involved in the ceremonies were (left to right), Mark Larson, president and chief operating officer of Digi-Key; Charles Churchill, senior vice president of Panasonic Industrial Company (PIC); Dr. Ron Stordahl, chief executive officer of Digi-Key; Steve Tsukichi, vice president of marketing for Digi-Key; Toshi Horiuchi, president of PIC; Stan Springsteen, vice president of purchasing for Digi-Key; Henk Miyal, assistant general manager of the Audio-Video Computer Communications (AVCC) division of PIC; Bob Steffes, president of Electro-Mark; Merci Lindahl, warehouse manager for Digi-Key; Harlan Kirkelde, building engineer for Digi-Key; Dave Ddette, product development manager for Digi-Key; Loree Wendlandt, telemarketing manager for Digi-Key; Keith Steva, executive vice president and MIS director for Digi-Key; Dick Robert, distribution manager for the AVCC division of PIC; and Marie Finney, vice president of administration for Digi-Key.

Digi-Key Corporation of Thief River Falls recently broke ground for a 170,000 square foot addition which will increase space in the total facility to approximately 300,000 square feet. The primarily three-story addition will include 45,000 square feet of office space for sales and marketing and 125,000 square feet for order fulfillment and warehouse.

The addition will be of similar construction to the existing building and will extend about 40 feet to the west with two stories before the three-story segment begins. A portion of the building is expected to be ready by the end of this year with total project completion expected by late in 1995.

Digi-Key is an industrial distributor of electronic components and accessories, serving a nationwide market from its single location in Thief River Falls.

Started by Dr. Ron Stordahl, the company's chief executive officer, as a "hobby" business in 1969, Digi-Key initially sold a telegraphic keyer kit which was promoted to HAM radio enthusiasts. It was this product, a keyer utilizing digital integrated circuits, from which the Digi-Key name derived. In 1972 Stordahl made the decision to discontinue sales of the keyer and began selling electronic components to hobbyists.

With marketing efforts focused primarily on the hobbyist market in its first 10 years, Digi-Key showed

Schroeder recalls D-Day invasion

Robert Schroeder of Thief River Falls was one of the 160,000 men who landed on Normandy beaches on D-Day fifty years ago. Over three million servicemen and women had a part in planning and implementing the June 6, 1944, Invasion, which is hailed as the turning point of World War II. Schroeder's platoon, the Army Infantry 90th Division, landed on Utah Beach in Normandy after having spent several days "bobbing around like a cork" in a small landing craft on the English Channel. Schroeder remembers being cold and wet and the temperature dropping below the freezing point that night as he and his comrades huddled in the darkness, besieged by German mortar shells and bombs.

Times-Watch Reporter

Monday, June 6, the nation will celebrate D-Day, the day the Allied forces — England, Canada and the United States — invaded the coast of Normandy in France — the day that the tide of World War II began to turn against Germany.

Robert Schroeder of Thief River Falls remembers D-Day. He was there with all of the other soldiers who stormed the beaches of Normandy the morning of June 6. A sergeant in the Army Infantry, 90th Division, Schroeder was one of the group of men that landed on Utah Beach, jumping from one of those small landing crafts we have seen in pictures, after days of being tossed about by the angry waves of the English Channel.

The little landing craft "bounced around like a cork" on the Channel, Schroeder said. "We were on the water for quite a few days waiting for something to happen, and we were all getting sea sick."

The invasion began early on a grey, cloudy, stormy morning. Wave after wave of infantrymen and armored troops crossed the English Channel and were tossed ashore on a 50-mile stretch of beach on the coast of France.

Schroeder was one of nearly three million men who had a part in the invasion, along with 16 million tons of arms, munitions and supplies; 5,000 large ships, 4,000 landing craft; and more than 11,000 aircraft.

The invasion of France, originally named "Overlord," had been planned for months, and had been under consideration by leaders of the Allied countries since 1942. General Dwight D. Eisenhower was named supreme commander of the endeavor. The target date for D-Day was first scheduled for May of 1944, but was changed to June 5 of that year. The invasion did not take place until June 6 because of storms in the English Channel and elsewhere in the area.

Schroeder was, he says, "one of the older fellows there." He tried to enlist in the Navy in 1941, but was not accepted because of his age. "They told me 'Why don't you try the Army?' But I said I figured if the Army wanted me, they knew where to find me."

And sure enough, the Army did just that. In 1942, Schroeder was called into the Army at the age of 32. His unit spent quite a bit of time in the States and was well-trained, according to Schroeder. Because of this, he was promoted to the rank of sergeant before he was shipped overseas.

Despite what has been written and said about the German forces knowing very little about the invasion beforehand, Schroeder says they were there, ready and waiting. They had bombs aimed at the beaches, but there was no actual hand-to-hand combat. "They were expecting it (the invasion) and had

Charges pending in damage to trees

Red Lake Falls — Three 18-19 year old men will be charged with criminal damage to property for vandalizing approximately 20 trees last Saturday night or Sunday morning in Red Lake Falls. The newly planted trees were part of the city's tree planting project. The men stripped the branches from some of the trees and broke some in two.

Warroad man killed in accident

Warroad — A 19-year-old Warroad man was killed and the 20-year-old driver critically injured when the car they were in hit a power pole in an accident north of Nelson, seven miles north of Alexandria Friday morning. Brad Cole was dead at the scene and Brad Johnson of Garvin was transferred to St. Cloud hospital. Cole was a 1993 graduate of Warroad high school and the son of Bryon and Pam Cole.

-Warroad Pioneer

3-year old child injured

Roseau — In an accident about 10:30 a.m May 24 west of Warroad in Lake township, a three-year-old child was injured when his foot was caught in a riding lawn mower. The child was being pulled in a wagon behind the mower at the time of the accident. The mower was driven by an adult. The Roseau county sheriff's department and Warroad ambulance service responded to the call. The child was taken to the Roseau Area Hospital and then transported to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

How about some cool desserts to have ready for unexpected guests?

This dessert not only looks delicious, but tastes that way too:

SWISS MOCHA CHEESECAKE

1 (8 ounce) package cream cheese, softened
1/3 cup sugar
1 cup sour cream
2 tablespoons General Foods International Coffees - Swiss Mocha
1 tablespoon milk
1 graham cracker pie crust
1 (8 ounce) container Cool Whip

Beat cheese until smooth. Gradually beat in sugar. Stir in sour cream. Measure 1/4 cup of the mixture and set remainder aside.

Stir Swiss Mocha and milk into 1/4 cup of cheese mixture. Drizzle 1 tablespoon of the mocha flavored mixture into crust.

Fold Cool Whip into reserved cream cheese mixture. Spoon into crust.

Drizzle with remaining mocha flavored cheese mixture. Draw knife through mixture to marble.

Refrigerate at least 2 hours until set. Store in refrigerator.

This dessert is baked, but it can be kept ready for guests in the refrigerator – top with whipped cream or ice cream and a cherry for a special treat:

CHERRY RHUBARB COBBLER

Filling

2 cans (21 ounces) cherry pie filling
3 cups chopped rhubarb
1 cup sugar
4 tablespoons butter

Spread fruit in a 9x13 inch baking pan. Sprinkle with sugar and dot with butter.

Crust

1/2 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 egg
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 cup milk

Cream butter and sugar. Add egg, beating well.

Combine flour and baking powder. Add to creamed mixture alternately with milk. Pour over fruit.

Bake at 350 degrees for 50-60 minutes.

Use a big bowl for the filling part of this dessert because it really fluffs up when it is beaten:

FROZEN STRAWBERRY DESSERT

Crust

1/4 cup brown sugar
1 cup flour
1 stick margarine
1 cup chopped nuts

Mix like pie crust. Add nuts. Pat in 9x13 inch pan and bake 10 minutes at 350 degrees.

When cool, crumble fine, saving 1/2 cup to sprinkle on top. Pat rest of crumbs back in pan.

Filling

1 package frozen strawberries, partially thawed
2 egg whites
1 tablespoon lemon juice
1 cup sugar
1 pint Cool Whip

Mix strawberries, egg whites, lemon juice and sugar in large bowl. Beat at highest speed of mixer for 15 minutes.

Fold in Cool Whip. Pour over crust and sprinkle with crumbs. Freeze.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

I find it very unfortunate that Rep. Phil Carruthers chose to perceive my voting record regarding juvenile crime as part of a display of cynical politics.

Rep. Carruthers was correct in saying the juvenile justice reform bill contains the most thorough reform of the juvenile system in 30 years. It will begin treating violent young people as the serious offenders they are, letting them be tried as adults and receive adult penalties. The sections line-item vetoed by Governor Carlson do not affect the overall thorough reform of the juvenile justice system.

The bill continues to spend nearly $9 million to combat the increase in juvenile crime. The DFL majority forced Governor Carlson to line-item veto many bills this session because the money appropriated in those bills spent more than the state could manage in a fiscally sound manner. Without these line-item vetoes, the state would be forced into another budgetary crisis and the citizens of Minnesota would face future tax increases to maintain the fiscal stability of the state.

As a member of the House Judiciary Committee, I assisted in developing this legislative package. The Juvenile Justice Reform Bill is the product of 15 months' work with representation from virtually every aspect of the criminal justice system. I fully understand the critical importance of the role of the public defender and the addition of probation officers in the Juvenile Justice Reform Bill. The line-item veto of the initial dollars for public defense and probation officers will not significantly impact the rights and the level of supervision afforded to juveniles in the court process.

I am quite dismayed that Rep. Carruthers questions my position as being tough on crime. My constituents are well aware of my commitment and dedication to the prevention and reduction of violence and crime. Also, I believe my voting record during my first term as a state legislator represents my strong belief that people who commit crimes must receive consequences for their actions.

Sincerely,
Tim Finseth
State Representative

"America's Protected Class III"

Taxpayers throughout the nation should be interested in a report entitled "America's Protected Class III," the third installment of a series of studies by the American Legislative Exchange Council (ALEC), a non-partisan public policy group based in Washington, DC.

The study helps answer the nagging question which taxpaying American families constantly ask: "Where does all that money go?" Much of it, according to the study, has gone and continues to go into higher pay for government workers. Over the 12 years ending in 1991—the latest year for which data is available—the salaries of government workers climbed at five times the rate of those in the private sector.

According to information provided by America's Future, here are some of the main findings of the report:

• Wages and salaries for public workers are higher than private wages and salaries. In 1991, for example, government workers received, on average, 9.2 per cent more than private employees. Federal workers made out the best. They got 26 per cent more in their pay checks than private workers.

• Fringe benefits for state and local government workers also are far more generous than those given out by private employers. Adding the value of benefits, government workers were paid 10.3 per cent more than private workers.

• Hourly wages make the gap even wider. Public workers, the report states, tend to get more time off than private sector employees. As a result, even if their paychecks were identical, their per-hour compensation would be higher.

While some would consider the results of the study to be a case of sour grapes, the trends revealed have important implications for taxpayers. The report notes that if public sector wages were more comparable to those in the private sector, state and local taxes could be cut by $51 billion. And if there were cutbacks in the federal goverment's generous pay scales, taxpayers could save an additional $30 billion for a total of $81 billion in potential tax reduction.

The ALEC study puts this figure in perspective. That amount is what the government spent in total in 1991 for civilian safety—police, fire and corrections. It is more than U.S. consumers spent on new automobiles in 1991 and half the total of U.S. corporate profits that year. Any way you look at it, we're talking real money here.

Economist Richard Vedder estimates that every dollar in excess state and local government worker wages results in six dollars in lost personal income growth.

Not everyone agrees with the ALEC study. Critics say that it fails to take into account that public sector employment is more heavily weighted to skilled jobs than the private sector and that more highly skilled workers should receive higher wages. It is a sensible theory.

But it doesn't explain why a public file clerk in Philadelphia makes almost twice what a private file clerk earns, based on figures from the Pennsylvania Economy League. And it doesn't explain how public bus drivers in Denver, CO, earned nearly $11 per hour more in wages and benefits than private drivers did. Various studies have shown that when the job skills are the same, the government pay differential continues.

Even the AFL-CIO labor union, which represents many of the public sector workers, admits that it is "not uncommon that work done by public employees can be done for as much as 50 per cent less in the private sector."

Defenders of the federal government pay scale claim that public sector wages fell behind the private sector during the high inflation era of the 1970s. They say the wage hikes in the 1980s for government employees are justified to bring public wages back into balance. But this fails to explain why public worker wages have continued to climb at a high rate.

In its summary, the ALEC study recommends "rightsizing" the public work force in order to bring public wages in line with private wages. It says the issue is one of simple fairness.

"Government should guarantee no more to any one class of employees, public or private, than it can guarantee to all," the study concludes. "Goverment's primary obligation is to fairly serve all, not just some, of the people."

Privatizing The War On Crime

Would it be contrary to expectations of most Americans to more greatly involve the private sector in what has generally been considered a public effort—the war on crime? The fact is, the private sector now spends nearly twice as much on crime prevention as does the public sector.

The National Center for Policy Analysis has suggested the following 10 ways in which the private sector can be used to better fight crime:

(1) Contract out non-crime or non-emergency functions of law enforcement agencies to private security firms and pay bonuses to their officers who help cut the crime rate.

(2) Make greater use of reserve law enforcement officers. there are currently some 250,000 police reservists in the United States who are required to serve a minimum number of hours per month.

(3) Shut down public bonding agencies and use private bail bondsmen instead.

(4) Increase the use of private rewards for criminal convictions, including bounties offered by commercial insurance policies. This would raise the arrest rate sharply and boost the recovery of stolen property from today's meager one-third.

(5) Pay bounty hunters for recovery of criminals who are wanted on bench warrants—orders by judges to arrest people charged with criminal offenses.

(6) Use private attorneys to prepare or litigate criminal cases. Victims of crimes should be allowed to hire private attorneys to prepare cases and thereby extend public prosecutors' resources.

(7) Integrate criminal prosecution and civil remedies, such as financial compensation to victims. This could raise the price of crime to criminals and more adequately compensate victims.

(8) Require convicts eligible for parole or probation to post a private bond to guarantee good behavior. Thirty-eight per cent of people arrested for felonies are either on probation, parole or pretrial release.

(9) Allow more private construction and management of prisons. Private companies typically can build a prison with 20 per cent less money than public firms can, and saving up to 15 per cent can be realized if private companies manage the prisons.

(10) Employ more prisoners. Originally, prisons were meant to be self-supporting, with inmate labor paying the cost of incarceration.

It will be interesting to see if the idea catches on with Legislators and Congressmen as they face the ever escalating problem of crime in America.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Finseth gets unanimous endorsement

State Rep. Tim Finseth of Warren was given a unanimous ballot of endorsement for reelection at the District 1B endorsing convention held Wednesday, June 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the First American State Bank in Warren.

The endorsing convention followed a meeting of the House District 1B search committee earlier that evening at Beaver's Cafe in Warren. No one appeared to contest the Finseth endorsement.

Delegates at the endorsing convention voted by paper ballot. Finseth has served as State Representative since being elected at a special election in 1993 following the resignation of Rep. Wally Sparby to accept appointment to the office of state director of the federal Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service.

Summer recreation program for Plummer community will begin on Monday, June 6

June 6 will mark the start of the 1994 Plummer summer recreation program.

Advance sign-up is required for swimming, dance and gymnastics portions of the program. Call the school at 465-4222 for registration information.

ASSERT® OR AVENGE®. YOU CHOOSE WHEN TO GIVE WILD OATS THE BOOT.

For early control of wild oats and mustards, wild buckwheat and catchweed bedstraw, you can't buy a better herbicide than ASSERT* herbicide. ASSERT protects your wheat and barley fields by attacking and eliminating wild oats during the 1- to 4-leaf stage.

And to get rid of big wild oats in wheat and barley fields–even up to the 4- and 5-leaf stages–AVENGE* wild oat herbicide gives you the proven consistent control you need. Plus, you can tank mix AVENGE with many broadleaf herbicides for one-pass weed control.

Come in and pick up the herbicide that's right for you. ASSERT or AVENGE. Both give wild oats the boot!

Three men charged in Red Lake Falls with vandalism

On May 31 Hector Cazazos, 18, and Gabriel Pliego, 19, and Cesar Centeno, 19, appeared before Judge Larry Jorgenson in Warren for district court in Red Lake county for criminal damage to property.

Charges against the three men stem from an incident reported May 30. On Monday morning in Red Lake Falls, approximately 20 newly planted trees along Highway 32 between Wilcox furniture and Hillcrest nursing home were broken off or the leaves were stripped. The Red Lake sheriff's department received information about suspects in the case from the public and the three men were charged with criminal damage to property.

In court on May 31, charges were dismissed against Gabriel Pliego. Cesar Centeno and Hector Casasos pled guilty to misdemeanor damage to property. They were ordered to pay $1,620 in restitution for damage to the trees, $800 to the Red Lake Falls tree planting project, and $200 in court costs for a total of $2,620 plus 45 days in jail. The 45 days in jail were stayed on condition that restitution was paid.

Open house at Old Mill state park on June 5

The staff of Old Mill state park invites everyone to the park on Sunday, June 5. Every year the first Sunday in June is designated as state park open house across Minnesota and all state parks may be entered free of charge.

Sunday afternoon there will be free coffee, lemonade and cookies served courtesy of the Newfolden Lions club.

Old Mill state park has a large picnic area, swimming pool, playground area and picnic shelter. Volleyball, horseshoes, hiking and softball are favorite recreational activities. The campground has 26 sites, 10 with electric hook ups, and a modern sanitation building.

Old Mill is located in Marshall county 13 miles east of Argyle or 11 miles west of Newfolden. Access to the park is one-half mile off County State Aid Highway 4.

Hendrickson, Bugge named MVP

■ TRF boys, girls high school track awards

Jon Hendrickson and Jessica Bugge were named most valuable members of the 1994 Thief River Falls boys and girls high school track teams during awards presentations Wednesday.

Hendrickson and Toni Chiodo were selected as the Best In Track; Mark Spyhalski and Carly Dee were voted Best In Field; while David Jones and Kate Ihle were named most improved.

John Davis, Dan Bjerknes, Kelly Skeim and Bugge were selected as the Prowlers' 1995 captains, a role held this spring by Hendrickson, Bjerknes, Dee and Allison Myers.

Boys earning track letters this year were seniors Rob Bakken, Erik Dahl, Brent Fuller, and Hendrickson; juniors Nathan O. Anderson, Nathan P. Anderson, Steve Burslie, Martin Dahlen, Steve Lyman, Arlen Stenvik, Bjerknes, Davis, and Spyhalski; sophomores Jason Breiland, Justin Brunkhorst, Nick Dee, Billy Fogarty, Kyle Miller, Chris Tsukichi, and Jones; freshmen Jared Brandt, Josh Clark, Rick Donarski, Paul Kopari, Billy Lubitz, and Benji Marquis; along with student manager Sam Adams.

Girls were lettered this spring include seniors Carly Dee, Chiodo and Myers; juniors Erika Jensen, Kelly Skeim and Bugge; sophomores Leah Helgenset, Lisa Swanson and Kamie Twomey; freshmen Alicia Bakken, Jocelyn Helgeland and Ihle; eighth graders Desirae Alberg, Jennicca Gallagher, Rebecca Mooney, and Jenny Nelson; along with seventh graders Nicole Kopari and Laurel Ronchetti.

Participation certificates went to sophomores Cory Orochowski, James Jorgenson and Matt Lawrence; freshmen Carl Dahlen, Chris Pribula, Stefan Ronchetti, and Angie Judd; eighth graders Benjamin Hanson, James Lehrer, Chad Skeim, Joshua Stinson, Brian Unbehaun, Lisa Dicken, Shawna Johnson, and Allison Rantanen; seventh graders Kim Carlson, Nicole Johnson and Stephanie Wiseth, along with sixth graders Seth Harlow, Brock Nelson, Bailey Nordin, Zachary Olson, Bennett Pagnac, Shane Peterson, Jonathan Pream, Chris Russell, Matthew Trontvet, Sarah Brown, Deirdre Dally, Lora Danielson, and Kim Kirkeide.

Femrite is TRF MVP in softball

Sophomore Jaimo Femrito was named the most valuable player on the 1994 Thief River Falls softball team, it was announced this week by Prowlers coach John Anderson.

Sarah Huschle was selected as the most improved player during the recently-completed 1994 high school season.

Other special recognition went to Odetta Blomker, Coaches Award; Cami Sorenson, Battleship Award; and Kara Boughton, Spirit Award.

The Prowlers finished the year with a .345 team batting average, but still wound up just 4-12.

It was a young Thief River Falls team, with Blomker the lone senior letter winner.

Letters also went to juniors Jana Johnson, Huscble and Boughton; sophomores Nicole Burns, Jackie Flynn, Lisa Hovet, Tara Nesland, Traci Rendulich, Lisa Risdal, Carrie Rud, Rachael Stusynski, Bobbie Jo Teiken, Femrite, and Sorenson; freshman Erica Owen; student manager Michelle Sorenson; and statistician Stephanie Henney.

Participation certificates went to senior Margaret Meyers; sophomores Jenny Carlson, Kelly Carter, Jenniffer Gaffaney, Erica Haglund, Angela Haugen, Missy Hoffard, Miranda Johnson, Tracey Koivisto, Tina Krogstad, Joni Larson, Natalie Loeffler, Kelly Newton, Amy Peterson, Lori Risdal, Jaime Smith, Kelsie Steiger, Kelly Clark, Anne Halvorson, Amanda Hruby, Erin Liden, Kelly Olson, Lisa Vettleson, Cori Walseth, and Melissa Meyer.

The program also included 23 eighth graders and 21 seventh graders.

Blomker and Huschle served as the Prowlers' 1994 captains.

Registrations are due for TRF girls Pacesetter Camp

Registration deadline is June 8 for the Thief River Falls portion of the Pacesetter Girls Basketball Camp, scheduled to be held July 11-15 in the [illegible].

The camp, designed for girls who will be in grades 3-12 during the 1994-95 school year, is open to all players within a 60-mile radius of Thief River Falls.

Daily camp schedule includes grades 10-12 from 8:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.; grades 3-4 from 12:30-1:30 p.m.; grades 5-6 from 1:30-3

Site switch listed for Prowler Camp

A site change has been [illegible] for a portion of the third annual Prowler Boys Basketball camp, scheduled to be held June 6-9.

First and second graders, who were originally scheduled to receive instructions at the Knox Elementary School will instead report to the Northrop Elementary School gym, according to Lincoin High School [illegible], the camp director.

Rest of the camp sites remain unchachanged – grades 3-4 at the city auditorium and grades 5-6 and 7-9 at Lincoln.

Camp sessions will be offered from 5:30 to 8:15 p.m. each day.

Women's Softball

Doreno Myers was 3-3 with a grand slam home run, a double and a single to lead TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres past Best Western 20-1 Wednesday in Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball. [illegible] matched Myers' 3-for-3 effort for the winners, and Michele Fletcher had 3 hits in 4 at-bats.

Arlene Walseth hit a grand slam home run, while Karen Wikstrom and Alice Dahl were both 3-for-4 as Pizza Hut handled Best Western Inn 17-6.

Alice Dahl followed with a 3-for-3 game and Brenda Dahl was 3-for-4 as Pizza added a 15-10 win over the Swingers.

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners also won a pair – 8-1 over TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres and 5-3 vs. B&E Car Wash/Terry's Service. [illegible] and Sara Melby were all 2-for-3 in the opener. Melby, Sheree Nelson and Diane Klemetson had 2-for-3 games in the nightcap.

Pitcher Julie Halvorson notched a shut out, Sue Lee had 3 hits and Pam Schenkey homered in a 12-0 Mush-a-Rets win over Digi-Key.

Seamless Aluminum Guttering Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585
Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

NOTHING KILLS WILD OATS LIKE ASSERT®
ASSERT® herbicide gives you the highest level control of wild oats in wheat and barley fields.
ASSERT® works with a unique 2-pronged attack system that provides foliar and soil activity against both wild oats and mustards, wild buckwheat and catchweed bedstraw. This unique mode of action will enable you to maximize yields with consistent performance.
This season, get the most effective and consistent wild oat control. Stop in and find out how you can get the inside advantage with ASSERT®.

FmHA
FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION

HUNTING/INVESTMENT LAND FOR SALE

TRACT #1:
The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will be accepting sealed bids on the following farm tract in Pennington County described as the NE1/4 19-153N-40W. Contains approximately 103 acres of CRP. Contract is through 1996 with an annual payment of $4,529.00.

TRACT #2:
The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will be accepting sealed bids on the following farm tract in Marshall County described as the SE1/4 9-155N-40W.

Terms will be cash at closing. Closing will occur within thirty days of expiration of Minnesota Rights of First Refusal.

All bids must be submitted on Form FmHA 1955-46 (available at any FmHA office). All bids must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% in the form of a cashier's check, certified check or money order. All bids must be submitted in a sealed envelope and marked "SEALED BID OFFER - TRACT 1 OR TRACT 2," as appropriate, and in separate envelopes.

This sale is subject to rights offered the former owner under Minnesota Rights of First Refusal.

Sale is subject to conservation deed restrictions, which will restrict the purchaser's use of the wetlands, floodplains, highly erodible land and other special areas of the property.

The purchaser of Tract 1 will be required to assume the CRP Contract.

The purchaser will be required to comply with the conditions of a Soil Conservation Service conservation plan.

Bids will be accepted until 1:00 p.m. Monday, June 27, 1994 at the Thief River Falls FmHA Office, 1305 North Gale Street, P.O. Box 606, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701, telephone 218-681-2843. Bidding information and packets are available at the above office. Bid opening will be held Monday, June 27, 1994, at 1:30 p.m. at the Thief River Falls FmHA Office.

The government reserves the right to cancel the sale at any time and the right to reject any or all bids.

The property is sold as is.

their bombs and mortars pointed our way, but I guess it was just a little sooner than they expected it to be."

"There was a lot of bombing," he said. "It wasn't as bad as the guys got at Omaha Beach, but it was bad enough. There were quite a few who got hit right off the bat. I think the first one who got hit was my jeep driver."

Huddled on the beach, cold and wet, with continuous bombing overhead, Schroeder said the troops tried to move inland, but didn't get very far. "We got to a road," he said, "and the first thing I noticed was that it was covered with (uniform) stripes." Officers were tearing the signs of their rank off their uniforms "so they wouldn't get shot." The stripes would make the officers prime targets for the German soldiers.

Months before the actual invasion, Allied bombers had pounded the coast of Normandy to prevent the Germans from building up military strength there. Paratroopers had been sent into the surrounding area to cut railroad lines, blow up bridges and take over landing fields. "They did a heck of a job in cleaning things up for us," Schroeder said. "We would come to a place that they had been at and they would have gone through it like a knife, taking care of everything.

"But the worst thing was, many of them got caught. We would come to a house and there would be the paratroopers hanging from the trees. The bodies would be all mutilated and left hanging there. But those guys really did a heck of a job for us."

Schroeder remembers D-Day as being cold and grey. The soldiers came ashore half sick and soaking wet from the violent waves and soon were very cold. "And there weren't any dry clothes or blankets for us there, either," he said. "But it's a funny thing that none of us caught colds."

Oddly enough, Schroeder said temperatures dropped below freezing that night. "And it didn't get dark fast there. It didn't get dark, really dark, until midnight, and then there were only two or three hours of darkness. But when it was dark it was really dark — pitch black. We couldn't see our hands in front of our faces."

The troops slowly made their way into France, although they were constantly under attack. But on July 13, the Normandy invasion came to an end for Robert Schroeder.

He was struck in the leg by shrapnel from a mortar shell that hit a tree near him. His buddies managed to carry him to a medical jeep and he rode to a military hospital in style — on a litter placed on the hood of the jeep.

"The leg didn't heal very fast," he said. "And they kept changing me from one hospital to another and they gave me new shots every time I got to a new hospital. I was in military hospitals in France for about six months."

After he was discharged from the hospital, despite having been wounded Schroeder was not sent home but was sent to do "limited service" in England in the Air Corps. When the war ended in England he was still not sent home but went to Natal, Brazil, where he was a night clerk in billeting, helping soldiers who were returning to the States.

Finally discharged in the state of Georgia, far from his home in Rushmore, in southern Minnesota, Schroeder returned to marry Lottie Dahlberg of Alvarado, whom he met in Minneapolis where he was attending school.

As a boy, he grew up with his 13 brothers and sisters just a few miles from Lottie, in Argyle. "Here I was just a few miles away and I never even knew her then," he said. They were married in 1955. Lottie died last July 4.

Schroeder worked at several trades, as an architect and in upholstering and construction, until 1967. Then he moved to California to do upholstering for an aircraft company. After retiring, he and Lottie came to Thief River Falls to live in 1977.

Since the age of nine, Schroeder has been a woodcarver. His woodcarving makes a very interesting story, and that story will be in next week's Watch.

(This week's story was submitted by Doniel Sellers of Baltimore, MD. It will be considered for the Northern Watch Story of the Month contest for June.)

Another expansion started by Digi-Key to keep growth pace

consistent sales growth. In 1982 the company began redirecting its marketing efforts to industrial users. This proved to be a strategic decision in terms of positioning the business for continued sales growth.

Of the more than 1,500 electronic component distributors in the United States, Digi-Key ranked 42nd in sales in 1989. That ranking improved to 37th in 1990, 31st in 1991, 27th in 1992 and 25th in 1993. The company expects to break into the top 20 ranks in 1994.

Despite this remarkable ascension in the rankings, Digi-Key's market share still represents less than one per cent of the $14 billion electronic distribution industry.

"It is not my goal that Digi-Key become the largest distributor in the industry," Dr. Stordahl said, "but it is important to me that we make every effort to be the best." This quality-centered business philosophy is reflected in numerous industry surveys.

According to the annual "Engineering & Distribution Survey" conducted by Electronic Engineering Times, a leading trade publication, Digi-Key has been the top-rated distributor in the United States on "Overall Performance" for the past three years.

Results from the most recent survey showed that 90 per cent of Digi-Key's customers rated the company "excellent." The next closest distributor had a rating of 53 per cent "excellent."

Digi-Key provides "off-the-shelf" delivery on 95 per cent of the approximately 50,000 items listed in its catalog. This is a "fill rate" that is more than twice the industry average. The company is also committed to ship all orders entered by 5 p.m. Central time the same day—a level of expedited service that far exceeds industry standards.

Complementing the service on orders is Digi-Key's recent ISO 9002 certification for its quality assurance systems, covering the entire order-through-shipping process.

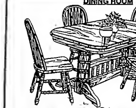
"We believe Digi-Key provides the best service in the industry," says Digi-Key president Mark Larson. "With a 30 per cent compound annual rate of sales increase for the past 20 years—and none of that as a result of acquisition—I am confident that this rapid rate of sales growth is perhaps the best testimony to the quality Digi-Key consistently provides to its customers."

Digi-Key currently employs 425 people. Increases in the Digi-Key work force are anticipated to be a gradual process with current projections calling for between 100 and 150 additional employees within the next 12 months.

"This building addition represents one of a series of major investments Digi-Key will be making over the next several years to position us for future growth," Larson said.

Northern Blood Bank to disburse funds

Past members of the board of directors of Northern Blood Bank, Inc., are encouraged to attend a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, June 8, at 7 p.m. in the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls.



The blood bank has not operated for a number of years since the laboratory at Northwest Medical Center has been supplied by United Blood Services. There are funds remaining in the organization's account and a decision must be made on how they should be disbursed.

An earlier meeting had been called for this purpose but no action was taken due to the lack of attendance.

Former board members are asked to contact Kay Nelson at 681-4760 and let her know they plan to attend the June 8 meeting. A light lunch will be served.

45th Annual NW Dairy Day Tuesday

110 entries from nine counties will represent five dairy breeds in the cattle show at the fairgrounds

Minnesota's original Dairy Day will be held for the 45th time Tuesday, June 14, when 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members from nine northwestern Minnesota counties will show 110 dairy animals in competition at the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

Five of the six major dairy breeds will be represented at the show with far and away the most entries in the most popular Holstein breed. Also represented will be top animals in the Guernsey, Brown Swiss, Jersey and Ayrshire breeds. There are no Milking Shorthorn entries in the show this year.

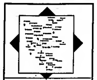
Roseau county leads in number of entries this year with 39, followed by Marshall county with 25 and Becker county with 15. Other counties with entries include Pennington, nine; Beltrami, eight; Polk, six; Clearwater, five; Cass, two; and Red Lake, one.

Princess Contest in Park Rapids

There will be no Region I Dairy Princess contest at Northwest Dairy Day this year, although the 1993 and 1994 regional princesses are expected to be in attendance at the event to meet the public and assist with the award distribution.

When Minnesota American Dairy Association Region I was expanded to include 16 counties several years ago, the regional princess contest was alternated between Thief River Falls and a more southern location in the district every other year. Last year Jodi Okeson of Detroit Lakes was crowned Region I Princess in Thief River Falls.

This year the regional princess contest is being hosted by Hubbard, Cass and Wadena counties at Park Rapids Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11. Coronation will take place following an 11:30 a.m. luncheon at the River Room of the Terrace View Motor Lodge Saturday. Princess Jodi, assisted by Ann Erickson of Battle Lake, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, will crown the new princess and her two attendants.



Candidates will be presented on Friday with a luncheon and workshop on clothing, hair styles, use of makeup and poise. Judging will be conducted during the afternoon.

Sixteen candidates are seeking the princess title. They include Mindi Christenson and Shawna Kohler, Becker county; Kasla Wallace and Laura Hess, Marshall county; Rachel Bell and Sarah Bell, Norman county; Abegail Chervestad, Pennington county; Heather Benbo and Mandy Benbo, Polk county; Wendy Konickson and Sara Sunshine Haglund, Red Lake county; Jennifer Dahlgren and Michelle

Opening the activities at the 45th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 14, will be a showmanship demonstration by Roy Larson, 16, son of Wayne and Janice Larson of the Gatzke area. He is pictured after winning the senior showmanship title at Northwest Dairy Day last year with this five-year-old grade Holstein.

RLF Global Studies students plead guilty

Red Lake Falls — Charges of criminal damage to property against three Global Studies students were dropped in regard to damage to 20 trees in Red Lake Falls on May 28. The three students plead guilty to misdemeanor damage to property and were ordered to pay $2,620 as restitution. They were also sentenced to 45 days of jail time, but the jail time was stayed on the condition that restitution was paid. The three have returned to their home countries. The trees were recently planted as part of the city's tree planting project.

Holt man injured in construction accident

Middle River — Corey Davidson, son of Ronnie and Sharon Davidson of Holt, was injured in an accident June 2 when he was pinned between a pay loader and truck scale on a construction site northwest of Middle River. The loader was unmanned and apparently crept forward, pinning Davidson as he was working with the loader and a truck scale. Davidson was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and then transferred to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

June Festival in Karlstad will be June 18

Karlstad — Karlstad's annual June Festival will be held June 18 this year, a week earlier than usual. There will be bike races for the kids, a kiddie parade, basketball tournament and many other games for kids. There will also be a beao feed; presentation of the play, "Nunsense," and several other activities yet to be announced.

This stuff will most likely keep more than wood ticks away

Wadena — Kip Peltoniemi, associate editor of the Wadena Pioneer, swears that eating plenty of onion and/or garlic before venturing into the woods will help keep wood ticks away. He also gives a recipe for a homemade salve for those who do not like to eat onions or garlic. "Remove skins from two or three large Bermuda onions and from 40-50 cloves of garlic. Puree onions and garlic until there is one-half gallon of thick, moist, smooth-textured paste. Mix the paste with a quart of vegetable oil or olive oil. Spread salve over skin prior to going to bed for at least a week before going into the woods." Other methods of tick protection mentioned in the story were wearing dark clothing and avoiding showering or bathing.

Schroeder whittles away the time

Demand for carvings of his miniature menagerie continues to grow

Robert Schroeder's work bench is a card table and his tools are ordinary household items. Schroeder carves miniature animals that are sold all of the United States and in several foreign countries.

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

Keeping animals in a small apartment might make a person rather unpopular with the landlord, especially animals like horses, pigs, cattle, kangaroos and polar bears, but Robert Schroeder has no problem with his landlord and he has all of those animals in his apartment.

You see, Schroeder's animals are miniatures that he carves himself.

Little animals peek from every corner of his apartment, tiny horses, bulls, pigs and even a polar bear and its cub on a dresser in the bedroom, piglets and running ponies hidden in the closet, and baby rabbits and ducks on an end table in the living room. Once the eye gets accustomed to them, mother, father and baby animals seem to appear in every corner of the house as if by magic.

Some of the special carvings are kept hidden away in boxes in the closet, such as a pony that is one of Schroeder's first carvings and a kangaroo mother with a baby in her pouch.

Schroeder's animals range in size from one inch, such as a little standing rabbit, to the polar bear mother, which is about eight inches long and six inches high. Most of the animals have been carved in different sizes, such as pigs that are anywhere from one and a half inches to three inches high. He has made a few animals larger than that for special orders, but most of the animals he has carved are within the one and one-half to eight inch range.

He has carved other items. He created a wooden shelf for the wall above his couch that held over two dozen of his animals, but the wall is now bare. He sold the multi-tiered shelf and its entire menagerie to a friend who begged to have it. He has also carved lamps, inlaying the types and colors of wood to create an intricate pattern.

Schroeder has been carving animals for 75 years, since the age of nine when he was given a barn with farm animals as a gift. After examining the animals, Schroeder

To begin the carving process, Schroeder uses a template to draw the outline of the animal on a piece of wood, and then trims away the excess with one of his pocket knives.

St. Hilaire receives $2,500 Folk Arts grant

Sponsorship grant will help cover expenses for St. Hilaire All Nations Cultural Festival July 9 and 10

St. Hilaire has received a $2,500 Folk Arts Sponsorship grant to cover artists' and presenter fees and other expenses associated with the St. Hilaire All Nations Cultural Festival, featuring ethnic folk music and folk dancers.

The festival, which will be held July 9 and 10 in St. Hilaire, is a cultural display of music, dance, storytelling, woodcarving, needlework and other crafts. Groups from throughout the region and even some from foreign countries are expected to perform at the festival.

The Minnesota State Arts Board sponsors the Folk Arts Sponsorship Grants. This year, the board awarded six to support public programs that present and interpret Minnesota folk arts. The grants provide support for one event or a series of events, such as folk arts exhibitions, concerts, workshops and festivals. Each event must include interpretation of the art form for members of the general public.

All groups of people including ethnic groups, workers, and school children, have distinct folk traditions. The folk arts include traditional styles of music, dance, storytelling, and song, and crafts such as woodcarving, needlework and decorative painting among others.

Folk Arts sponsorship grants provide matching funds up to $4,000 to non-profit, tax-exempt organizations, such as community groups, museums, and government agencies, for public programs that present and interpret Minnesota folk arts traditions. Recommendations for the grants were made by a panel of folk arts professionals. Grantees were chosen for the quality and traditionality of the forms to be presented and the feasibility of the proposed project.

Panelists included: Trudy Balcom, freelance folklorist, Minneapolis; Tim Choy, speech department, Moorhead State University, Moorhead; Robert Lavenda, department of anthropology and sociology, St. Cloud State University, Minnetonka; Ruth Olson, freelance folklorist, Danbury, WI; Ernest Whiteman, Walker Arts Center Education department, Minneapolis.

Grants were also awarded to five other organizations promoting folk arts.

Double homicide, suicide discovered at residence west of Greenbush

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

At about 6:30 p.m. Thursday evening three bodies were discovered by a family member in a home west of the city of Greenbush.

Sheriff Pat Novacek of the Roseau County Sheriff's Department states that all three died of gunshot wounds and that the matter is being treated as a double homicide-suicide at this time.

"One male, age 84, and a female, age 49, are presently classified as homicide victims, with a second male, age 55, classified as a suicide," said Sheriff Novack. "The weapon involved was a shotgun."

According to a news release from the sheriff's office, all of the parties involved in the shooting were related and were residents of the Greenbush area.

Names of the victims are being withheld pending notification of relatives. When contacted Friday morning, a representative of the sheriff's office stated. "We have no further information to release. None of the names can be released due to the delicate nature of the matter."

There has been no information as to when or why the shootings happened. The Roseau County Sheriff's Department, the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, and the Roseau County Coroner are investigating the matter.

Sheriff Novacek stated that further information will be released "as more information becomes available and is allowed to be released."

"We would come to a place that they had been at and they would have gone through it like a knife, taking care of everything.

"But the worst thing was, many of them got caught. We would come to a house and there would be the paratroopers hanging from the trees. The bodies would be all mutilated and left hanging there. But those guys really did a heck of a job for us."

Schroeder remembers D-Day as being cold and grey. The soldiers came ashore half sick and soaking wet from the violent waves and soon were very cold. "And there weren't any dry clothes or blankets for us there, either," he said. "But it's a funny thing that none of us caught colds."

Oddly enough, Schroeder said temperatures dropped below freezing that night. "And it didn't get dark fast there. It didn't get dark, really dark, until midnight, and then there were only two or three hours of darkness. But when it was dark it was really dark — pitch black. We couldn't see our hands in front of our faces."

The troops slowly made their way into France, although they were constantly under attack. But on July 13 the Normandy invasion came to an end for Robert Schroeder.

He was struck in the leg by shrapnel from a mortar shell that hit a tree near him. His buddies managed to carry him to a medical jeep and he rode to a military hospital in style — on a litter placed on the hood of the jeep.

"The leg didn't heal very fast," he said. "And they kept changing me from one hospital to another and they gave me new shots every time I got to a new hospital. I was in military hospitals in France for about six months."

After he was discharged from the hospital, despite having been wounded Schroeder was not sent home but was sent to do "limited service" in England in the Air Corps. When the war ended in England he was still not sent home but went to Natal, Brazil, where he was a night clerk in billeting, helping soldiers who were returning to the States.

Finally discharged in the state of Georgia, far from his home in Rushmore, in southern Minnesota, Schroeder returned to marry Lottie Dahlberg of Alvarado, whom he met in Minneapolis where he was attending school.

As a boy, he grew up with his 13 brothers and sisters just a few miles from Lottie, in Argyle. "Here I was just a few miles away and I never even knew her then," he said. They were married in 1955. Lottie died last July 4.

Schroeder worked at several trades, as an architect and in upholstering and construction, until 1967. Then he moved to California to do upholstering for an aircraft company. After retiring, he and Lottie came to Thief River Falls to live in 1977.

Since the age of nine, Schroeder has been a woodcarver. His woodcarving makes a very interesting story, and that story will be in next week's Watch.

(This week's story was submitted by Daniel Sellers of Baltimore, MD. It will be considered for the Northern Watch Story of the Month contest for June.)

consistent sales growth. In 1982 the company began redirecting its marketing efforts to industrial users. This proved to be a strategic decision in terms of positioning the business for continued sales growth.

Of the more than 1,500 electronic component distributors in the United States, Digi-Key ranked 42nd in sales in 1989. That ranking improved to 37th in 1990, 31st in 1991, 27th in 1992 and 25th in 1993. The company expects to break into the top 20 ranks in 1994.

Despite this remarkable ascension in the rankings, Digi-Key's market share still represents less than one per cent of the $14 billion electronic distribution industry.

"It is not my goal that Digi-Key become the largest distributor in the industry," Dr. Stordahl said, "but it is important to me that we make every effort to be the best." This quality-centered business philosophy is reflected in numerous industry surveys.

According to the annual "Engineering & Distribution Survey" conducted by Electronic Engineering Times, a leading trade publication, Digi-Key has been the top-rated distributor in the United States on "Overall Performance" for the past three years.

Results from the most recent survey showed that 90 per cent of Digi-Key's customers rated the company "excellent." The next closest distributor had a rating of 53 per cent "excellent."

Digi-Key provides "off-the-shelf" delivery on 95 per cent of the approximately 50,000 items listed in its catalog. This is a "fill rate" that is more than twice the industry average. The company is also committed to ship all orders entered by 5 p.m. Central time the same day—a level of expedited service that far exceeds industry standards.

Complementing the service on orders is Digi-Key's recent ISO 9002 certification for its quality assurance systems, covering the entire order-through-shipping process.

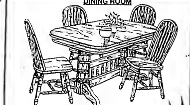
"We believe Digi-Key provides the best service in the industry," says Digi-Key president Mark Larson. "With a 30 per cent compound annual rate of sales increase for the past 20 years—and none of that as a result of acquisition—I am confident that this rapid rate of sales growth is perhaps the best testimony to the quality Digi-Key consistently provides to its customers."

Digi-Key currently employs 425 people. Increases in the Digi-Key work force are anticipated to be a gradual process with current projections calling for between 100 and 150 additional employees within the next 12 months.

"This building addition represents one of a series of major investments Digi-Key will be making over the next several years to position us for future growth," Larson said.

Northern Blood Bank to disburse funds

Past members of the board of directors of Northern Blood Bank, Inc., are encouraged to attend a meeting scheduled for Wednesday, June 8, at 7 p.m. in the Eagles hall in Thief River Falls.



The blood bank has not operated for a number of years since the laboratory at Northwest Medical Center has been supplied by United Blood Services. There are funds remaining in the organization's account and a decision must be made on how they should be disbursed.

An earlier meeting had been called for this purpose but no action was taken due to the lack of attendance.

Former board members are asked to contact Kay Nelson at 681-4760 and let her know they plan to attend the June 8 meeting. A light lunch will be served.

45th Annual NW Dairy Day Tuesday

110 entries from nine counties will represent five dairy breeds in the cattle show at the fairgrounds

Minnesota's original Dairy Day will be held for the 45th time Tuesday, June 14, when 4-H club and Future Farmers of America members from nine northwestern Minnesota counties will show 110 dairy animals in competition at the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

Five of the six major dairy breeds will be represented at the show with far and away the most entries in the most popular Holstein breed. Also represented will be top animals in the Guernsey, Brown Swiss, Jersey and Ayrshire breeds. There are no Milking Shorthorn entries in the show this year.

Roseau county leads in number of entries this year with 39, followed by Marshall county with 25 and Becker county with 15. Other counties with entries include Pennington, nine; Beltrami, eight; Polk, six; Clearwater, five; Cass, two; and Red Lake, one.

Princess Contest in Park Rapids

There will be no Region I Dairy Princess contest at Northwest Dairy Day this year, although the 1993 and 1994 regional princesses are expected to be in attendance at the event to meet the public and assist with the award distribution.

When Minnesota American Dairy Association Region I was expanded to include 16 counties several years ago, the regional princess contest was alternated between Thief River Falls and a more southern location in the district every other year. Last year Jodi Okeson of Detroit Lakes was crowned Region I Princess in Thief River Falls.

This year the regional princess contest is being hosted by Hubbard, Cass and Wadena counties at Park Rapids Friday and Saturday, June 10 and 11. Coronation will take place following an 11:30 a.m. luncheon at the River Room of the Terrace View Motor Lodge Saturday. Princess Jodi, assisted by Ann Erickson of Battle Lake, Princess Kay of the Milky Way, will crown the new princess and her two attendants.

Candidates will be presented on Friday with a luncheon and workshop on clothing, hair styles, use of makeup and poise. Judging will be conducted during the afternoon.

Sixteen candidates are seeking the princess title. They include Mindi Christenson and Shawna Kohler, Becker county; Karla Wallace and Laura Hess, Marshall county; Rachel Bell and Sarah Bell, Norman county; Abegail Cherveстad, Pennington county; Heather Benbo and Mandy Benbo, Polk county; Wendy Konickson and Sara Sunshine Haglund, Red Lake county; Jennifer Dahlgren and Michelle

Opening the activities at the 45th annual Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 14, will be a showmanship demonstration by Roy Larson, 16, son of Wayne and Janice Larsen of the Getzka area. He is pictured after winning the senior showmanship title at Northwest Dairy Day last year with this five-year-old grade Holstein.

RLF Global Studies students plead guilty

Red Lake Falls — Charges of criminal damage to property against three Global Studies students were dropped in regard to damage to 20 trees in Red Lake Falls on May 28. The three students plead guilty to misdemeanor damage to property and were ordered to pay $2,620 as restitution. They were also sentenced to 45 days of jail time, but the jail time was stayed on the condition that restitution was paid. The three have returned to their home countries. The trees were recently planted as part of the city's tree planting project.

Holt man injured in construction accident

Middle River — Corey Davidson, son of Ronnie and Sharon Davidson of Holt, was injured in an accident June 2 when he was pinned between a pay loader and truck scale on a construction site northwest of Middle River. The loader was unmanned and apparently crept forward, pinning Davidson as he was working with the loader and a truck scale. Davidson was taken to Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls and then transferred to United Hospital in Grand Forks, ND.

This stuff will most likely keep more than wood ticks away

Wadena — Kip Peltoniemi, associate editor of the Wadena Pioneer, swears that eating plenty of onion and/or garlic before venturing into the woods will help keep wood ticks away. He also gives a recipe for a homemade salve for those who do not like to eat onions or garlic. "Remove skins from two or three large Bermuda onions and from 40-50 cloves of garlic. Puree onions and garlic until there is one-half gallon of thick, moist, smooth-textured paste. Mix the paste with a quart of vegetable oil or olive oil. Spread salve over skin prior to going to bed for at least a week before going into the woods." Other methods of tick protection mentioned in the story were wearing dark clothing and avoiding showering or bathing.

Robert Schroeder's work bench is a card table and his tools are ordinary household items. Schroeder carves miniature animals that are sold all of the United States and in several foreign countries.

Schroeder whittles away the time

Demand for carvings of his miniature menagerie continues to grow

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

Keeping animals in a small apartment might make a person rather unpopular with the landlord, especially animals like horses, pigs, cattle, kangaroos and polar bears, but Robert Schroeder has no problem with his landlord and he has all of those animals in his apartment.

You see, Schroeder's animals are miniatures that he carves himself.

Little animals peek from every corner of his apartment, tiny horses, bulls, pigs and even a polar bear and its cub on a dresser in the bedroom, piglets and running ponies hidden in the closet, and baby rabbits and ducks on an end table in the living room. Once the eye gets accustomed to them, mother, father and baby animals seem to appear in every corner of the house as if by magic.

Some of the special carvings are kept hidden away in boxes in the closet, such as a pony that is one of Schroeder's first carvings and a kangaroo mother with a baby in her pouch.

Schroeder's animals range in size from one inch, such as a little standing rabbit, to the polar bear mother, which is about eight inches long and six inches high. Most of the animals have been carved in different sizes, such as pigs that are anywhere from one and a half inches to three inches high. He has made a few animals larger than that for special orders, but most of the animals he has carved are within the one and one-half to eight inch range.

He has carved other items. He created a wooden shelf for the wall above his couch that held over two dozen of his animals, but the wall is now bare. He sold the multi-tiered shelf and its entire menagerie to a friend who begged to have it. He has also carved lamps, inlaying the types and colors of wood to create an intricate pattern.

Schroeder has been carving animals for 75 years, since the age of nine when he was given a barn with farm animals as a gift. After examining the animals, Schroeder

To begin the carving process, Schroeder uses a template to draw the outline of the animal on a piece of wood, and then trims away the excess with one of his pocket knives.

St. Hilaire receives $2,500 Folk Arts grant

Sponsorship grant will help cover expenses for St. Hilaire All Nations Cultural Festival July 9 and 10

St. Hilaire has received a $2,500 Folk Arts Sponsorship grant to cover artists' and presenter fees and other expenses associated with the St. Hilaire All Nations Cultural Festival, featuring ethnic folk music and folk dancers.

The festival, which will be held July 9 and 10 in St. Hilaire, is a cultural display of music, dance, storytelling, woodcarving, needlework and other crafts. Groups from throughout the region and even some from foreign countries are expected to perform at the festival.

The Minnesota State Arts Board sponsors the Folk Arts Sponsorship Grants. This year, the board awarded six to support public programs that present and interpret Minnesota folk arts. The grants provide support for one event or a series of events, such as folk arts exhibitions, concerts, workshops and festivals. Each event must include interpretation of the art form for members of the general public.

All groups of people including ethnic groups, workers, and school children, have distinct folk traditions. The folk arts include traditional styles of music, dance, storytelling, and song, and crafts such as woodcarving, needlework and decorative painting among others.

Folk Arts sponsorship grants provide matching funds up to $4,000 to non-profit, tax-exempt organizations, such as community groups, museums, and government agencies, for public programs that present and interpret Minnesota folk arts traditions. Recommendations for the grants were made by a panel of folk arts professionals. Grantees were chosen for the quality and traditionality of the forms to be presented and the feasibility of the proposed project.

Panelists included: Trudy Balcom, freelance folklorist, Minneapolis; Tim Choy, speech department, Moorhead State University, Moorhead; Robert Lavenda, department of anthropology and sociology, St. Cloud State University, Minnetonka; Ruth Olson, freelance folklorist, Danbury, WI; Ernest Whiteman, Walker Arts Center Education department, Minneapolis.

Grants were also awarded to five other organizations promoting folk arts.

Double homicide, suicide discovered at residence west of Greenbush

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

At about 6:30 p.m. Thursday evening three bodies were discovered by a family member in a home west of the city of Greenbush.

Sheriff Pat Novacek of the Roseau County Sheriff's Department states that all three died of gunshot wounds and that the matter is being treated as a double homicide-suicide at this time.

"One male, age 84, and a female, age 49, are presently classified as homicide victims, with a second male, age 55, classified as a suicide," said Sheriff Novacek. "The weapon involved was a shotgun."

According to a news release from the sheriff's office, all of the parties involved in the shooting were related and were residents of the Greenbush area.

Names of the victims are being withheld pending notification of relatives. When contacted Friday morning, a representative of the sheriff's office stated, "We have no further information to release. None of the names can be released due to the delicate nature of the matter."

There has been no information as to when or why the shootings happened. The Roseau County Sheriff's Department, the Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, and the Roseau County Coroner are investigating the matter.

Sheriff Novacek stated that further information will be released "as more information becomes available and is allowed to be released."

Deaths of two counselors shock M-K Recovery Center

Karlstad — The unexpected deaths within days of each other of two chemical dependency counselors at the M-K Recovery Center in Karlstad have left the recovery center in a quandry. Bob Koskela, 46, of Hallock, was killed in a motorcycle accident in Crookston May 20. Robert Christensen, 41, of Warren, died May 31 at United Hospital in Grand Forks of an unexplained infection. Both men worked in the Karlstad office part of each week. The recovery center is a licensed outpatient chemical dependency treatment facility serving patients in Marshall and Kittson counties. It was established in 1988. Secretary Pat Britten is manning the office and Karan Ouran, a chemical dependency counselor from Fergus Falls, is working in the office two days a week on a temporary basis.

Spokes and Gears, the 20th anniversary of the Jaunt with Jim bike tour will pass through Thief River Falls on June 18.

Roughly 350 people will camp the first night of the week-long trip through northwestern Minnesota in Centennial Park in Thief River Falls on June 18. When they arrive in Thief River Falls at about 5 p.m. they will set up camp and then go to the Eagles Club where Lutheran Social Services will provide a meal. On the morning of June 19, the group will be served breakfast at Northland Community College. Shower facilities will also be provided by Northland Community College. Following breakfast, the bicyclists will continue their journey and head to Roseau.

Individuals involved in hosting the bicyclists will include: Don Stewart, community development director, Jerry Wigness, city of Thief River Falls, Shannon Olson and John Johnson, Lutheran Social Services Senior Nutrition program, Jim Haviland and Ed Turenne, Northland Community College, the Eagles Club, Bob Bergan, The Chamber of Commerce and Julie Olson of the Thief River Falls Convention and Visitor's Bureau.

The ride begins at 7 a.m. in Gagley on June 18, and ends in Bagley on June 24. Jaunt with Jim gets its name from event organizer Jim Klobuchar, Star Tribune columnist. Klobuchar shares his experiences on the bike ride with his readers in his column.

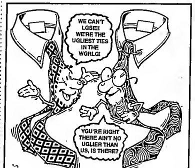
The Spokes and Gears ride is a 450-mile ride that reaches into northwestern Minnesota beginning in Bagley. Cities they plan overnight stays in this year include Thief River Falls, Roseau, Baudette, International Falls and Kellher. Bikers cover roughly 70 to 75 miles per day and spend a good part of the trek visiting and enjoying the surrounding countryside.

Some of the bicyclists might be carrying personal belongings with them on their bikes, but most choose to have their gear stored on the Star Tribune truck that follows riders. The riders stop and eat at the cities they pass through and sleep in tents in community parks. Many of their meals are catered by service clubs and other providers.

Bikers have been asked to ride single file where wide paved shoulders are not available. Motorists who encounter the bicyclists on area highways are also asked to use caution when passing bicyclists.

Hallinglag of America plans Stevne at UND

Hallinglag of America will hold its 87th annual stevne (convention) June 16-19 at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. The organization was established by immigrants from the Hallingdal Valley of Norway to promote cultural aspects and continue friendships of the homeland.



Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 15, at Memorial Union and each day thereafter. Registration is necessary in order to participate in Stevne activities. Costs are $8 per day or $15 for the entire convention. A reception will be held Thursday evening at Swanson Hall.

Special for the 1994 Stevne will be the appeasance of Arvids Orkester from Hol, Hallingdal, Norway on Friday. A fresh fish fry will be held in University Park on Friday evening. Dr. Art Lee of Bemidji State University will speak at the Saturday evening banquet. Tickets for the fish fry and banquet can be purchased at the time of registration.

Genealogical sessions take place Thursday at Memorial Union. In addition, the special collections at the Chester Fritz Library will be available for genealogical research on Friday.

Hallinglag of America, Inc., will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers Saturday, June 18. Other activities, such as tours and crafts, are planned.

Reservations are necessary for those who desire housing on campus. For reservations and/or information, contact Amanda Tufte at 1902 Oak Street, Grand Forks, ND 58201.

Finder's — Keeper's

Red Lake Falls — An honest person who found fifty dollars in $5 bills lying scattered in a ditch northwest of Red Lake Falls and turned the money over to the Red Lake County Sheriff's Department will be allowed to keep the money, said Sheriff Al Morken. The money was found on April 6 and no one has stepped forward to claim it so the person who found it will get to keep it.

Deaths of two counselors shock M-K Recovery Center

Karlstad — The unexpected deaths within days of each other of two chemical dependency counselors at the M-K Recovery Center in Karlstad have left the recovery center in a quandry. Bob Koskela, 46, of Hallock, was killed in a motorcycle accident in Crookston May 20. Robert Christensen, 41, of Warren, died May 31 at United Hospital in Grand Forks of an unexplained infection. Both men worked in the Karlstad office part of each week. The recovery center is a licensed outpatient chemical dependency treatment facility serving patients in Marshall and Kittson counties. It was established in 1988. Secretary Pat Britten is manning the office and Karan Ouran, a chemical dependency counselor from Fergus Falls, is working in the office two days a week on a temporary basis.

Edna Casey, This Is Your Life...

Red Lake Falls — A unique 90th birthday celebration is planned for Edna Casey of Red Lake Falls, former school teacher, Sunday School teacher and superintendent, 4-H leader in Mentor, Terrebonne, Red Lake Falls, McIntosh and other area towns. She was also active in several community organizations. Former students, neighbors, friends, relatives and 4-H club members are being urged to contribute statements describing memorable anecdotes and recollections to assemble in a "Book of Memories" for Edna. Contributions can be brought to an open house that will be held at the Red lake Falls Community hall from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday, June 19, or they can be mailed to Carole Gatheridge, Box 75, Humbolt, MN 56731.

A community project

Ada — Prairie Village in Ada is going to be painted this weekend. Volunteers will be wielding brushes and using 146 gallons of paint to spruce up seven buildings in the historical village, beginning at 7:30 a.m. on Saturday, June 11. Painting will continue Sunday after an 8 a.m. church service and the day will end with a family picnic pig roast when the painting is finished. Volunteers have been scraping and caulking the buildings this week to prepare for the painting. Anyone wishing to help with the effort is invited to the village this weekend.

Hallinglag of America plans Stevne at UND

Hallinglag of America will hold its 87th annual stevne (convention) June 16-19 at the University of North Dakota in Grand Forks. The organization was established by immigrants from the Hallingdal Valley of Norway to promote cultural aspects and continue friendships of the homeland.

Registration will begin at 8:30 a.m. Wednesday, June 15, at Memorial Union and each day thereafter. Registration is necessary in order to participate in Stevne activities. Costs are $8 per day or $15 for the entire convention. A reception will be held Thursday evening at Swanson Hall.

Special for the 1994 Stevne will be the appearance of Arvids Orkester from Hol, Hallingdal, Norway on Friday. A fresh fish fry will be held in University Park on Friday evening. Dr. Art Lee of Bemidji State University will speak at the Saturday evening banquet. Tickets for the fish fry and banquet can be purchased at the time of registration.

Genealogical sessions take place Thursday at Memorial Union. In addition, the special collections at the Chester Fritz Library will be available for genealogical research on Friday.

Hallinglag of America, Inc., will hold its annual business meeting and election of officers Saturday, June 18. Other activities, such as tours and crafts, are planned.

Reservations are necessary for those who desire housing on campus. For reservations and/or information, contact Amanda Tufte at 1902 Oak Street, Grand Forks, ND 58201.

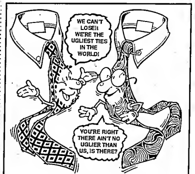
Jim Klobuchar bike tour to pass through TRF Saturday, June 18

Spokes and Gears, the 20th anniversary of the Jaunt with Jim bike tour will pass through Thief River Falls on June 18.

Roughly 350 people will camp the first night of the week-long trip through northwestern Minnesota in Centennial Park in Thief River Falls on June 18. When they arrive in Thief River Falls at about 5 p.m. they will set up camp and then go to the Eagles Club where Lutheran Social Services will provide a meal. On the morning of June 19, the group will be served breakfast at Northland Community College. Shower facilities will also be provided by Northland Community College. Following breakfast, the bicyclists will continue their journey and head to Roseau.



Individuals involved in hosting the bicyclists will include: Don Stewart, community development director, Jerry Wigness, city of Thief River Falls, Shannon Olson and John Johnson, Lutheran Social Services Senior Nutrition program, Jim Haviland and Ed Turenne, Northland Community College, the Eagles Club, Bob Bergan, The Chamber of Commerce and Julie Olson of the Thief River Falls Convention and Visitor's Bureau.

The ride begins at 7 a.m. in Bagley on June 18, and ends in Bagley on June 24. Jaunt with Jim gets its name from event organizer Jim Klobuchar, Star Tribune columnist. Klobuchar shares his experiences on the bike ride with his readers in his column.

The Spokes and Gears ride is a 450-mile ride that reaches into northwestern Minnesota beginning in Bagley. Cities they plan overnight stays in this year include Thief River Falls, Roseau, Baudette, International Falls and Kelliher. Bikers cover roughly 70 to 75 miles per day and spend a good part of the trek visiting and enjoying the surrounding countryside.

Some of the bicyclists might be carrying personal belongings with them on their bikes, but most choose to have their gear stored on the Star Tribune truck that follows riders. The riders stop and eat at the cities they pass through and sleep in tents in community parks. Many of their meals are catered by service clubs and other providers.

Bikers have been asked to ride single file where wide paved shoulders are not available. Motorists who encounter the bicyclists on area highways are also asked to use caution when passing bicyclists.

Self-help bill gives dairy industry a shot in the arm

Calling it a "positive shot in the arm for the dairy industry," Congressman Collin Peterson has announced that the Dairy Self-Help proposal was approved by the House Agriculture Subcommittee on Livestock.

"Our bipartisan efforts paid off at exactly the right time," said Peterson. "The Self-Help bill gives the dairy community some of the tools they need to deal with the pricedrop problems facing the industry."

The bill includes provisions that will:

• Create an independent Market Development and Export board controlled by dairy producers, not by the U.S.D.A. or the industry, to develop export markets for dairy products.

• Eliminate the current 19.5 cents per hundred weight producer assessment and create a Class IV pooling mechanism to fund the independent board.

• Mandate full funding for the Dairy Export Incentive program and domestic food programs.

"The Self-Help bill is an important step toward giving the dairy industry the tools to become more competitive in the global marketplace," said Peterson. "It's the first time we've been able to put regional differences aside and work towards a nationally-acceptable solution.

"Even more importantly, we now have the commitment of everyone involved that, as soon as Self-Help is passed, we will immediately get to work on resolving other dairy pricing issues, such as Federal Orders, Class I differentials, the MW, Section 102, III A. We expect to focus on these issues for the remainder of this Congressional session — and part of the next one — so that the majority of the work will be completed by the time the debate on the 1994 Farm Bill begins."

The bill, which passed by voice vote, will now go to the Agriculture Committee for consideration. It is expected to move quickly to the House floor for a vote.

According to Peterson, the subcommittee made 11 major changes to the National Milk Producers Federation's original self-help plan. A summary of changes from the original national milk bill follows:

• Savings from move to industry export board applied to assessment reduction, thereby enhancing net farmer income.

• Industry board funded through a Class IV pricing system rather than through assessments on producers.

• Full funding of the OEIP program.

• Full funding of purchases for domestic feeding program.

• Board autonomous from secretary (enhances GATT legality).

• Board smaller and includes processors and marketing experts (i.e., a more efficient industry board)

• No bloc voting.

• Excess purchases reduction volume based only.

• Exceptions to targeting provided for new producers and those who recently modernized.

• Targeted reductions "Kick out" as soon as it is evident that the CCC will not purchase seven billion pounds and refunds made to producers from whom reductions were made.

• Forward contracting to avoid assessment is provided.

Today's recipes are in celebration of Dairy Days — all contain dairy products, in one form or another.

This is a favorite recipe of Jodi Okeson, AOA Region 1 Dairy Princess - it sounds delicious:

NUT GOODIE BARS

First Layer
1 cup white syrup
2 cups peanut butter
1 cup brown sugar
3 cups Rice Krispies
2 cups corn flakes, crushed

Heat syrup, peanut butter and brown sugar until melted. Add other ingredients and place in greased jelly roll pan.

Second Layer
1 cup butter, melted
4 cups powdered sugar
2 small packages vanilla instant pudding
6 tablespoons milk

Mix together and spread over first layer. Refrigerate for one hour.

Third Layer
12 ounce bag chocolate chips
2 tablespoons butter

Melt together. Spread over second layer and refrigerate.

When set, cut and place in container. Store in refrigerator.

You will love this fudgey brown sugar candy:

PENUCHE

1 cup sugar
1 cup packed brown sugar
2/3 cup milk
2 tablespoons corn syrup
1/4 teaspoon salt
2 tablespoons butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 cup coarsely chopped nuts, if desired

Butter a 9x5 inch loaf pan.

Heat sugars, milk, corn syrup and salt to boiling in 2 quart saucepan over medium heat, stirring constantly, until sugars are dissolved.

Boil, stirring occasionally, until candy reaches 234 degrees on candy thermometer or until small amount of mixture forms a soft ball when dropped into very cold water that flattens when removed from water.

Remove from heat. Stir in butter. Cool mixture, without stirring, to 120 degrees or until bottom of pan is lukewarm.

Add vanilla. Beat 5-10 minutes with wooden spoon until thick and no longer glossy. (Mixture will hold its shape when dropped from spoon.)

Quickly stir in nuts. Spread evenly in pan. Cool until firm and then cut.

ORANGE-GLAZED POUND CAKE

1 3/4 cups flour
1 cup sugar
1/4 cup shortening
1/4 cup butter, softened
3/4 cup milk
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 teaspoon vanilla
1/2 teaspoon salt
2 eggs
Orange Glaze

Heat oven to 350 degrees. Grease and flour a 9x5 loaf pan.

Beat all ingredients except orange glaze in large bowl on low speed for 30 seconds, scraping constantly.

Beat on high speed for 3 minutes, scraping occasionally. Pour into pan.

Bake 60 to 65 minutes or until toothpick comes out clean. Cool 10 minutes, then remove from pan.

Brush glaze over warm cake. Serve with fresh fruit, if desired.

Orange Glaze
1/2 cup powdered sugar
1/4 teaspoon grated orange peel
1 tablespoon orange juice

Mix all ingredients in small bowl. Stir in additional orange juice, 1/2 teaspoon at a time, until smooth and spreadable.

WHOLE WHEAT WAFFLES WITH HONEY BUTTER

2 eggs
2 cups whole wheat flour
1 3/4 cups milk
1/2 cup butter, melted
1 tablespoon packed brown sugar
4 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
Honey Butter

Heat waffle iron.

Beat eggs with hand beater until fluffy.

Beat in remaining ingredients except Honey Butter just until smooth.

Pour batter onto center of hot waffle iron. Bake about 5 minutes or until steaming stops.

Honey Butter
1/2 cup butter, softened
1/2 cup honey

Mix margarine and honey until well blended.

Picture This Fire Without A Chimney

Model GC400SF
The HEATILATOR Bay direct vent gas fireplace puts a blazing fire in this picture-perfect, bay window setting and eliminates the cost of a chimney or chase. When you want big fireplace impact, without big construction costs or the sacrifice of floorspace, picture a HEATILATOR Bay direct vent gas fireplace. Its bay window design saves floorspace while it shows off the tall, dancing yellow flames. And because it's direct vent, you don't have the cost of a chimney.

Marshall county train-tractor smash

A Marshall county employee narrowly escaped serious injury or death when the tractor/mower combination he was riding collided with a Burlington Northern train.

Marshall County Sheriff's department reported that at 8:45 a.m. on Wednesday, June 8, a Burlington Northern representative reported that a train had collided with a tractor/mower combination about one mile north of Warren at the intersection of a township road and railroad crossing. The driver of the tractor was mowing in the area when the train caught part of the tractor. There was substantial damage to the tractor and mower, but the driver only had what was reported as a broken thumb.

LETTERS

To The Editor:

In your editorial dated May 31, 1994, which cites a recent Harris survey stating that those surveyed, and asked the amount of annual income they needed to retire comfortably, 48 per cent said they would need $40,000 or less, and about 17 per cent said they would need between $40,000 and $60,000.

I could not help but relate these numbers you indicate to those compiled by National Decision Systems, one of the nation's leading and respected demographic and statistical authorities.

National Decision Systems, using a 10-mile radius from Third Street and Main Avenue in downtown Thief River Falls, shows the following:

- There is a total of 4,700 households with 3.26 per cent earning $75,000 or more;
- 9.35 per cent earning from $50,000 to $74,999;
- 13.54 per cent earning from $35,000 to $49,999;
- 19.41 per cent earning from $25,000 to $34,999;
- 22.77 per cent earning from $15,000 to $24,999;
- 18.69 per cent earning from $7,500 to $14,999; and
- 12.97 per cent under $7,500;
- Average household income is $27,510.

Based on the average local cost of living index for our community, the preceding numbers and spendable money are near or better than the national average.

It is obvious that those surveyed in the preceding mentioned Harris survey have very high expectations or were unwilling to face the real-world.

Sincerely,
Norm Anderson

To The Editor:

This letter is intended for School District 564 and the community of Thief River Falls.

It was with a great deal of pride that we attended this year's graduation ceremony at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center. The evening marked a family milestone for us as our son accepted his diploma, but also gave us cause to reflect upon those that have touched his life in so many ways. It has been said that it takes an entire village to raise a single child, and never has this been more apparent than on the evening of June 3rd!

We would like to thank the teachers and administration of our local school system for the quality of education they continually provide for our children, as well as the entire community of Thief River Falls for its warmth and support. As parents, we salute all of you for making this a great place to raise a son!

Sincerely,
Dick and Holly Sjoberg

Birdwatchers use TRF for birding base

Thief River Falls was a base of operations for 20 birdwatchers in a Minnesota Ornithological Society group during the Memorial Day weekend, according to Julie Olson of the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce convention and visitors bureau.

The convention and visitors bureau served a continental breakfast to the group at 6:30 a.m. Saturday, May 27, at the Chamber of Commerce office prior to its leaving for Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge for its first day of activity. Agassiz has 11 of the 25 bird species on the list birdwatchers most want to see.

Leading the group was Kim Eckert of the Minnesota Ornithological Society chapter. People from Minnesota and Nebraska were on the tour which also included visits to the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area, Roseau Bog Owl Management Area and the Wetland, Pines and Prairie Audubon Sanctuary near Warren.

Each member of the group was given an "I Love TRF" button as a souvenir of his or her stay here. The convention and visitors bureau dedicates a portion of its annual budget toward advertising in top birdwatching magazines to attract birdwatchers to the Thief River Falls area.

"To date, we have received numerous requests for birding information for all 50 states as well as several other countries," Olson said. "Birdwatching is an important tourism attraction for Thief River Falls. It is a fact that most birdwatchers are in a high income bracket and spend a lot of their income pursuing their favorite activity."

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length, our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew, saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Beyer is May Story of the Month winner

Winner of the Northern Watch Story of the Month Contest for May was Jean Beyer of Red Lake Falls. Beyer suggested the story on Rita Hagl, the mother of seven who is the recipient of a kidney transplant. The story was in the May 7 Northern Watch.

Hogan named shareholder in law firm

Barry Hogan, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Hogan of Thief River Falls, has been named a shareholder in the Fargo-Moorhead law firm of Jeffries, Olson, Flom Oppegard and Hogan.

A graduate of the University of North Dakota law school, Hogan served as a judicial law clerk for U.S. District Court Judge Paul Benson in Fargo from 1981 to 1983.

He served with the U.S. Army Reserve as a medical service officer and judge advocate from 1971 to 1993 and as a law instructor at Moorhead State University. He was previously a partner in the law firm of Gunhus, Grinnell, Klinger, Swenson and Guy and will continue his practice in civil trial work.

Barry and his wife Valli have two sons, Patrick and James, and live in Fargo.

The Heritage Center in Thief River Falls will serve a meatball dinner from 11:45 a.m. to 12:45 p.m. Sunday, June 12. For reservations call 681-2793.

Correction

The Sons of Norway bus trip to Warroad was wrongly submitted to The Times stating the date of the trip as July 15. The trip will take place on Wednesday, June 15. The group will spend time at the Roseau museum instead of touring the Marvin Windows plant.

Officials issue warning about use of fireworks

Thief River Falls fire department is warning residents about the dangers of fire crackers.

By Minnesota State Statute 624.21, the sale and use of fireworks is prohibited except for public displays by municipalities. The prohibition includes fire crackers, sparklers, torpedoes, skyrockets, roman candles, daygo bombs or other fireworks of like construction and any explosive or inflammable compound or other device containing any explosive substance. This does not include any toy pistols or toy guns with caps.

Thief River Falls police will confiscate any fireworks they find in violation of the statute. Anyone possession or setting off illegal fireworks can also be fined.

Every year injuries requiring medical attention are reported. Some of those injuries can be quite serious.

Fireworks can and have led to fires, some of which have caused large losses.

This Fourth of July holiday, local officials are asking residents to leave the fireworks to professionals.

Fluorescent bulb disposal planned for businesses

The Pennington County Extension Office will be collecting fluorescent bulbs on Thursday, June 16, from businesses in Pennington county. According to Howard Person, Pennington County Extension Educator, over 300 letters have been sent to businesses in the county advising them of the collection.

The Minnesota Pollution Control Agency has mandated that businesses cannot dispose of fluorescent bulbs through regular channels, so Person has made arrangements with Recyclites out of the Twin Cities to dispose of the bulbs for a fee.

Cost of disposal will be 59 cents for bulbs four feet and less, 83 cents for bulbs over four feet, 79 cents for U-shaped and circular lights, and $4.99 for high intensity discharge lamps.

Person stated he made the disposal arrangements with the least expensive company he could find. The company is licensed to perform the service through the Minnesota Pollution Control Agency.

Home owners who have old fluorescent bulbs are being asked to store the bulbs until a collection in August.

Businesses wishing to properly dispose of fluorescent bulbs should contact Howard Person at 681-2116 with information on how many and what kind of bulbs. The bulbs will be picked up the morning of June 16 and charges will be billed later in the month. Certification of proper disposal will be sent with billing.

For more information on the collection, contact Howard Person at the Extension Office, 681-2116.

A stolen base for Thief River Falls' Jason Hruby resulted in a face full of dirt as Fargo shortstop Jamie Olson turned too late for the tag in the first game of Tuesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field. Thief River Falls opened the 1994 season with a 6-4 Game 1 win, but Fargo came back to claim a 4-3 Game 2 decision.

Red Lake County athletes having great spring

Red Lake Falls, Gklee and Plummer have combined for a memorable finish to the 1993-94 school year with spring sports accomplishments in golf, track and baseball.

The Red Lake County cooperative – a hybrid that combines the fall/winter Gklee/Plummer Red Lake County Central Mustangs with the Red Lake Falls Eagles – has produced top-five finishers in both the boys and girls Class A state golf meet, advanced two individuals and a relay team to the Class A boys state track meet, and qualified its baseball team for the Class A state tournament.

Amy Dahle and Bruce Kennedy finished among the top golfers in the Monday/Tuesday competition at the St. Cloud Country Club.

Dahle, the defending Class A girls state champion as a junior in 1993, finished second as a senior. She had rounds of 82-73 for a 155, six shots behind medalist Melanie Lepp of United South Central (Wells-Easton-Bricelyn-Kiester-Walters-Freeborn). Jill Carlin of Fosston was third at 158 to help lead the Greyhounds to their third straight team title, by a whopping 43-shot margin over second place Albany, 672-715.

Kennedy went 76-77–153 for a fifth place finish in the boys Class A meet, won by Adam Dooley of Albany with a 146.

Red Lake County Class A boys state track meet qualifiers this weekend (Friday/Saturday) at the National Sports Center in Blaine are Eric Reinbold, Darrin Hofstad, Nathan Patnode, and Shannon Willett.

That foursome turned in a first place 44.54 effort in the 4x100 relay at the June 4 Section 8A meet in East Grand Forks. Willett and Reinbold also advanced with second place efforts in the 100 and 200 meters, respectively. (Top two individuals in each event, along with first place relay teams, advance to the state meet).

Other Red Lake County boys placing in Section 8A included Jamie Carriere, fourth in the shot; Jon Hoefer, sixth in the 1600; and Hofstad, sixth in the 200.

Section 8A Red Lake County place finishes for the girls included Farrah Brantl, fourth in the 100; Erika Vettleson, Becky Perreault, Jenny Brekkestran, and Brantl, fourth in the 4x200 relay; Vettleson, Brantl, Karlene Jolly, and Jamie Bradach, sixth in the 4x100 relay.

Lawrence Vettleson of Gklee, who shares Red Lake County coaching duties with Brad Gran of Red Lake Falls, earned Section 8A Coach of the Year honors.

Three Marshall County Central athletes, and a single qualifier from a Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Tri-County cooperative, are also at the Class A state track meet.

Advancing for the Nordics were first place finishers Tricia Pederson in the high jump and Sara Lokstad in the shot, along with Scott Zak, second in the boys high jump.

Badger/Greenbush-Middle River/Tri-County competitor Jeremy Anderson qualified for the state meet with a second place finish in the 110-meter high hurdles.

Class A state baseball tournament starts Tuesday at Dick Putz Field in St. Cloud, where Red Lake County will meet Section 5A champion Becker in a 4 p.m. quarterfinal game. The Lower Bracket grouping also features Section 6A winner Sauk Centre vs. Section 7A representative Coleraine at 7 p.m.

Semifinals will be played on Wednesday. Finals are Thursday.

Red Lake County won the Section 8A tournament held Monday and Tuesday in Wadena with a 7-5 first round win over Roseau, a 5-2 semifinal victory over Wadena-Deer Creek and a 5-0 championship game decision over Sebeka.

NJCAA Division III baseball...

Bernstein named All-America

Mitch Bernstein became the first player in Northland Community College history to earn National Junior College Athletic Association All-America baseball honors when it was announced this week by school officials that the Grygla native received NJCAA Division III recognition following the 1994 season.

The sophomore pitcher/infielder was also a football and basketball standout for the Pioneers. He starred in those sports in high school at Grygla, while playing both high school and American Legion baseball in Thief River Falls.

Bernstein, infielder Cory Graves (Red Lake) and catcher Rick Rivera (East Grand Forks) were Northland players listed as 1994 Minnesota Community College Conference All-State picks. Infielder Corey Poole (Thief River Falls) joined that group on the MCCC All-Northern Division squad.

MCCC All-State

■ MCCC Player of the Year - Dwayne Walters, Hibbing

MCCC All-Northern Division

Fergus Falls - Greg Meyer, Joel Hopper, Kelly Puljo; Hibbing - Dwayne Walters, Chris Domerus, Mark Psyk; Itasca - Dan Winkler, Jamie Gilbert; Northland - Mitch Bernstein, Cory Graves, Rick Rivera, Corey Poole.

■ Northern Division Player of the Year - Dwayne Walters, Hibbing.

MCCC All-Southern Division

TRF wins first half of Fargo match-up

Mission accomplished. Thief River Falls coach Howard Dalager arranged his line-up with the idea of winning the opener, then went to the bench in the nightcap in an effort to give everyone an opportunity to play Tuesday in a 1994 season-opening American Legion baseball doubleheader against Fargo at Irv Wilson Field.

Post 117 knocked off the perennially-strong North Dakota squad 6-4 in Game 1, with the visitors coming back to a 14-3 five-inning decision in Game 2.

Dalager was delighted with the results, as he watched Thief River Falls pick up its first win in the current three-year-old series.

"That was a sweet one," said Dalager. "We're real pleased with the first game. I thought we played well."

He was hoping the second game would be closer, but Dalager didn't question the decision to go with a line-up that included eight different starters.

"We have a lot of kids who have worked hard to help get the program to where it is," explained Dalager. "We owe them a chance to play. We'll probably be doing a lot of that this year."

Thief River Falls 6
Fargo 4

A championship-caliber image Fargo might have carried into the first Post 2 visit to Thief River Falls in recent memory was shattered by six Game 1 errors and a handful of mental-block mistakes that opened the doors to a 6-4 Thief River Falls win.

Two walks, an RBI double by Cale Osborn and a run-producing ground-out by Collin Consdorf provided the 3-1 Fargo squad with a 2-0 head start in the top of the first.

But Thief River Falls got those runs back in the bottom of the inning on a run-scoring single by Steve Burslie and a wind-blown RBI double by Joby Looker.

Post 117 went ahead 4-2 in the second when infield hits by Andy Peterson, Jason Hruby and Carter Rogalla were combined with a pair of Fargo errors.

A suicide squeeze bunt put down by Adam Henney scored Looker, who had singled, advanced to second on an errant pick-off throw and stole third, for a 5-2 advantage.

Fargo closed the gap to 5-4 in the fifth on a run-scoring wild pitch and an RBI single by Osborn. But another Post 2 error, followed by a double by Burslie in the next Thief River Falls at-bat closed out the two-run Post 117 victory.

Hruby, Burslie and Looker were all 2-for-3 against Fargo right-hander Kyle Meyer, who struck out seven and did not walk a batter.

Osborn and Jamie Olson both had two hits for Fargo.

The win went to Thief River Falls starter Brian Minks, a left-hander who gave up two runs, two hits and four walks while striking out two in four innings. Bjorgaard pick up a save with three innings of relief work. The right-hander gave up two runs, four hits and three walks. He struck out four.

Fargo 14
Thief River Falls 3

An eight-run fourth inning led to the second-game blow-out as Fargo rolled past Thief River Falls 14-3 in a 10-run rule five-inning affair.

The winners had seven hits and four runs in their first two at-bats.

Scoring on an error and a ground-out by Corey Jenkins, Thief River Falls made it 5-2 in the bottom of the second. But after being retired in a 1-2-3 third, Fargo used five hits, an error, two walks and two hit batsmen to score eight times off three Post 117 pitchers in the fourth. Cole Osborn and Jeremy Johnson had back-to-back two-run doubles and Collin Consdorf supplied a two-run single in that inning.

Kyle Meyer was 3-for-4, while Eli Opgrand, Rick Williams, Osborn, and Johnson had two hits apiece to lead the 14-hit Fargo offense. Osborn finished with three RBI.

The five Thief River Falls hits included a 2-for-2 effort by Andy Peterson.

Joby Looker was the Post 117 starting and losing pitcher, giving up nine runs and nine hits in three innings of work. Steve Burslie came on in relief in the fourth, but faced just two batters before leaving with an arm problem. Chris Vanyo finished.

Consdorf went four innings to get the win, striking out six and walking one. Kelly Meyer pitched a 1-2-3 fifth to close it out.

Baseball meeting is planned for parents

A parent/board meeting for the Thief River Falls Youth Baseball Association will be held Thursday, June 16, at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Club.

All parents of players ages 13-15 are asked to attend the meeting.

The Thief River Falls program, featuring two teams of 13-year-olds and two teams of 14-15-year-olds, will be run as an independent operation this summer following a decision to leave the nation-wide Babe Ruth organization.

TRF Legion baseball breakfast is Sunday

A fund-raising breakfast for the Thief River Falls American Legion baseball program will be held Sunday, June 12, from 8 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Legion Club.

French toast, pancakes, sausage, toast, scrambled eggs, juice, milk, and coffee will be served.

Cost is $4 for adults and $3 for children under the age of 12.

Laura's Walk/Run fund-raiser slated June 18 in Hallock

Plans are set for the 13th annual Laura's Walk or Run Saturday, June 18, at the Gilbert Olson Memorial Park in Hallock.

Hosted by the Kittson Unit of the American Cancer Society, the event is dedicated to the memory of Laura Jane Nordling, who died Dec. 12, 1981, at the age of 19, and in honor of others who have lost their lives to cancer.

The event consists of a 10-kilometer race, a 2-mile run and a 2-mile walk. Registration for the 10K is at 8 p.m., with the race beginning at 8:30. Registration for the 2-mile run or walk is at 8:30 p.m., with the event starting at 9:30.

Registration fee is $15 per person, or $10 per person for families of three or more. There is no registration fee if the participant turns in $15 or more worth of sponsorship money. All participants will receive a race T-shirt.

Since it is a night time event luminaries will be placed along the path of the 2-mile walk/run. A dedication ceremony will be held at 9:30 p.m. to light the luminaries, which can be purchased in honor of a loved one at $5 apiece on the race registration form.

Those forms are available at various locations in Hallock, Karlstad, Lake Bronson, Lancaster, Kennedy, and Donaldson, or by calling Patti Swanson at 843-2867 or Janice Klein at 843-2842 or 843-2451.

Proceeds from the event will be used to help the American Cancer Society to fight the disease.

Women's Softball

Best Western Inn Ridgerunners were involved in a pair of extra-inning games Wednesday during Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play – beating the Mush-a-Rets 15-14 after losing to Legion/Sather Law 5-4.

Cheryl Olson had the game-winning hit in the eighth inning to lift the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners past the Mush-a-Rets. Sara Melby and Diane Klemetson were both 3-for-4 and Andi Nelson had 2 hits in 3 at-bats for the winners.

Shari Lund was 4-for-4 and Karen Ranum drove in the winning run with an eighth inning single in the Legion/Sather Law win over the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners.

Barb Weiss hit two home runs in a 3-for-5 game to lead B&E Car Wash/Terry's Service past Pizza Hut 18-15.

B&E Car Wash/Terry's Service added a 2-1 win over Legion/Sather Law behind 2-for-2 games by Angel Schultz and Heidi Rewertz.

TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres shut out Digi-Key 12-0 and out-scored Northwest Eye Center 17-7. Michele Fletcher was 3-for-4 in the first-game win, while Diane Berg was 2-for-3 with a grand slam home run in Game 2.

Lynette Jackson had two 4-for-4 games in leading the Swingers to a pair of wins. Lynde Pemberton and Lorie Kilen were both 4-for-5 in a 17-14 victory over Best Western Inn, while Kilen and Nikki McMillin had 3-for-4 efforts in a 14-2 triumph over Digi-Key.

Kristie Huseth (4/4), Dee Thompson (3/3), Sue Lee (3/3) and Maroreen Kayser (3/3) were a combined 13-for-13 in a 24-17 Mush-a-Rets win over Northwest Eye Center.

Brainerd sweeps Moorhead in 8AA baseball playoffs

Brainerd beat Moorhead 2-1 and 6-0 Tuesday at Matson Field to win the 2-out-of-3 game Section 8AA high school baseball championship series.

A third game, if needed, would have been played Wednesday in Brainerd.

Moorhead and Brainerd reached the finals by winning North and South Sub-Section 8AA titles, respectively.

Brainerd meets Minnetonka in first round Class AA state tournament play Tuesday in St. Paul.

St. Hilaire Fun Run/Walk Waiver

I know that running a road race is a potentially hazardous activity. I should not enter and run unless I am medically able and properly trained. I agree to abide by any decision of any race official, relative to my ability to safely complete the run. I assume all risks associated with running in this event.

Having read this waiver and understanding these facts, I, for myself and anyone entitled to act in my behalf, waive and release the St. Hilaire Community Club, the race management personnel, the city of St. Hilaire and any other sponsors or volunteers of this event of any claims or liabilities of any kind arising out of my participation in this event, even though a liability might arise out of negligence on the part of the person named in this waiver.

PASTOR CURTIS JACOBSON
"COMMUNITY CHURCH"
ACTS 4:11-12 Peter said, "This is the Stone you builders rejected which has become the Capstone. Salvation is found in no one else, for there is no other name under heaven given to man by which we must be saved."
Peter was explaining to the elders of Israel that Jesus is the only way to come unto God. In His Name, we have the right to live in His Kingdom.
I encourage you to accept Jesus, for He is the only way we can receive eternal life and the blessings of God. Let us turn our hearts toward Home and to our Heavenly Father.

Human Rights representative in Moorhead

A representative of the Minnesota Department of Human Rights will be in Moorhead on June 14 and 15, 1994.

Any person with questions about the Human Rights Act, Minnesota anti-discrimination law, or who believes they may have been discriminated against in violation of the Act, may meet with the Representative for information or assistance. The Department of Human rights will review any claims of discrimination to determine if a formal charge can be filed.

The Department Representative is also available for technical assistance to any employer, landlord, school, business, or organization seeking information about the Human Rights Act or the operation of the Department of Human Rights.

The Minnesota Human Rights Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, education, public services, credit, and business contracts because of a person's race, color, creed, religion, sex, disability, age, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, familial status, or status in regard to public assistance. The Human Rights Act forbids reprisal against a person who brings a discrimination complaint, participates in an investigation, or associates with a person who is in a protected class.

The Department Representative will be available on June 14 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and June 15 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at Moorhead Job Services, 810-4th Avenue South. Any person wishing to schedule an appointment may do so by calling Vicki Olivo at the Department of Human Rights, prior to June 13 at 1-800-657-3704. Interpreter services can be arranged by calling the same number as noted for making appointments.

Persons who may want to file a discrimination charge, or who simply have questions, may talk to a Department of Human Rights Intake Officer by calling the toll-free number.

Cuts More Than Hay Cuts Time
New Idea 5212 modular disc mower conditioners cut a big 11' 9" swath.
• 5212 cuts a big 11' 9" swath and conditions with 9' 6" intermeshing rolls. It's the widest disc mower conditioner available. It's a wider version of our well-known 5209.
• Both New Idea 5212 and 5209 feature rotating disc design that mows crops fast.. glides through heavy, wet crop
• Simple, modular self-contained cutting discs simplify maintenance and reduce repairs. Daily lubrication checks are virtually eliminated.
• Conditioning rolls gently crush hay to speed drying.
• Power out plug removal system allows you to remove plugs without leaving your tractor seat.
• Three-point flotation moves disc cutterbar in all directions to follow ground contour.
• Rugged frame and cutterbar were designed and made by Americans to stand up to challenging field conditions throughout North America.
• Ask about competitive financing plans through Agricredit Acceptance Company.

FmHA
FARMERS HOME ADMINISTRATION
HUNTING/INVESTMENT LAND FOR SALE

TRACT #1:
The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will be accepting sealed bids on the following farm tract in Pennington County described as the NE1/4 19-153N-40W. Contains approximately 103 acres of CRP. Contract is through 1998 with an annual payment of $4,529.00.

TRACT #2:
The Farmers Home Administration (FmHA) will be accepting sealed bids on the following farm tract in Marshall County described as the SE1/4 9-155N-40W.

Terms will be cash at closing. Closing will occur within thirty days of expiration of Minnesota Rights of First Refusal.

All bids must be submitted on Form FmHA 1955-46 (available at any FmHA office). All bids must be accompanied by a deposit of 10% in the form of a cashier's check, certified check or money order. All bids must be submitted in a sealed envelope and marked "SEALED BID OFFER - TRACT 1 OR TRACT 2," as appropriate, and in separate envelopes.

This sale is subject to rights offered the former owner under Minnesota Rights of First Refusal.

Sale is subject to conservation deed restrictions, which will restrict the purchaser's use of the wetlands, floodplains, highly erodible land and other special areas of the property.

The purchaser of Tract 1 will be required to assume the CRP Contract.

The purchaser will be required to comply with the conditions of a Soil Conservation Service conservation plan.

Bids will be accepted until 1:00 p.m. Monday, June 27, 1994 at the Thief River Falls FmHA Office, 1105 North Dale Street, P.O. Box 486, Thief River Falls, Minnesota 56701, telephone 218-681-2841. Farm for Sale

555 ACRE FARM - Includes a 40' x 80' machine shed and 40,000 bushel grain storage and drying system. Approximately 505 tillable acres which includes about 140 acres in the Conservation Reserve Program. The legal descriptions of this farm are described as Lots 1, 2, and 3, the SE1/4NW1/4, SE1/4SW1/4, and the S1/2SE1/4 all in 30-155-35.

PRICED TO SELL AT $ 74,000.00.

APPLICATIONS will be accepted on the farm property with priority given to applicants in the following order: (1) Socially disadvantaged beginning farmers or ranchers. (2) Beginning farmers or ranchers. (3) Socially disadvantaged operators of not larger than a family-size farm. (4) Operators of not larger than a family-size farm. (5) Operators of not larger than family-size farms who are not in need of FmHA credit assistance on eligible rates and terms.

Socially Disadvantaged applicants are members of a group which has been subject to racial or ethnic prejudice without regard to their individual qualities. Information on how to qualify as a beginning farmer and other loan eligibility criteria is available at the local FmHA office.

This sale is subject to rights offered the former owner under Minnesota Rights of First Refusal.

SALE is subject to conservation deed restrictions which will restrict the purchaser's use of the wetlands, floodplains, highly erodible land and other special areas of the property.

The purchaser will be required to comply with the conditions of a Soil Conservation Service conservation plan.

FINANCING AVAILABLE - Interest Rate - 7.50%. 40 year repayment term for qualified FmHA applicants. Rates and terms are subject to change without notice. Eligible applicants may be eligible for Limited Resource interest rates.

Schroeder whittles miniature menagerie

said. "I can make animals better than that," and he proceeded to do so.

Using a pocket knife, he carved little creatures from whatever wood he could find. "They were pretty crude," he says. "But I liked doing it so I just kept on."

He didn't do much carving while he was in the service during World War II, but after he returned home and married his wife, Lonie, who he met while attending school in Minneapolis, he began carving again for enjoyment. One animal after another took shape under Schroeder's knives, and his technique and style became more distinct with each animal.

For a while he drew the animal shapes directly on the wood, looking at a picture. But now he has a little tin box filled with cardboard templates of the animals which he uses to trace the outline of the figures onto the wood.

He still uses pocket knives as his carving tools, but he has enlarged his tool collection to include Exacto knives, a compass, tape measure, sanding sticks and a jig saw. His pocket knives are stubby and sharp-edged, shortened by half from use and resharpening over the years. "People who come to see what I do expect to see a lot of fancy tools, but I don't need those," he said with a twinkle in his eye. "I just carve the animals out with the pocket knives. The knives get dull pretty fast, though."

No fancy workbench, Schroeder uses a card table and a floor lamp to create his fine carvings. His knives and other tools are laid out precisely in order on the table, ready and waiting for his touch.

He uses basswood for most of his carvings, but has also used white pine and other types of wood. Some animals have even been fashioned out of the special plastic material used to make airplanes. The animals are rough cut with a jig saw and then carved and whittled into their detailed shapes. "The jig saw makes everything go a lot faster," he asid. "I used to use a coping saw and that was much slower."

Four plump little pigs and a pony are just some of the animals that make their home at the apartment of Robert Schroeder in Thief River Falls. Schroeder has been carving animals such as those above for 75 years. His creations are sold at the Heritage Center gift shop in Thief River Falls and also by special order.

Some of the animals are painted in authentic detail color with a tempera-glaze mixture, while others are stained and varnished with a clear glaze to bring out the beauty of the wood grain. Lately he has been leaving the carvings in their natural state, without glaze, stain or color, allowing the detail of the carving to show off the piece, because, he says, "Most people now want the animals unpainted. I don't know why but that suits me."

Many of the natural wood carvings look and feel almost like the coats of real animals because the wood is not smooth but velvety to the touch. Other pieces, like the running horses, have flying manes and tails that are carefully carved to look like individual hairs.

After his marriage, Schroeder lived in various places, following construction work. Eventually he settled in California, where he worked for an aircraft plant. When he retired there, he began woodcarving in earnest, but found no one was interested in buying his little creatures in California. "I don't know why, but nobody wanted to buy them out there," he asid. "I ended up giving them away."

He and his wife came to visit relatives in Thief River Falls and liked it well enough to settle here. He also found a market for his little animals.

He decided to put a few animals into the gift shop at the Heritage Center to see if they would sell and suddenly found his work very popular. He placed the carvings in a few area craft shops and people bought the animals and asked for more.

He found himself doing special request carvings for people. One man came to his apartment to look at the animals and went home with 120 of them. Now Schroeder only has his work displayed at the Heritage Center gift shop and does special request work. He has had customers from all around the United States and also Sweden, Norway, England and France.

The little animals are so detailed and finely crafted that they are hard to resist. Despite being very precisely made, they have a uniquely primitive appearance.

I went to interview Mr. Schroeder for D-Day and found myself enamored by the little animals. I now have three of them living in the printing drawer I have on the wall above my couch — a duck, one of those tiny, one and a half inch rabbits and a pig. I also bought a pony that is too big for the printing box so he is on my coffee table. He looks a little lonely there all by himself. I think I may have to get another animal or two from Mr. Schroeder to keep my pony company.

This story idea was submitted by Daniel Sellers of Baltimore, MD. It will be considered for the Northern Watch Story of the Month for June.

Several mothers and babies adorn a dresser in Robert Schroeder's home. In the foreground are some of the smallest of Schroeder's creations, the duck, rabbit and pig that are about one and a half inches high, as well as the mother kangaroo with a baby peering from her pocket. Shown in the background is one of the lamps that Schroeder carved by hand.

45th Annual Dairy Day Tuesday

Waisb, Rasesa county; Joyce Macho, Tina Marie Sehmitz and Casey Schoon, Wadena county.

Dairy Show at Fairgrounds

Northwest Dairy Day cattle show will take place at the Pennington county fairgrounds instead of the traditional downtown location. Once held on Second Street between Main and Knight avenues, the show in recent years has been held at the parking lot adjacent to Floyd B. Olson park on Knight Avenue between Second and Third streets.

Pennington County chapter of the Minnesota American Dairy Association will be serving a breakfast of pancakes, sausage, ice cream, juice, milk and coffee from 7 to 10 a.m. in the curling club building on the fairgrounds. Price of the breakfast is $1 for children age 10 years through adults and 50 cents for children ages five through nine. There will be no charge for children under the age of five.

Opening the Dairy Day program will be a 9:30 a.m. showmanship demonstration by Roy Larson, 16, son of Wayne and Janice Larson of the Gatzke area. Roy won the senior showmanship contest in his seventh year of showing at Dairy Day in 1993, exhibiting a five-year-old grade Holstein.

First competition will be the junior and senior showmanship contests beginning at 10 a.m. Judging in the various classes of the five dairy breeds represented will begin immediately following the showmanship contests.

Two Awards Programs Set

A special awards program is planned for 12 noon when recipients who have been determined by that time of the show will receive their awards. These include the 10 and 11-year participation trophies, junior and senior showmanship awards and possibly others. The regional dairy princesses will also be introduced and invited to speak at that time. The noon program is planned to allow as many people as possible to attend.

At approximately 2 p.m. the awards for the day's activities will be presented. A new name for an old award will be initiated this year. The county herd award—presented to the county with the top five animals from all exhibitors in the county—has been named the Klem Gigstad County Herd Award in recognition of the long-time worker and past president of the sponsoring Northwest Dairy Improvement Association. Gigstad died earlier this year.

Other awards will be the Stuart McLeod Award to an outstanding Dairy Day participant, grand champion of the show, purebred and grade champions, individual dairy herd (best three animals entered by one exhibitor), junior champion and best uddered cow.

Judges for the dairy show will be Brad Rugg, 4-H program coordinator with the University of Minnesota Extension Service and a certified livestock judge and Scott Doroff, an employee of American Breeders Service who is a former member of the University of Minnesota dairy judging team.

Howard Person is president of the Northwest Dairy Improvement Association and serves as livestock show supervisor. Other officers of the association are Amos Thompson, Grygla, vice president; Jim Matson, Thief River Falls, treasurer; and Val Mooney, Thief River Falls, secretary.

The public is encouraged to attend all parts of the Dairy Day program including the breakfast and awards programs.

"Tour de Pennington" bike race to be part of TRF July 4 celebration

"Tour de Pennington", a 75 kilometer bike race and 30 kilometer bike tour, will be part of the American Festival of Events in Thief River Falls on Sunday, July 3.

Registration for the 46.5 mile (75 Km) event will be at the Hugo's parking lot at the corner of First Street and Pennington Avenue in Thief River Falls prior to 8 a.m. By pre-registering, the entrant will receive a tank shirt. The entry fee is $7 before July 1 and $12 after July 1.

The event starts at 8:30 a.m. The race course will proceed south on Pennington Avenue turning east on Pennington county 3. The course then turns north on Pennington county 80 to U.S. Highway 59 and then turns east on Pennington county 7. At Pennington county 22, the course turns north and crosses State Highway 1 and enters Marshall county. At Marshall county 2, the course turns west until the intersection of Marshall county 12 and Pennington county 20. The course then turns south until it reaches Highway 1. The final leg of the course travels east on Highway 1 to the finish at Northland Community college. The total distance of the course is 46.5 miles or 75 kilometers. The course is flat and most of the roads have been newly paved. Showers, awards and refreshments are available at the finish.

The 30 kilometer bike tour will begin shortly after 8 a.m. at Hugo's parking lot. Registrations will be accepted prior to the race in Hugo's parking lot. The course begins at the parking lot and follows Pennington Avenue until it reaches Pennington county 3 and turns east. At Pennington county 80 it turns north and follows Pennington county 80 until it reaches Highway 59. Up until this point, the course has been identical to the 75 kilometer race course. At Highway 59, the 30 kilometer bike tous turns west on Pennington county 7 and returns on the airport road to Thief River Falls. The tour finishes at Northland Community College on the River Walk trail.

Maps of the two courses will be available.

People of all ages are encourage to take part in the tour. Bike helmets are required for all participants. There will be only limited traffic control.

Tank-top t-shirts will be awarded to all finishers. Age group awards will be presented to the first place male and female for the 75 kilometer racers. The age group divisions for the 75 kilometer race are as folows: 91 and under, 20-29, 30-39, 40 and over.

Refreshments will be provided at the finish. All participants will be entered in a drawing for Chamber Dollars. The 75 kilometer finishers will draw for $100, $50, $25. The 30 kilometer tour participants will draw for $50, $25, and $10. The top team, which consists of four riders, will receive $100 in Chamber Dollars. Team members must wear matching jerseys.

Pre-registration is requied to receive a tank shirt. Registration forms for the race and tour are available at the Chamber of Commerce. Individuals of all ages are encouraged to enter the bike tour.

62 volunteer at Grygla blood

Despite farmers pushing to get spring field work done, a total of 62 people volunteered to donate blood, and 50 were able to give during Grygla's May 23 blood drive. Five of the donors gave blood for the first time.

Ralph Rundell coordinated the drive, sponsored by the Grygla Lions and Lioness clubs, which assisted with recruiting donors, publicity, providing refreshments, registering donors, and helping to unload and load the mobile equipment. Others who assisted with the drive were: Hazel Holthusen, Sherry Woods, Ione Aune, Pam Hogenson, Roy Norby, Randy Homme, Mildred Klamar, Loren Lusignan, Deloris Saul, and Eunice Stavenes. The Grygla Lions provided space to hold the drive in the Grygla Community Center. Loren Lusignan allowed students to donate during school hours.

Donations will help meet the blood needs of many patients in 46 area hospitals served by United Blood Services.

Jason Kalt shows Dairy Day champion

Kelly Fulton shows champion grade animal; Roy Larson repeats as senior showmanship champion

Grand champion of the 45th Annual Northwest Dairy Day cattle show in Thief River Falls Tuesday, June 14, was "Woodwillow Brisby," a seven-year-old registered Holstein shown by Jason Kalt, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Kalt of Angus. It was Jason's third year of showing at Northwest Dairy Day but the first time he had brought this cow to the competition.

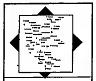
Fifteen-year-old Jason Kalt brought "Woodwillow Brisby" to Northwest Dairy Day for the first time this year and the seven-year-old registered Holstein went home as the grand champion of the show. The 45th Annual Northwest Dairy Day was held Tuesday, June 14, at the Pennington county fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

Jason is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kevin Kalt of Angus and showed with the Marshall county contingent of exhibitors which also won the county herd title. His cow was also selected as the Holstein breed champion and the grand champion purebred of the show.

The county herd award was named in honor of Klem Gigstad, a past president and long-time member of the sponsoring Northwest Dairy Improvement Association, who died earlier this year. A special award in recognition of his service was presented to his wife Marion at the noon awards program.

Kelly Fulton, 15, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Fulton of Warren, also brought her seven-year-old cow to Northwest Dairy Day for the first time and it was named the grand champion grade animal of the show. Kelly was also part of the Marshall county dairy group.

Reserve champion purebred of the show was shown by Christopher Swanson, 10, of rural Thief River Falls and reserve champion grade was shown by 18-year-old Alan Grunhovd of Gary who was also named winner of the Stuart McLeod award.



The Hamre individual herd award was won by Christopher Swanson. He also won the junior showmanship contest, was the junior champion exhibitor over all breeds and had the best uddered cow of the show. Each event was won with a different animal and the three were combined to win the individual herd award.

As winner of the purebred championship, Jason Kalt will receive an expense-paid trip to the World Dairy Expo at Madison, WI in October. As winner of the grade championship, Kelly Fulton will receive a purebred calf of the dairy breed of her choice at the 46th annual Northwest Dairy Day next year.

Roy Larson of the Gatzke area, showing with the Roseau county entries, repeated as senior showmanship winner. He extended his showmanship string to three in a row as he also won the junior showmanship two years ago in 1992. Roy opened the 1994 show with a showmanship demonstration as the 1993 senior showmanship winner.

Reserve champion senior showman was Jason Kalt and reserve champion junior showman was Sara Kompelien of Roseau county.

Roseau man survives air nail shot three inches into brain

Roseau — A 22-year-old Roseau man was shot in the head with an air pressure gun while working for Woodland Containers in Roseau. Bill McLead and a partner were working on a project when McLead bent down and his head came in contact with the safety on the end of the gun. The gun fired a two and one-half inch nail into the top of McLead's skull, which, he found out later, extended three inches into his brain. It was a lucky accident for McLead that the nail entered the brain directly in the middle between the two hemispheres of the brain. If it had gone to either side, McLead could have been paralyzed or lost speech and motor skills. A neurosurgeon at United Hospital in Grand Forks removed the nail, where McLead became known as the "miracle patient" because, he was told after the surgery, only one other patient had fully recovered after such an injury.

Youth center opens at Newfolden

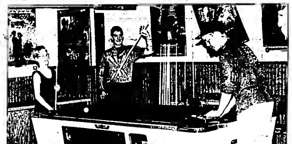
by David Hill
Associate Editor

Word of the new youth center in Newfolden has spread by word of mouth — that is, until now.

The idea of a youth center in Newfolden has been knocked around and talked about since 1992, said Gary Beito.

It finally became time to move it out of the talking stage and just do, said Pam Wockenfuss, secretary of the Youth In Education Action Team.

The Newfolden Youth Center officially opened its doors on May 23. A grand opening ceremony on June 18 will be held in the building, which is located in the former Ma and Pa Cafe in downtown Newfolden.



Word of the youth center, which caters primarily to students grade six and up, has spread. Wockenfuss said they have had children at the center from Warren, Middle River, Holt, Viking and Thief River Falls. One night, they had over 40 youths at the center.

The youth center is important to Wockenfuss. A trip from their home in the country to town and back can take 45-minutes on good roads. One of the advantages to the center, as she sees it, is that her children can wait at the youth center after school and before extra-curricular activities. She said it doesn't make sense for her to drive to town and take her children back home when they just have to come back to town for an extra-curricular event in two hours.

"I'm a mom that's involved because it's a good deal," said Wockenfuss.

She feels it's a safe place for her children to go to after school even though she only moved to the community last September. At the youth center, they can play pool, watch television, play video games, pin ball, Nintendo, listen to the juke box or have a snack. Also, a student manager and an adult are always on duty when the center is open, which is from 3 to 9 p.m.

Chris Donarski, Richard Wockenfuss, and Daryl Wockenfuss prepare for a game of cutthroat at the new Newfolden Youth Center. The center is located in the old Ma and Pa Cafe in Newfolden. The center caters to school children, grades 6 and up. Younger children are welcome, but must be present with an adult. In addition to pool, youngsters can play video games, watch television, get snacks, play Nintendo, listen to a juke box or just talk.

Kraig Anderson is shown working in the sharks and fish exhibit at the Minnesota Zoo. He is presently insects curator at the zoo and has been in charge of developing the new, temporary "Bugs!" exhibit at the zoo this summer. He has been with the museum for the past three years and also worked with the temporary dinosaur exhibit at the zoo last summer.

Kraig Anderson needs the bugs that are in his job

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

Kraig Anderson, son of Adolph and Elaine Anderson of Thief River Falls, has a buggy job and he loves it. Kraig is the insects curator of the Minnesota Zoo in Apple Valley and he has been in charge of developing the new "Bugs!" exhibition over the past seven months.

The "Bugs!" exhibit opened Memorial Day at the zoo and is available throughout the summer months until Labor Day. The cost of construction and developing the exhibit was $398,000 and Anderson was in charge of it all, including collecting the bugs that are a part of the exhibit, planning the "bug houses" and working out the budget.

As insect curator of the museum, Anderson was in charge of collecting insects from all around the United States, Canada and Mexico, and had them shipped in from nearly every country, even as far away as Malaysia. He was also in charge of the construction of the Bug House where 40 species of insects, spiders and other bugs are on display, and the Butterfly Garden, where more than 500 butterflies and moths are fluttering freely and hatching daily.

Anderson's mother, Elaine, says he was always interested in insects. "We always had a lot of animals and insects in our house. Kraig was interested in them whether they were dead or alive. We had spiders living in the corner of the dining room and fish in a closet. We even had Kraig's frozen animals all over our patio in the winter, and in the summer they were in our freezer."

Unlike some mothers, Elaine didn't object to the menagerie around her house. "I didn't mind him having them," she said. "He took care of them himself. I thought most of them were kind of cute." She didn't even mind having Bob, the Tarantula spider, or Sid, the fancy African fish in the house.

"Kraig was always bringing home dead things that he found by the side of the road," said his brother, Kyle. "He would cut them up to see how they were made."

He said Kraig used the closet in his room as a lab for his animal experiments. "You would open the door and there were microscopes and all sorts of scientific things," said Kyle. "I was worried about him for quite a few years there because, after all, he was my little brother."

Kraig was a 1987 graduate of Lincoln high school and graduated

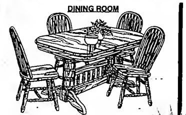
Amateur talent is sought for fair at Warren

Talented amateurs from Polk, Marshall, Roseau, Kittson, Norman, Pennington and Red Lake counties are invited to compete for cash prizes at the amateur talent contest to be held at 7 p.m. Thursday, June 30, as an entertainment event at the Marshall County Fair in Warren.

Entries are being sought by the sponsoring Warren Community Hospital and Home Auxiliary. Previous contestants may enter again unless they have been first place winners in any county fair amateur talent contest. No one with professional experience will be permitted to compete.

Mailed entries should include names, addresses and telephone numbers of contestants, title of number to be presented, accompanist if any and specify what the talent is, such as vocal, instrumental, dance, etc.

The fair association will offer a $200 first prize and $100 second prize with the first prize winner eligible to represent Marshall county in the Minnesota State Fair competition.



Attendance by entries will be required at a rehearsal at 5 p.m. at the grandstand on the fairgrounds on the day of the contest. For further information or to submit entries, contact Joan Peterson at 661 North Central (phone 745-5460) or Diane Abrahamson at Route 2 (phone 745-4042), both at Warren, MN 56762.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

No doubt it is rhuberb season. I can tell because I am getting very hungry for a rhubarb pie and my sons have hinted at a rhubarb cake. But you should see my scrawny little rhubarbs. I doubt that I even have enough for a pie. If anyone has any extra rhubarb, feel free to bring it in to The Times for me or give me a call because I would really love to try some of these recipes I have for you today. By the way, some of them are taken from recent recipes in area newspapers, just in case you recognize them.

Doesn't this sound good:
RHUBARB DESSERT
Crust
1 cup flour
5 tablespoons powdered sugar
1/2 cup butter or margarine
Blend ingredients and bake at 350 degrees for 15 minutes.
Filling
1 1/2 cups sugar
1/4 cup flour
3/4 teaspoon salt (optional)
2 beaten eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups finely chopped rhubarb
Sift together sugar, flour and salt. Add eggs, vanilla and rhubarb.
Spoon onto baked crust and bake for another 35 minutes.

Won't this simple jam taste good on your toast next winter:
ORANGE-RHUBARB JAM
2 quarts rhubarb, chopped
8 cups sugar
1 (8 or 10 ounce) jar marashino cherries, drained and chopped
20 candy orange slices, chopped (about 2 cups)
Combine all ingredients in large preserving kettle. Boil slowly for about 30 minutes, or until thick.
Ladle jam into clean, hot 1/2 pint jars to within 1/2 inch of top. Wipe tops and threads of jars with damp cloth.
Put on prepared lids and seal as manufacturer suggests. Process in boiling water bath for five minutes.
(Makes 10 to 12 jars.)

I remember promising someone I would try to print a rhubarb punch recipe -- here is one:
CITRUS-RHUBARB COOLER
4 cups rhubarb, cut
3 cups water
3/4 cup sugar
2/3 cup orange juice
3 tablespoons lemon juice
ice cubes
28 ounce bottle ginger ale, chilled
In saucepan, cook rhubarb with water and sugar for about 15 minutes, until fruit is very soft. Press through a sieve.
Add orange juice and lemon juice, cover and chill.
To serve, pour 1/2 cup of rhubarb liquid over ice cubes in a tall glass. Fill with ginger ale and stir gently.
(Makes about 12 six ounce servings.)

Bet this would be good with whipped topping or some frozen yogurt:
RHUBARB CAKE DESSERT
1 cup sugar
4 egg yolks
4 tablespoons water
1 cup sifted flour
1/4 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon vanilla
4 beaten egg whites
4 cups cut up rhubarb
1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
Beat 1 cup sugar, yolks and water until frothy. Add flour, salt and vanilla, beating smooth. Add beaten egg whites.
Place in 9x13 inch pan and sprinkle with mixture of rhubarb, 1 1/2 cups sugar and cinnamon. Bake 50-60 minutes at 350 degrees.

Employment at record high

Employment in Pennington county has surpassed an all time high recorded in 1980.

Don Stewart, community development director, informed the Thief River Falls city council Tuesday night that some interesting statistics had been uncovered during work on the city's comprehensive plan. Employment in Pennington county reached an all time high in 1980 with 5,824 jobs and declined to a low point a year later, in 1981, to 4,494 jobs. By 1990, employment in Pennington county had increased to 5,762 jobs. However, as of the end of December, 1993, employment increased to 6,529 surpassing the previous all time high recorded in 1980.

Stewart said that the data used was comparative data collected in 1980, but that he wasn't sure whether the jobs represented Full Time Employment (FTE). It also doesn't mean the population hasn't been declining. He suggested, however, that it might be advantageous to conduct a population survey in the county, independent of the state's demographic study.

Prisoner missing from jail

Pennington county sheriff's department is looking for a prisoner who didn't return from work.

On June 13 Maceo Butler was released from jail to work and was supposed to return to the jail at 10:30 p.m. Butler, age 18, who listed an address of Las Vegas, NV, did not return to the jail. He is described as black, six-foot three-inches tall, 175 pounds, black hair, brown eyes.

Champions named at Northwest Dairy Day

Crowned as the 1994 Region 1 Dairy Princess Saturday, June 11, at Park Rapids was Heather Benbo, 19, daughter of Bruce and Gwen Benbo of Winger. First runner-up was Karla Wallace, the Marshall County Dairy Princess, and second runner-up was Abby Chervestad, the Pennington County Dairy Princess. Next year the regional princess contest will be held in Thief River Falls.

Jodi Okeson of Detroit Lakes, 1993 Region 1 Princess, was on hand throughout the day Tuesday to present ribbons and awards to winners and assist in other ways with the dairy cattle show.

The new Region 1 Princess is five feet, six inches tall, has brown hair and blue eyes. She is a 1993 graduate of Win-E-Mac high school and will be a sophomore this fall at the University of Minnesota in Crookston, majoring in office systems management.

She comes from a dairy farm which milks 51 grade Jerseys and sells Grade B milk to Kraft Foods at Melrose. She has two younger brothers and four younger sisters, the youngest just one year old. Her sister Mandy, 18, was also a contestant in the regional contest.

Use of the cattle building at the county fairgrounds worked well for the dairy show this year. Since its inception, the show has traditionally been held downtown with the fairgrounds recently used as a reserve location in the event of rain. This year the show was sited at the fairgrounds.

There was a threat of rain throughout much of the day but it didn't materialize. Thief River Falls had received about two and one-half inches of rain early that morning, however, and the grounds and graveled show ring were wet.

Champions and reserve champions were named in all six dairy breeds. In addition to the Holsteins mentioned earlier, the other breed winners were as follows:

Ayrshire—Kasia Efta, 12, Argyle, champion with a two-year-old and reserve champion with a three-year-old;

Guernsey—Nick Schons, 16, Detroit Lakes, champion with a four-year-old and reserve champion with a two-year-old;

Brown Swiss—Jacob Efta, 19, Argyle, champion with a five-year-old and reserve champion with a two-year-old;

Jersey—Logan Wallace, 15, Middle River, champion with a two-year-old and Kirsten Trimble, Beltrami county, reserve champion;

Milking Shorthorn—Craig Bentley, 13, Twin Valley, champion and Andy Bentley, Twin Valley, reserve champion.

Craig Bentley received a purebred Holstein dairy calf as winner of the grade championship in 1993. Named "Vidale Skybuck Ivy" and purchased from the Richard Visser dairy herd at Ada, the calf was born May 12. It was sired by "Hanover Hill Skybuck" and born to "Vidale Mandingo Inga," with a 365-day record as a four-year-old of 26,350 pounds of milk and 1,062 pounds of butterfat.

Judges for the dairy show were Brad Rugg and Scott Doroff.

Halstad 4-H receives prize

Marsh River 4-H club from the Halstad community has won the national grand prize in the 21st annual search for the country's best community projects by young Americans.

The club instituted an abduction awareness campaign and received top honors as the best of all entries in the 1994 "Colgate Youth for America" campaign. Prizes included $1,000 for the best 4-H entry and an additional $1,000 for the best overall entry.

"Our program, prompted by the disappearance of a local girl, was developed to prevent a similar occurrence, and help kids deal with the fear of being abducted," explained Elaine Anderson, a club leader.

The club held informative workshops and initiated a media campaign to create community awareness of their suggested solution. Members worked closely with the state Bureau of Criminal Apprehension, FBI and Missing Children's Bureau in creating displays for area banks, schools and county and state fairs.

Youth for America program director Michele Macchia called the 4-H project "the best of the best for taking on a specific problem and making a real difference."

Entries in the national program were submitted by local groups of six national organizations—Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Camp Fire, Girls Incorporated, 4-H and Boys & Girls Clubs.

Warning: Eating May Be Hazardous To Your Health

Just about the time a person makes or becomes accustomed to a dietary change to reduce totake of some food which science has found to contribute to health problems, another study comes along to show that the replacement food is probably worse than the original.

Dairy products have been kicked around by the dietary community for quite awhile now, with the perception being that the fat content in milk and products made from that fat (butter and ice cream in particular) contribute to cholesterol that plugs up the body's circulatory system and leads to heart and other problems. The encouragement has been to turn to substitute products which are made from things that don't use the fat—skim or low fat milk, margarine, yogurt, etc.

Aside from the fact that substitute products don't taste or perform as well as the originals, it is now being shown that they may not be any better, or perhaps even worse, from a health standpoint.

Witness a study by D. Walter Willett of Harvard University and his commentary in the American Journal of Public Health. The study shows, according to Willett, that fat found in margarine and other processed foods could be responsible for 30,000 deaths from heart disease in the United States. He is recommending warning labels to alert consumers be placed on foods containing the culprit....trans fatty acids.

Trans fatty acids apparently are created when liquid vegetable oils are partially hydrogenated to turn them into solid fats and increase the shelf life of a product. Trans fats are probably worse than saturated fats (the dairy product bugaboo), Willett said, because studies show trans fats increase "bad" cholesterol while decreasing high-density lipoprotein—the "good" cholesterol.

Willett's research has not yet been totally accepted by the food science community. In fact, his contentions are being debated as scientists continue to look at the issue of saturated fat versus the newly-discovered—or at least newly-reported—trans fatty acids.

Although the jury is still out on this question, it certainly gives those who have made the switch from butter to margarine for health reasons something else to think about.

We have a tendency to believe that a lot of this research and studying and testing and comparing to the food field is really unnecessary and causes more health problems from worry about what to eat or not to eat than from actually eating something. We think it's really all a matter of taste. In other words, the better something tastes, the worse it is for your health.

Just think about it. Bacon and eggs for breakfast? A cholesterol time bomb. A burger and fries for lunch? Tick...tick...tick. Prime rib for dinner? Uh uh! A hot fudge sundae for dessert? A definite no-no. Those of us who insist that after God rested on the seventh day He made chocolate on the eighth are in real trouble.

We don't really need research to tell us all of this. If we can tolerate a lettuce salad without dressing, green beans without salt, a slice of organically raised chicken or fillet of broiled pond-raised catfish every day we can probably extend our life expectancy a couple of years, although we probably wouldn't enjoy the extension.

At our house the discovery has been made that it is possible to substitute applesauce for half the shortening called for in some baked goods recipes. The end products really taste very good.

We're waiting for the next research study report on applesauce. It should be out any day now.

There Is Still Reason In The Judicial System

A recent decision by Judge Debra Hedlund which will not allow the City of Minneapolis to provide marriage benefits to the "domestic partners" of homosexual employees would indicate that there is still the possibility for reason under the law.

In her decision, Judge Hedlund determined that municipalities have no authority under state law to either redefine the family or provide marriage benefits to the so-called "domestic partners" of homosexual employees. As it stands, the decision means that no city, school board or state agency in Minnesota may grant marriage benefits to its homosexual employees.

Last year's legislature for whatever reason passed a gay rights bill, and the Minneapolis policy was said to have been adopted based on the motivation resulting from that legislation. Such a municipal action should have been expected. Gay advocates have been forcing the door open ever since they were permitted to get their foot in it by achieving political acceptance of their deviant lifestyle.

"This decision is a major victory for the traditional family," stated Dorrell McKigney, legislative director of the Minnesota Family council, the state's largest non-partisan, non-profit, pro-family organization. "The city of Minneapolis was attempting to skirt the state ban on gay marriages by providing health and other marriage benefits to the live-in lovers of homosexual employees as though they were married. Judge Hedlund rightly ruled that the plan violated state law, and amounted to the city attempting to redefine marriage and family.

"The city's plan was just the latest attempt by homosexual advocates to redefine the family and legitimize homosexual lifestyles and gay marriages. If they ever succeed in redefining who can get married to include homosexuals, then we could certainly see other outlawed forms of marriage such as polygamy and incest become possibilities as well."

McKigney's views may well be closer to foresight than imagination.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Roseau County Title & Abstract Company, Inc.

Eldri Vatnsdal, Issuing Agent

Buying a home is an important purchase. Once the deeds and mortgage documents are signed, the property is yours, so you think, but it may not be. Chances are, you are the owner, but a sure title is not having a deed in hand. A deed alone will not cancel prior "rights" others may have to your property—rights and claims you would never expect to exist.

When a title policy is issued by Roseau County Title & Abstract, you can rest assured that your property is protected by the policy subject only to its term. If a flaw in the title is discovered, Roseau County Title & Abstract will defend the title as issued, at its own expense, and will correct or clear the title or will pay any loss incurred.

A low, one-time premium covers the entire cost for as long as ownership remains in your name. Protection of your property rests on the financial stability, professional integrity and responsible management of the title insurance company. So, select your title insurance carefully. Protect yourself against loss due to title defects. Insist on an owner's title insurance policy from Roseau County Title & Abstract Company, located in Roseau at 309½ 3rd Street Northwest, phone 463-3313, and in Baudette, phone 634-2544. Call Eldri Vatnsdal for information.

For all your residential or commercial cleaning or smoke and water damage restoration needs, remember ServiceMASTER®.

Sorensen Chevrolet Oldsmobile-Geo, Inc.

For many years, automobile dealers considered "used cars" as a sideline to the business of selling new models. Things have changed in recent years, and one of the big reasons is the kind of business operated by Sorensen Chevrolet-Oldsmobile-Geo. They believe that the used car buyer is just as important as the new car buyer and are determined to give each customer the finest quality and the best possible price.

The smart way to buy a used car is to purchase it from Sorensen Chevrolet-Oldsmobile-Geo, located in Roseau at Highway 89 South and Center Street, phone 463-3000, where each and every car is checked by an expert mechanic before it is put on the lot. You can feel assured that all of the cars they sell are in excellent condition and have many miles of driving left in them. Financing can also be arranged for your convenience.

Sorensen Chevrolet-Oldsmobile-Geo has a large "family" of customers who return because they know that integrity, service and assurance of quality are passwords here. If you're in the market for a good buy on a clean, reconditioned previously owned car, stop in soon. They are sure to have just what you're looking for.

Kip & Chuck's Lock & Key Shop

Theft and theft prevention have been waging an increasingly unpopular war. Though there's not much that a homeowner can do about the people who steal, they can do a lot to make it harder! Geno's Body Shop

Geno Henrickson, Owner

In the collision repair industry, most new cars manufactured after 1984 require special welding and precision body equipment for total car alignment. The high strength, low-alloy steel now being used in the production of these vehicles should never be heated beyond 1340°F. Many new cars have color coat, clear coat or two-stage paint. In order to reproduce the exact finish on these newer cars, special spraying equipment is required and a dust-free environment in the spray booth must be maintained.

Geno's Body Shop, located in Thief River Falls on Highway 59 West, phone 681-4351, has the necessary specialized equipment to expertly and efficiently restore your car to pre-collision condition. They are experts at color matching and will make your car look like new again. Let these experienced auto body experts repair your car body to factory specifications using the most modern techniques available today.

At Geno's Body Shop, collision estimates are cheerfully provided and your insurance claims are welcome. No one enjoys having an accident, particularly in a newer model car. If this distressing situation occurs, contact the pros at Geno's Body Shop.

TRF Legion takes pair at Crookston

Thief River Falls climbed to .500 Wednesday with an 8-0, 7-6 American Legion baseball double-header sweep at Crookston.

Post 117 took a 4-4 record into a scheduled 5 p.m. Friday (June 10) twinbill vs. Detroit Lakes at Irv Wilson Field. Thief River Falls will be at Moorhead Tuesday for a pair of games against the Blues starting at 5 p.m. at Matson Field.

Thief River Falls	8
Crookston	0

Brian Minks threw a three-hit shut-out and Joby Looker homered in Thief River Falls' 8-0 first-game victory.

Crookston put just four men on base against the left-handed Minks, who struck out two and walked only one.

Highlighted by a 2-run Steve Burslie double, Thief River Falls won it with a six-run third inning, then tacked on two fifth inning scores.

Looker and Tim Barry were both 2-for-3 in the seven-hit Thief River Falls effort off losing pitcher Bobby Shimpa, who struck out five and walked seven. Looker drove in three runs.

Sparkler/Little Sparkler races are set for July 2

Sparkler Sprint and Little Sparkler Run will be held Saturday, July 2, as part of the local Fourth of July celebration.

All runners, joggers and walkers are invited to take part in the event scheduled in conjunction with An American Festival weekend in Thief River Falls – a three-day series of activities July 2-4 featuring races, bands, dances, beer gardens, kids games and events, lumberjack shows, and more.

Both the Little Sparkler and Sparkler Sprint will start and finish at Centennial Park in Thief River Falls.

The one-half mile Little Sparkler Run, designed for children ages 7-under, will begin at 8 a.m. Ribbons will go to all participants.

Sparkler Sprint, scheduled to start at 8:30 a.m., features both a 5K and 10K event. Participants are encouraged to walk, run or jog the course through residential areas of Thief River Falls. Maps and registrations are available at the Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, Northwest Medical Center and the Dakota Clinic, Ltd. of Thief River Falls.

Age-group awards will be presented to first, second and third place male and female finishers for both the 5K and 10K, with a trophy going to the overall male/female finisher in both races. Trophies will be on display at Northwest Medical Center and the Best Western Inn of Thief River Falls.

Refreshments will be available at the finish line, including soft drinks provided by Pepsi-Cola Bottling of Thief River Falls. T-shirts are available to all finishers who request them.

Races sponsors include the Fleet Feet Running Club of Thief River Falls and the Pennington County Health Promotion Network.

Those interested in taking part in the event should contact Gail Holland, Northwest Medical Center Public Relations Coordinator, by calling 681-4240, extension 210.

Sparkler Sprint entry fee for those who do not want a T-shirt is $3. Entry fee for those who want a race shirt is $10 by July 1 and $15 after July 1.

Little Sparkler Run entry fee is $1.

There will be no registrations accepted after 7:30 a.m. on race day.

Entries are sought for TRF July 3 bike races

Entries are currently being accepted for the Tour de Pennington bike event, scheduled to be held Sunday, July 3, as part of An American Festival – a three-day Fourth of July holiday celebration in Thief River Falls.

Both a 75K race and 30K tour will be offered. Registration will take place at the Hugo's parking lot at the corner of First Street and Pennington Avenue.

Timed start for the 46.5-mile 75K race is scheduled for 8:30 a.m. The course will proceed south on Pennington Avenue (8 miles), then east on Pennington County 3. The race turns north (11 miles) on Pennington County 80 to U.S. Highway 59 (15 miles) and turns east on Pennington County 7. At Pennington County 22 the race turns north (23 miles), crosses State Highway 1 and enters Marshall County. At Marshall County 2 (31 miles) the race turns west until Marshall County 12/Pennington County 20 (40 miles), then turns south until Highway 1 (45 miles). The final leg is west on Highway 1 to the finish in front of Northland Community College.

Entries in the 30K tour start anytime after 8 a.m., covering the same course as the 75K until reaching Highway 59, when bikers will turn west on Pennington County 7 and back to the airport road (Pennington County 17), then turn north and return to town to finish at Northland Community College via River Walk Trail.

Maps will be provided.

Showers, awards and refreshments will be available at the finish.

Tank-top shirts will be given to all finishers. Awards will go to first place male and female in various age 75K age groups. All participants will be entered in drawing for Chamber Dollars – $100, $50 and $25 for 75K finishers; $50, $25 and $10 for 30K riders.

Top four-member team will receive $100 in Chamber Dollars.

Entry fee is $7 for July 1 and $12 after July 1. You may register up until 8 a.m. the day of the event.

Bike helmets are required for all participants. Entrants should be aware of road hazards and obey all traffic laws. Only limited traffic control will be provided.

Tour de Pennington is being sponsored by the Oddfellows of Thief River Falls and the Thief River Falls Convention & Visitors Bureau.

For entry forms or additional information write Tour de Pennington, c/o Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce, 2017, Highway 59 SE, Thief River Falls, MN 56701.

Hendrickson's time drops in state track appearance

Jon Hendrickson, a Thief River Falls senior, turned in a 2:01.92 in the prelims of the boys 800-meter run at the 1994 Class AA state high school track meet conducted June 10-11 at the National Sports Center in Blaine.

Hendrickson had the tenth best time in Friday's 16-runner field that qualified nine for the Saturday finals – the top two finishers from each of the two heats, along with the next five best times.

Wednesday's Times reported Hendrickson's state meet placement, along with that of teammate Toni Chiodo, who finished seventh in the Class AA girls 400-meter run, but the article incorrectly listed his time at 2:08.

The Section 8AA runner-up in the 800, Hendrickson was edged out for the No. 9 spot and a berth in the state finals by a mere .48 seconds by Seth Kersten of New Ulm.

Going into the state meet, Hendrickson had the slowest qualifying time in the Class AA boys 800, but he not only finished ahead of six other runners in the prelims, he was the only one of the 16 to beat his previous best time of the year.

Kraig Anderson just loves bugs from Concordia college in 1991 with a degree in biology. His dad, Adolph, said he was "just lucky" to get the job of insect curator at the Minnesota Zoo. He had worked there while he was attending college and was asked to continue after graduation.

He has been with the museum for the past three years, working with the temporary dinosaur exhibit the zoo had last year and taking a very active part in setting up and working in the zoo's permanent sharks and fish exhibit.

When Kraig isn't playing with bugs, he might be found playing his big string bass, an instrument he has played since his school days. "He was very good at it, too," said his mother. "He played with the Greater Grand Forks Symphony and with the Concordia orchestra. But," she added, "it ended up that he liked science better than music."

Somewhere between the bugs and the bass, Kraig found time to take a bride. His wife, Janine, who is originally from Fergus Falls, is just starting her first year of medical school this year. The couple lives in Minneapolis.

Some of the insects in Kraig's "Bugs!" exhibit are so unusual that they are unbelievable, some are downright scary, and others defy description.

Many of the bugs are poisonous, such as the Wingless Wasp from the southwestern United States that can kill cows with its sting, or the White-eyed Assassin Bug from West Africa that can spit venom as far as 12 inches to kill its prey or keep enemies away and whose venom can be very painful or cause a life-threatening allergic reaction in humans.

As insects curator of the Minnesota Zoo in Apple Valley, Kraig Anderson has been in charge of the zoo's new "Bugs!" exhibit. The exhibit opened on Memorial Day and will be at the zoo through the summer until Labor Day. Kraig is the son of Adolph and Elaine Anderson of Thief River Falls. He is a 1987 graduate of Lincoln high school and a 1991 graduate of Concordia college.

If spiders make you squirm, you may not want to look at the Goliath Bird-eating Spider, the world's largest species of spider. It is 10 inches in diameter with its legs spread out. It eats small birds, insects, lizards, frogs and other small mammals like mice, and it has tiny needle-like hairs on its legs that pop out to injure a human or animal that threatens it. You might, however, enjoy seeing the three-inch-long Orb Spider that spins a web up to four feet wide.

Other insects in the exhibit include the six-inch-long Atlas Beetle; the 14 inch long Queensland Titan, or Walking Stick, from Australia; the Hissing Cockroach which scares away predators with a hissing noise made by forcing air through breathing tubes in its sides; a four-inch-long Dead Leaf Mantis; the Emperor Scorpion which is five inches long and poisonous; the African Millipede which has 230 legs and can be up to a foot long; and many, many more.

More than 500 butterflies and moths are housed in a special mesh outdoor flower garden the size of a tennis court called the Butterfly Garden, where they are allowed to fly freely. They often land on visitors, especially if they are wearing bright colored clothing that looks like flower petals to the butterflies.

As visitors go in and out of the Butterfly Garden, some of the butterflies and moths follow them out and escape, but this is not a problem. Kraig says all of the residents of the Butterfly Garden are native to North America and new ones are hatching each day.

Kraig has hot-glued chrysalis cases (butterflies) and cocoons (moths) to a dead tree so that visitors can watch the butterflies and moths come out of the cases. "Normally they wouldn't be found on a dead tree," said Kraig, "But we wanted people to see them as they emerge because it's so amazing."

There are several insects that are native to Minnesota and Wisconsin, but other bugs might be hazardous to area crops if they escaped, so special permits for these insects were obtained from the Agriculture Department and special precautions are being taken to see that they don't escape.

When summer draws to a close, along with the end of the exhibit, will it mean the end of the bugs and butterflies? Not for all of them. Some will die off on their own, but others will be incorporated into other exhibits and some will go to zoos in other cities.

Elaine, a typical mother, says she hopes that everyone will consider taking in the "Bugs!" exhibit if they happen to be around the Twin Cities this summer. "It is really wonderful," she said. "And I am not just saying that because my son has something to do with it. It's an education in itself.

"People tell me they visited the zoo a few years ago and they didn't think it was very interesting, but I tell them they are really missing something if they haven't been there in the last few years. It has really changed. There are so many things to see — they won't be able to see it all in one day."

If you decide to visit the zoo this summer, and particularly the "Bugs!" exhibit, be sure to bring a bug from your own yard or garden to view beneath a special microscope that projects the image onto a large screen. A zoo guide will identify the insect for you and tell about its life history.

Then, too, while you are there, be sure to say "Hi" to Kraig Anderson. You won't have any trouble finding him — he'll most likely be the one in the middle of the biggest collection of bugs.

Minnesota Zoo hours are from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. week days and Saturdays, and 9 a.m. to 8 p.m. Sundays. The zoo is located in Apple Valley, 10 minutes south of the Mall of America on Highway 77. For more information, you can call the zoo at 612-432-9000.

30 MCC seniors receive diplomas

Thirty members of the Class of 1994 at Marshall County Central high school in Newfolden received their diplomas at the 77th annual commencement exercises Sunday, June 5, in the high school gymnasium.

Several awards and scholarships were presented at the program. Sara Lokstad and Jason Rantanen received the David Sparby award. Tri-community scholarships were presented to Tami Berggren, Jill Fosholm, Wendy Inman, Lisa Larson, Shanon Magner, Jason Rantanen, Ryan Black, Natasha Hirst, Jenny Larson, Sara Lokstad, Tracy Olson and Scott Yonke.

Middle River Jaycees scholarships were awarded to Ryan Black and Jason Rantanen, the Red Lake Electric Cooperative scholarship to Sara Lokstad and the Marshall County Central Teachers Association scholarship to Jason Rantanen.

The high school band directed by Mrs. Sheila Nelson played a prelude and the processional and recessional and the mixed chorus sang "Friend to Friend, Heart to Heart."

Senior addresses were given by Sara Lokstad, Shanon Magner and Scott Zak and inspirational words were presented by Tami Berggren. Principal Ron Paggen presented the class and school board chairman Eldon Augustine awarded the diplomas.

Serving as ushers were junior class members of the National Honor Society including Janette Bjorgaard, Tiffany Harbott, Susan Johnson, Jami Kuznia, Jerad Liedberg and Nicol Rockstad.

President of the senior class was Sara Lokstad with Jill Fosholm as vice president and Shanon Magner as secretary-treasurer. Faculty participants were Ron and Linda Ueland.

Members of the graduating class were as follows with an asterisk (*) denoting honor students:

Ronald Audette, Patrick Benke, Tami Berggren, Ryan Black*, David Bolstad, Marisol Bermudez, James Deppa*, Christopher Ekman, Dean Engen, Jill Fosholm*, Kristi Harstad, Natasha Hirst*, Wendy Inman*, Jennifer Larson* and Lisa Larson*;

Also Shawn Leach, Florian Lechner, Sara Lokstad*, Shanon Magner*, Holly Mezeski, Tracy Olson*, Jason Rantanen*, Aaron Skadsem, Michael Skadsem, Jennifer Taggart, Anton Tanuhendrata, Tara Underdahl*, Stephen Vanderport, Scott Yonke* and Scott Zak.

Members of the School District 441 board of education in addition to chairman Augustine are Doreen Amundson, clerk; Mark Carlson, treasurer; Daniel Olson, Donna Fosholm, Scott Peters and Keith Ranum, directors.

Hofstad named All-American Scholar at Oklee

Robbie Hofstad, a student at Oklee high school and nominated by instructor Michael Swenson, has been named an All-American Scholar by the United States Achievement Academy. Only students with a 3.3 or higher grade point average and nominated by a high school instructor, counselor or other qualified sponsor are accepted.

Robbie is the son of Glenn and Linda Hofstad of Oklee and grandson of Pearl Poppenhagen of Thief River Falls and Mabel Hofstad of Trail.

Local students on St. Cloud State Univ. honor roll

St. Cloud State University has recognized 1,052 students for scholastic achievement during spring quarter. Among those students was John Derek Seaverson, Wendy Dyan Stokke and Joel Anthony Swanson II of Thief River Falls.

To receive a certificate of scholastic achievement, a student must have completed a minimum of nine credits with a grade point average of 3.75 or higher in courses graded A through F.

Shanon Magner

Shanon Magner gets scholarship from Tech College

Shanon L. Magner of Newfolden, has been awarded a $600 scholarship to attend Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls. Shanon will enter the practical nursing major at the college.

The scholarships, made possible by donations from Lowell and Marge Swenson of Thief River Falls, are awarded to Area High school seniors and are based on high school academic performance, plus school and community activities.

Shanon is a 1994 graduate of Marshall County Central high school and is the daughter of Scott and Tammie Magner of Newfolden.

Newfolden Youth Center has opened in the former Me and Pe Cafe in downtown Newfolden. The center offers a variety of activities for the youth of Newfolden and surrounding communities. A grand opening at the center will be held on June 18.

Newfolden youth center to hold its grand opening on Saturday, June 18

Monday through Thursday, and from 3 to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Wockenfus said, students have developed a set of rules for students to follow while at the center. Wockenfuss said a group of kids got together and came up with such rules as, respect each othes, clean up after yourself, obey the laws, use self control, cooperate, respect the staff and others.

After being open for only a few weeks, they came up with another rule — a three second touch rule. The three-second touch rule means one youth can touch another youth for only a period of three seconds.

Wockenfuss believes that if adults had developed the rules, the rules would be ignored. But since students who use the facility came up with the rules, everyone has been following the rules or have been accepting of the consequences of a rule violation.

Wockenfuss only had one or two roles to play in the development and implementation of the project. Since the center requires staffing of adults who volunteer their time, many people were involved in the project from the beginning.

Gary Beito, chairman of the Central Marshall County Project Future, esplained that the project was funded through many donations and Minnesota Project Future. The main goal of the Minnesota Project Future program is to build up the small town economy by bringing in more business. The youth center isn't viewed as a babysitting service, but an economic development tool. It does keep youth interested in staying in the community and in contributing to its prosperity.

Beito said the Youth in Education Action Team, which isn't affiliated with any group or religious organization, formed last February. He said the idea for the organization was somewhat conceived last summer as a way to oome up with something better for children, and give them more incentive to stick around. It also provides youth with an opportunity to become involved in their community. The organization provides all of these things and entertainment, which for adults is another way of keeping youth off the streets and out of trouble.

Beito said the action team received a matching grant from Minnesota Project Future, and donations from many businesses, most notably were large donations from Red Lake Electric, Marshall County and the local Lions club.

The youth center became a reality also because of cooperation from many boards and government agencies. Beito said it was merely a matter of jumping through all the hoops.

Beito said it didn't take a lot of money to get the project going — just a lot of volunteer work. Money from the grant and donations have helped stock the shelves, buy supplies, and pay the rent. He hopes that in the future, the center will be self-supporting. He also hopes that the number of activities available out of the center will espand into such areas, as dances for the youth, and other events.

Beito encourages anyone interested in Project Future and the Youth Center to volunteer and help out. He finds it rewarding and ooly recently had to be talked out of working at the center on a day off. He suggested that anyone interested in becoming involved contact the center at 874-4061.

Youth interested in putting some spending money in their pocket can also find what they are looking for at the center. A bulletin board displays a list of odd jobs people would like done in the community. Wockenfuss said anyone who has an odd job for youth can put a hote up on the bulletin board.

The bulletin board is also used as a place to leave notes. Youth at the center can also use the phone, but long distance phone calls cannot be made from the phone, so there's no danges of somoone racking up a large telephone bill.

The true test of whether the youth centes will be successful will be in the number of youth who visit the center and the number of adult volunteers who will support the organization. If early returns are any indication of success, the future of the youth center looks secure.

Bible school at Faith Church

TRF to observe "An American Festival"

Many activities are scheduled for Fourth of July weekend celebration....including fireworks!

Anyone who had said in the past that there was nothing to do in Thief River Falls on the Fourth of July weekend was probably fairly close to right.

Anyone who thinks there will be nothing to do here in 1994 hasn't heard about "An American Festival," the three-day celebration Saturday and Sunday and Monday, July 2, 3 and 4, which has so many activities planned that one person probably couldn't take part in all of them.

In fact, there are so many activities for the three-day celebration that they actually start the evening before. A passion play entitled "The Last Call" will be presented Friday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium and repeated on Saturday at the same time. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be accepted.

Saturday Events

Saturday events will be held primarily at the Pennington county fairgrounds with several notable exceptions.

The Sparkler Sprint and Little Sparkler Run will be held at Centennial park near the Eighth street bridge.

The Sprint is a 5K and 10K race which will begin at 8:30 a.m. with the start and finish at Centennial park, but non-competitors who would just like to walk or jog the oourse are also welcome. Awards will be made to first, second and third place male and female finishers in each division, including 12 and under, 13-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59 and 60 and older.

Entry fee for registrations by July 1 is $3 ($10 if a T-shirt is wanted). After July 1 the fee with T-shirt increases to $15. No registrations will be taken after 7:30 a.m. on the day of the race.

Little Sparkler Run for children seven years of age and undes will be run on the grass at Centennial park at 8 a.m. Entry fee is $1 and each participant will receive a Little Sparkler ribbon.

Advance entries should be made with Gail Holland at Northwest Medical Center, 120 South LaBree, phone 681-4240, estension 210.

The parade will start at 11 a.m., forming at the fairgrounds and proceeding down Barzen Avenue to First Street, east on First Street to Knight Avenue, north on Knight Avenue to Fourth Street and back to the fairgrounds. It will not pass through the downtown area.

Special appearances will be made by Big Bird, Cookie Monster, Kermit the Frog and Miss Piggy.

Helicopter rides will be given from the Johnson Greenline property on the west edge of the city from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Cost will be $20 per person for a six-minute ride if purchased in advance at KTRF or Pennington Square. Cost at the site will be $25.

A teen dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the National Guard armory.

All other Saturday events will be at the fairgrounds, and they are numerous:

• Craft show and flea market is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.;
• Food stands will be in operation from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.;
• Saddle club play day events will take place at the horse show arena on the grounds from noon to 5 p.m.;
• Beer garden will be in operation from 12 noon to 10 p.m.;
• Bingo will be played from 1 to 6 p.m.;
• Loveable dog contest at 2:30 p.m. open to all pet owners with categories for most spots, largest, smallest, best costume, best trick, shortest tail, biggest paw and dog and owner look-alike;
• Lumberjack shows will be presented at 1, 4 and 7 p.m.;
• Two bands will perform with the "Smokey Mountain Boys" to play from 3 to 6 p.m. and "Bob and the Beach Combers" to play from 7

TRF Aviation Week events scheduled for this weekend

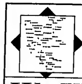
A five-day event that began with an "Intro to Aviation Night" Wednesday will conclude Sunday with activities at the Thief River Falls regional airport from 8 a.m. through the morning and afternoon.

Aviators were on hand Wednesday evening to answer questions about aviation and tours of the airport were given.

Thursday was designated as "Youth Night" with demonstration flights given by the Experimental Aircraft Association.

Scheduled for "Activity Night" Friday were flour sack bombing runs and a spot landing contest.

Today (Saturday) an FAA pilot safety seminar will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. with flight instructors available after the seminar. A spaghetti supper will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. and airplane rides will be available from 5 to 9 p.m.



Sunday events will include a pancake breakfast from 8 a.m. to noon, radio controlled airplane fun fly from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., airplane rides from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and airport/aviation maintenance school tours from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The model airplane flying session will be held one-half mile south of the airport.

Aviation Week activities are being sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol, Minnesota Department of Transportation, Thief River Aviation, Northwest Technical College—Thief River Falls campus, Northern Navigators, City of Thief River Falls, Kiwanis club, Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Experimental Aircraft Association.

For further information call 681-5585.

Gary Helvorson of Red Lake Falls was actually able to drive his truck in its damaged condition to Thibert's Body Shop in Red Lake Falls. The damage took place last Sunday during a storm. Helvorson said the pickup was parked near Maple Lake when a large tree landed on the back of the pickup. Most of the tree was removed, but the segment above became a little too difficult to remove. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $5,000. Helvorson said there was a lot of damage to other property from the storm near Maple Lake. Helvorson mentioned seeing pontoon boats floating upside down.

Class ring found after 37 years

Roseau — A Roseau high school class ring lost in 1957 was returned to its owner recently. Eldri Vatnsdal says an old steady boyfriend who had her ring lost it at the county fair in 1957. It was returned to her by Troy Olson, whose hobby is searching for old coins with a metal detector. He had unearthed the ring near the grandstand at the fairgrounds and found out who the ring belonged to by calling the Roseau high school principal's office. The school secretary's search of a 1958 yearbook led to Olson calling Eldri Vatnsdal, formerly Eldri Nystrom, to ask if she had ever lost a class ring. Ironically, Troy lost his own 1983 high school class ring about 10 years ago in Red Lake Falls.

Suspect sought in armed robbery

Bemidji — The Beltrami County Sheriff's office is seeking information about an armed robbery at the Cenex South Convenience Store in Bemidji that happened about 2 a.m. on June 17. A single male wearing a ski mask and carrying a short-barrelled shotgun apparently robbed the store of an undisclosed amount of money while holding the clerk at gunpoint. He drove a mid-1980s light or cream-colored, Chevrolet Monte Carlo-style vehicle and was wearing a two-toned starter jacket, dark shoes and jeans.

Roseau child dies in vehicle mishap

Roseau — Two-year-old Carlie J. Maswell of Roseau died at the Roseau Area Hospital after being backed over by a four-wheel drive pickup. According to the report from the Roseau County Sheriff's office, an unidentified family member apparently drove over the child as he or she was backing out of the driveway of the child's home. According to the driver, the child was inside the house when the driver left the house and then was lying in the driveway after the vehicle pulled out. The sheriff's department stated that no further investigation into the matter will be made.

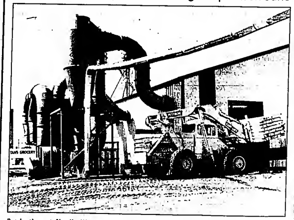
Six indicted by Grand Jury for embezzlement

United States Attorney David L. Lillehaug has announced that Rodney Lynn Bjerklie of Trail, former Inter-County Community Council (ICCC) weatherization director, has been indicted, along with five others, for embezzling more than $200,000 from the weatherization program, a community action program for indigent people in northwestern Minnesota.

The 12-page Grand Jury indictment, released Wednesday, June 22, charges Rodney Lynn Bjerklie, 43, Trail, Darwin Lee Eidelbes, 44, and his wife, Carol Jean Eidelbes, 41, Danny Allen Johnsrud, 36, and his wife Theresa Johnsrud, 34, and Richard Orbin Tharaldson, 57, all of Goodridge, with embezzling the money from the weatherization program administered by the ICCC, which is located in Oklee and serves Pennington, Red Lake, Clearwater and East Polk counties. Funding for the weatherization program came from the U.S. Department of Energy and the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services.

The indictment alleges an elaborate scheme took place from 1989 through 1992 that involved fraudulent billings, fictitious companies, embezzlement of program funds, and kickbacks.

According to the indictment, from 1989 through 1992, Bjerklie is alleged to have fraudulently ordered building materials for the ICCC, which were billed to ICCC by contractors and paid for by the ICCC with government funds. Bjerklie then converted the materials to his own use by selling them to other persons. During this same period, Bjerklie and the Eidelbes, fraudulently billed the ICCC for about $116,633.40.



The indictment further states that the Eidelbes and Bjerklie invented a fictitious company, D.C. Construction, and Bjerklie prepared fictitious invoices from D.C. Construction for labor and building materials to the ICCC. He also allegedly prepared ICCC documents approving payment to D.C. Construction for work not done by D.C. Construtiion and materials never used on ICCC projects. In some cases, the work was done by other, legitimate construction companies, with the result that the ICCC paid twice for the same work, once to the legitimate company and once to D.C. Construction. The Eidelbes received ICCC checks from Bjerklie made out to D.C. Construction and the Eidelbes then deposited these checks in their checking account. The Eidelbes then wrote kickback checks on their checking account to Bjerklie, which he cashed for his own purposes.

The indictment also alleges that Bjerklie had a similar arrangement with the Johnsruds, who allegedly fraudulently billed the ICCC for

Nordic Wood Products sets open house

New wood cutting plant which began operation June 6 at Newfolden to welcome visitors

Production at Nordic Wood Products in Newfolden begins when a bundle of cants (squared logs) is placed on infeed rollers at the north end of the plant. Sawdust and chip collection is accomplished by the air flow system at loft with the chips and sawdust carried by the pipe at the top of this photo to a collection shed. The material is available for animal bedding and is sold to work well with liquid manure systems in dairy and hog barns.

There is a scent of freshly cut wood in the air along with a feeling of optimism as a new business—Nordic Wood Products—has begun its custom wood cutting operation in Newfolden.

In the building preparation stage since last September when Dale Crepeau came aboard as plant manager, the plant officially went into operation on June 6 and has been functioning on a daily basis since then. Dale formerly managed the Clearbrook plant which built shipping crates for the original Arctic Enterprises until 1982.

Open house at Nordic Wood Products will be held Tuesday, June 28, from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. The public is invited to attend and view the facilities, equipment and product and meet the staff.

The plant is housed in a 60x120 former grain storage building on the 16 acre Newfolden industrial park at 175 East Minnesota Street. More specifically, for area residents, it's east of highway 59, across the street from Stan's Grocery.

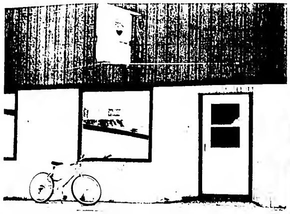
Its business is to custom cut crating material to be used in building of shipping crates for Arctco, Inc. in Thief River Falls and Polaris Industries in Roseau. Those crates are built by the Occupational Development Center in Thief River Falls and Woodland Container, Inc., in Roseau—currently Nordic Wood Products' sole customers.

Having only two customers by no means indicates the business is insignificant. Equipment in the plant is capable of cutting 25,000 to 30,000 board feet of lumber a day (that's the equivalent of three semi-trailer loads) and first year production is estimated to be four and one-half to five million board feet.

All of the equipment is new, purchased with the belief that with a good maintenance program it should provide relatively trouble-free service for many years to come.

"Generally, used sawmill equipment is in pretty rough shape," Crepeau said. "It is purchased for production and it is used for production, most often with very little attention paid to maintenance. As a result, it wears out before its time and needs a great deal of repair and attention for any future use."

Nordic Wood Products was formed out of a suggestion brought to a meeting of the recently-formed Newfolden Area Development Company by Dennis Maurstad. Now a vice president of the Nordic Wood Products Board, Maurstad had received the basis for his idea from a casual conversation with a co-worker at Northwest Medical Center in Thief River Falls. A small group from the development company investigated the potential for the plant, then organized as a corporation early in 1993.



Assistance in developing the business plan and coordinating the funding sources was provided by Newfolden Youth Center has opened in the former Ma and Pa Cafe in downtown Newfolden. The center offers a variety of activities for the youth of Newfolden and surrounding communities. A grand opening at the center will be held on June 18.

Newfolden youth center to hold its grand opening on Saturday, June 18

Monday through Thursday, and from 3 to 10 p.m. Friday and Saturday.

Wockenfus said, students have developed a set of rules for students to follow while at the center. Wockenfuss said a group of kids got together and came up with such rules as, respect each other, clean up after yourself, obey the laws, use self control, cooperate, respect the staff and others.

After being open for only a few weeks, they came up with another rule — a three second touch rule. The three-second touch rule means one youth can touch another youth for only a period of three seconds.

Wockenfuss believes that if adults had developed the rules, the rules would be ignored. But since students who use the facility came up with the rules, everyone has been following the rules or have been accepting of the consequences of a rule violation.

Wockenfuss only had one or two roles to play in the development and implementation of the project. Since the center requires staffing of adults who volunteer their time, many people were involved in the project from the beginning.

Gary Beito, chairman of the Central Marshall County Project Future, explained that the project was funded through many donations and Minnesota Project Future. The main goal of the Minnesota Project Future program is to build up the small town economy by bringing in more business. The youth center isn't viewed as a babysitting service, but an economic development tool. It does keep youth interested in staying in the community and in contributing to its prosperity.

Beito said the Youth in Education Action Team, which isn't affiliated with any group or religious organization, formed last February. He said the idea for the organization was somewhat conceived last summer as a way to come up with something better for children, and give them more incentive to stick around. It also provides youth with an opportunity to become involved in their community. The organization provides all of these things and entertainment, which for adults is another way of keeping youth off the streets and out of trouble.

Beito said the action team received a matching grant from Minnesota Project Future, and donations from many businesses, most notably were large donations from Red Lake Electric, Marshall County and the local Lions club.

The youth center became a reality also because of cooperation from many boards and government agencies. Beito said it was merely a matter of jumping through all the hoops.

Beito said it didn't take a lot of money to get the project going — just a lot of volunteer work. Money from the grant and donations have helped stock the shelves, buy supplies, and pay the rent. He hopes that in the future, the center will be self-supporting. He also hopes that the number of activities available out of the center will expand into such areas, as dances for the youth, and other events.

Beito encourages anyone interested in Project Future and the Youth Center to volunteer and help out. He finds it rewarding and only recently had to be talked out of working at the center on a day off. He suggested that anyone interested in becoming involved contact the center at 874-4061.

Youth interested in putting some spending money in their pocket can also find what they are looking for at the center. A bulletin board displays a list of odd jobs people would like done in the community. Wockenfuss said anyone who has an odd job for youth can put a note up on the bulletin board.

The bulletin board is also used as a place to leave notes. Youth at the center can also use the phone, but long distance phone calls cannot be made from the phone, so there's no danger of someone racking up a large telephone bill.

The true test of whether the youth center will be successful will be in the number of youth who visit the center and the number of adult volunteers who will support the organization. If early returns are any indication of success, the future of the youth center looks secure.

TRF to observe "An American Festival"

Many activities are scheduled for Fourth of July weekend celebration....including fireworks!

Anyone who had said in the past that there was nothing to do in Thief River Falls on the Fourth of July weekend was probably fairly close to right.

Anyone who thinks there will be nothing to do here in 1994 hasn't heard about "An American Festival," the three-day celebration Saturday and Sunday and Monday, July 2, 3 and 4, which has so many activities planned that one person probably couldn't take part in all of them.

In fact, there are so many activities for the three-day celebration that they actually start the evening before. A passion play entitled "The Last Call" will be presented Friday at 7 p.m. in the Lincoln high school auditorium and repeated on Saturday at the same time. There is no admission charge but a free will offering will be accepted.

Saturday Events

Saturday events will be held primarily at the Pennington county fairgrounds with several notable exceptions.

The Sparkler Sprint and Little Sparkler Run will be held at Centennial park near the Eighth street bridge.

The Sprint is a 5K and 10K race which will begin at 8:30 a.m. with the start and finish at Centennial park, but non-competitors who would just like to walk or jog the course are also welcome. Awards will be made to first, second and third place male and female finishers in each division, including 12 and under, 13-19, 20-29, 30-39, 40-49, 50-59 and 60 and older.

Entry fee for registrations by July 1 is $3 ($10 if a T-shirt is wanted). After July 1 the fee with T-shirt increases to $15. No registrations will be taken after 7:30 a.m. on the day of the race.

Little Sparkler Run for children seven years of age and under will be run on the grass at Centennial park at 8 a.m. Entry fee is $1 and each participant will receive a Little Sparkler ribbon.

Advance entries should be made with Gail Holland at Northwest Medical Center, 120 South LaBree, phone 681-4240, extension 210.

The parade will start at 11 a.m., forming at the fairgrounds and proceeding down Barzen Avenue to First Street, east on First Street to Knight Avenue, north on Knight Avenue to Fourth Street and back to the fairgrounds. It will not pass through the downtown area.

Special appearances will be made by Big Bird, Cookie Monster, Kermit the Frog and Miss Piggy.

Helicopter rides will be given from the Johnson Greenline property on the west edge of the city from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. Cost will be $20 per person for a six-minute ride if purchased in advance at KTRF or Pennington Square. Cost at the site will be $25.

A teen dance will be held from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m. at the National Guard armory.

All other Saturday events will be at the fairgrounds, and they are numerous:

- Craft show and flea market is scheduled from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.;
- Food stands will be in operation from 11 a.m. to 10 p.m.;
- Saddle club play day events will take place at the horse show arena on the grounds from noon to 5 p.m.;
- Beer garden will be in operation from 12 noon to 10 p.m.;
- Bingo will be played from 1 to 6 p.m.;
- Loveable dog contest at 2:30 p.m. open to all pet owners with categories for most spots, largest, smallest, best costume, best trick, shortest tail, biggest paw and dog and owner look-alike;
- Lumberjack shows will be presented at 1, 4 and 7 p.m.;
- Two bands will perform with the "Smokey Mountain Boys" to play from 3 to 6 p.m. and "Bob and the Beach Combers" to play from 7

Class ring found after 37 years

Roseau — A Roseau high school class ring lost in 1957 was returned to its owner recently. Eldri Vatnsdal says an old steady boyfriend who had her ring lost it at the county fair in 1957. It was returned to her by Troy Olson, whose hobby is searching for old coins with a metal detector. He had unearthed the ring near the grandstand at the fairgrounds and found out who the ring belonged to by calling the Roseau high school principal's office. The school secretary's search of a 1958 yearbook led to Olson calling Eldri Vatnsdal, formerly Eldri Nystrom, to ask if she had ever lost a class ring. Ironically, Troy lost his own 1983 high school class ring about 10 years ago in Red Lake Falls.

TRF Aviation Week events scheduled for this weekend

A five-day event that began with an "Intro to Aviation Night" Wednesday will conclude Sunday with activities at the Thief River Falls regional airport from 8 a.m. through the morning and afternoon.

Aviators were on hand Wednesday evening to answer questions about aviation and tours of the airport were given.

Thursday was designated as "Youth Night" with demonstration flights given by the Experimental Aircraft Association.

Scheduled for "Activity Night" Friday were flour sack bombing runs and a spot landing contest.

Today (Saturday) an FAA pilot safety seminar will be held from 2 to 5 p.m. with flight instructors available after the seminar. A spaghetti supper will be served from 5 to 8 p.m. and airplane rides will be available from 5 to 9 p.m.

Sunday events will include a pancake breakfast from 8 a.m. to noon, radio controlled airplane fun fly from 11 a.m. to 4 p.m., airplane rides from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. and airport/aviation maintenance school tours from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. The model airplane flying session will be held one-half mile south of the airport.

Aviation Week activities are being sponsored by the Civil Air Patrol, Minnesota Department of Transportation, Thief River Aviation, Northwest Technical College—Thief River Falls campus, Northern Navigators, City of Thief River Falls, Kiwanis club, Thief River Falls Chamber of Commerce and the Experimental Aircraft Association.

For further information call 681-5585.

Gery Helvorson of Red Lake Falls was actually able to drive his truck in its damaged condition to Thibert's Body Shop in Red Lake Falls. The damage took place last Sunday during a storm. Halvorson said the pickup was parked near Maple Lake when a large tree landed on the back of the pickup. Most of the tree was removed, but the segment above became a little too difficult to remove. Damage to the pickup was estimated at $5,000. Helvorson said there was a lot of damage to other property from the storm near Maple Lake. Helvorson mentioned seeing pontoon boats floating upside down.

An American Festival events are scheduled to 11 p.m.;

• Lip sync contest will begin at 6 p.m.;

• Petting zoo will be open from 12 noon to 6 p.m. and Kitty Cat rides will be available throughout much of the day.

Sunday Events

Opening activity Sunday will be the Tour de Pennington 75 kilometer bike race and 30 kilometer bike tour. Registration and start will take place at the Hugo's parking lot at the corner of First Street and Pennington Avenue. Racers in the 75 kilometer event will have a timed start at 8:30 a.m. and the race will finish in front of Northland Community College after 46.5 miles of biking through Pennington and Marshall counties.

Participants in the 30 kilometer event may start any time after 8 a.m. with the shortened course to also finish at NCC.

Entry fee is $7 before July 1 and $12 July 1 and later. Tank-top shirts will be given to all finishers. First place awards will be made to male and female winners in the 75 km race in each age division for 19 and under, 20-29, 30-39 and 40 and over. All participating in either event will be entered in a drawing for Chamber Dollars.

Softball tournaments will also get underway at 8 a.m. at the softball diamonds east of Northwest Technical College.

Helicopter rides will again be available from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. at Johnson Greenline. Bingo will be played from 1 to 6 p.m. at the VFW club. A golf tournament will take place at the Thief River Golf Club.

At dusk a $6,000 aerial fireworks display will be fired from the area of the softball diamonds and should be easily viewed from the Centennial park area.

Kite flying will take place at Centennial Park at 3 p.m. with kites provided for this event.

Events scheduled to take place at LaFave Park near the swimming beach Sunday include the following:

• Pancake breakfast served by the Kiwanis club from 9 to 11:30 a.m;

• American Festival of Songs presented by members of a church youth group at 12 noon;

• Lt. Col. Norris Connely, Deputy Commander of the 319th Support Group at the Grand Forks Air Force Base, will speak on patriotism and Americanism at 1 p.m.;

• Beer Garden will be open from 1 to 11:30 p.m. at the park;

• "Sparky and the Time Pirates" will present music from 6 p.m. to dusk;

• Beach party will be held from 1 to 3 p.m.;

• Duck races will begin at 2 p.m. and hoop shoot at 2:30 p.m.;

• Tiger Shark personal watercraft will be on display during the day with a demonstration between 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. on the river;

• A hike on the Riverwalk and scuba diving demonstrations are on the schedule;

• Lip sync contest championship is scheduled for 7 p.m.

Monday Events

Helicopter rides will be available from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Johnson Greenline.

Memorial service will be held at 11 a.m. at Friendship Gardens, followed by a family picnic at 12 noon at Hartz park near the National Guard armory.

Engelstad Pioneer Village will have a number of activities of interest to the public. Through arrangements made by the Festival committee with the Pennington County Historical Society, there will be free admission to the village grounds for these activities.

Planned are costumed tours of the depot, pioneer cabins, Hendrickson house and the one-room school house from 2 to 4 p.m.; an old-time dance with music by the "Smokey Mountain Boys" from 1 to 4 p.m. in the Engelstad machinery building; a music recital with vocal and instrumental music in the church; and spinning, jewelry making and quilting demonstrations.

Persons attending the events are encouraged to bring their own lawn chairs and insect repellent.

American festival craft show and flea market set

Reservations from individuals interested in participating in the American Festival Craft and Flea market scheduled for Saturday, July 2, in Thief River Falls are still being accepted.

To make reservations to participate in the show, contact the Chamber of commerce at 681-3720 before 5 p.m. Tuesday, June 28. There is no entry fee to participate.

The craft show and flea market will be held from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. July 2 at the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center lot on the Pennington County fairgrounds in Thief River Falls. The show will be held in conjunction with several other events taking place at the fairgrounds as part of the first annual American Festival celebration.

TRF summer projects begin

Ron Lindberg, engineering services director for the city of Thief River Falls, expects to have a pre-construction meeting this week with contractors who will be performing construction work for the city this summer.

Lindberg said Knife Lake Construction of Mora, which won the bid on the sidewalk project, began work last week. As of Thursday, he said the contractor was moving quickly and had completed about 20 per cent of the sidewalk project.

Construction on the downtown reconstruction project is not expected to begin prior to July 23. Christian Industrial Developers of Bemidji will begin on a watermain and large culvert near Digi-Key and Arctco after the Fourth of July. At the request of downtown merchants, the contractor will not begin work on the downtown project prior to July 23, which will allow downtown merchants to hold their Crazy Days sidewalk sale on July 21.

The contractor is also expected to begin the downtown project on Horace Avenue before moving to LaBree.

The downtown project includes reconstruction of LaBree and Horace Avenues from First Street to Third Street, and Second Street from Atlantic Avenue to Main Avenue.

Once construction on the downtown project begins, Lindberg said he expects that there will be weekly meetings about the progress of construction in the basement meeting room of the city auditorium. Dates and times for those meetings have not been set yet.

SOUPCON
Sherry LaCoursiere

Fresh fruits are coming into season so we'll have a few more fresh fruit recipes today.

Doesn't this pie sound delicious:

RHUBARB SPONGE PIE
2 eggs, separated
2 tablespoons flour
2 tablespoons butter, melted
1 cup milk
1 to 1 1/2 cups sugar
1 teaspoon lemon juice
2 cups diced fresh rhubarb
Unbaked pie shell

Mix flour and melted butter. Stir in egg yolks. Gradually add milk, then sugar and lemon juice. Mix well.

Add stiffly beaten egg whites.

Arrange rhubarb in pie shell and pour mixture over top.

Bake at 450 degrees for 10 minutes, then turn oven to 350 degrees and continue baking for 40-45 minutes longer.

Freeze some of these and have yummy breakfasts all week:

RHUBARB MUFFINS
1 1/4 cups brown sugar
1/2 cup oil
1 egg
1 cup buttermilk
1 1/2 cups finely diced rhubarb
1 cup chopped nuts
2 1/2 cups flour
1 teaspoon soda
1 teaspoon baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt

Mix flour, soda, baking powder and salt.

Mix brown sugar, oil, egg and buttermilk. Add a little of the flour mixture to rhubarb and nuts and then add to egg mixture.

Spoon into muffin tins and top with:

Topping
1 teaspoon melted butter
1/3 cup sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon.

Mix well and sprinkle over each muffin, pressing down.

Bake muffins at 350 degrees for 20-25 minutes.

Blueberries are on sale at the grocery stores this week if you hurry:

BLUEBERRY-BANANA BREAD
2 1/2 cups buttermilk biscuit mix
3/4 cup firmly packed light brown sugar
1 teaspoon cinnamon
1/2 teaspoons soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1 cup mashed rip bananas (2 or 3 bananas)
3/4 cup fresh blueberries
1/2 cup chopped nuts
1/2 cup dairy sour cream
2 eggs, beaten
1 teaspoon vanilla

Preheat oven to 350 degrees.

Combine biscuit mix, sugar, cinnamon, soda and salt in large mixing bowl. Stir in bananas, blueberries and nuts.

Add mixture of sour cream, eggs and vanilla and beat until dry ingredients are just moistened. Place in well-greased loaf pan.

Bake 55 to 60 minutes or until done. Cool in pan for 10 minutes, then remove and cool completely on wire rack.

FOOD LOVERS DIET
To introduce a new approach to dieting, free samples were given to 50 people. With The Omicron Diet, one man lost 14 pounds in 5 days and one woman lost 18 pounds in 10 days. The average weight loss was over a pound a day for women and over 2 pounds a day for men.* The Omicron Diet is a revolutionary new concept for unbelievably fast weight loss developed by Dr. William Morris of National Dietary Research, Washington, D.C. This significant breakthrough in metabolic weight control was made possible by the utilization of biological information over-looked by other diet programs. With a natural enzyme / nutrient supplement and real food, you shed unwanted pounds extremely rapidly and safely. *Individual weight loss will vary.

Six indicted for fraud in weatherization program about $72,163.52, under a fictitious company called Northwest Builders.

The indictment also alleges that Tharaldson operated a construction company called Tharaldson Construction. Tharaldson bid on and performed ICCC weatherization work and in at least two instances, is alleged to have received payment from Bjerklie at the ICCC for work on homes that Tharaldson never performed. The indictment specifically cites four instances for a total of $5,549.

The indictment further alleges five more counts of illegal activity, including receiving federal assistance and soliciting and or demanding personal benefit, kickbacks, and bribery.

The grand jury also took the step of demanding forfeiture of property (80 acres) and all interest and proceeds traceable thereto, and $4,500 from Bjerklie. If the property and money cannot be located, sold or is beyond the jurisdiction of the court or diminished in value or commingled with other property so that it cannot be divided, the United States is requesting the forfeiture of any other property of Bjerklie up to the value of $4,500 and the value of the real estate (80 acres).

In all, Bjerklie is alleged to have received over 90 kickback checks totalling about $111,574 during the course of the conspiracy.

U.S. Attorney Lillehaug commented, "The indictment alleges that these defendants stole money from the government which should have gone to poor people. Such activity warrants a vigorous prosecution."

The maximum potential penalty for money laundering is 20 years in prison and or a $500,000 fine. Accepting or offering bribes or kickbacks carries a maximum potential penalty of 10 years in prison and or a $250,000 fine. Conspiring to defraud the U.S. carries a maximum potential penalty of five years in prison and or a $250,000 fine.

The case is the result of an investigation by U.S. Department of Energy, Office of the Inspector General and the Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training, now known as the State Department of Economic Security. Assistant United States Attorney Jon M. Hopeman is prosecuting the case.

According to Robert Melby, executive director of the ICCC, Bjerklie was released from his job with the ICCC about two years ago in August after discrepancies were discovered internally. He said the ICCC notified the "Feds" and they took over the investigation. Melby said the ICCC cooperated with the investigation and made records available to investigators.

LETTERS

To the Editor:

The Clinton administration is planning another attack on the Hyde amendment soon. Everyday is a day closer to a vote on some form of healthcare and a mandate for the people to support abortion in Clinton's health bill whether we want to or not. The Clinton administration keeps ignoring the majority of the people (86 per cent against, 14 per cent for) who say they do not want abortion to be paid for by taxes. It seems we are not part of the population that needs to be listened to.

If you value your freedom to have a say about paying for abortions let your voice be heard. Personal letters are most effective. Let your representatives know that you oppose Clinton's health bill or any other that would pay for abortion by taxation.

The president's proposal to fund "medically necessary" or "health" abortions amounts to a sneaky way to require funding of abortions. Urge your representative to vote against any attempt to weaken the Hyde Amendment which prohibits federal funding of most abortions.

The address for House members is: House Office Building, Washington, D.C., 20515; and for Senate members: Senate Office Building, Washington, D.C. 20510.

Sincerely,
Ray Kolb,

Case Made For Retention Of School Shop Classes

With the coming of the computer age and the advancements of technology, attempts are being made in the educational field to teach children familiarity with computer equipment and give them an awareness of technology. There is some truth to the suggestion that it takes either an electronics expert or a kindergarten student to program a VCR.

From the standpoint of potential employment for students in the future, it makes sense to train them in the tools and methods that it is likely they will have to use. And education in America, most would agree, is intended to create functional young adults who can become contributing members of society, including participation in the work force in one way or another.

But the schools also become involved—some would say even bogged down—in various social and lifestyle issues that range from building self esteem and positive personal feelings to exercise, sex education, drug and alcohol abuse prevention and others not directly related to job skill training.

As all of these areas of learning create a demand on school time, other subject areas are often forced out. Those of us who derive a great deal of personal enjoyment and satisfaction from working with wood often lament the reduction or disappearance of school shop classes as a casualty of this demand on school time.

In support of our position, we present an article written by John Marlowe of San Francisco, CA, and published in the current issue of Fine Woodworking magazine. He titles his article:

ALMOST EVERYTHING I NEED TO KNOW I LEARNED IN SEVENTH -GRADE WOODSHOP
by John Marlowe

American secondary schools are changing and woodshop is on the way out. It is too expensive, too machinery intensive. Kids need power courses for college.

I say we need more woodshop, not less. You've seen the book All I Really Need to Know I Learned in Kindergarten. I was a slow learner. I didn't get a clue until my early teens when I took my first shop course. Back in the '50s, at Bret Harte Junior High in Oakland, CA, we were taught to plan and build according to that plan. We learned to respect our tools and take care of them. We took pride in what we built. And, most important, we learned to appreciate, respect and conserve the beautiful material with which we worked.

"We made drawings; we showed invisible joints; we did complex math, adding fractions, multiplying board feet, figuring costs. But more than the basic math, we had to develop an aesthetic sense. We had to deal with form and function. We had to work with proportion and balance.

It was about 40 years ago that I made a small table at which my younger sister could play dolls. That table is still knocking around. Since then I have made bigger and grander tables, big oak and walnut suckers on which lumberjacks could dance, but each of them has been just an amplification of the one that I made in fourth-period woodshop that smelled of pine resin.

Now everyone must be computer literate, but I cannot see someone using a contemporary computer program 40 years from now. Who is going to reminisce about the scent of a freshly booted-up disc? Who is going to have fond memories of the texture of a printer? But a hammer will swing with its top-heavy balance the same way forever. Freshly cut pine still smells like fresh pine.

When I mentioned this subject in my gym, the conversation about the latest sports news immediately stopped and everyone chattered fondly about chopping blocks, shoe-shine kits, tables and breadboards. One guy still used the tackle boxes he made 30 years ago to store his collection of precious stones. His carefully crafted nail chart still bangs on his garage wall. I don't know anyone who keeps their history tests; do you?

It is special to make something from scratch; something uniquely self-defining about an object that would never have existed without your hand. We need so much more of that feeling. Maybe you are better off knowing your Apple from a hole in the ground. But there is sure something special about making something with your hands, something that pleases the senses. Something that works. Something you can be proud of for a long time to come.

We all should have made more tables.

We Said We Wouldn't ....But We Are— Simpson Case Comment

After all the radio and television time and newsprint and ink devoted to the bizarre events following the double murder of Nicole Simpson (former wife of former professional football player O. J. Simpson) and Ronald Goldman in California, we said we wouldn't succumb to the temptation to make our own comments. Well, another temptation has gone unresisted.

It is not our place to speculate on "whodunit" or motives or guilt or innocence. Our interest is in the scrambling throughout the nation to respond in any number of ways to what is being increasingly revealed as the huge extent throughout the nation of spousal abuse and domestic violence. It is almost as though, despite some 4,000 women being killed as a result of domestic violence every year, that politicians and other public officials are just awakening from a 30-year sleep to discover what has been going on around them.

Verified prior attacks against his wife by O. J. Simpson simply serve to magnify the fact that human nature and its failings exist in any social or economic strata and acts of violence are as reprehensible against family members—and perhaps even moreso—as they are against strangers. The only difference between rich abusers and poor abusers is the money they have.

Exploitation of the publicity in the Simpson-Goldman murders—which were reportedly committed with a knife—range from abusers further threatening their partners with the same fate to politicians rushing legislation to confiscate and prohibit ownership of firearms by anyone convicted of domestic violence to requests for additional funding for domestic violence and abuse programs.

Sadly, we don't think people in an abusive pattern of behavior will be restrained by more laws or stiffer penalties. It is their nature to attempt to intimidate, dominate and control. Some might be deterred to a modest extent by the certainty that their acts will be reported and exposed and they will face certain punishment, but there is no way to assure reporting and effective penalties will remain far from a certainty.

The insidious thing about family abuse is that it occurs in the home, which should be a haven from fear and violence. A person assaulted by a stranger may expect to never see the assailant again. Someone assaulted by a family member has few escape options and most often must face that assailant on a daily basis. Domestic violence seems to be a problem which defies a solution.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

Area students on NDSU dean's list

Several area students were among the 1,200 students earning places on the Dean's list at North Dakota State University, Fargo, ND. The Dean's list recognizes students who maintain a 3.5 minimum grade point average on a 4.0 scale and carry at least a 12-credit course load.

Among the area students on the list were the following: Shannon Henrickson of Goodridge; Jennifer Ornquist of Middle River; Tal Elseth, and Deon Wawrzyniak of Newfolden; and Jared Erickson, Angela Janisch, Brian Lehrer, and Brenda Lutovsky of Thief River Falls.

All Nations Cultural Festival dates near

Final preparations are being made for the second annual All Nations Cultural Festival Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10 in St. Hilaire and the event continues to develop into an activity and entertainment-filled celebration.

Several organizations and businesses have shown their support for the festival recently. The Global Studies Institute in Red Lake Falls has donated flags from 23 countries for the flag display on stage at the park in St. Hilaire and for use on the festival float to be used in the St. Hilaire Fun Fest parade this weekend and An American Festival parade in Thief River Falls July 4.

Not only has the Coon & Crocket fur trade encampment been confirmed, according to Ed Leeper of the festival committee, but the Free Trappers North club of Bemidji will set up a historical camp as well. The camp will feature tomahawk and knife throwing, flint and steel fire starting demonstrations, trade blanket (selling authentic goods and crafts), black ash basket weaving and story-telling describing the voyageurs' daily lifestyle. Both camps will feature lodges from that era.

A Native American encampment will feature the lifestyle of the Ojibwe nation from the same time period. Over 400 pounds of walleye will be prepared over an open fire and a similar quantity of buffalo will be served. Hand-made jewelry and crafts will be available. A spokesman for the Native American group stated that several wig-wams will be used and many dancers and drummers will be in attendance, Leeper said.

More than 30 arts and crafts exhibitors, both ethnic and traditional, have registered to participate at the festival. A wide variety of foods will also be available, including "pitchfork fondue" (steak cooked over an open fire while skewered on a pitchfork), potato klub and German bratwurst.

Leeper said that many area residents have cooperated with the festival committee by opening their homes to members of the several entertainment groups who will participate in the festival. These groups include the 32-piece Musikverein Rutesheim from Germany, Killingberg Family from Norway and the Licanantay group from Chile in South America.

"The cultural festival committee is very appreciative of the generosity shown by these residents in providing lodging for our visitors," he said.

Among the hosts are Jim and Karen Pearson and Larry and Faith Rud, Warren; Larry and Bea Kruse and Joe Nelson, St. Hilaire; Art and Joan Heinze, Dee Jay and Cay Donlin, Sharon Iverson, Rhonda Amundson, Harland Lee, Robert Ralph, Lois Brown, Eunice Novak, Harlow and Gloria Johnson, Terry Soine, Leonard and Sylvia Rondorf, Yvonne Ode and Joe Ose, all of Thief River Falls.

Person considering attendance at the festival should be aware that the event in the park at St. Hilaire will take place even if it rains. Large circus-style tents have been obtained to insure that the festivities can continue and participants and spectators be protected from the elements.

Pennington County Historical Society will have a 1920 to 1930 display, according to Bonnie Swantek, director of the museum and other facilities at Pedar Engelstad Pioneer Village. People in the booth will be costumed from that time period. Everyone attending the cultural festival is urged to wear a costume of their background for the weekend.

A large dance floor will be provided both days for the Fialka Ukrainian Dance Ensemble, the Moorhead State University Heritage Dancers and the general public.

Members of the committee in addition to Leeper are Larry and Bea Kruse, Jill Altendorf, Evelyn Treitline and Barb Bohm. They have worked on arrangements for the festival for the past 10 months and developed an event which should have something of interest for all members of the family.

Sponsors of the festival include the City of St. Hilaire, St. Hilaire Community Club, Minnesota State Arts Board, KTRF-KSNR, KYCK and WDAZ-TV.

Marshall history group plans for '94 county fair

Plans for the Marshall County Fair were finalized when the county historical society met at its museum offices in Warren. Volunteers are needed to work during the fair and should call 745-4803 if they have a few hours to donate.

Demonstrations will include weaving by Avis Mattson, willow whistle making by Melvin Mattson, lefse baking by Jeanette Reierson, train bus and train rides by Warren Jadeke and pine needle basketry by Bev Johnson.

The society has added a new display called "Tin Pan Alley" in the museum. Hours for the museum during the fair July 1-4 will be from 2 to 9 p.m. with special events going on all afternoon on Monday, July 4.

Persons who have a craft or food item to demonstrate during the fair are asked to contact the society at the phone number listed above to reserve a space.

Bethesda Lutheran church celebrates Centennial

Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist will celebrate its 100th anniversary Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3. The Centennial theme is "Oh God, Our Help In Ages Past."

Church members have been busy preparing for the celebration for several months. The church has been cleaned, painted and repaired in anticipation of the Centennial.

The Women of the Evangelical Lutheran Church of America group has made a Centennial Quilt that will be on display in the church during the celebration.

Sunday, June 26, the 10:30 a.m. worship services will be a pre-Centennial celebration called "Augustana Sunday." Parishioners have been invited to dress in costumes of early days to take part in the old Augustana worship service.

Actual Centennial celebrations will begin with a banquet held at 5:30 p.m. Saturday, July 2. Registration will begin at 4 p.m. David Henrickson will present the prelude and Vance Lefrooth will welcome the guests.

After the banquet, Rev. Douglas Norquist will present devotions. Former pastors, Revs. Harvey Jackson, Paul Larson, Jerome Anderson and Henry Moyer will present greetings and music. Music will also be provided by Nicole Stromgren, singing "If These Walls Could Speak," and the Bethesda Trio with "He the Pearly Gates Will Open."

The Centennial Communion Worship Service will take place Sunday, July 3, at 10:30 a.m. Rev. Dick Kennedy, assistant to the bishop, will deliver the message at the service. The service will include a processional by the pastors at the service, and Shirley Norquist will present musical selections. Visiting pastors will also take part in the communion service.

The Centennial service will be followed by a picnic lunch and special Centennial Program at 2 p.m., which will include various selections and greetings and music by

Bethesda Lutheran Church

Don and Marlys Lefrooth, Ramona Sjovall and Vangie Carlson.

Anniversary cake will be served after the program.

Several pastors and former members of the church will be attending the Centennial celebrations. Pastors involved in the weekend will be Harvey Jackson, Paul Larson, Jerome Anderson, Henry Moyer, George Johnson, Marti Wilkman, the four daughters of P.G. Carlstedt, Clifford Lindgren, Dick Kennedy and present pastor, Douglas Norquist.

Music will be provided by the following:

• Nicole Stromgren and the Bethesda Trio on Saturday;

• The Centennial Choir and Shirley Norquist on Sunday morning;

• Don and Marlys Lefrooth, Ramona Sjovall and Vangie Carlson on Sunday afternoon; and

• Organ preludes by former and present organists throughout the celebration.

Everyone is welcome to come and help Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist celebrate its 100th birthday.

Marshall Co. Fair June 30 - July 4

Marshall County's 87th annual fair will be held a little earlier than usual this year. The five day event in Warren begins on June 30 and concludes on Monday, July 4.

"We've got half a dozen big events lined up for the Fourth of July weekend to give area people a big event to attend on an otherwise quiet weekend in the county," said Secretary Ed Turn.

Turn refers to demolition car racing Saturday afternoon, July 2, sprint car racing Sunday afternoon, July 3, a big Prairie Trail Dusters Horse Show Sunday afternoon, Sherwin Linton and the Cotton Kings Sunday evening, July 3, a gigantic fireworks display at dusk Sunday, July 3, team penning Monday, July 4, at 12:30 p.m. and a Monster truck show Monday afternoon, July 4.

Over events include the amateur talent contest Thursday, June 30 at 7 p.m., senior citizens day Friday, July 1, 4-H on stage Friday evening, July 1, the All Faith's church service Sunday, July 3, at 9:30 a.m. featuring the Newfolden Gospel String band.

Turn added that outside booth space has been reserved and that 41 4-H horses will be at the fair. The cattle barn is also expected to be full.

Of special interest will be the fireworks display Sunday evening, July 3. A large group of county businesses along with Murphy Brothers Exposition have made contributions to make this display nearly double last year's and the largest fireworks display ever shot off at the Marshall County fair.

Murphy Brothers Exposition is offering two types of advance sale ride tickets which will save carnival riders considerable money. These two types of tickets are on sale throughout the county and will be sold until Thursday, June 30 at 6 p.m. The mega ride ticket is $25 and allows the holder unlimited riding for all five days of the fair. Then, there is the daily ride ticket good for one day for unlimited carnival rides for all ages at $10.

Murphy Brothers Exposition plays more major fairs than any other carnival operator in the country. It was started by John Murphy and his wife, Gladys, who bought the Howard Amusement Company of Howard, S.D., in 1944. He renamed the show of five rides Tri-State Shows and then sold it in 1955. Two years later, Murphy and two sons, Jerry and Jim, started Northern States Shows, which became Murphy Shows in 1962. In 1970, Murphy Shows merged with William T. Collins shows. From 1975 to 1980, Mighty Bluegrass shows and Murphy Brothers Exposition merged and a corporate conglomerate was born called Worldwide Amusement Corporation.

Entry day of the fair is Thursday, June 30, from 1 p.m. to 10 p.m., except that livestock may be entered Wednesday, June 29, at 5 p.m. About 11,200 Fair Times containing the premium list were mailed out the end of May and copies are available at Warren business places.

Centennial to be noted by Maple Bay Lutheran

Maple Bay Free Lutheran Church will observe its 100th anniversary with events Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3, at the church, including a centennial service at 2 p.m. July 3.

Theme for the observance is Psalm 115:1—"Not to us, O Lord, not to us but to your name be the glory, because of Your love and faithfulness."

Opening event Saturday, July 2, will be a 9 a.m. prayer brunch hosted by the church youth group. Karen Larson, president of the group, will be the leader and Rev. Gary Skramstad of Osakis, former student pastor of the congregation, will be the speaker.

At 1 p.m. Saturday an informal time will be provided for family members, former members, current members and musical groups to get together for reminiscing and rehearsals. A supper will be served at 5 p.m.

Praise service will be held at 7 p.m. with Tim Johnson, deacon of the congregation, as the leader. Mrs. Gwen (Johnson) Kreph, a former member of the church, will be the speaker and special music will be provided by past groups and former members of the congregation.

A worship service is scheduled for 9:30 a.m. Sunday, July 3, with Rev. Lynn Kinneberg, pastor of the church, leading the service. Guest speaker will be Rev. Ken Moland of Kirkland, WA, vice president of the Association of Free Lutheran Congregations. Rev. Moland is the son of Merle Moland, a member of the Maple Bay congregation.

A dinner will be served at 11:30 a.m. Orville Lee, president of the congregation, will preside at the 2 p.m. anniversary service. Rev. Bruce Dalager, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church in Grand Forks, ND, and a former pastor at Maple Bay, will be the anniversary speaker. Special music will be presented by past groups and former members.

Memorabilia to be sold during the Centennial observance will include history booklets, cookbooks and replicas of the church.

Maple Bay Free Lutheran Church was organized in 1894 at the farm home of Gullick Iverson, one of the congregations which came about as a result of controversy among factions within the newly-formed United Norwegian Lutheran Church. The first pastor, Rev. S. E. Sorenson, had been discharged as pastor of Maple Lake congregation after having taken a stand in the controversy with a group known as the "Friends of Augsburg." A minority group of the congregation with convictions like Rev. Sorenson joined in forming the Maple Bay congregation.

"The members of this newly organized congregation were farmers, having homesteaded their land and had lived on it only a short time," the church history book states.

"Their houses were small and constructed of logs. The cultivated acres on their farms were few and their incomes low. Under these circumstances times were often hard and most of them did not see or handle much money. Such circumstances, however, brought these families close to one another and to their pastor. They stood shoulder to shoulder sharing each other's joys and sorrows in a true Christian spirit."

In March of 1894 the congregation decided to build a church and in June they were able to meet in the building for the first time. The church burned in December of 1930 and members reconstructed the basement as a meeting place.

The drought of the 1930s, the Great Depression and then World War II and its restrictions on building materials delayed construction and it was not until 1947 when a "top" could be built on the basement meeting place. It was put to use early in 1948 with Rev. Waldemar Anderson as pastor.

In the fall of 1962 when the Lutheran Free Church voted to merge with the American Lutheran Church, Maple Bay members—along with members of the Dovre and Union Lake congregations in the Winger parish—were among those to withdraw from the merger and form the Association of Free Lutheran Congregations, of which Maple Bay Free Lutheran congregation is a charter member.

Centennial observance for Maple Bay Free Lutheran Church will take place Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3, at the church. After the congregation's first church burned in 1930, this church was built in 1947-48. During the interim the congregation met in the refurbished basement for services.

Follow Me, and I will make you fishers of men. Matthew 4:19

This is the time of year to "go fishing". Many people head for the rivers, lakes and streams to catch the "big one" or a bunch of "sunnies".

Jesus wants to teach us to fish another way. We need to learn to be hearers and doers of His Word. After we have been trained by Him, He can send us out to bring in many people. He will give them new life. Let us follow Him and become "fishers of men".

Six days of rodeo events scheduled at Park Rapids

Members of the Professional Rodeo Cowboys Association will descend on Park Rapids July 1-4 and July 8 and 9 for six days of rodeo action.

Six rodeo events will be conducted each day at the Headwaters of the Mississippi Rodeo July 1-4 with performances at 7 p.m. July 1-3 and 2 p.m. July 4. Bullriding only will take place Saturday and Sunday, July 8 and 9, with both performances at 7 p.m. This will be one of 31 events sanctioned by the Professional Bullriding Association this year.

Randy Jokela, producer of the two events who has also produced the three TRF Stampede PRCA rodeos in Thief River Falls, said that several rodeos are being held in Canada, Montana, North Dakota and South Dakota on the weekend after the Fourth of July and cowboys will be "in the neighborhood anyway."

"Chief" Propson, who was the bullfighter at the TRF Stampede this year, and James Pierce, who was the bullfighter here for the first and second Stampedes, will work the Park Rapids events. Clown Butch Lehmkuhler, who made a big hit with rodeo fans here this year, will be the barrelman at Park Rapids.

Clown for the Headwaters of the Mississippi Rodeo will be Steve Tomac of St. Anthony, ND, seven-time Badlands Circuit Finals clown and a North Dakota state senator since 1986. Additional entertainment will be provided by Shane and Teresa Karson of Wyoming, DE, with trick riding and roping, bull-whip artistry and a dog and monkey barrel racing team.

Bulls for both rodeo weekends will come from the David Bailey Rodeo Company and from John Walters' Mid-States Rodeo Company.

Tickets are available in advance from Steve's Conoco in Park Rapids at a $2 discount from the gate price though June 30 for the rodeo and July 7 for the bullride. VIP tickets at $20 can be ordered by calling 1-800-436-4277.

Overall, the investment by Nordic is in excess of $600,000 and is still growing. A stock sale was initiated with 250 shares authorized at $1,000 per share and nearly all of that stock has been sold, primarily to local investors.

Marshall County State Bank in Newfolden is the primary local lender, making available $84,000 in loan and line of credit for operations.

Loans have been received in the amount of $75,000 through the Northwest Regional Development Commission and $100,000 through the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund, both at six per cent interest over a 10-year period.

The City of Newfolden was also able to receive a $144,000 grant from the Minnesota Department of Trade and Economic Development for loan to Nordic Wood Products. As the loan is repaid, the money will be available in a revolving loan fund for additional economic development.

The former grain storage building, which had been leased by the Newfolden Cooperative Elevator Association, was purchased along with two acres of land from Merrill Stennes. An additional four acres of land in the industrial park were purchased from the City of Newfolden.

Metal interior walls and ceiling were installed and heavily insulated. The building is heated entirely by an exterior wood-burning furnace which will utilize some of the scraps from the sawing process.

Waste at the Nordic plant is minimal, however, since the company purchases its wood in cants—squared logs from which the bark has been cut away. These are purchased in various lengths that can be almost entirely utilized in the plant's specified production. The only waste is a small section cut off each end, shavings from planing the cants to size and the minimal sawdust created by cross-cutting the cants to length and ripping them to the desired dimensions.

All of the wood used is considered low grade, primarily aspen, and often the heartwood or center of the log remaining after the higher quality dimensional boards have been cut away. In some cases, especially from smaller mills and with smaller diameter trees, the cant comprises virtually all of the tree after the log has been squared.

"We use low grade wood, but we require a high quality product," Crepeau said, "as strange as that may sound. Some of the crates require quite long lengths and they must be strong enough to withstand handling in storage and transportation. One problem in product is that over-mature aspen has a tendency to deteriorate in the center and we have to reject cants that won't yield satisfactory quality boards."

Cants are trucked to Nordic Wood Products by haulers contracted by the mills providing the product. They are received in banded bundles which can be easily handled by forklift. The sawing process starts when a bundle of cants is placed by forklift on the outdoor end of a 30-foot section of eight-inch diameter infeed rollers.

The rollers carry the bundle into the plant to a tilt hoist where the metal bands are cut and removed. The tilt hoist carries the bundle up a 12-foot inclined table and distributes the cants row by row onto a descrambler. The descrambler brings the cants one at a time to an accumulation table in front of the Newman trim saw.

The trim saw can utilize up to five 24-inch circle saws—each powered by its own 10 h.p. electric motor—to cut the ends off each cant and cross-cut the remaining wood to length. These sections then drop onto a conveyor which brings them to the Cornell cant sizer.

The cant sizer has a heavy duty planing unit which planes the cant to a predetermined thickness in preparation for cutting the remainder into boards for crates. It also has a double arbor gang rip—two 14-inch circular saw blades which rip the material on the same line from top and bottom to the exact size for the band saw.

The Baker band saw has four saw heads, each utilizing a disposable saw band one inch wide, .035 thick and 13 feet two inches long with two teeth per inch, set 1/32 inch to each side of center, providing a 1/16 inch kerf. The blades have a hardened back for stability and durability and operate in a horizontal position.

The final operation is a deducter which cleans sawdust from the boards before they are moved by sorting conveyor for stacking.

Each stage of the operation from the trim saw on is slightly faster than the previous one so as to carry the material away.

Material cut to size is trucked by Nordic Wood Products to its customers in either Roseau or Thief River Falls.

Crepeau said he is receiving material from as far away as 200 miles north of Winnipeg in Manitoba and from the Detroit Lakes and Pelican Rapids area to Grand Rapids and Littlefork. He notes that aspen has gone from being a weed in the woodland to a valuable commodity with many wood product uses.

Brian Rokke, an attorney who lives in Newfolden and has office hours in Warren, Middle River and Grygla in addition to Newfolden, is president of Nordic Wood Products, Inc. Dennis Maurstad is vice president with Larry Bjorness as secretary and Joyce Magner as treasurer. David Bakke, Don Larson and Harvey Underdahl are directors. All are from Newfolden.

James Sagstuen, a Newfolden native who recently moved back to the community with his family after 10 years in Warroad, is the company's foreman. Mike Tiani is in charge of maintenance, including keeping the equipment in top working condition. Jenny Maurstad is secretary for the company, Scott Magner is the forklift driver and Kelvin Myhrer is the sawyer. Other production workers are Lowell Anderson, Tracy Larson and Margaret Strandberg, all of Newfolden.

If any of the workers were to issue an invitation to the public to attend the open house Tuesday, an appropriate line might be: "You should see what I saw."

Monster truck show in Warren set for July 4

Tickets for the Motorsports Monster Madness, Monster truck show at the Marshall County Fairgrounds on July 4, are now on sale.

Plum Nuts, Shark Attack, Cook-E-Monster, and Barbarian are a few of the monster trucks scheduled to appear at the event which will be held at the Marshall County Fairgrounds in Warren. The event begins at 2 p.m. on July 4. Advance sale admission for adults is $9 and $5 for children through age 12 until July 3.

Pre-sale ticket locations include: 101 Mobile, Vern's Standard, and Don's Self Serve in Warren; Valley Oil in Argyle; Cenex in Oslo; Chale Tire and Oil in Stephen; and Express Mart in Newfolden.

The event will include Monster truck racing, and tuff truck competitions. The tuff truck competitions involves high flying tuff trucks battling it out over the jumps and through the mud on an obstacle course. There are stock and super pro classes. Local entries are welcome. There is a $1,000 cash purse. Inquiries can be made by calling (612) 451-3237.

Admission to the show will also be available at the fairgrounds on Saturday, July 4. Ticket prices on the day of the show are $7 for children through age 12, and $11 for adults.

James Nelson enrolls in AQHA

James Nelson of Thief River Falls recently enrolled in the American Quarter Horse Association Horseback Riding program, sponsored by Drysdales Western Store of Tulsa, OK. The program was created to give every AQHA member a chance to be recognized for time spent riding American Quarter Horses.

The Second Se

When crossing a street between two cars, one of the things you have to remember is to look both ways. Sgt. Jim Haugen instructed children participating in the ECFE Safety Town last week. About 30 children altogether, participated in the sessions. Children planning to enter Kindergarten next year received information on traffic safety, seat belt safety, water safety, gun safety, stranger and violence avoidance and other helpful tips.

Officials discuss goals during annual interagency meeting

Marshall-Beltrami Soil and Water Conservation District (SWCD) held its annual interagency meeting (formerly called the annual wildlife meeting) recently. This meeting allows public agencies to discuss past accomplishments and goals.

Those in attendance include: Marshall-Beltrami SWCD board members Lloyd Wiseth, Grant Satre, Milton Anderson and Oliver Hawland and staff Cheryl Sistad and Kathy Zavoral; Brian Dwight, board conservationist for the Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR); Mike Ratzlaff, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service (SCS); Dave Bennett, Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge; Paul Swensen, regional administrator, Department of Natural Resources (DNR); Martha Minchak and Gordon Forester, Area Department of Natural Resources; John Williams, Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area, DNR; Gretchen Mehmel, Red Lake Wildlife Management Area, DNR; Leonard Moe, Red Lake Watershed district; Delray Larson, Marshall county commissioner; and a number of interested landowners and operators.

Mike Ratzlaff, district conservationist with the Soil Conservation Service, discussed reorganization efforts and the Soil Conservation Service and its name change to the Natural Resource Conservation Service. He also briefly discussed the River Basin Study looking at sediment in the Thief Lake river and agricultural waste systems. Work with the 1985 Food Security Act includes implementation of HEL plans, CRP and wetland determinations.

Brian Dwight, board conservationist for the Board of Water and Soil Resources (BWSR), talked of changes in the cost-share program, and local comprehensive water plan updates which will need high priority wetland identification, stormwater run-off and sensitive groundwater areas. He also discussed challenge grants, upcoming training and legislation which included the State Revolving Fund providing low interest loans for non-point source pollution projects, and stable funding for districts.

Dave Bennett, Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge, informed the group of the retirement of Refuge Manager Joe Kotok.

Agassiz has plans for having staff available one weekend a month to assist visitors beginning June 11-12. They will be replacing the last of the overhead wires with buried cable (overhead wires were killing numerous gulls). A new headquarters building will be constructed to meet guidelines that buildings must be handicapped accessible by 1995.

A Franklin Gull tagging project was completed. They are now requesting that siting of orange tagged gulls be reported to the refuge. A study of minnow types is also being conducted at the refuge. They're also looking at Bitterns and Black Terns. Bennett also discussed work on structures, a bridge across a river and prescribed burns.

Martha Minchak, Area Department of Natural Resources, gave a rundown of statewide figures of a number of species. She also discussed the successful moose season and plans for this year's season. Parties can consist of two to four members and 20 per cent of the licenses will go to landowners. Anterless deer permits will be down in northwest Minnesota and there will be a statewide 16 day muzzle loader season. She discussed the need for an SCS plan on DNR land privately farmed, and prescribed burning and hearing done and planned.

Kathy Zavoral, a staff member for the Marshall-Beltrami SWCD board, spoke on the moratorium on the Wetlands Conservation Act for both Marshall and Beltrami counties. She also discussed the districts' tree program and the cost-share program, mostly used for side inlet structures.

John Williams of Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area, mentioned that no fall planting was done due to wet conditions. They had a high snow geese count, duck hunting was good and goose hunting was poor on the refuge, although good on surrounding private land. Moose hunting was good with deer hunting down some. There has been an interest in trapping activities. He also discussed prescribed burns, food plots and grouse surveys. There is no elk season planned due to lack of siting of bull elk. Sitings can be reported to the Thief Lake Wildlife Management Area.

Gretchen Mehmel of the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area, discussed working in wildlife opening (old farmsteads) by mowing and seeding or shearing and hand cutting if necessary. More walking trails have been developed and they have been working on environmental education programs. They have also built "floating nests" and replaced wood duck boxes. A new bird brochure and a map of the Red Lake Wildlife Management Area have been developed. The moose count is stable with an increase in calf survival. Sharptails are stable with woodcocks, ruffed grouse and anterless deer counts up. Other interests are in blueberry and mushroom picking.

Paul Swensen, regional administrator for the Department of Natural Resources, mentioned that a comprehensive Wetland Management plan for the state is being developed and individuals should be involved. He also plans a DNR issue day open house. He has been assigned to work on the Federal Environmental Impact Statements

After graduating from Cub Scout Pack 59 into Boy Scout Troop 59, these boys just completed their first service project as Boy Scouts. They planted many flowers in the flower beds at the Heritage Community Center and will maintain the flower beds by weeding them weekly or as needed. Men required to register for selective service

Responding to a recent decision by the President, the U.S. House of Representatives voted on May 23 to continue the requirement for all men to register with Selective Service upon reaching age 18. The members considered a proposed amendment to the Defense Authorization Bill, H.R. 4301, that would have ended registration. the amendment was rejected 125 to 273.

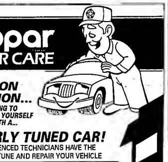
Five days before the vote, President Clinton notified Congress that continuing draft registration and providing funding to operate the Selective Service system is "essential to our national security." In letters to the leadership of the House and Senate on May 18, the President based his decision on a recently completed review of the program by a National Security Council working group. He concluded that the Selective Service system and peacetime registration must be retained as a prudent military preparedness measure in an uncertain world, as a link between American society and the volunteer military, and as a symbol of national resolve.

Although there has been no need to draft men for military service during the past 21 years, the nation has maintained the capacity to reinstate a draft in a major crisis. Since July 1980, draft registration has been an obligation of virtually every man, ages 18 through 25. Federal law requires that every man must register within 30 days of his 18th birthday. Each man completes a short form to provide Selective Service with his name, date of birth, address, phone number and Social Security number. Registration forms are available at any post office. Most men also receive a registration reminder in the mail a few months before reaching age 18, and they may use it to register by return mail. The Selective Service system has a telephone line dedicated to answering questions about registration: (708) 688-6888.

Men who don't register are in violation of Federal law. Non-registrants can be prosecuted, and they are ineligible for Federal student financial aid, most Federal jobs, and job training. The law applies to male immigrant aliens, 18 through 25 years old, as well as male citizens.

Agri-women plan farmers breakfast Friday

Penn-Mar-Red chapter of the Minnesota Agri-Women are sponsoring a "Farmers Share Breakfast" on Friday, June 24, from 7 a.m. to 10 a.m. It will be held on the Ken and Connie Mehrkens Farm two miles south of Thief River Falls.



"Farming dollars are a large part of our economy in the area counties," said Norma Hanson of Goodridge and chapter president. "The goal of this breakfast is to thank the business people of the area for their support of agriculture. We also want to help consumers understand where their food dollars go."

According to the Minnesota Agricultural Statistics, for every dollar consumers spend on food, 30 cents goes back to the farmer. The other 70 cents is used in the processing, packaging, transportation and marketing of the food.

"Thirty cents may not seem like a lot but when multiplied by the many millions of dollars spent on food each year, the amount of money coming into our area's economy from farming is astounding," said Ruth Hasnedl of St. Hilaire and also Penn-Mar-Red chapter member.

A full farmers breakfast including eggs, ham, corn muffins, and milk or coffee will be served during the breakfast. Tickets are being sold by Penn-Mar-Red chapter members and are available at the county extension offices in Pennington and Red Lake. Tickets, of course, will be 30 cents each.

Whole Wheat Bible Study

A new creation

After you read through this Bible study, go back and look up the Scriptures and highlight them in your Bible.

God wants us to be new creations or new creatures (Gal. 6:15). To do this, we must die to sin and live to righteousness (Rom. 6:2). This is a daily process of dying to self by denying the evil desires of our hearts (1 Cor. 15:31; Luke 9:23).

True disciples of Jesus Christ, who have received the true message of conversion, live a new life in Christ (Rom. 6:4). We are no longer to be slaves of sin but we are to consider our old lives as dead to sin and alive to God in Jesus Christ (Rom. 6:6, 11). We are to live for God daily instead of ourselves (Rom. 6:10). We are to use the members of our bodies as instruments of righteousness to God by being careful to engage in good works daily (Rom. 6:13; Titus 3:8). We are to learn to engage in good works because this is righteousness to God and He is glorified by good works done daily in His name (Is. 1:16-17, Titus 3:14; Matt. 5:16). We become happy slaves of Jesus Christ, constantly doing the Will of God—which is righteous good works—from the heart (Rom. 6:17-19; Eph. 6:6).

Why are true disciples so zealous in doing good works daily? They know that they overcome their evil natures by doing good (Rom. 12:21; 2:7). They know this is how they resist evil daily (2 Tim. 2:26). They overcome Satan's will by doing God's Will daily on earth as it is being done in heaven (Matt. 6:10).

They know their righteousness must eventually come from their hearts or they will not receive the new nature and have Christ formed in them (Gal. 4:19). They know that without righteousness, they cannot enter the kingdom within (Matt. 5:20; 6:1; 7:21; Luke 17:21). They know this is the doctrine that conforms them to godliness, and so they discipline themselves daily for the purpose of godliness by practicing righteousness for God in Jesus' name (1 Tim. 6:3; 4:7; Titus 1:1; 1 John 3:7, 10, 18; Col. 3:17).

Since this Way is so easy and pleasant, we really have no excuse to continue sinning (Matt. 11:30; John 15:22). Living God's Way of life is how our joy is made full and how we instantly become friends of God (John 15:11, 14). This is how we have an abundant life (John 10:10). Practicing righteousness for God daily is how we seek first the kingdom of God; and then God adds all good things to us—food, clothes and all the desires of our hearts (Matt. 6:31, 33).

If you haven't yet started practicing righteousness for God daily, what's holding you back? Satan's nature? Resist Satan and by doing so, show God you love Him more. Bear fruit for God and prove to be His disciple (John 15:8; Col. 1:10). Remember, God wants a new you, a new creation, which comes from living a new Way of life—the Way of righteousness (Gal. 6:9, 15; Matt. 21:32; 2 Peter 2:21).

The Bethesda Lutheran Church has been fixing up and getting ready for a big celebration this summer. On Saturday they had a very successful rummage sale at Ken's Kitchen in Karlstad.

Those who came to Frank Kleinwachter's on Thursday to have birthday cake and coffee with Lais were Kays Turnwki of St. Hilaire, June Kasprowicz, Claudia Berggren, Jessie and Kali, Lowell Lefrooth, Pat Larson, Bud and Marie Steffen and Bud's daughter form Grand Forks, and Ida Bleze of Stephan.

Kenrick Anderson attended 4-H Youth Leadership Extravaganza Monday through Thursday. This was held at the State 4-H Building in St. Paul. Jennifer Anderson is presenting workshops on writing resumes, filling out 4-H records and leadership curing YLE.

Pearl Thompson and Elsie Lefrooth visited LaVonne Johnson on Sunday evening and later they visited Mary and Donna Restrom.

Jared and Allison Britten spent the weekend with Morris and Hazel Anderson.

Frank Grochowski and Ellen Stromberg visited Frank and Judy Kleinwachter, Sunday evening. Other visitors there this week have been Brian Nelson, Claudia Berggren, Lowell Lefrooth, Dean Holmstrom and Lloyd Lindstrom.

Greg and Marlys Lefrooth, Lisa and Betsy Thompson, Carl and Francie Peterson, Doris Seng, Pearl Thompson, Myrtle Vagle, Dean Holmstrom, and Gloria Renstrom have visited Elsie Lefrooth this past week.

Julula and Brian Kleinwachter, Karl Kasprowicz and Terry and Betty Pietruszewski visited Frank and Judy Kleinwachter on Friday.

Roy and I spent a great weekend at Lake Superior together with Neil and Renee Vagle and their children, Jon, Angela and Laura from Roseau, Mark and Patty Vagle and their sons, Brandon and Justin from Burnsville and Tina and Dawn Vagle and sons Danny and Michael from Hillsdale, MI. While the younger ones rode the luge down the mountain, Roy and I took the gondola skyride to the top of Lutsen mountain and had lunch. On Sunday we went down to Duluth and watched the ships coming in to port and one was over 600 feet long and came to load on 24,800 tons of coal which had been mined in Montana and stockpiled there. When we came back today we found we had another couple inches of water in the rain gauge so that made us feel it wasn't too bad to have had some rain to make it too cold to swim in Lake Superior.

River Valley

Darren Brein, Thief River Falls, was taken to Northwest Medical Center with minor cuts and a possible neck injury after his motorcycle collided with the rear of a car driven by Shawn Marie Burton of Thief River Falls. Burton was stopped in traffic facing west on Third Street waiting for a train to pass. Brein was also going west but had intended to go around the Burton vehicle and then make a right turn. When he realized another vehicle was in the other lane he braked and skidded into the Burton vehicle. Brein went through the motorcycle windshield and into the windshield of the Burton vehicle. Damages were estimated at $500 to the Burton vehicle and $300 to the motorcycle.

for the Red River Valley, which affects impoundments, and the Environmental Impact Statements for Hawks Peat Mining. He also discussed the upcoming GIS technology.

Leonard Moe of the Red Lake Watershed District, discussed legislative issues and noted that the Watershed district is hiring a consultant to keep them informed of issues at the capitol during the session. He also brought up money obtained for beaver control, redetermination of 103 drainage laws, Good Lake Project and Burnham Creek project.

Delray Larson, Marshall county commissioner, mentioned upcoming ditch projects in the area and how residents and the county is complying with the laws.

Cheryl Ststad of the Marshall-Beltrami Solid Waste Conservation District, said the district applied for a grant for a hazelnut feasibility study in the area. Although the grant was not approved, several landowners planted hazelnuts and the district will be monitoring them for survivability, growth, and production. She also discussed the Envirothon held at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge involving several different agencies.

What about the safety of our children?
In our industry, it makes good sense to think safety day-in and day-out. But what about the safety of our children?
Far too often, missing and exploited children are a fact of life in today's world. But, like the demands of the traffic system, there are steps you can take to protect your children from these unthinkable consequences:
How To Help Your Children Protect Themselves
First of all, TALK to your children about some of the dangers they may face in your absence and tell them WHY it's important for them to follow these guidelines.
Guidelines For Your Children
• Never get into a car or go into a house without your parents' permission.
• Don't give any information over the phone to someone you don't know.
• Always play and walk to school and stores with friends.
• Never go anywhere with anyone without your parents' permission.
• Always keep your parents in sight in a public place. If you are separated from them in a store, ask a clerk for help.

Water Reflects Its Watershed—Part III

In our last two issues of The Times, we have published essays written by local students as guest editorials. The essays were written for a contest sponsored by the Pennington Soil and Water Conservation District and the winners' entries are sent on to area competition.

Today's essay was the first place county winner in the elementary division of the contest. It was written by Nicole Wiseth, a 12-year-old sixth grader at the Goodridge school. General theme of the essay contest for all age divisions was "Water Reflects its Watershed."

Water Reflects Its Watershed
by Nicole Wiseth
Grade 6
Goodridge Elementary School

The eastern third of the county is drained by the Thief River Watershed. This area is drained to the south into the Red lake River. It then drains to the west into the Red River of the North.

The Tamarac watershed drains to the west and also into the Red River. The Southwestern part of the county is drained by the Snake River watershed that also drains into the Red River of the North.

The state requires the local governments to have a flood plan to minimize the risk associated with flooding. The basis for these ordinances is a detailed 100 year flood plan delineation. The local ordinances must be approved by the Department of Natural Resources.

Flood plans attenuate flood flows that serve to convey flood waters. They remain in their natural state. They perform these functions with little or no damage to society. In fact, they may offer opportunities for wildlife habitat, open space and other special features.

The vegetation is also of social, cultural and scientific interest. It performs other functions which may benefit society.

Very little is known about Marshall county ground water resources. The limits of aquifers, the percentage of ground water use from various aquifers, the extent of population by factors other than nitrates and bacteria is not well documented in the county.

Lakes, wetlands and stream segments are greatly influenced by their relative place in a particular watershed. There are dams located in Stephen, Argyle, Warren, Nelson Slough, Old Mill Park and the county park on the Tamarac, and on Thief Lake. Knowing where dams and control structures are located is important for better understanding of the characteristics of water courses and for evaluating public safety issues. The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers regulates placement of dredge and fill in all the waters including wetlands. The corps requires a permit for all new ditches.

The two major areas of flooding are along the Red River of the North and along the tributaries that drain into areas in the eastern part of the county. Flooding is a problem throughout the region which is caused by the poor drainage of the flat countryside. It is a problem that can be controlled to a point.

Agricultural chemicals and nitrates have not been detected in the sample wells. The majority of Marshall county has a medium to high potential for erosion. The western quarter of the county has a higher potential caused by clay and clay-loam soil. The eastern half of the county is generally a medium potential for erosion in the areas covered with loamy soils and low rating for potential around the areas covered with peat.

Sedimentation resulting from eroding areas is a major source of pollution. It also causes serious problems with the pollutants. It transports them to our water systems. Land use and land cover are key elements to solving this problem and keeping our soils where they belong. Sediments can clog water so that courses will fill lakes.

Therefore I believe water reflects its watershed, because of watersheds there is not a lot of flooding in these areas and there is less soil erosion.

A-Z Coalition Praises Peterson Vote On Spending Cuts Plan

A national coalition of business, professional and taxpayer organizations comprising the A-Z coalition has applauded Rep. Collin Peterson of Minnesota's Seventh District for his endorsement of the A-Z spending cuts plan in the U.S. House of Representatives.

Rep. Peterson was hailed for signing a congressional discharge petition which will provide a special spending cuts session in the House of Representatives. The A-Z bill (H.R. 3266) is named for sponsors Rep. Rob Andrews, a New Jersey Democrat, and Rep. Bill Zeliff, a New Hampshire Republican.

Under congressional rules, only 218 signatures are necessary to automatically schedule the 56-hour special spending cuts session known as A-Z.

"We commend Rep. Peterson for adding his name to the nearly 200 fiscally responsible members of Congress who have previously endorsed A-Z and signed the discharge petition," stated Tom Schatz, president of the Council for Citizens Against Government Waste and chairman of the A-Z Coalition. "For hard-working, taxpaying Americans to benefit from serious cuts in the bloated federal budget and bureaucracy, signing the A-Z discharge petition challenges the entrenched interests in Washington who have tried to stop real cuts from happening."

Members of the coalition include the following organizations: American Business Conference, American Bakers Association, Automotive Parts Rebuilding Manufacturers, Capitol Link, Citizens for a Sound Economy, Computer Leasing and Remarketing Association, Council for Citizens Against Government Waste, Helicopter Association International, Independent Bakers Association, International Dairy Foods Association, National Association of Manufacturers, National Association of Wholesaler-Distributors, National Business Association, National Electrical Contractors, national Taxpayers Union, National Truck Equipment Association and the U.S. Chamber of Commerce.

To The Editor:

Often times in our lives we come across people who make a lasting impression on us. As students in school, often those people are teachers. Sometimes the impression left is not good; sometimes it is. Whether the impression is good or bad, we have to admit that the lasting implications of the contact with teachers are with us for a lifetime. As a teacher, I am well aware of the responsibility involved and have happily accepted this responsibility.

My children both attended school in the Thief River Falls system. my husband and I have both taught in the Thief River Falls system and I am happy to say we are well satisfied with the education offered here. My children had many good teachers and some truly extraordinary ones as well. One of those teachers who made a lasting impact on them is Mrs. Connie Stock, speech, theater and composition teacher at Lincoln high school. now that both of my children have graduated, I feel that I can give her credit for her work without fear of cries of favoritism.

The public has been treated many times to excellent productions on the stage at Lincoln high school because of Connie's talent, her ability to get the best from her students, and her indefatigable energy. She is the one who is there early in the morning and late at night doing sets, costuming, make-up, lighting and all the other technical parts of a production. These things come after all the time put in planning, organizing, directing and helping each of the actors to develop their characters and to understand motivation and all the other things that enter into a really excellent production. That's why Connie's productions are more than showy; they have a depth of understanding that is not often found in amateur productions.

Connie puts in unbelievable amounts of time working with her students and preparing for their learning experiences. I've worked beside her many times in the past years and have worn out long before she is willing to quit. Her dedication to excellence in her teaching and her relationships with the students is exemplary. She has been there for them when they needed guidance in their work and in their lives, always having time to help a student.

I would like to thank all of the dedicated instructors who have helped both of my children over the years and in particular I want to thank Connie for her help, caring and excellence.

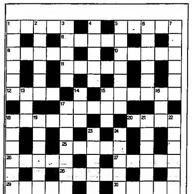
Sincerely,
Diane Marshall

To The Editor:

I am writing to request a change of policy concerning your police write-ups. I request that you put ages in your write-ups to prevent any confusion with people with the same names. I am requesting this because this has happened to me.

My name is Diane Cynthia Bulger and I live at Route 1, Box 4, St. Hilaire, MN. Recently you had a person named Diane Clara Bulger of Thief River Falls in the police report for shoplifting. I am not that person, but due to the fact that her age wasn't listed and my children go to Thief River Falls schools, there were numerous people assuming it was me.

If the ages had been printed, there wouldn't have been any confusion because the age difference is significant. I ask you to consider this for the future. I do not steal and don't ever want to be mistaken for someone who does.



Thank you for your consideration.

Sincerely,
Diane Cynthia Bulger
Route 1, Box 4
St. Hilaire, MN

Editor's Note: The Times recognizes the difficulties which can be caused by duplication or even similarity of names in publication and is sympathetic to Mrs. Bulger's situation. We thank her for her courteous request and are happy to publish her letter.

The Times will also honor her request by publishing ages of offenders in the court report (the report from which the confusion resulted) in future issues—although it will require additional time in writing the reports—in the hope that it will reduce the confusion in identities.

We would also encourage our readers not to make assumptions of identities in court or police reports if they are not certain of the persons involved.

City To Have Fireworks On Night Of July 4th

"In accordance with the custom of recent past years, residents of Thief River Falls community again will enjoy a display of fireworks on the evening of the Fourth of July, to be set off on the east river bank near the Third street bridge. The display, financed by a $150 appropriation voted by the city council, is sponsored by the Civic and Commerce association in cooperation with the park board."

Tent Caterpillar Worms Infest Local Elm Trees

"Park Superintendent Carl Larson informed the city council Tuesday evening that a survey made by him and County Agent Ernest Palmer indicated that numerous elm trees in the city were infested with tent caterpillars. He stated that he was communicating with University of Minnesota authorities to learn the best means of combating the pests, and the council indicated that it was prepared to cooperate. Box-elder trees apparently are not affected as yet, Mr. Larson stated."

Disagreeable Weather Prevails Over Week-end

"This locality experienced a disagreeable week-end so far as the weather was concerned, with a high wind Saturday night, together with a considerable amount of rain and unseasonably chilly temperatures ranging down into the 40's. Numerous branches were broken off trees by the gale, but no other substantial damage has been reported."

Soon, Long-distance Calls Within Your Minnesota Area Code Will Become 1+ Area Code + Number Calls

NEW DIALING PLAN IN MINNESOTA - EFFECTIVE SEPTEMBER 17, 1994

Beginning September 17, 1994 telephone customers in Minnesota will have to change the way they make long distance calls within the state. At that time it will be necessary for customers to include the 218 area code on every long distance call they make even if dialing from and to the same area code.

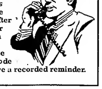
Customers currently dial 1 + the telephone number to make these calls within their home area code. With the new plan, customers will dial 1 + area code + the telephone number to make any long distance calls

The new plan will not increase telephone rates and will be easy to use since the calls will be dialed the same way as out-of-state long distance calls. All other dialing remains the same.

"Minnesota customers steadily demand more telephone numbers each year. By implementing the new plan, more numbers will be available for customers," said Dolores M. Wikstrom.

In addition to growth, the expansion of the cellular telephone industry, an increase in requests for additional lines by residential and business customers, customized systems for large business customers and an increase in the use of pagers have placed a higher demand on telephone numbers.

Other states with major cities, such as Washington, D. C., Maryland, Virginia and Georgia, have adopted similar plans.



"Wikstrom Telephone Company will have an optional dialing period beginning May 14, 1994 so that customers may place calls dialing the old or new way. The optional dialing period will give customers time to get used to the new way of dialing," said Dolores M. Wikstrom.

Wikstrom Telephone Company recommends that large businesses and government customers with complex dialing systems reprogram their systems in anticipation of the change. Systems which are currently reprogrammed to dial 1 + the telephone number will need to be reprogrammed to incorporate the area code into the automatic dialing system for in-state toll calls.

Additionally, small businesses and residence customers with custom calling features, such as speed calling and call forwarding, will need to reprogram these features to include the 218 area code for any long distance call made within the state. Small businesses will also need to reprogram fax machines, alarm dialers, and personal computers that contain preprogrammed telephone numbers.

Alternatives to the new dialing plan were considered. Also, customer research showed that Minnesota customers wanted to know when a toll call was being made

Other alternatives, such as being able to dial a telephone number without a 1 or an area code, would not indicate to customers that a charge applied to the call

Customers dialing the old way after September 17, 1994 on calls that require the 218 area code will receive a recorded reminder.

Pennington Co. board meeting (April 12, 1994)

■ Howard Person and Rick Nordhagen discussed the draft agreements between SWIS Corp and Pennington county.

■ Gordon Forester from the Department of Natural resources met with the county board regarding the sale of tax forefeited land to the ONR in the Goose Lake area.

Person and Rick Nordhagen then met with the County Board to discuss the proposed County-Wide Solid Waste Collection Ordinance and the method of accomplishing County Wide pickup. After discussion on Steve Nordhagens proposal the County Board decided to hold over further discussion until 4:00 p.m., April 19th, 1994. The County Attorney will outline the procedure to adopt an ordinance at that meeting.

The County Engineer then returned with his reviewal of the bids that were opened earlier this morning. The County Engineer recommended the bid of R J Zavoral & Sons for replacement of bridge #L0256 and the bid of Astech - Asphalt Tion for asphalt creck sealing. The County Engineer also asked that the decision on the backhoe be held over to the County Board meeting April 19th, 1994 so that they could check out the ...

... owned by Jack & Susan Hagemen described as 2.7 acres in the SW1/4SE1/4, Section 33, Silverton Township. The house had burned down in November of 1993 and the County Assessor has agreed to reduce the market value of the building by $15,400. Commissioner Jensen moved, seconded by Commissioner Naplin to approve the reduction of market value of $16,400 on the parcel owned by Jack and Susan Hagemen, Parcel 18-33-119-00. Motion unanimously carried.

Steve Nordhagan, Paul Ihla, Howard ...

March 9th, 1994 meeting to oppose the sale of tax forfeited property to the MNDNR. After some discussion the County Board asked Mr. Forester to provide the Bray Township Officials with a written proposal that will address some of the problems the Bray Township Officials have with the plan to see if a satisfactory compromise can be reached.

Commissioner Murphy discussed the Cultural Center being proposed at the college site.

The County Engineer then provided the County Board with copies of the 1993 annual report and also copies of the preliminary draft of the 5 year construction plan.

The following resolution was introduced by Commissioner Jensen, seconded by Commissioner Naplin to amend the resolution made March 22, 1994. Upon vote it was ...

... Board ... County Attorney ... letter to Lakehead Pipeline stating that they are exempt from the Wetland's Act.

The Bray Township Officers and Gordon Forester from the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources met with the County Board regarding the sale of tax forfeited land to the MNDNR in the Goose Lake Area. Gordon Forester reviewed the department's proposal to develop 1180 acres of Scientific Natural Area and 2580 acres of Wildlife Management Area. Bray Township Supervisor's did pass a resolution at their ...

review and approval of the County Attorney. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Naplin moved, seconded by Commissioner Jensen to approve the purchase of a new engine for the Hydra-Mac needing repairs at the Solid Waste Facility. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Jensen moved, seconded by Commissioner Naplin to approve the replacement of the current larger segment tires on the new Hydra Mac with smaller segment tires for a cost of $400. Motion unanimously carried.

Commissioner Naplin moved, seconded by Commissioner Swanson to approve payment of the Commissioners warrants as presented. Motion carried.

Mathematics teacher hired at Northland

Daniel Willoughby

Daniel Willoughby has been hired to teach mathematics at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls beginning with the fall class schedule. He also taught mathematics at Lincoln high school here from 1986 to 1990 and served as an assistant coach for football, basketball and baseball.

Immediately prior to joining the Northland faculty, Willoughby taught developmental math at Coconino Community College in Flagstaff, AZ, and several mathematics courses at Northern Arizona University for two years as well as serving as volunteer assistant football coach at Northern Arizona University. For two years prior to moving into college instruction he taught mathematics and was weight instructor and head football coach at Grants high school in Grants, NM.

Willoughby was top academic graduate math student at Northern Arizona University with a 4.0 grade point average, an Alworth Memorial Scholarship recipient and received an award from Moorhead State University's math department for outstanding achievement.

He won the Iron Man Award in track at MSU, won Minnesota All-State honors in high school football, was named to the WCCO prep player of the week in football, was selected as most valuable player in the Heartland Six Conference for football and was also an all-conference selection in football, basketball and track.

Randal J. Bolar new surgeon at clinic and Medical Center

Randall J. Bolar M.D.

Randal J. Bolar, M.D., has joined the medical staff at Falls Clinic and Northwest Medical Center, as the new surgeon.

Bolar said he is Dr. Bray's new assistant, but he is a board certified general surgeon and will perform laproscopic procedures, vascular, thoracic and pediatric procedures as well as bariatric surgery.

Bolar grew up in Ohio and graduated from Wright State University School of Medicine in 1983. He spent nine years serving off an obligation to the army and doing his residency. He served during Desert Storm and his last assignment was to Ft. Bragg, NC. He completed his tour with the army in June of 1992 and entered private practice in Michigan. After a couple of years, he decided to look for a job out west.

Bolar said that at that time he was contacted by a recruiter from Thief River Falls. He said he wanted a place where he could be happy in his profession, and work in a hospital that serves the community's needs. He said that when he visited the hospital in Thief River Falls, he liked everyone he met. He believes the hospital has more to offer the community that anyone could expect for a hospital its size.

Bolar began duties as the new surgeon at the Falls Clinic and Northwest Medical Center on June 4. One area in which the hospital and Bolar hope to expand is bariatric surgery. Bolar explained bariatric surgery is for people who are severely overweight. There is only one other surgeon who performs this type of surgery in the three state area. The only other surgeon who performs the procedure is located in Fargo. Bolar said he has performed this procedure many times.

Bolar and his wife Joan have a son, Allen, age 12. Bolar's hobbies including fishing, hiking, and participating in and watching sports. He said he looks forward to getting out on the river.

Kristie Field is Miss Marshall County

19-year-old Miss Stephen wins county title, will participate in TRF parade Saturday

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

If the Miss America Program is bending toward attracting young women who are career and goal oriented, it has attracted an appropriate candidate in the 1994 Miss Marshall County.

Kristie Field, daughter of Bill and Donna Field of Stephen, has a history of setting high goals and attaining them through hard work and application. Valedictorian of her graduating class at Stephen high school in 1993, she has maintained a 4.0 grade point average through all three quarters of her freshman year at the University of Minnesota in Minneapolis, where she is enrolled in the Honors Program.

And there are no snap courses in the curriculum for this young lady. She is planning a double major in biochemistry and microbiology and a double minor in piano performance and physiology. Her ambition is to go on to medical school and become a physician, perhaps specializing in radiology or anesthesiology.

Donna Field has no doubts her daughter will fulfill her ambitions.

"She has always been very goal oriented," Donna said. "She takes things seriously and she applies herself. Whether its the piano or athletics or her studies, she works hard at it. If she wants to be a doctor, she will be."

One gets the feeling that Kristie is not alone in her family in a commitment to excellence. From fourth grade through high school, Kristie made the nearly 100-mile round trip from Stephen to Thief River Falls for weekly piano lessons from Marcia Knuttila. For almost all of those trips her Mom was her chauffeur. And when competitions were imminent, the trips became more frequent than once a week.

"When she was in grade school she used to practice piano three hours a day," Donna added. "Once she got into high school and started with athletics and other activities she cut back on the piano....to about an hour and a half a day—unless there was a competition coming up and she could find the time to practice more."

A three-sport athlete at Stephen high school, Kristie competed in the state meet on a sprint medley relay team as a sophomore and set school records in three events, including the relay and the 100 and 200 meter dashes.

She gained All-Conference honors in volleyball in 1992 and 1993, was named the team's best server both years and captained the 1993 team. In basketball she was a member of the 1993 Academic All-State team and received the 1993 Tiger Award.

A clarinet player in the high school band, she participated in the All-Star Honor Band at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls for three years and was an alternate for the 1992 Minnesota All-State Band. When the jazz band needed a tenor saxophone player, she also played that instrument in her senior year. For three years she was also a member of the school's pop singing group.

She was a member of the Junior Engineering Technical Society for three years, a member of the annual staff for two years, president of her freshman and junior classes, a freshman homecoming queen attendant and a senior homecoming queen candidate.

Excelling in piano, Kristie was a winner in the Northwest District Minnesota Music Teachers Assoc-

Demolition clears way for addition at Newfolden

Demolition of the former high school building built in 1916 for the Newfolden school district began on Tuesday, June 28, and will clear the way for a one-story addition to the elementary school.

Kamisch & Sons of St. Paul was the low bidder on the demolition and has made substantial progress on the project this week. By Thursday noon the building had been reduced to rubble which was being loaded into trucks for removal from the site.

When the site is cleared, work will begin on construction of a 76x60 one-story building which will have one classroom, a technical center/media center, staff workroom, handicapped accessible restrooms, storage and a mechanical room which will house the boiler for heating the entire school complex on the south side of the street.

The boiler which had been in use was located in the building which is being demolished. Kraus-Anderson company is handling construction of the new addition under a construction management contract. Substantial completion of the new addition is scheduled for October 7.

Voters in School District 441 approved a bond issue of $575,000 for the addition which is expected to have total costs, including demolition, of $650,000, according to Supt. Ron Paggen.

The building demolished was the first high school for Newfolden, built in 1916 as a seven-room, two-story brick building. It was used for high school classes through the 1969-1970 school year and students moved into the new high school across the street in the 1970-71 school year.

On Dec. 26, 1939 a gymnasium-auditorium with classrooms on the second floor was begun as an addition to the 1916 structure as a WPA project. That building was completed by fall in 1941 after a number of delays.

In 1953 a new elementary wing and cafeteria were completed. The building being removed is located between the 1939 addition and the 1953 addition.

Prestegaard resigns post

Eugene Prestegaard has tendered his resignation as Pennington county recorder effective July 14.

Prestegaard tenered his resignation to Pennington county commissioners Tuesday night. He then made the following public announcement:

"I, Eugene Prestegaard, have this date tendered my resignation as Pennington county recorder effective July 14, 1994.

"I am most appreciative for the many years I have been employed by Pennington county.

"I sincerely thank all the citizens and voters of Pennington county for this privilege and for all the support and courtesies they have shown me."

Eugene Prestegaard has been a long-time public servant and county employee. Prior to being appointed to county recorder on January 1, 1969, Prestegaard was a deputy sheriff for 11 years. In 1970, he was elected to the position of county recorder and has been elected to the position ever since. He was last elected to the position in 1990.

Tuesday night, county commissioners appointed Ken Schmalz acting county recorder beginning July 15. Schmalz said, "It was gracious of Gene to notify us before the filing date" (for the next election).

Strandquist church Centennial this week

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Times-Watch Reporter

Bethesda Lutheran church members and friends will celebrate the Strandquist church's 100th anniversary on Saturday and Sunday, July 2 and 3.

The tale of Bethesda Lutheran church's 100 years is an exciting story, actually the tale of three churches and not just one.

The dreams of a church to call their own by settlers in Marshall county's Lincoln township in the Strandquist area became a reality in 1894. Sturdy, God-loving homesteaders met in a little schoolhouse in a town called Lincoln on November 21, 1894. The meeting resulted in the formation of a church congregation named "Svensk Lutherisk Bethesda Forsamlingers" (Swedish Lutheran Bethesda Congregation).

Those stalwart homesteaders had names that are still heard in the Strandquist area, names like Anderson, Asplund, Blom, Collen, Erickson, Gunderson, Hendrickson, Holmgren, Holmlund, Johnson, Lindstrom, Lundstrom, Nelson, Ostrom, Sihlberg, Strandberg, Strandquist, Sundin and Wallin. Rev. Lundgren, a pastor from Hallock, came to lead the group in its search for a place to worship God.

In January of 1895, the group met at the little schoolhouse again, this time holding its first ever annual meeting. At that meeting it was voted to purchase land to construct the church from the railroad company in Section 29 of Lincoln township, to begin work on the church building as soon as possible, and to set aside two acres of the land for a cemetery, a necessity in those hazardous pioneer days.

The decision was made that the church would have a one and one-half foot high foundation of common stones, and that church members would build the 30 by 40 foot church. Two hundred logs of spruce and tamarack were to be hauled from the Strathcona area by oxen to construct the walls of the building.

The church building was finished by June of 1898. Sturdy pews were purchased that year and were used until being replaced in 1975. An organ was purchased in 1899 and it enriched the congregation's songs of praise for the next 77 years before it was replaced.

The first pastor to serve the church was Lawrence Peter Lundgren, pastor from 1894 to 1897. He was paid the grand sum of $75 per year and was expected to conduct services at Bethesda at least once each month for that salary. He was also allowed to augment his meager salary by charging $5 for performing a marriage ceremony, $1 for a funeral, and $1 for a baptism.

He married Alma Helalia Lund of Beckville in May of 1896. He was 45 years old and she was 18. The couple lived in Hallock and had nine children, four of whom died before the age of 10. The youngest of their daughters, Violette Victoria (Lundgren) Meyer, is still living and resides in New Brighton. Pastor

Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist began as a 30 by 40-foot log building. Over the years the Mamrelund church building from Lincoln township and the Swedish Lutheran church building from Newfolden were added to create the church as it exists today.

Grafton Graffiti

Grafton, ND — The Burgamot Street Bridge, a car, a shed and the Pamida store have been spray painted with graffiti in Grafton. Several local teenagers have taken upon themselves the task of cleaning up the mess with paint donated by the city. Grafton Police Chief LeRoy McCann says investigation is underway to see if the graffiti is gang-related. "If they want to start their gangs and things, go somewhere else," said Ellie Burns, 16, one of the teenagers who is cleaning up the graffiti. "North Dakota isn't the place for that."

Downtown dumping in dumpsters is a problem in Crookston

Crookston — It seems that the planters and tree grates in the downtown Crookston area are turning into dumpsters because people are tossing trash into them. A Crookston businessman brought up the problem at a recent city council meeting and asked that downtown businesses "adopt" a planter or tree grate in front of their businesses and keep them clean.

Summer session at Northland CC will start July 6

Summer session at Northland Community College in Thief River Falls will start Wednesday, July 6, and continue through August 12. Registrations are still being accepted for seven course offerings.

To register for any of the courses, call the college at 681-2181 or 1-800-628-9918 or stop at the campus registrar Dennis Bendickson's office and register in person between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Courses offered for which registration is still being accepted include the following:

Biology 221.01 (Microbiology) —Patti Johnson will instruct Tuesdays and Thursdays from 8 a.m. to 10 a.m. (students must also sign up for a lab). The course is a survey of major groups of microorganisms, techniques needed in studying them and the application of the study of microbiology for members of the health care delivery system.

English 111.01 (Freshman English)—Avis Dyrud will instruct Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 1 to 3:40 p.m. In expository writing and reading of essays.

Psychology 161.01 (General Psychology)—Chet Engelman will instruct Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 8 to 10 a.m. This course is a general introduction to the science of psychology with emphasis on methodology, the sensory world and human functioning.

Psychology 201.01 (Developmental Psychology)—This course that studies the psychological aspects of development of all age groups includes emphasis on concepts of stress, crisis, loss and grieving. Engelman will instruct Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

Psychology 253:01 (Abnormal Psychology)—Causes, manifestations and treatment of mental disorders and behavior deviations will be taught by Engelman Monday and Wednesday from 1 to 4 p.m. Listed as prerequisites are Psychology 161 and 162 or permission of the instructor.

Sociology 101.01 (Introduction to Sociology)—Faith Rud will instruct Tuesday and Thursday from 2 to 6 p.m. in an examination of the basic concepts of sociology and the structure of the social environment and its influence on the individual.

Speech 101.01 (Fundamentals of Speech)—Janet Aarness will instruct Monday, Wednesday and Friday from 10 a.m. to 12:40 p.m. This course is designed to increase the student's skill in orally communicating thoughts to an audience and includes selection and evaluation of topics and source materials for public speaking and composition and organization of the speech. Areas to be addressed include ethics in public speaking, critical thinking skills and cultural influences on public speaking.

Theatre at Warroad to stage play

"Meet Me In St. Louis" will be the musical presented by the Warroad Summer Theatre July 5-10 and 15-19. The family musical is based on anticipation of the 1904 World's Fair.

Some of the songs from the musical are "The Boy Next Door," "The Trolley Song," "Be Anything But a Girl," "Have Yourself a Merry Little Christmas" and the title song "Meet Me in St. Louis."

For reservations call the theatre box office, which is open seven days a week from 1 to 5 p.m., at 386-3435.

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Who says you have to buy fast food when you are busy having fun this weekend? These meals are fast and delicious and you can save a little money by preparing them at home.

Fix this quick and easy dish when you come home hungry this weekend:

BRATWURST AND SAUERKRAUT
1 pound fully cooked bratwurst
2 cans (16 ounces each) sauerkraut, drained
1/3 cup packed brown sugar

Arrange bratwurst in square microwavable dish (8x8x2)

Add sauerkraut. Sprinkle with brown sugar.

Cover with plastic wrap, folding back one corner to vent.

Microwave on high 10-12 minutes, rotating dish 1/2 turn every five minutes, until hot.

(Recipe serves 6.)

Something really easy, but hearty and filling, to make for the family this weekend:

ALL-AMERICAN HOT DISH
1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped (1/2 cup)
1 can (8 ounces) whole kernel corn, undrained
1 can (8 ounces) tomato sauce
1/4 cup sliced ripe olives
2 cups uncooked macaroni (4 ounces)
2 cups water
1 teaspoon oregano
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper
1 large tomato, chopped
1 cup shredded Cheddar cheese

Cook ground beef and onion in large skillet until beef is brown. Drain.

Stir in remaining ingredients except tomato and cheese. Heat to boiling, then reduce heat.

Simmer, uncovered, about 20 minutes, stirring occasionally, until noodles are tender.

Stir in tomato. Sprinkle with cheese.

Cover and let stand abut 5 minutes or until cheese is melted.

(Recipe serves 4.)

Everybody loves spaghetti — make this all-in-one dish in about half an hour:

SKILLET SPAGHETTI
1 pound ground beef
1 large onion, chopped (1 cup)
1 jar (48 ounces) spaghetti sauce
1 package (7 ounces) spaghetti, broken
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
1/2 cup water
1 tablespoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup grated Parmesan cheese

Cook ground beef and onion in Dutch oven, stirring occasionally, until beef is browned. Drain.

Stir in remaining ingredients except cheese. Heat to boiling and reduce heat.

Cover and simmer about 25 minutes, stirring occasionally, until spaghetti is tender. Sprinkle with cheese.

(Recipe serves 6.)

SKILLET STROGANOFF
1 pound ground beef
1 medium onion, chopped (1/2 cup)
1 can (10 1/2 ounces) condensed beef broth
1 can (4 ounces) mushroom stems and pieces, drained
2 cups uncooked egg noodles (4 ounces)
1 1/2 cups water
1/4 cup ketchup
1/4 teaspoon garlic powder
1 cup sour cream

Cook beef and onion in large skillet, stirring occasionally, until beef is brown. Drain.

Stir in remaining ingredients except sour cream. Heat to boiling; reduce heat.

Cover and simmer about 30 minutes, stirring occasionally, until noodles are tender, adding water if necessary.

Add sour cream and heat just until hot.

(Recipe serves 4.)

Seamless Aluminum Guttering
Heating, Air Conditioning
378-4641 378-4585

Our Seamless gutters are manufactured from .032 gauge pre-painted aluminum, the heaviest gauge used in the industry. If your home is 20 feet or 200 feet in length our seamless gutter is made in one continuous length, eliminating any joints or seams in the middle. Inquire before you purchase "Seamless Gutter" about the thickness of the material used and be certain that it is made in one continuous length.
Seamless gutter is formed, cut and installed on site by a two-man crew - saving on labor cost. Freight charges are eliminated. Waste is almost unheard of due to gutter being measured and cut on site to exact lengths. No need to store left over odds and ends that get damaged before they can be used. Most jobs can be completed the same day. Call us for complete information and free estimates of your job at no obligation to you.

Can Area Employment Really Be THAT Good?!

We can't remember a time since we have been covering community news when economic development or "attracting industry" hasn't been a perceived community and area need. We wouldn't try to count the number of times we have heard comments to the effect that "what this town (or area) needs is for some business to come in here and start manufacturing something....."

In more recent years economic development *has taken a little different—and more realistic—*twist. The idea has been to back off a little on trying to court outside industry and to pay more attention and provide more support for what we already have. There was the realization that for most communities enjoying economic growth, that growth was coming from inside the community rather than outside.

The idea was that no community could have too much industrial growth and expansion and that there is always a need for more and more jobs.

With that longstanding ideological background in mind, it was somewhat disconcerting to hear last week that one of the area's largest and strongest employers was to expand in Iowa because there doesn't seem to be enough people to hire in this area!

Whoda thunkit?

Hall Wendel of Polaris Industries said that a 223,250 square feet plant was leased with an option to purchase in Spirit Lake, IA, for expanded manufacture of the company's personal watercraft line. That plant is no little shed. But Wendel made no mention of high Minnesota property or income taxes, no reference to worker's compensation costs being way out of line in the land of 10,000 lakes....none of the things that students of the state's business climate have been wailing about for years. The only reason given was a lack of workers!

----The announcement can't help but give a person cause to wonder....can area employment really be THAT good? Does everyone in the area who wants to work already have a better job than one offered by Polaris? Have we really reached an employment saturation point? Should efforts toward economic development be put on hold?

These questions are really serious ones. If the area economy is to be expected to grow, it must be on the basis of business expansion. If business can't expand locally because it can't get workers, the potential benefits of that growth will be lost to somewhere else. Polaris is in the process of making that point perfectly clear. This appears to be a Catch 22 situation.

It must be difficult for people who have spent much of their lives working to build area employment to watch as jobs which could be located in this area move not only out of the area but out of the state. It is additionally frustrating when area counties including Clearwater and Red Lake are generally among the highest unemployment counties in the state. Why, it might be asked, are at least some of those classified as unemployed not available to work in the area?

We recognize that this editorial primarily asks questions. We would also be interested in hearing from people who believe they might have some answers.

Give Yourself A Round Of Applause For Your Support Of The "Arts"

We don't know how many Minnesotans are fans of the "arts," but one thing is sure—everyone is contributing to their financial support. The Minnesota State Arts Board just got done approving just short of $2 million in grants to Minnesota arts organizations for fiscal year 1994.

But that's not all. The board also granted $30,000 to 14 applicants for apprenticeships, $10,370 in career opportunity grants, $50,000 to 10 artists of color, $130,000 in support of arts education, $41,000 for a Cultures on Tour program and $6,000 in fellowship awards.

We believe in appreciation of good art and especially visual art. There should also be an opportunity for exposure of the public to good drama and music. Defining what is good or even relative in art, however, is more difficult, and we suspect the tendency is toward tolerance of the nonsensical rather than rejection of it, lest we be considered insensitive or out of touch.

It is understandable that the state would put some money into arts education. Children in the schools should be given some exposure to the arts beyond their own school instructors. In fact, $130,000 for this in fiscal 1994 doesn't go very far in getting that job done.

In our opinion, however, we doubt that the average Minnesota taxpayer would approve of donating $$215,000 to the Guthrie Theater, or $234,750 to the Walker Art Center, or $220,350 to the Minnesota Orchestra and $140,000 to the St. Paul Chamber Orchestra, or even $82,000 to the Minnesota Opera Company.

And we wonder if Minnesota artistry is really enriched by granting $10,000 to Ranee Ramaswamy of Burnsville "to compose a piece entitled 'Puppetmaster,' " bringing together the East Indian dance form of Bharatanatyam and American Sign Language, for performance at the Southern Theatre in Minneapolis" or $3,600 to Emeline Cook of Akeley "to teach Salomen Greene of Little Falls the skills used to make, and the history associated with Wycinonki (Polish paper cutting). These are just a couple of the grant recipients.

We will admit to having a fairly narrow view of public support of the arts. Except for the area of education, we believe, good art should be able to support itself and persons with specific art interests should support them financially like anyone would any other hobby or interest.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

TRF in "A Taste of Minnesota"Sunday

While Thief River Falls will be celebrating An American Festival on the Fourth of July, the rest of Minnesota will be able to learn a little more about Thief River Falls at the 12th Annual A Taste of Minnesota.

On Sunday, July 3, Thief River Falls will be an honored guest at A Taste of Minnesota. Throughout that day, the city will be recognized for its contributions to the state. The city will have a booth at the event on Constitution Avenue in front of the State Capitol where festivalgoers can learn more about the community and its tourist sites.

Thief River Falls is one of four cities being honored at the festival this year. Other cities include Rochester, Fairmont, and St. Cloud.

A Taste of Minnesota is four full days of food, fun and entertainment on the State Capitol Mall in Saint Paul. The festivities include food items from some 30 restaurants offering a variety of ethnic and traditional American foods, culinary demonstrations, three music stages showcasing modern rock to classic hits to blues and jazz, a huge arts and crafts marketplace, a comedy stage and a KidZone, featuring special music, games, crafts; and traditional carnival rides for the younger crowd. Fireworks light the skies each night. Admission is free. The festival runs from Friday, July 1, from 11 a.m. to 10:50 p.m. and Saturday through Monday, July 2-4, noon to 10:50 p.m.

Patty Johnson, a representative for A Taste of Minnesota, said Friday morning that set up for the festival was ahead of schedule. She said weather for the event looks good.

Johnson added that they have had a good response from people interested in the special entertainment for the event, and 38 restaurants have signed up for the event.

Johnson suggested that festivalgoers wear a backpack or fanny pack to keep their hands free for eating and to wear pants with an elastic waistband so that you'll feel comfortable after eating all that delicious food.

Johnson also suggested that if residents of Thief River Falls plan to visit A Taste of Minnesota to come early so that they can get a good parking spot. They expect attendance at the event to reach 250,000.

Thief River Falls will have a booth set up at the event on Sunday. The delegation from Thief River Falls will include: Rick Hicks of the C'mon Inn and chairman of the Convention and Visitor Bureau, Dan Saustad of Hydra Mac, and Don Howe of Northwest Technical College.

Second eagle nest found at Agassiz

A second bald eagle nest with two eaglets has been discovered by staff at the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge northeast of Thief River Falls. The nest is located in the northern portion of a designated wilderness area on the refuge.

The first nest was first observed in 1992 and is located in the southern portion of the wilderness area. The pair of eagles using this nest had one eaglet this year. Prior to 1992, it had been 30 years since bald eagles had nested at Agassiz.

Officials at Agassiz noted that the discovery of the second nest coincided with the proposal by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service to change the status of the national symbol from "endangered" to "threatened" in all of the lower 48 states except Arizona, New Mexico, western Texas and a small area of southeastern California.

Bald eagle numbers in the lower 48 states have climbed from an estimated 417 nesting pairs in 1963 to more than 4,000 pairs of adult birds in 1993. In addition, biologists estimate there are 5,000 to 6,000 juvenile bald eagles in the lower 48 states. Eagle populations in Alaska are considered healthy and are not listed as either endangered or threatened.

Recovery of the eagle population is being attributed to a cleaner environment, habitat protection, stricter law enforcement, active management and public awareness.

Under the Endangered Species Act, an "endangered" species is one that is likely to become extinct. A "threatened" species is one likely to become endangered. Bald eagles have been currently listed only as "threatened" in Minnesota, Oregon, Michigan, Washington and Wisconsin and "endangered" in the remainder of the lower 48 states where there are eagle populations.

According to officials at Agassiz refuge, the USFWS is proposing to retain the "threatened" classification because the species, while greatly improved, is not considered fully recovered. Concerns remain about contaminant problems in the Great Lakes region and in the Southwest. The new designation more accurately reflects the species' improving status but does not remove the protections afforded under the Endangered Species Act.

Congress passed the Eagle Protection Act in 1940 when the eagle population was noted to be in serious decline. The act prohibited killing or selling bald eagles. Use of DDT after World War II caused reproductive failure in eagles and other birds and the bald eagle was declared endangered in the first Endangered Species Act passed in 1967.

Primary recovery activities for the bald eagle have included securing suitable habitat and reintroducing eagles into unoccupied habitat, as well as banning DDT in 1972 and protecting eagle nest areas.

Female bald eagles weight up to 14 pounds and have a wingspan up to eight feet. Males are smaller, weighing seven to 10 pounds with a wingspan up to six and one-half feet. The distinctive white head and tail feathers appear only after the bird is four to five years old.

Eagles are believed to live up to 30 years in the wild and are known to live longer in captivity. They mate for life, build huge nests in the tops of large trees, and lay two to three eggs once a year. The eggs hatch in about 35 days. Young eagles may range over a wide area after they leave the nest but most will later nest within 100 miles of where they were raised.

Sportsmen club sets open house at club grounds

Pennington County Sportsmen Club will hold an open house Monday, July 4, from 1 to 5 p.m. at its club grounds north of Thief River Falls as part of An American Festival, the community's Fourth of July weekend celebration.

The public is encouraged to stop at the club grounds where the club house has a new well and gas furnace for wider year-around use and the rifle range is made available for sighting in deer rifles and other shooting matches and events. Coffee, cookies and orange drink will be served.

Black powder demonstrations will take place at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 p.m. at the rifle range. Club members will be on hand to answer questions about the club's picnic area, club house and rifle range, club projects such as the food stand and firearms safety training classes, and club membership. Chairmen are Art Randall (phone 681-4096) and Allan Paulson (phone 681-2109).

To reach the club grounds, turn north off Eighth Street on Dewey Avenue and continue north about two miles to Ditch 18 and the entrance (on the left) to the sportsmen club.

BN, Santa Fe railroads to have merger

Burlington Northern Inc. and Santa Fe Pacific Corporation have announced a merger agreement subject to approval of stockholders and the Interstate Commerce Commission.

Santa Fe shareholders will receive 0.27 share of BN common stock for each Santa Fe share. The merged railroad would be called The Burlington Northern and Santa Fe Railway Company.

The merged network will provide single-line service across the key transcontinental corridor from central and southern California to the southeastern gateways of Memphis, TN and Birmingham, AL. It will also provide midwestern grain shippers with new single-line access to West Coast and Gulf ports and enhance shipping options to Mexican and Canadian gateways, according to officials of both companies.

All Nations Cultural Festival

Although additions continue to be made to the arts and crafts show and arrangements made for special groups to attend, the stage is set for the All Nations Cultural Festival to be held Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10, at St. Hilaire.

When out-of-pocket costs and in-kind services are combined, the event will have an expense budget of about $22,000, according to Ed Leeper of L. G. Promotions, who is handling arrangements for the festival.

Tickets for the festival are $6 for adults ($9 for a two-day pass) and $2 for children 12 and under with children's tickets sold at the gate only. Outlets for advance ticket sales are Budget Electronics, Thief River Falls; Kruse In, St. Hilaire; Frank's TV, Roseau; NAPA Auto Parts, Warroad; Bruun's For Men, Crookston; Upstairs Gallery, Bemidji; and Lazy D Western Wear, Grand Forks, ND.

Recent additions to the approximately 30 crafters previously registered for the arts and crafts division include Chester Perkerwicz, Fridley, rare and delicate dolls and plates from around the world; Mr. and Mrs. James Conely, Warren, woodcrafts; Eleanor Pettis, Red Lake Falls, painted sweatshirts; Julie Paquin, Brooks, baby clothing, bonnets and hats; Janice Saver, Grand Forks, ND, woodcrafts and painted T-shirts; Ramona Drugal, Roseau, table cloths and decorations; Wendt and Cathy Senger, Gully, wooden toys; and Martin Creations, Roseau, pewter and crystal figurines and original art work.

Leeper said that interest in the festival from outside the immediate area is increasing. Arrangements are being made through staff members of the University of North Dakota for 35 underprivileged children from the Grand Forks area to attend the festival at a special rate July 9. After visiting the festival, the group will visit Tube the Red in Red Lake Falls.

Tentative arrangements are being made for two tour buses from Embassy Tours to bring people from the Winnipeg, Man., Canada area to the festival. The company frequently brings Canadians to Thief River Falls for gambling at the River Road Casino, which has a $5 coupon on each Cultural Festival ticket.

Reservations have also been made Sunday, July 10, for persons attending the 55th anniversary reunion of the St. Hilaire high school Class of 1939.

Activities at the festival will be virtually non-stop from 12 noon to around 11 p.m. A non-denominational church service has been scheduled for 9 a.m. Sunday, July 10, with an Djibwe presentation included. Gates will open at 11 a.m. Saturday and Sunday for other festival activities.

Featured entertainment group will be the 32-piece orchestra from Rutesheim, Germany, called Musikverein Rutesheim. This city band includes among its members a construction engineer, locksmith, mechanic, government employees, teacher, students, undertaker, conductor, plumber, electrician, baker, carpenter, electrical engineer, secretary, furnace builder, banker, insurance salesperson, paralegal, driving instructor, maintenance instructor and music retailer.

Other featured groups and individuals include the Licanantay group from Chile, South America; Los Catrines de Texas Hispanic band, Moorhead State University Heritage Dancers, Fialka Ukrainian Dance Ensemble, French performer Linda Claire Breitag, Fresh Tracks drum group and Djibwe dancers, Kilingberg Family Band from Norway, Plain People Troupe with comedy and magic and the local Arctic Lites gymnastics show group.

Other areas of interest will be fur trade and Native American encampments, pony rides, petting zoo, covered wagons, llama rides, the arts and crafts show, ethnic foods, a dance floor and more.

Miss Thief River Falls, Marcia Erickson, will be on hand to help introduce the performers and performances.

Performance schedule for each of the festival days includes the following:

Saturday, July 9

12 noon-4:30, Plain People Troupe; 12-12:45, Los Catrines de Texas; 12:45-1:15, MSU Mexican Heritage Dancers; 1:15-2, Musikverein Rutesheim; 2-2:30, Fialka Dance Ensemble; 2:30-3:15, Linda Claire Breitag; 3:15-3:45, Arctic Lites; 3:45-4:30, Fresh Tracks Drum Group and Djibwe Dancers; 4:30-5:15, Licanantay Droup;

The 1910 confirmation class of Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist is shown in front of the twelve-year-old church. Construction of the church was finished in 1898. Logs from the Strathcona area were hauled to Strandquist by oxen to build the church. Confirmands were Signe Merle Bernhardson, Sara Catharine Bergstrom, Carl Fritiof Carlson, Elis Carlson, Johannas Albert Carlson, Anne Ottelie Isaacson, Emanuel Isaacson, Hildur M. Nelson and Anne Otine Sjoquist.

Rev. Lundgren, pastor of Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist from 1894 to 1897, would ride from parish to parish in his horse and buggy. At one time he served nine area parishes. Bethesda church paid him the sum of $75 per year for his services and he was required to conduct at least one service each month at the church.

Rev. L. P. Lundgren was the first pastor of Bethesda Lutheran church of Strandquist and came from Hallock to help organize the church in 1894. Bethel Lutheran will celebrate its 100th birthday at Centennial celebrations July 2 and 3.

Strandquist's Bethesda Lutheran church celebrates 100 years

Lundgren died in 1926.

Christmas, the celebration of the birth of Christ, was, of course, the grandest church celebration of the year. A few days before Christmas, the children of the church would present their Christmas program for the congregation and then receive a bag of candy and an apple afterward.

A special holy service called the "Julotta" took place on Christmas morning, and all members of the congregation would brave nearly any type of weather to attend the special Christmas service.

They would travel over the poor roads to the church in buggies and wagons and on sleds pulled by horses or oxen. Outside of the church were hitching posts where the animals could be tied during the long service.

Pastors were unable to come to each church weekly because they often served two or more congregations, so they nearly always preached extra long sermons to make up for the two or three weeks between visits.

The first baptism, in the new church was Annie Marie Lofdahl on March 13, 1904; the first interment in the Bethesda cemetery was Egnes A. Sihlberg in 1897; and the first wedding performed there was that of Anton Janson and Hildur Carolina Lindholm on March 19, 1899.

In 1905, it was decided that the church building should be moved into the city of Strandquist. A contractor, Mr. Bergvall from Thief River Falls, was hired to move the church at a cost of $165, but Bergvall ran into trouble when he tried to move the church that March. There was an early thaw and the church could be moved no farther than "Blom's Slough."

The church was stranded there in the slough throughout the summer until the ground was frozen solid the next winter. It finally arrived at its present location in Strandquist on December 28, 1905. The church fathers voted to pay Mr. Bergvall an extra $71.05 for his troubles.

Several members of the congregation had not wanted to see the church moved from its location in Lincoln and they decided to reorganize and build their own church. They organized the Mamrelund congregation, and, in 1906, built a new church one mile southeast of the original Bethesda site on land donated by Mr. and Mrs. John S. Larson. The name of the church was the Mamrelund Swedish Evangelical Lutheran Congregation. The first pastor was a Norwegian, S.T. Palm.

Once the Mamrelund church had been built and the Mamrelund cemetery established, members of the new church decided to relocate graves of family members who had been interred in the old Bethesda cemetery to the Mamrelund cemetery, and they did so.

Early in 1911, problems arose in Mamrelund church. Members became divided over whether to follow the practice of Augustana Synod of the Swedish Lutheran church, or to follow the practice of the Mission Friends, who were affiliated with the Swedish Evangelical Missionary Covenant of North America. Because the religious doctrine of the Mission Friends was different from and actually opposed to that taught by the Swedish Evangelical Lutheran church, members felt very strongly for or against the two separate church doctrines.

The separate groups each used the church for their meetings and worship services. Each faction tried to control the management of the church and this led to strong feelings which came between neighbors and even family members.

Relationships got so bad between the two factions that, in 1911, one group of church members were prevented from entering the church by the other group. When the one group and their pastor arrived for their scheduled services, they found the door locked, with members of the opposing group sitting on the front porch preventing them from entering. When the group again tried to worship in the church on their next scheduled day, they were met at the door by men armed with weapons.

The matter was taken to court and took until 1914 to be resolved. In the end, the court ruled that the church should continue to be a Lutheran church and that the Mission Friends be "permanently enjoined from interfering with the use and occupation of the church property."

The Mission Friends purchased an old school building in Strandquist and organized their Mission church there. However, because of declining membership, the church was dissolved in the 1950's.

Meanwhile, Mamrelund church continued its worship through the years until 1941, when declining membership and financial hardship forced many members of its congregation to become once more a part of Bethesda worship. The congregation voted eight in favor and seven opposed to dissolve the corporation on May 22, 1944. A few families, however, continued to have services in the building for two more years, until it was shut down.

But the Mamrelund church building once again became a part of Bethesda church, because, in 1961, the old church building was moved to Strandquist and annexed to the north end of Bethesda church. It presently houses the Sunday school and seats overflow on special occasions.

Over the years, Bethesda church grew and flourished. A bell tower was added in 1912. In 1924, an annex was added in the form of the Swedish Lutheran church building from Newfolden. In 1953, a new steeple was built and a new cross erected. In 1985, steeple windows were louvered and four lighted crosses were installed.

In 1922, the word, "Swedish," was removed from the name of the church, leaving it the Evangelical Lutheran Bethesda church, but it was not until 1943 that all services were conducted in the English language. Prior to that time, services had been in Swedish alone for 28 years and then in both Swedish and English for 11 years.

The Centennial celebration committee of Bethesda church has chosen the motto, "O God, Our Help in Ages Past," a fitting statement for the members' steadfast faith over the past hundred years. Fitting, too, for the new generation of descendants of those hard-working pioneer Christian families is the next line of the hymn, "Our hope for years to come." Let it be so for the next 100 years.

I-R convention in Karlstad

Independent-Republican endorsing convention for Minnesota Legislative District 1-A will be held Tuesday, July 12, at 7:30 p.m. at the Town & Country Cafe meeting room in Karlstad.

Delegates and alternates elected at the 1994 precinct caucuses in District 1-A will make up the convention delegation to consider endorsement of a candidate for election from that district.

Karla Gerardy recognized

Karla Gerardy, who attends the University of North Dakota, has been named a United States National Collegiate award winner in education by the United States Achievement Academy.

She was nominated by the dean of students for the Center for Teaching and Learning at UND and will be listed in the organization's collegiate yearbook.

Legion baseball doubleheader vs. Moorhead...

TRF comeback nets split

Admittedly not the strongest squad ever fielded by Post 117, the 1994 Thief River Falls American Legion baseball team nevertheless can lay claim to a pair of accomplishments this summer – wins over perennial powers Fargo and Moorhead.

The Howard Dalager-coached Thief River Falls ball club began the year with a doubleheader split against Fargo, and Wednesday Post 117 bounced back from a disappointing effort in a 10-3 twinbill-opening loss to Moorhead at Irv Wilson Field with a come-back effort in the nightcap that beat the Blues 7-6.

While neither Fargo or Moorhead feature the overpowering talent that has made them state and national tournament contenders in the past, beating those two programs still ranks as a first-month highlight for a Thief River Falls team that is just 7-11 overall.

"We're really happy with the win," said Dalager following the second-game victory over the Blues, who are just 8-8 themselves. "It was a sweet win. Every win is nice, but when you beat teams like Fargo and Moorhead, it's extra-special. The kids played with a lot of heart. They want to win; they just don't always know how to win. But they're starting to make believers out of people, especially me."

Part of the Minot Invitational field this weekend, Post 117 will also be on the road Tuesday for a single 6:10 p.m. game at Roseau and on Thursday for a 5 p.m. doubleheader at East Grand Forks.

Moorhead	10
Thief River Falls	3

Eric Bjorgaard mowed Moorhead down on his first trip through the batting order, but wasn't as fortunate the second time around as the Blues combined eight hits with 10 walks in a 10-3 first-game victory.

A strong-armed righthander, Bjorgaard threw three perfect innings and had a 2-0 lead before giving up two walks and an RBI single to Adam Tow in the fourth.

Moorhead scored three times in the fifth on a lead-off home run by Chris Grossman, a balk call on an intentional walk and a two-out single by Ken Bradsteen.

It really got away from Bjorgaard and his teammates in the sixth when the Blues produced four runs on just one hit – a two-out, two-run double by Bradsteen. Five walks, an error and a wild pitch were part of the nightmarish inning. Bjorgaard left in the midst of the trouble with a back problem. Corey Jenkins pitched in relief, but a sore arm forced him off the mound to the seventh, prompting a fill-in pitching appearance by third baseman Andy Peterson.

Moorhead starter Ethan Pole and seventh inning reliever Andy Schmidt gave up six hits, walked three and struck out five.

Chris Vanyo had a second inning RBI single to left for the first Thief River Falls run: Steve Burslie legged out a third inning single that beat a double play relay and drove in a run; and Tim Barry picked up an RBI on a sixth inning ground-out.

Moorhead	6

Just like Game 1, Thief River Falls started Game 2 with a 2-0 lead. But this time, instead of waving a white flag when the Blues went ahead 6-2 in the third, Post 117 answered with a come-from-behind 7-6 victory in the nightcap.

Facing one-time Thief River Falls resident Corey Delmore, Post 117 took a quick bite out of that four-run deficit by scoring three times in the bottom of the third on five base hits, including a run-scoring double by Eric Bjorgaard, an errant pick-off throw and a sacrifice fly by Chance Keefe.

The rally was completed in the fifth off Chris Grossman on a run-producing triple by Joby Looker and a tie-breaking ground ball single through the left side by Keefe.

Looker drove a two-out, two-run single into the right-center field gap to give Thief River Falls a 2-0 first inning head start.

But the Blues tied it in their next at-bat and took that 6-2 lead in the third on a run-scoring doubles by Evan Carlson, Ken Bradsteen and Dan Geisler, along with an error.

Chris Vanyo came on in relief of first-time Post 117 starter Derrick McFarlane in the fourth, and worked 3 1/3 innings of scoreless, two-hit ball for the win. He left in favor of Brian Minks, who got the save, after hitting a batter with one out in the seventh. It ended on sliding foul-ball catch by Looker outside of the first base bag.

Delorme was tagged with five runs and seven hits. Grossman, who gave up five more hits and two runs, took the loss.

Looker was 3-for-3 with a double, triple and three runs batted in. Bjorgaard also had 3 hits in 3 at-bats and Burslie went 2-for-3 while scoring three runs. Geisler had three of the seven Moorhead hits.

Scoring/Innings

Moorhead	024 000 0 -	6	7	2
Thief River Falls	203 020 x -	7	12	3

Thief River Falls runner Chris Vanyo completed his slide on a stolen base attempt as the throw bounced over the head of Moorhead shortstop Don Geisler in the sixth inning of Wednesday's American Legion baseball doubleheader opener at Irv Wilson Field. Second baseman David Feir looked on. Moorhead was a 10-3 winner in Game 1. Post 117 took the nightcap 7-6.

Student participation figures listed at LHS

Figures recently released through the office of School District 564 Activities Director Lee Alger show that 77 percent of the Lincoln High School student body in grades 9-12 participated in extra-curricular activities during the 1993-94 school year.

TRF youth baseball group meets July 5

General membership meeting of the Thief River Falls Youth Baseball Association will be held Tuesday, July 5, at 7:30 p.m. in Room 101-103 at the Northwest Technical College-Thief River Falls.

Parents of players ages 13-15 are asked to be at the meeting.

Agenda will include distribution of season schedules, election of a vice-president, and discussion about the end of the season.

TRF Thieves-Roseau match-up postponed

A scheduled Thief River Falls vs. Roseau amateur baseball doubleheader at Irv Wilson Field Tuesday was postponed.

The Thieves, who are competing in the Warroad Invitational this weekend, will be at home Thursday against Warroad.

Funfest volleyball tournament title is won by EGF team

Despite being out-manned, the Scott Moe team of East Grand Forks took first place honors in the St. Hilaire Funfest Volleyball tournament.

Ten teams from throughout the region took part in the event, held Saturday, June 25.

The Scott Moe team defeated defending champion Dude's of Warroad in the finals. Fosston/Bagley beat Cellular 2000 of Thief River Falls in the third place match.

Held annually in conjunction with the Funfest, the tournament has grown in the number of teams participating over the years. Future plans include drawing additional teams from outside the area and expanding the qualifying rounds.

Area Sports

RLP Junior Golf

Junior golf tournament is scheduled to be held at the Red Lake Falls Oak Knolls course Tuesday, July 26.

Entry fee, which includes lunch, is $7.50 for ages 12-17; $5 for ages 10-under. Entries should be in by 12-noon July 25, but will still be accepted before 9 a.m. the day of the tournament.

Tournament director is Steve Philion, Route 1, Red Lake Falls, MN, 56750; telephone 253-2499.

Women's Softball

Cheryl Olson (4-for-4), Julie Stennes (3-for-3 with a home run) and Shannon Olson (2-for-2) combined for 9 hits in 9 at-bats to lead the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners past Northwest Eye Center 17-1 in Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play.

The Best Western Inn Ridgerunners also beat Digi-Key 21-0 as Shannon Olson, Patty Peterson and Michelle Erickson had three hits apiece.

Carrie Morrison was 4-for-4 with two triples and Daphne Johnson went 3-for-4 with a triple and a double as Legion/Sather Law defeated Digi-Key 9-1.

Legion/Sather Law added a 15-4 decision over Best Western Inn as Johnson went 3-for-3 with a triple and Morrison was 2-for-2 with a double.

B& E Car Wash/Terry's Service handled the Swingers 19-6 as Lynette Derouin and Shannon Mosbeck had three hits each and Julie Buse and Heidi Rewertz both picked up two hits.

Colleen Rook was 4-for-4 and Pam Schenkey went 4-for-6 to lead the Mush-a-Rets past Best Western Inn 22-12.

Pizza Hut shut out Northwest Eye Center 22-0 in a June 15 make-up game as Kelly Cornell and Karen Wichterman went 3-for-4 and Alice Dahl, Chickie Walseth, Deb Jacobson and Ruth Brown were all 2-for-3.

Field 4 games featuring the Mush-a-Rets vs. Pizza Hut and TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres vs. Pizza Hut were postponed by wet grounds.

TRF Bombers split doubleheader with EGF VFW ball club

Thief River Falls Bombers 16-year-olds split a Thursday baseball doubleheader against East Grand Forks at Stauss Park.

East Grand Forks scored a run in the bottom of the seventh inning to win the first game 7-6. Thief River Falls won the nightcap 10-2.

Rob Stock was the losing pitcher in Game 1. Craig Huot was the winning pitcher in Game 2, with relief help from Aaron Ehrenstrom.

The Bombers return to action Wednesday, July 6, with a 6 p.m. doubleheader against Bemidji at Irv Wilson Field.

"MY WISH" will be on the personalized license plates that Andrae Vigan will have on her new car, given to her along with a year's license and insurance by the Minnesota Make-A-Wish Foundation. Andrea, who is under treatment for cancer, accepts the keys to her new Plymouth Neon (Emerald green, pearlized) from Roger Sheffer of Westside Motors in Thief River Falls. At right is Brien Espaseth who chaired a local Make-A-Wish fund raiser in connection with snowmobile races here last winter. Make-A-Wish has as its goal "to provide memories of joy and laughter which differ dramatically from the environment of hospitals and treatment centers." Minnesota Make-A-Wish is one of the few chapters that grants cars to fulfill wishes.

Goose Lake tour to be held in western Pennington county

Co-sponsored by the Minnesota Department of Natural Resources' County Biological Survey and the Minnesota Chapter of The Nature Conservancy, a walking tour of the Goose Lake Prairie in western Pennington county is planned for Saturday, July 9, from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The tour is open to the public but limited to 30 participants. The three to four-mile hike will lead through the biologically diverse area which harbors six rare birds and eight rare plants, including the western prairie fringed orchid which is federally classified as an endangered plant species.

Goose Lake Prairie is located between two beach ridges of ancient Glacial Lake Agassiz southwest of Thief River Falls. Tour participants should wear waterproof footwear, long pants and shirts with long sleeves. They should also bring mosquito repellent, a bag lunch, binoculars and plenty of drinking water and plan to stay at the site for up to six hours.

Plant ecologist Fred Harris will lead the group which will meet at 9 a.m. at the Hardee's restaurant in Thief River Falls.

Andrea Novacek of Greenbush has accepted a $375 music scholarship from the Bemidji State University Foundation to study at BSU.

Individuals who exhibit academic excellence or have special talents in such areas as art, business, science, music and athletics are eligible for foundation scholarships.

Andrea graduated from Greenbush/Middle River high school where she received district and state stars in solo and ensemble contests, earned an Outstanding Performance Award and National Choral Award, and participated in the Northland Community Choir.

Initiative Fund hires Rongen

Renee Wall Rongen has been hired by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund as a program specialist on a part-time basis.

Holder of a BA degree in Business Administration and owner of Corporate Communications in Erskine, Rongen will work with the Minnesota Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training in development and technical assistance areas.

Filing period for county positions open

Affidavits of candidacy for county offices on the ballot next November will be accepted between July 5 and 19.

On the ballot this year will be two county commissioner positions, including the second district position held by Ken Murphy, and fourth district position held by Bud Comstock. Also on the ballot this year will be the county attorney position, currently held by Dave Olin, county auditor position held by Ken Olson, county treasurer position held by Vikki Bjorgaard, county sheriff position held by Gerald Moe, county recorder position held by Eugene Prestegaard, and county coroner position held by Dr. Richard Heinrichs.

Affidavits of candidacy for any of these positions will be accepted beginning 8 a.m. July 5, and closing at 5 p.m. on July 19. Anyone filing for these positions must meet residency requirements.

Three positions will be on the School District 564 ballot in November. Affidavits of candidacy, however, will not be accepted until August 30. The filing period will close on September 13.

Offices on the ballot are for the school district board and include positions currently held by Hank Hallstrom, and Larry Belmont. The remainder of the term vacated by Cheryl Lee will also be on the ballot.

iation (MMTA) piano contest every year from 1987 through 1992 and a state winner in the MMTA All-State Piano Contest from 1988 through 1992.

In 1989 and 1993 she received monetary awards for first place in the Scott's Music Store Annual Piano Competition. In 1993 she also performed in the Northwest District Piano Master Class with Dr. Robert Groves from North Dakota State University.

For her talent number at the Miss Marshall County Pageant, Kristie played an excerpt from Beethoven's "Sonata in F Minor."

A past president of the Catholic Youth Organization at St. Stephen church, she was also a Sunday School teacher for two years and has been both organist and pianist at the church. She has been called on frequently to play for weddings, funerals and other church and/or community events.

Also a certified Emergency Medical Technician, Kristie has been volunteering with two different ambulance/emergency medical response teams in the Twin Cities and also does volunteer work at Children's Hospital.

Kristie's family includes two brothers, 21-year-old Scott and 17-year-old John, and one sister, 13-year-old Katie.

Hobbies and interests for Kristie center around her music and sports activities. This summer she is working as a swimming instructor and lifeguard at the Stephen swimming pool.

At the Miss Marshall County Pageant Sunday she won the personal interview competition. In June of 1995 she will represent Marshall county in the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Program in Austin.

Among her first official appearances as Miss Marshall County she will participate in the county fair at Warren and the parade in Thief River Falls today (Saturday) which is part of An American Festival.

Opening on District Bench to be filled

Judge Robert S. Graff of Aitkin, who has served on the Ninth District Bench since July 1, 1985, will retire June 30, creating a vacancy to be filled by gubernatorial appointment.

Anyone learned in the law who is a resident of the district may request an application by calling (612) 296-0013 or by writing James H. Gilbert, Chair, Commission on Judicial Selection, 130 State Capitol, St. Paul, MN 55155.

All applicants for the position must submit an application which is due, with letters of recommendation, no later than Wednesday, July 13.

NW Dairy Day breakfast served to 400 people

Approximately 400 people were served at the pancake breakfast held on the morning of Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls June 14, according to Rita Lundeen of Trail, promotions coordinator for the Pennington County chapter of the American Dairy Association of Minnesota.

She expressed appreciation for assistance in one way or another to the TRF Chamber of Commerce, Salem Church, St. Hilaire Ag Service, McDonald's, Thief River Falls Curling Club, Pen-Mar-Red chapter members Norman Hanson and Loretta Stucy of Minnesota Agri-Women, the ADA board, Region I Dairy Princess Jodi Okeson, Pennington County Princess Abby Chervestad and Pennington County Junior Princess Ingrid Hanson.

Mrs. Lundeen also thanked those who had to wait to be served for their patience and said a second annual breakfast is being planned for next year.

At St. Stephen Catholic Church in Stephen, Kristie Field is frequently called upon to be organist or pianist. Here she practices at the organ. The 1994 Miss Marshall County is also a past president of the Catholic Youth Organization at St. Stephen and has been a Sunday School teacher.

A three sport athlete in high school, Kristie Field has been known to mix it up with her two brothers and younger sister in a basketball game in the driveway of the Field home on the south edge of Stephen. Crowned Miss Stephen in 1993, Kristie was named Miss Marshall County Sunday in Middle River.

Fire at P&P apartments in Warren

Warren — A fire that started in a pot left on a stove resulted in evacuation of P&P Apartments in Warren last Saturday night. Firemen were called to the building about 2:45 a.m. Saturday. Betty Andrews was hospitalized overnight with minor injuries sustained when she jumped from her second floor apartment. She had left something on the stove before retiring for the night and was awakened by smoke.

30-year-old restitution letter

Gully — Sanna Brovold was a clerk at the Town and Country Supermarket in Gully 30 years ago. Recently she received a letter in the mail, stating that the letter writer owed the store for four Bic pens taken in 1964. They enclosed three dollars to cover the cost of the pens plus interest. In 1964, the pens cost 19 cents each. Sanna bought glassware for her church's Ladies Aid with the money.

Soo Line strike deadline nears

After four years of negotiation and mediation between the Soo Line Railroad Company and United Transportation Union (UTU), the parties are at an impasse on contract terms and just a week away from a possible strike.

Soo Line is one of three railroads which operate as part of CP Rail System and is based in the Twin Cities. UTU represents conductors and trainmen who work on freight trains. The UTU is the only organization out of 17 unions on the Soo Line which has failed to reach a contract settlement in negotiations which date back to 1988.

The National Mediation board formally released the Soo and UTU from mediation in mid-June. Under the Railway Labor Act, which guides rail labor negotiations, when a release occurs it immediately begins a 30-day "cooling off" period where the status quo remains. As of 12:01 a.m. on July 14, when the cooling off period expires, Soo may implement new contract provisions and UTU may legally strike.

The Board has invited both parties to meet in Washington, D.C. on Monday, July 11, and Soo has accepted the offer.

Negotiations have covered the full spectrum of wages, work rules, benefits and crew size with the latter being the most significant item. The two parties differ over a proposal to operate trains with two-person crews.

Soo Line argues that since all of the major railroads in the U.S. except Soo can now operate trains with a two-person crew, it puts Soo Line at a competitive and economic disadvantage. Currently, all Soo trains operate with a minimum crew of three — an engineer, conductor and brakeman. Sometime an additional brakeman is added to the crew.

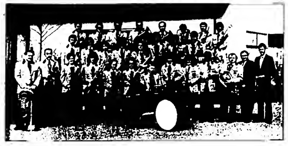
Union employees are concerned about safety and the loss of employees.

According to a company news release, in its last offer in November, 1993, the company provided wage increases for hourly rated UTU employees which were in line with increases given to the 16 other unions, along with an additional lump sum payment. Soo agreed to abide by the terms for wage increases and work rules contained in the national UTU settlement to pay train crews in road service. Road crews are paid on a different basis that takes a "basic day" and extra miles into consideration. Soo employees including UTU would continue to receive a health insurance plan with all premiums paid by the company.

"There is no precedent for this situation for most of us working on the Soo Line," said Patrick A. Pender, Soo's Chief Operating Officer. "We have all been involved in strike situations, but they have included the nation's railroads as a group and, because of the disruption to national commerce, were settled in a day or two.

"If a strike occurs here," Pender said, "it will involve just the Soo Line, which is the only major carrier without a settled contract with UTU. Because of the fact that we represent only three per cent of national rail revenues, the impact will be minimal on a national basis and our situation could last longer."

Soo Line conducted contract talks locally during the last round of negotiations rather than participate in national bargaining with the other railroads. The focus was to design agreements which allow the company to be more competitive in its territory while better meeting the needs of Soo employees.



The unions representing 16 other crafts, including locomotive engineers, dispatchers, clerks, communications and plant and equipment maintenance employees, signed agreements two years earlier. Because of the local rather than national scope of discussions, the contracts often included provisions tailored to local needs.

For the nation's railroads, the U.S. Congress legislated a process for settling the UTU contract following a brief strike in 1991. Because Soo handled negotiations locally, it was not part of that settlement.

If a strike occurs, the Soo will continue to operate the railroad with trained management personnel but at a reduced level of service.

Soo Line, along with CP Rail in Canada and the Delaware & Hudson in the U.S. Northeast, operate under the CP Rail System name. Soo's territory covers 5,000 miles of line in 11 midwestern states, with service extending from the Canadian border through the Twin Cities and Chicago to Kansas City and Louisville. Soo is the 9th largest U.S. Railroad with 1993 revenues of $594 million.

The company has approximately 4,500 employees, 4,000 of which operate under various union contracts. The UTU represents approximately 1,100 employees.

Musikverein Rutesheim, the city orchestra from Rutesheim, Germany, headlines the All Nations Cultural Festival scheduled Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10, at St. Hilaire. Promoter Ed Leeper of L. G. Promotions said that the event will go on as scheduled despite the rain which has fallen steadily for the past two days until the Northern Watch press time Friday afternoon. Members of the orchestra have many different occupations. They will be hosted by local families while staying in this area during the cultural festival.

Rental housing is short for students

Northland, Tech College concerned about filling students' needs

Administrators at Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls have major concern over the shortage of rental housing for students in Thief River Falls and even in the surrounding communities.

"Between the two schools we are looking for somewhere around 1,600 students to attend classes this fall, and about 1,000 of them will need places to live in the community or within acceptable driving distance from the campuses," notes Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the NTC campus in Thief River Falls.

Dr. Gunderson says the need is for dormitories constructed specifically to meet the needs of students. But there are no definite plans nor funding for such construction, and even if there were, they would be of no help to students planning to attend either post-secondary school here this fall.

When a father and son from Alabama stopped at the school last week to ask about housing, the list on file at the school included four apartments, four sleeping rooms and three mobile homes as all that was available. Even if all were highly desirable—which visitation by the Alabama residents showed were not—they wouldn't go far in meeting the needs of 1,000 students.

Harriet Kezar, receptionist at the technical college, said that requests for listing in The Times, Northern Watch and on local radio stations had resulted in calls with two more apartments, another sleeping room and two more mobile homes as being available. While every unit helps, the need is far from being filled.

Anyone with rental housing available for students is asked to contact the technical college at 681-5424 or the community college at 681-2181. Those who have listed rental facilities and have had them filled are also asked to notify the school that they are no longer available.

One of the problems associated with rental housing is that there is no economic incentive to build new rental housing facilities under current tax law, Dr. Gunderson said.

Most students prefer apartments to sleeping rooms, he said. While it is easier for homeowners to make a sleeping room available than to convert an area to an apartment, the returns are greater for an apartment.

Monthly rental for sleeping rooms seem to be in the $160 to $175 area, Mrs. Kezar said, while apartments rent for an average of $250 per month per occupant.

Don Howe, enrollment manager at the technical college, said that recruitment of students is especially difficult when housing may not be available. Hundreds of students will be in the city for orientation next Monday and on July 25 and registration of students begins July 18. Many of those coming here to register or for orientation will be looking for housing.

Increasing the demand for housing this year is work on the Lakehead Pipeline project which will have several hundred workers in need of housing possibly through October and into November.

Dr. Gunderson said that informational meetings will be held later this month in an effort to advise home owners on conversion of under-utilized property to rental purposes. Such meetings will be announced in the Northern Watch or The Times when they are scheduled.

Mud Lake Pioneers plan reunion

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

The reunion of Mud Lake Pioneers will be held at the Holt Community Center Saturday, July 23, beginning with a potluck picnic at 12:30 p.m. It is said that this may well be the last reunion of the Mud Lake Pioneers, since all of the original Mud Lakers have died. Whether or not to continue the reunions remains to be decided, depending on the interest of the descendants of the Mud Lakers.

The following prose can be found at the beginning of the reunion booklet, "Memories of the Mud Lake Pioneers," which has been published by the Mud Lake Pioneers. It is attributed to DelRoy Sannes of Holt.

In the east-central region of Marshall county lies the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

Within its boundaries is Mud Lake, a lake once drained and opened for homesteading.

This was the lake which gave its name to an entire area, and the families who settled miles beyond its shores;

For this territory was a land that produced abundant fields of grain and hay crops that were relished by cattle;

A land blessed with wild fruits and flowing wells, and damned with a soil that burned.

This land was the Bread Basket of Marshall county, the home of those people called the Mud Lakers.

Here lived a people destined to see their civilization destroyed with only the fragments of what was once a great network of ditches left to acknowledge their ever being.

This is their story.

The story of Mud Lake territory is the wonderful story of true pioneers who came to the area, homesteaded fertile, productive land, and lived hard, but rich, lives on that land.

The sad part of the story of Mud Lake territory is that it did not last. Homesteaders of the Mud Lake territory were not allowed to grow old, sit back and enjoy the fruits of their labor, passing the stewardship of the land to their children and grandchildren, secure in the knowledge that the soil they had wrested from the wilderness would be passed on to future generations. Unlike their neighbors in other parts of northwestern Minnesota, the Mud Lakers' labor of love with the land was to be short-lived. In less than 50 years, they would be forced to turn their backs and abandon the land they had worked so hard to claim and seek homes elsewhere.

Mud Lake territory was made up of Mud Lake township and parts of Whiteford, East Valley, Agder, Cedar and Rollis townships in Marshall county, presently the Agassiz National Wildlife refuge. The first homesteaders and their families came in the late 1890's, braving the elements, to build homes and work the fertile, virgin soil.

Land in northwestern Minnesota ceded to the United States by the Ojibwo in 1863 had been opened for homesteading in 1896 under a treaty between the United States and the Red Lake Indian Nation as a reward to displaced Union veterans from the Civil War and to accommodate the great influx of European immigrants who were pouring into the midwest. Prior to 1896, the area's only residents were trappers and hunters and traversing bands of Indians who traveled between Warroad and Squaw Point in Thief River Falls.

In the beginning, there were no roads or settlements and few white families. Indian trails that were often covered with water were used to travel to and from the nearest towns for supplies.

But the land was paradise to those who came to see it. According to Hjalmer Johnson, who wrote about Mud Lake territory in 1951, "The country was a real hunter's paradise, abounding with fur bearing animals, fish and game."

Johnson extolled the virtues of the territory, stating, "To the north and northeast ran a beautiful winding creek adorned with evergreens overhanging both sides, a scenery rarely found. In this forest in the fall of the year was an abundance of berries, blueberries, cranberries, raspberries, dewberries and strawberries on the high land. And in the winter it provided shelter for the great monarch of the forest" (moose).

The homesteaders saw the land, decided it was good, and came to tame it. They drained the swamps and plowed the land and began growing a variety of crops in the rich soil. Fresh spring water was easy to find by digging a few feet into the ground. Forests of trees made for easy building. The wild grasses were free fodder for cattle and other farm animals.

Layers of compacted vegetable matter and humus lay in the marshy areas of Mud Lake. These were peat bogs. The peat would absorb water like a sponge during wet seasons, but would dry out during periods of drought.

If a grass fire would happen to catch the dry peat on fire, it would burn down to the clay layer of the ground or to the water line over vast areas. Smoke would cover the areas of the peat fires for miles and the wind would carry ashes along with the smoke. Sometimes the smoke and ashes got so bad that it was necessary for people to cover their iation (MMTA) piano contest every year from 1987 through 1992 and a state winner in the MMTA All-State Piano Contest from 1988 through 1992.

In 1989 and 1993 she received monetary awards for first place in the Scott's Music Store Annual Piano Competition. In 1993 she also performed in the Northwest District Piano Master Class with Dr. Robert Groves from North Dakota State University.

For her talent number at the Miss Marshall County Pageant, Kristie played an excerpt from Beethoven's "Sonata in F Minor."

A past president of the Catholic Youth Organization at St. Stephen church, she was also a Sunday School teacher for two years and has been both organist and pianist at the church. She has been called on frequently to play for weddings, funerals and other church and/or community events.

Also a certified Emergency Medical Technician, Kristie has been volunteering with two different ambulance/emergency medical response teams in the Twin Cities and also does volunteer work at Children's Hospital.

Kristie's family includes two brothers, 21-year-old Scott and 17-year-old John, and one sister, 13-year-old Katie.

Hobbies and interests for Kristie center around her music and sports activities. This summer she is working as a swimming instructor and lifeguard at the Stephen swimming pool.

At the Miss Marshall County Pageant Sunday she won the personal interview competition. In June of 1995 she will represent Marshall county in the Miss Minnesota Scholarship Program in Austin.

Among her first official appearances as Miss Marshall County she will participate in the county fair at Warren and the parade in Thief River Falls today (Saturday) which is part of An American Festival.

All applicants for the position must submit an application which is due, with letters of recommendation, no later than Wednesday, July 13.

NW Dairy Day breakfast served to 400 people

Approximately 400 people were served at the pancake breakfast held on the morning of Northwest Dairy Day in Thief River Falls June 14, according to Rita Lundeen of Trail, promotions coordinator for the Pennington County chapter of the American Dairy Association of Minnesota.

She expressed appreciation for assistance in one way or another to the TRF Chamber of Commerce, Salem Church, St. Hilaire Ag Service, McDonald's, Thief River Falls Curling Club, Pen-Mar-Red chapter members Norman Hanson and Loretta Stuey of Minnesota Agri-Women, the ADA board, Region I Dairy Princess Jodi Okeson, Pennington County Princess Abby Chervestad and Pennington County Junior Princess Ingrid Hanson.

Mrs. Lundeen also thanked those who had to wait to be served for their patience and said a second annual breakfast is being planned for next year.

At St. Stephen Catholic Church in Stephen, Kristie Field is frequently called upon to be organist or pianist. Here she practices at the organ. The 1994 Miss Marshall County is also a past president of the Catholic Youth Organization at St. Stephen and has been a Sunday School teacher.

A three sport athlete in high school, Kristie Field has been known to mix it up with her two brothers and younger sister in a basketball game in the driveway of the Field home on the south edge of Stephen. Crowned Miss Stephen in 1993, Kristie was named Miss Marshall County Sunday in Middle River.

Soo Line strike deadline nears

After four years of negotiation and mediation between the Soo Line Railroad Company and United Transportation Union (UTU), the parties are at an impasse on contract terms and just a week away from a possible strike.

Soo Line is one of three railroads which operate as part of CP Rail System and is based in the Twin Cities. UTU represents conductors and trainmen who work on freight trains. The UTU is the only organization out of 17 unions on the Soo Line which has failed to reach a contract settlement in negotiations which date back to 1988.

The National Mediation board formally released the Soo and UTU from mediation in mid-June. Under the Railway Labor Act, which guides rail labor negotiations, when a release occurs it immediately begins a 30-day "cooling off" period where the status quo remains. As of 12:01 a.m. on July 14, when the cooling off period expires, Soo may implement new contract provisions and UTU may legally strike.

The Board has invited both parties to meet in Washington, D.C. on Monday, July 11, and Soo has accepted the offer.

Negotiations have covered the full spectrum of wages, work rules, benefits and crew size with the latter being the most significant item. The two parties differ over a proposal to operate trains with two-person crews.

Soo Line argues that since all of the major railroads in the U.S. except Soo can now operate trains with a two-person crew, it puts Soo Line at a competitive and economic disadvantage. Currently, all Soo trains operate with a minimum crew of three — an engineer, conductor and brakeman. Sometime an additional brakeman is added to the crew.

Union employees are concerned about safety and the loss of employees.

According to a company news release, in its last offer in November, 1993, the company provided wage increases for hourly rated UTU employees which were in line with increases given to the 16 other unions, along with an additional lump sum payment. Soo agreed to abide by the terms for wage increases and work rules contained in the national UTU settlement to pay train crews in road service. Road crews are paid on a different basis that takes a "basic day" and extra miles into consideration. Soo employees including UTU would continue to receive a health insurance plan with all premiums paid by the company.

"There is no precedent for this situation for most of us working on the Soo Line," said Patrick A. Pender, Soo's Chief Operating Officer. "We have all been involved in strike situations, but they have included the nation's railroads as a group and, because of the disruption to national commerce, were settled in a day or two.

"If a strike occurs here," Pender said, "it will involve just the Soo Line, which is the only major carrier without a settled contract with UTU. Because of the fact that we represent only three per cent of national rail revenues, the impact will be minimal on a national basis and our situation could last longer."

Soo Line conducted contract talks locally during the last round of negotiations rather than participate in national bargaining with the other railroads. The focus was to design agreements which allow the company to be more competitive in its territory while better meeting the needs of Soo employees.

The unions representing 16 other crafts, including locomotive engineers, dispatchers, clerks, communications and plant and equipment maintenance employees, signed agreements two years earlier. Because of the local rather than national scope of discussions, the contracts often included provisions tailored to local needs.

For the nation's railroads, the U.S. Congress legislated a process for settling the UTU contract following a brief strike in 1991. Because Soo handled negotiations locally, it was not part of that settlement.

If a strike occurs, the Soo will continue to operate the railroad with trained management personnel but at a reduced level of service.

Soo Line, along with CP Rail in Canada and the Delaware & Hudson in the U.S. Northeast, operate under the CP Rail System name. Soo's territory covers 5,000 miles of line in 11 midwestern states, with service extending from the Canadian border through the Twin Cities and Chicago to Kansas City and Louisville. Soo is the 9th largest U.S. Railroad with 1993 revenues of $594 million.

The company has approximately 4,500 employees, 4,000 of which operate under various union contracts. The UTU represents approximately 1,100 employees.

Rental housing is short for students

Northland, Tech College concerned about filling students' needs

Administrators at Northland Community College and Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls have major concern over the shortage of rental housing for students in Thief River Falls and even in the surrounding communities.

"Between the two schools we are looking for somewhere around 1,600 students to attend classes this fall, and about 1,000 of them will need places to live in the community or within acceptable driving distance from the campuses," notes Dr. Orley Gunderson, president of the NTC campus in Thief River Falls.

Dr Gunderson says the need is for dormitories constructed specifically to meet the needs of students. But there are no definite plans nor funding for such construction, and even if there were, they would be of no help to students planning to attend either post-secondary school here this fall.

When a father and son from Alabama stopped at the school last week to ask about housing, the list on file at the school included four apartments, four sleeping rooms and three mobile homes as all that was available. Even if all were highly desirable—which visitation by the Alabama residents showed were not—they wouldn't go far in meeting the needs of 1,000 students.

Harriet Kezar, receptionist at the technical college, said that requests for listing in The Times, Northern Watch and on local radio stations had resulted in calls with two more apartments, another sleeping room and two more mobile homes as being available. While every unit helps, the need is far from being filled.

Anyone with rental housing available for students is asked to contact the technical college at 681-5424 or the community college at 681-2181. Those who have listed rental facilities and have had them filled are also asked to notify the school that they are no longer available.

One of the problems associated with rental housing is that there is no economic incentive to build new rental housing facilities under current tax law, Dr. Gunderson said.

Most students prefer apartments to sleeping rooms, he said. While it is easier for homeowners to make a sleeping room available than to convert an area to an apartment, the returns are greater for an apartment.

Monthly rental for sleeping rooms seem to be in the $160 to $175 area, Mrs. Kezar said, while apartments rent for an average of $250 per month per occupant.

Don Howe, enrollment manager at the technical college, said that recruitment of students is especially difficult when housing may not be available. Hundreds of students will be in the city for orientation next Monday and on July 25 and registration of students begins July 18. Many of those coming here to register or for orientation will be looking for housing.

Increasing the demand for housing this year is work on the Lakehead Pipeline project which will have several hundred workers in need of housing possibly through October and into November.

Dr. Gunderson said that informational meetings will be held later this month in an effort to advise home owners on conversion of under-utilized property to rental purposes. Such meetings will be announced in the Northern Watch or The Times when they are scheduled.

Mud Lake Pioneers plan reunion

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

The reunion of Mud Lake Pioneers will be held at the Holt Community Center Saturday, July 23, beginning with a potluck picnic at 12:30 p.m. It is said that this may well be the last reunion of the Mud Lake Pioneers, since all of the original Mud Lakers have died. Whether or not to continue the reunions remains to be decided, depending on the interest of the descendants of the Mud Lakers.

The following prose can be found at the beginning of the reunion booklet, "Memories of the Mud Lake Pioneers," which has been published by the Mud Lake Pioneers. It is attributed to DelRay Sannes of Holt.

In the east-central region of Marshall county lies the Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge.

Within its boundaries is Mud Lake, a lake once drained and opened for homesteading.

This was the lake which gave its name to an entire area, and the families who settled miles beyond its shores;

For this territory was a land that produced abundant fields of grain and hay crops that were relished by cattle;

A land blessed with wild fruits and flowing wells, and damned with a soil that burned.

This land was the Bread Basket of Marshall county, the home of those people called the Mud Lakers.

Here lived a people destined to see their civilization destroyed with only the fragments of what was once a great network of ditches left to acknowledge their ever being.

This is their story.

The story of Mud Lake territory is the wonderful story of true pioneers who came to the area, homesteaded fertile, productive land, and lived hard, but rich, lives on that land.

Arts programs receive funding from NWRDC

Northwest Regional Development Commission recently awarded funds for arts programs in northwestern Minnesota.

Under the Small Arts Program, awards totaling $795 were awarded as follows: $300 to Fosston Community Education for sponsorship of Prairie Fire Children's Theatre production of "Snow White" July 11-16: and $495 to Warroad Summer Theatre for children's theater production of "Winnie the Pooh" July 11-31.

Under the McKnight Small Capital projects program, $3,490 was granted as follows:

$640 to 42nd Street Song & Dance company in Kennedy for purchase of a lighting control console; $700 to Crookston Community Theater to purchase a power amplifier; $730 to Warroad Summer Theater to purchase drapery and costume supplies; $1,170 to Community Performing Art Council in East Grand Forks to purchase a pair of lighting dimmer pacs; and $250 to the Twin Forks Sweet Adelines for the purchase of a four-track recorder.

Under the McKnight Individual Artist Program, Mary Noel of Crookston was awarded $500 to attend Ous Oioradiano's dance classes in Chicago August 6-12.

August 1 is the next deadline for organizations, schools and individuals to apply for funding to support arts projects. For more information on the programs or how to apply for an arts grant, contact Mara Lunde, arts council director, at the Northwest Regional Development Commission offices at 525 Brooks Avenue South in Thief River Falls or call 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Arts programs receive funding from NWRDC

Northwest Regional Development Commission recendy awarded funds for arts programs in northwestern Minnesota.

Under the Small Arts Program, awards totaling $795 were awarded as follows: $300 to Fosston Community Education for sponsorship of Prairie Fire Children's Theatre production of "Snow White" July 11-16; and $495 to Warroad Summer Theatre for children's theater production of "Winnie the Pooh" July 11-31.

Under the McKnight Small Capital projects program, $3,490 was granted as follows:

$640 to 42nd Street Song & Dance company in Kennedy for purchase of a lighting control console; $700 to Crookston Community Theater to purchase a power amplifier; $730 to Warroad Summer Theater to purchase drapery and costume supplies; $1,170 to Community Performing Art Council in East Grand Forks to purchase a pair of lighting dimmer paes; and $250 to the Twin Forks Sweet Adelines for the purchase of a four-track recorder.

Under the McKnight Individual Artist Program, Mary Noel of Crookston was awarded $500 to attend Gus Gioradiano's dance classes in Chicago August 6-12.

August 1 is the next deadline for organizations, schools and individuals to apply for funding to support arts projects. For more information on the programs or how to apply for an arts grant, contact Mara Lunde, arts council director, at the Northwest Regional Development Commission offices at 525 Brooks Avenue South in Thief River Falls or call 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

WATCH AROUND THE REGION

Sherry LaCoursiere

Beara ara prowling in tha northarn woods

Williams — Beekeeper Louis Gonsorowski of Williams wants to see the state open a spring hunt on bears. Gonsorowski believes the bear population is getting out of hand in the state, especially in the Williams area. His bee colonies have been raided three times this year, most recently the last night of June. He estimates the damage at $800, which does not include the lost honey crop.

Norman County 4-H club to appear on national TV

Ada — Members of the Marsh River 4-H club, first place winners of the national prize from "Colgate Youth of America," were filmed by a crew from the national organization recently. Filming included a discussion about child abductions by Sheriff Larry Miller. The tape of the club is scheduled to air on CNN or Nickelodeon later this fall.

Fish Hook Freddy tells the tale

Detroit Lakes — St. Mary Regional Health Center's emergency room in Detroit Lakes treated over 200 people over the Fourth of July weekend. Several people received treatment for accidently impaling body parts with fishhooks. Paula Nelson, emergency room unit coordinator, said there is a poster on the emergency room wall of a character called Fish Hook Freddy. Stickers hung on Freddy record all fish hooks removed from patients in the appropriate places and also tell on which lake the accident occurred.

Berry pickin'

Warroad — Bill Proznik, editor of the Warroad Pioneer, predicts that berry picking will be poor this year. He said berries will be in short supply and the bugs will be a bother because they are "out in great numbers," since cold and damp kept many of them from hatching last year.

"COMMUNITY CHURCH"
Matthew 18:3 Verily I say unto you, except ye be converted, and become as little children, ye shall not enter into the kingdom of heaven
There is an ingredient that children have that we sometimes lose as adults. It is humility. We need to listen to our heavenly Father and be a doer of what He says in His Word, the Bible. When we seek Him in prayer, He will give us direction for each situation. We will be able to do the work and the will of God if we will humble ourselves.

Newfolden Evangelical church welcomes Rev. Gary Barrett

Rev. Gary Barrett began his duties as pastor of the Evangelical Free Church of Newfolden July 5 and will be welcomed at the 11 a.m. worship service Sunday, July 10.

An article in the July 2 issue of the Northern Watch incorrectly stated Rev. Barrett would serve the Ev. Free Church in Thief River Falls. The Northern Watch apologizes for the error.

Rev. Barrett attended the University of Illinois at Champaign and Dallas Theological Seminary in Dallas, TX. He was pastor of Community Covenant Church of Lake Bronson and the Lancaster Covenant Church from 1984 to 1988. For the past six years he has been an assistant pastor in Racine, Wisconsin.

Rev. Barrett and his wife have three children: Danea, 14; Michael, 12; and Matthew, 7.

Simply great salads for hot summer days this week.

In keeping with the story of the Mud Lake Pioneers in the Watch this week, the following recipe was found among the recipes of Pearl Moberg, a Mud Lake settler — it is believed it was given to her by Julia Peterson:

MUD LAKE SALAD
1 (2 pound) package elbow macaroni, cooked
2 hard cooked eggs, chopped
6 apples, chopped
1 can pineapple, drained

Other fruits and even cocktail onions may be added. Apples should not be added until shortly before serving.

Dressing
1/2 cup lemon juice
1/2 cup pineapple juice
1 cup sugar
4 eggs, beaten
1 tablespoon flour
Whipped cream

Place all ingredients except cream in saucepan and cook thick. Mix and chill (best left over night)

Add whipped cream to mixture just before serving.

Pour dressing over fruits and macaroni; mix and serve.

Won't this salad taste wonderful on a hot day — if summer ever comes back again:

HAM-SWISS CHEESE SALAD
1/2 pound fully cooked smoked ham, cut into cubes (1 1/2 cups)
4 ounces Swiss cheese, cut into 1/4 inch strips
1 1/2 cups cherry tomatoes, cut in half
6 green onions, with tops, sliced
1 medium cucumber, thinly sliced
7 cups bite-sized pieces salad greens

Sesame Seed Dressing
1/4 cup vegetable oil
2 tablespoons wine vinegar
1 tablespoon sesame seeds, toasted
1 teaspoon sugar
1/4 teaspoon salt
1/4 teaspoon pepper

Shake salad dressing ingredients in tightly covered container.

Mix ham, cheese, tomatoes, onions, cucumbers and dressing in large bowl. Add salad greens and toss.

Creamy yogurt makes this dish special:

TURKEY-VEGETABLE SALAD
3 cups cut up cooked turkey or chicken
8 slices bacon, cooked crisp and crumbled
1/2 small head cauliflower, separated into tiny flowerets (2 cups)
1/4 cup sliced radishes
1/3 cup plain yogurt
2 tablespoons mayonnaise or salad dressing
1 green onion, with top, sliced
1/4 teaspoon dried dill weed
1/8 teaspoon salt
Dash of pepper
Lettuce leaves
1 medium avocado, sliced

Mix turkey, bacon, cauliflower and radishes.

Mix yogurt, mayonnaise, onion, dill, salt and pepper and toss with turkey mixture.

Spoon onto lettuce. Top with avocado.

Mechanized harvest could boost Minnesota broccoli

Researchers working to develop mechanical harvester

by Gary McVey
General Manager
Northern Office
Agricultural Utilization
Research Institute (AURI)

This summer's moderately warm days and cool nights have been perfect for growing broccoli, a crop that has the potential to bring diversity and profitability to northern Minnesota farmers.

But the weather doesn't matter to a small group of researchers at North Dakota State University in Fargo. With AURI's help, assistant professor Suranjan Panigrahi, lecturer Tom Bon and graduate student Chenxiang You are developing ides for mechanically harvesting the traditionally labor-intensive crop.

Most of the broccoli sold in this area comes from California, where it can be grown and harvested all year. Minnesota is well-suited to broccoli production, but with only one growing season, efficient harvesting is an important issue to growers. AURI has conducted feasibility studies, hired consultants, sponsored informational meetings and provided equipment in an effort to bring broccoli and other cole crops to the state.

As we hear more and more about the beneficial health effects of broccoli, demand for the vegetable goes up. With their central location, northern Minnesota broccoli growers are in a good position to grow, process and distribute broccoli in the Midwest. Costs for the farmer can be high, but profits can range from $1,000 to $2,000 an acre.

The work being done by Bon, Panigrahi and You focuses on a mechanized broccoli harvester. In hand harvesting, workers must bend over, cut each broccoli head individually, remove the leaves and bunch the stems for packaging. A mechanized harvesting operation could save about half the hand labor, allowing more efficient use of the workers in other phases of the harvest.

Some broccoli varieties mature at an uneven rate, making harvesting even more difficult. The NDSU research has shown that mechanized harvesting of evenly maturing varieties would greatly reduce hand labor in the field. Even then, the broccoli that's harvested would include some mature and some immature plants. So until more is known about mechanized harvesting, the first attempts will likely be targeted for frozen products. Hand labor would still be used to pre-harvest broccoli intended for the fresh produce market.

The goal of the research is to have a recommendation of a prototype machine that could then be designed, built and tested in the field. Students at NDSU have already started on the design work. At the same time, Bon and Panigrahi are determining whether the cost of the machinery would make economic sense to Minnesota growers.

So, sometime in the near future, you might see a broccoli harvester at work in the field—and Minnesota broccoli in your grocery store.

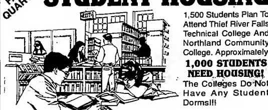
Otter Tail Power signs contract



Otter Tail Power Company has signed new contracts covering coal and freight for the Big Stone power plant located at Milbank, SD.

Coal will be supplied by Westmoreland Resources Inc. from the Absaloka coal mine near Sarpy Creek, MT, and the Burlington Northern railroad will continue to provide transportation for the fuel delivered to the plant.

Present lignite contract was signed in 1975 and will expire next year. The new contract begins in mid-1995 and will continue through mid-1999. The BN has provided transportation since 1983.

Otter Tail said the price reductions in the new contract will amount to savings of about $9 million per year and these savings will be passed on directly to electric customers through automatic adjustments already in place.

Next The Cultural Festival, Then The Pennington Co. Fair

You've heard it plenty of times before, the lament that "There's never anything to do around here." That opinion has never been more wrong than it has this summer, especially as it is applied to the weekends.

Two weeks ago the St. Hilaire Fun Fest was played out with a weekend of activity. Last weekend An American Festival ran from Friday evening through Monday evening with a ton of activities throughout. This weekend St. Hilaire is again in the spotlight with the Second Annual All Nations Cultural Festival and its two days of non-stop entertainment. And the echoes of that event will scarcely have quieted when the 93rd Annual Pennington County Fair opens Wednesday, July 20, for its five-day run through Sunday, July 24, and local merchants conduct their annual Crazy Days promotion July 21-23.

There was also the spring presentation of the Thief River Falls Stampede professional rodeo, Fourth of July weekend celebrations at surrounding communities, the 45th Annual Northwest Dairy Day in June and other events that don't immediately come to mind. Nothing to do around here? You ought to work for a newspaper!

All of the events mentioned are attractive to a large number of people. All require a good deal of planning and preparation and participation for presentation to the public. And in all cases the public can derive the greatest enjoyment by actively joining in the activity.

Take An American Festival for example. Those who took part in the parade, dog show, bike and running races, hoop shoot, Karaoke or other events probably had the most fun.

The Pennington County Fair will be another opportunity for added interest through active participation. Premium lists have been out for a couple of weeks and detail hundreds of ways to enter competition. Nearly anyone with a hobby or special interest can find an area for exhibit, and it's always more fun to be a part of the action.

It's true that every community has three kinds of people: Those who make things happen, those who watch things happen, and those who wonder what happened. Don't be a part of that last group. Get into participating. The next couple of weeks should provide ample local opportunity.

Fix The Roof..... Don't Raze The House

Out of all the sound and fury surrounding the health care controversy on a national level comes at least one voice of reason. Sen. Paul Coverdell, a Georgia Republican and a relatively new voice in Congress, speaks in terms with which most Americans can relate. He equates our nation's health care system with a building that has a leaky roof.

The response of most people to a leak in the roof is to patch the hole, replace the defective shingles, and get on with their lives, Sen. Coverdell said. They do not, as a rule, raze the house to its foundation and rebuild it from scratch.

Certainly there are flaws in our health care system that could use some "patching" to stop the leaks. These flaws should be addressed to determine how they can best be repaired and the repairs should be made as quickly as possible. It makes no sense to abandon the structure and rebuild it on an earthquake fault, which is the course President Clinton and others are pursuing.

Some of the cracks in the roof are addressed in a U.S. Chamber of Commerce proposal called "The American Plan." It would enable consumers to compare various health plans in terms of price and quality, assure portability of insurance for persons with pre-existing health conditions, enable small firms to purchase insurance through pools to obtain the same economies of scale as large firms, and reform malpractice law, including placing caps on non-economic damages and legal fee percentages.

Sen. Coverdell thinks—and we agree—that it is ironic that the United States would seriously consider embarking on a misadventure into socialized medical care at a time when socialism is crumbling around the world as poor in ideology and worse in implementation. Health care represents 14 per cent of the U.S. economy—with millions of jobs and billions of dollars on the line—and is also one of the most intense personal interest areas in anyone's life.

Of all the world's people, we in the United States should best understand the advantages of the free market over bureaucratic control and that the promise of government providing all things to all people is always a false and unattainable dream.

Sen. Coverdell is right. We shouldn't tamper with the basic structure of our health care system which is still sound and probably the best in the world. But we should fix the roof, patch the holes, replace the shingles and get on with our lives.

Northern Watch Policies

Letters To The Editor: The staff of the Northern Watch encourages written responses to editorial comment or letters with original thoughts or ideas of general interest. Letters should be intended for publication in Northern Watch exclusively; letters sent to multiple publications will generally not be accepted. Right is reserved to edit letters for length and clarity and to reject letters deemed to be promotional in nature or in poor taste.

Letters Must Be Signed: All letters must be signed and contain an address or phone number of the writer so authenticity can be verified. Signatures must appear on letters published. The staff believes that there is greater credibility in letters signed in print and will not withhold names of writers from publication.

Responses Invited: Letters critical of individuals or other entities may be shown to those individuals or representatives of those entities in advance of publication with an invitation by newspaper staff for response in the same issue as the original letter.

Corrections: If an error is made in news or advertising publication, the staff encourages readers to call it to our immediate attention by calling 681-4450. We will attempt to correct the error or clarify the misunderstanding in the next issue.

HATS OFF TO 4-H

Leader's Council

Pennington county 4-H leader's council met on July 5 at 8 p.m. in the courthouse meeting room. The meeting was called to order by president Ryan Browning. Flag pledges were said and roll call was taken. The secretary and treasurer reports were approved as written.

Old business discussed was the 4-H food stand. They don't want younger 4-Hers working in the stand due to the hot food. As an alternative the younger members can work in the malt stand. Clubs are to call in with their schedules of workers.

State fair trip winners must make a decision on what trip they are taking by 7 p.m. on Sunday, July 24.

Pre-fair clean-up is Wednesday, July 20, at 10 a.m. Post-fair clean-up is Monday, July 25, at 10 a.m. Workers are needed for both days.

New business discussed was Sandhill Lake Camp. Dates are August 2-4 and sign-up is on a first come, first served basis.

Reminders: Herdsmanship will be judged during the county fair and 4-Hers are to keep the areas around their animals neat and clean. Deadline for clubs to enter banners is Wednesday, July 20 at 10 a.m.

Grand champion pictures will be taken on Thursday, July 21 at 4 p.m. at the grand champion booth in the 4-H exhibit area.

There will be a shooting sports camp-out at the Sportsmen Club on August 19 and 20. Campers are to bring sleeping bags. Any junior leader who would like to help is asked to contact Joan Lubitz.

The Hot Dog Award was presented to the Smiley 4-H club for its hard work in the 4-H food stand on Saturday, July 2, during An American Festival.

Meeting was adjourned.

Brandi Larson, reporter

Highlanding 4-H Club

Highlanding 4-H club met on June 30 at the Goodridge Cafe with seven members, two parents and four guests present.

June was Dairy Month and to promote dairy products members of the club gave out mini ice cream cones to the public. The ice cream was furnished by Bridgeman's and the cones were provided by the Goodridge Hartz store. Pencils and balloons provided by the American Dairy Association were also handed out.

Andrew Hanson, reporter

Smiley 4-H Club

Smiley 4-H club held its monthly meeting June 15 at the Smiley town hall. The meeting was called to order by president Josh Clark. Roll call response was to the question, "Have you started your fair exhibits?"

The club tour will be either July 9th or 16th. The banner committee will meet at Lois Steiger's house on June 24 from 7 to 7:30 p.m. County fair registrations are due July 5th. 4-H demonstrations are on June 23rd at the extension office.

The extension office asks for nominations for the Hall of Fame award. 4-H day camp will be held in Thief River Falls on July 27 and Goodridge on July 28. June 21 is the date for the MSRBA rabbit show. A few crockpots are for sale at the extension office. We will have a popcorn project for the 4th of July weekend.

A project talk was given by Chelsey Helgeland on conservation. Kyla McFarlane provided the program and Josh Clark led recreation.

Old Mill plans special July programs

Old Mill State Park will present several Interpretive Programs through the summer. Walks, hikes, children's activities and auto tours will meet near the beach house. Evening programs are held in the group shelter building.

Sunday, July 24, a one-hour Prairie Trail Walk will begin at 10 a.m. Children's activities will be held at 1 p.m., with water scopes and an aquatic event. A Flour Milling Site Tour will begin at 3 p.m., where participants will learn more about the milling process and the Larson family who operated the historic mill.

On Tuesday, July 26, the Old Mill will present a Senior Citizens Day program with special events and activities planned especially for senior citizens. There will be a prairie tour, natural history program and music.

Sunday, July 31, there will be an Old Mill Special Event, the Prairie Settlers Creamery Picnic Day. At 9 a.m. there will be a Big Pine Trees Trail Walk. Children's activities will take place at 11 a.m., including cattail doll making. At 1 p.m. there will be an ice cream social, Old Tyme games, potluck supper or outdoor cookout, Old Tyme Cultural Events and more.

For more information on any of the activities, contact the park office.

Karl J. Erickson

Erickson is candidate for Polk sheriff

Karl J. Erickson, a patrol officer and investigator with the Polk county sheriff's office for the past 10 years, has announced his candidacy for the office of sheriff.

Erickson has a four-year BA degree in criminal justice from Moorhead State University and was a police officer in Fosston from 1983 to 1984. He and his wife Susan, an attorney with her father in Fosston and Bagley, have lived in the Erskine area since 1985.

Human Rights rep. to visit In Moorhead July 12 and 13

A representative of the Minnesota Department of Human Rights will be in Moorhead July 12 from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. and July 13 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at the Job Service office, 715 11th Street North.

Any person wishing to schedule an appointment may do so by calling Vicki Olivo at the Department of Human Rights at 1-800-657-3704 prior to July 11.

Any person with questions about the Human Rights Act, Minnesota's anti-discrimination law or who believes he or she may have been discriminated against in violation of the act, may meet with the representative for information or assistance. The department will review any claims of discrimination to determine if a formal charge can be filed.

The Minnesota Human Rights Act prohibits discrimination in employment, housing, public accommodations, education, public services, credit and business contracts because of a person's race, color, creed, religion, sex, disability, age, national origin, sexual orientation, marital status, familial status or status in regard to public assistance.

The act also forbids reprisal against a persons who brings a discrimination complaint, participates in an investigation or associates with a person who is in a protected class.

Arts Council offers grants in NW area

Arts Council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission (NWRDC) is accepting applications for grants in literary, performing and visual arts with August 1 as the deadline for organizations to apply for sponsorship and production assistance grants.

Organizations may apply for a maximum of $2,500 in matching funds per grant. Each organization may still receive up to $3,500 in grant funds annually, according to Mara Lunde, arts council director.

Production assistance grants are available for the creation, performance or exhibition of arts. Sponsorship grants provide funds to host guest artists or touring groups.

The upcoming small arts grant deadline is also August 1. Under this program, organizations may apply for up to $500 in matching funds for the production or sponsorship of arts events which do not exceed $1,000 in total costs.

Public schools are eligible to receive arts education grants in visual, performing or literary arts for projects such as conducting an artist-in-residence program, hosting a visiting artist, conducting workshops for students and/or teachers and other activities.

Individual artists working in any arts discipline may apply for up to $500 for specific projects which contribute directly to their creative and professional growth and development. Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, this program provides artists with support for the production and presentation of work, professional training, supplies and other services. Deadlines for individual artist applications are August 1 and November 1, 1994.

Application materials for all the grant programs are available from Lunde at the Northwest Regional Development Commission office, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701. She may also be contacted by phone at 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Aggie Bond program can reduce taxes

Few farmers seem to be aware of a program designed to provide a tax break to farmers selling their land, machinery or breeding animals to help beginning farmers establish themselves, according to Commissioner Elton Redalen of the Minnesota Department of Agriculture.

Called the Aggie Bond Program, it is administered by the department of agriculture's Rural Finance Authority (RFA).

Under the program, the seller must agree to finance the sale of the farm to a qualified Minnesota beginning farmer. The seller does not have to pay federal income tax on the interest income paid to him by the buyer.

In exchange for the tax-free interest, the seller must make the loan at an interest rate below market rates. In addition, the buyer cannot be a relative and must meet certain financial criteria such as net worth and land ownership requirements. All other terms of the loan are negotiated between the seller and buyer, including such items as the down payment and the length of the loan.

For sellers who aren't acquainted with any young people interested in farming, the RFA offers a program called "Minnesota Farm Connection." Information from both sellers and potential buyers is fed into a computer which attempts to make connections based on geography and the type of farm a beginning farmer wants. The RFA puts sellers into contact with potential buyers and all negotiations take place between the two private parties.

For additional information on the Aggie Bond Program, contact Mike Anderson at 612-296-5943. For information on the Minnesota Farm Connection contact LaVonne Nicolai at 612-297-3395.

MDES officials plan visits in TRF Tuesday

Minnesota Department of Economic Security Commissioner R. Jane Brown and other officials of the department will be in Thief River Falls Tuesday, according to information received from MDES.

The group will tour the Thief River Falls Division of Rehabilitation Services office at 220 Pennington Avenue beginning at 3 p.m., then tour the Job Service/Reemployment Insurance office at 318 Knight Avenue North.

Following the tours the officials will discuss the current unemployment rate in the Thief River Falls area, job trend outlook and various other economic security topics.

Joining Commissioner Brown will be Earl Wilson, deputy commissioner; Gary Sorensen, assistant commissioner for Job Service/Reemployment Insurance; and Norena Hale, assistant commissioner for the Division of Rehabilitation Services.

Women's Softball

Lawni Young drove in the winning run in the ninth inning Wednesday as TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres edged Best Western Inn 7-6 in Thief River Falls Women's Slow Pitch Softball League play.

TRF Aviation/Baker's Acres added a 13-0 five inning win over Digi-Key. Angie Hoglo, Dorene Myers and Crystal Barth were all 3-for-3 for the winners, while Young, Michelle Fletcher and Deb Johnson had two hits each.

Dawn Knoll was 3-for-4 with three triples and drove in five runs to lead Legion/Sather Law past Northwest Eye Center 9-0. Janelle Konickson was also 3-for-4 for the winners.

A home run by Dee Thompson and three hits each for Thompson and Sue Lee carried the Mush-a-Rets past Digi-Key 23-4.

Thompson also homered as the Mush-a-Rets added a 20-2 win over Northwest Eye Center. Lisa Nelson collected four hits, while Kristi Huseth and Thompson had three hits each.

A third Mush-a-Rets win came in the form of a 14-10 June 29 make-up decision over Pizza Hut as Colleen Rook, Thompson and Huseth all had three hits.

B&E Car Wash/Terry's Service defeated the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners 15-9 as Heidi Rewertz went 3-for-4 and Mary Schmitz collected two doubles. Cheryl Olson cleared the fence in a home run effort for the Best Western Inn Ridgerunners, who bounced back with a 19-6 win over Legion/Sather Law as Olson, Paula Fanfulik and Patti Peterson had three hits each.

Thieves place third at Warroad

Thief River Falls Thieves beat Quad City 6-5, lost to Elmwood 15-5, then came back to defeat Springfield 14-3 for a third place finish in the Warroad Invitational Fourth of July weekend amateur baseball tournament.

Elmwood won the five-team, two-division, round-robin event with a 17-4 championship game win over host Warroad.

In the round-robin portion of the tournament that produced the championship and third place match-ups, Elmwood was 2-0, Thief River Falls 1-1 and Quad City 0-2 in Division I, while Warroad and Springfield were both 1-1 in Division II.

The 9-3-1 Thieves, who were rained out of a scheduled Thursday night Irv Wilson Field match-up against Warroad, are competing in the Grand Forks Gerrells Invitational this weekend. Thief River Falls meets Fargo today (Saturday) at 4:30 p.m. and will play Quad City Sunday at 10 a.m. in the round-robin portion of the six-team event.

Next Thief River Falls home appearance will be a 6:30 p.m. Tuesday game against Crookston at Northland Community College.

Thief River Falls........6
Quad City........5

It was a final at-bat decision for the Thieves in a 6-5 first round tournament win over Quad City (ND) as Carter Rogalla drew a two-out walk in the bottom of the ninth and scored on a base hit by Nathan Knutson.

Winning pitcher Mike Steen struck out four in eight innings to improve his record to 3-0-1. He also drove in two runs.

Corey Poole was 2-for-4 for the winners, who scored three times in the fifth and twice in the sixth for a 5-3 lead. Quad City tied it in the top of the ninth, but lost it in the bottom of the inning.

Elmwood........15
Thief River Falls........5

Elmwood handled Thief River Falls 15-5 to complete the two-division round-robin assignments for the Thieves.

The Winnipeg-area winners broke open a 7-3 game with an eight-run top of the ninth.

Marc Haugen was 4-for-5 to lead the Thieves' offense, while teammates Nathan Knutson and Mike Swanson were both 2-for-5 with an RBI.

Chris Nelson was the losing pitcher, even though he did not give up an earned run in his four-inning stint. Jeremy Olson, Rick Ostby and Jim Einarson pitched in relief.

Thief River Falls........14
Springfield........3

Mike Rokke struck out the first five batters he faced in relief of Thief River Falls starting pitcher Corey Poole and finished with eight strike-outs in four innings of work as the Thieves stopped Springfield 14-3 in a five-inning third place game.

Thief River Falls turned a 1-1 first inning tie into a 10-1 second inning spread and enjoyed a 13-1 cushion through three innings against the Winnipeg outfit.

Marc Haugen, Chris Nelson and Dave Stengrim were all 2-for-3 with an RBI for the winners. Poole had a 3-run home run and Rick Osty hit a solo shot.

TRF 13-year-olds split doubleheader with Roseau club

Tuesday baseball for Thief River Falls 13-year-olds produced a doubleheader split against Roseau as the Giants lost a 4-2 first-game decision, but the Rockies won a 4-3 second-game match-up.

Jeff Beste was the losing pitcher in the opener, but he was also 2-for-3 at the plate for the Giants, who gained a 2-2 tie in the fourth, but gave up a pair of runs in the fifth.

Kelly Cota was the winning pitcher in Game 2 as the Rockies scored a tie-breaking run in the bottom of the seventh.

Roseau tops Legion 8-2

Roseau scored five times in the fifth inning Tuesday to secure an 8-2 American Legion baseball win over visiting Thief River Falls.

Post 117 was coming off a 5-3 Sunday victory over Ninth District rival Fergus Falls at the Minot Invitational, but couldn't duplicate that effort against Roseau.

"They (Roseau) have a good team; they played well," pointed out Thief River Falls coach Howard Dalager. "Coming off the Minot tournament, we were flat."

Eric Bjorgaard turned in a route-going pitching performance for the visitors and was saddled with the loss. "Eric threw hard, but when he got in trouble, it snowballed on him," explained Dalager.

It was the 14th loss against 9 wins for Post 117, rained out of a scheduled Thursday doubleheader at East Grand Forks.

Thief River Falls's next outing will be Tuesday, July 12, when Crookston visits Irv Wilson Field for a 5:30 p.m. twinbill.

Coaching positions remain open at LHS

Four head high school coaching positions remain open in School District 564 for the 1994-95 school year, according to Thief River Falls Activities Director Lee Alger.

Actually, the search is underway for two people – a head hockey coach and an individual who will double as the girls tennis coach in the fall and the boys tennis coach in the spring.

The head baseball coaching position is also open, but will likely be filled by 1994 assistant Dean Woodman once he completes the certification process.

Resigning from their 1993-94 school year coaching assignments were Glenn Chiodo, hockey; Jay Forney, boys and girls tennis; and Alger, baseball.

There is also a need to find a junior varsity tennis coach (boys and girls), middle school tennis coach (boys and girls), assistant girls swimming coach, and assistant baseball coach.

A problem filling those spots is the lack of teaching positions available in School District 564.

"People want good coaches, but we have no (faculty) openings," pointed out Alger, who hopes to have the job search completed by mid-August.

Trap League

First Half season shooting was completed Tuesday in the Thief River Falls Trap League.

Top eight finishers in the final First Half season point standings earn positions in the year-end championship shoot. They will be joined at that time by the top eight Second Half qualifiers. However, teams who earn a top eight finish in both First and Second Half shooting will reduce the post-season field.

While the First Half ended Tuesday, the championship shoot qualifying will not be completed until a six-way tie for the final three spots is broken by using the highest scores in upcoming weekly Second Half shooting.

"Golphers"
By Alan B. Swenson

A full color limited edition print, image size 13-1/2" by 19" personally signed and numbered by the artist. Commissioned in 1970 by the Thief River Falls Golf Club, the original oil painting measuring 45" by 68" still hangs in the clubhouse as a constant reminder of the propriety and decorum of this dignified sporting event. Although there has been speculation as to similarities between the characters in the painting and certain characters whom occasion the links of this northern Minnesota course, the artist assures us any likeness is entirely coincidental, almost. Now you can enjoy a moment of golfing pleasure and summer fun year around with this print in your own home or office.

Garbage bags vs. garbage cans, TRF studies issue

Thief River Falls Building, Engineering, Streets and Sanitation (BESS) committee discussed a proposal to replace the city's current plastic garbage bag system with hard plastic garbage containers.

Thursday afternoon, Bob Jablinske, city sanitation department supervisor, outlined costs and displayed three of the hard plastic containers that would be used if the city decided to eliminate its system of providing residents with plastic bags.

Currently the BESS committee is only studying the proposal. No formal plans or proposals have been presented to the city council. The BESS committee and city sanitation department is also seeking public input on the proposal.

As outlined by Jablinske, residents would be given the option of using one of three large numbered plastic garbage containers — a 35-gallon container, a 60-gallon container, or a 90-gallon container. Jablinske said there would be little or no cost savings to the city. Some savings might be expected after several years because the cost of purchasing plastic bags yearly is, in the long run, more expensive.

Jablinske said he didn't know if the system would work but he has talked to representatives of a number of cities who are very satisfied with this system.

The containers displayed by Jablinske Thursday were mounted on wheels so they could be moved easily. Jablinske said they put a 160-pound man in one of the containers and it moved as easily as if it were empty. Jablinske said the containers are easily washed out, but would suggest to residents that they use some type of bag or liner inside the containers.

The containers were also equipped with a cover, and a metal handle so the containers could be picked up with a hydraulic lift on garbage trucks. The hydraulic lift would dump the garbage from the container into the truck. This would eliminate the necessity of sanitation department employees having to lift heavy bags of garbage.

A savings might also be expected in the future if the city went to a fully automated garbage collection system, which involves one driver and a specially fitted truck. Instead of additional employees picking up the garbage, a hydraulic arm would pick up the garbage containers.

Jablinske noted that the current system tends to encourage residents to fill the garbage bags with as much garbage as possible. As a result, many bags break open or are broken open by animals and spill their contents out on the ground causing a mess.

How and where the city would come up with the dollars to pay for the high initial cost of such a system are still questions that need to be answered. Various options were advanced at the meeting, including paying for the entire cost, allowing residents to purchase the containers, and a cost share plan.

The proposal is still being studied and will have to be brought before the city council before it is implemented.

The BESS committee and the sanitation department is looking for public input. It was also suggested that the hard plastic garbage containers be displayed to the public at the Pennington county fair.

Coon and Crockett Club will hold a fur trade encampment Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10, at the All Nations Cultural Festival to be held at the park in St. Hilaire.

Open house at Sportsmen Club rescheduled from July 4 date

Open house at the Pennington County Sportsmen Club which was canceled Monday, July 4, due to wet roadway and grounds, has been rescheduled for Sunday, July 10, from 1 to 5 p.m.

Chairing the open house are Art Randall and Allan Paulson. The club has a club house with gas furnace and a new well as well as a rifle range and picnic area. It is used by Boy Scouts and other community groups in addition to the club members and is located north of Thief River Falls along County Ditch 18.

Black powder shooting demonstrations will be held during the open house at 1:30, 2:30 and 3:30 p.m.

Open house farewell for Rev. Gladen Sunday

There will be a farewell open house for Pastor Neil and Karen Gladen and family at Redeemer Lutheran church Sunday, July 10, from 2 to 4 p.m.

Rev. Gladen has been pastor at Redeemer for the past two and one-half years and will be leaving. Everyone is welcome.

MWNET lists July meeting places

The Minnesota Women's Network for Entrepreneurial Training (MWNET), which is sponsored in the region by the Northwest Minnesota Initiative Fund, has scheduled meetings for the month of July. Women business owners are invited to attend any of the "roundtable" discussions and are reminded there is no cost to join the network.

In July, MWNET will meet in the following communities:

Ada — July 12 at 11:30 a.m. at the Extension Office meeting room there will be discussion of topics and format of MWNET meetings. Regular meeting date is second Tuesday of each month at 11:30 a.m.

Bemidji — July 19 at 8 a.m. at the Mug and Muffin Restaurant, 910 Paul Bunyan Drive. Topic is Investing Your Money. Regular meeting date is third Tuesday of each month at 8 a.m.

Fertile — July 12 at 6:30 p.m. at Lakeview Restaurant in Mentor for Dutch treat dinner. Topic is Community Assessment Partnership continued. Regular meeting date is third Tuesday of each month at 6:30 p.m.

The network gives women business owners a chance to meet with one another and discuss common goals and/or concerns. If you would like to know more about MWNET or about any of the topics listed above, contact the Initiative Fund at 1-800-659-7859 or 218-759-2057.

Fialka Ukrainian Dancers from Selkirk, Man., Canada will be among the groups participating Saturday and Sunday, July 9 and 10, at the All Nations Cultural Festival in St. Hilaire. In the center of the group is Marcie Erickson, Miss Thief River Falls, who introduced performing groups at the first festival last year and will assist at the event again this year.

Activities scheduled at Agassiz Wildlife refuge

Activities are scheduled at Agassiz National Wildlife Refuge for the weekend of July 16 and 17, according to refuge personnel.

The refuge will be open to the public on Saturday, July 16, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Sunday, July 17, from 1 to 7 p.m. Visitors are encouraged to stop at headquarters to inquire if any restricted roads are open.

"This is an exciting time of the year to observe the changes in the growth of young birds, mammals, other wildlife and plants," a refuge spokesman said.

At 3 p.m. Saturday, July 16, Dr. Joanna Burger, professor of biology at Rutgers University, Piscataway, NJ, will give a presentation at refuge headquarters on Franklin's gulls and her current study at Agassiz refuge. Dr. Burger is considered the world's authority on this gull species which is so familiar in northwestern Minnesota. Groups planning to attend should contact the refuge in advance.

In August, a presentation will be given on the black tern study at Agassiz. A presentation on gray wolves followed by a howling expedition will take place in September, along with a chance for the public to assist with duck banding.

All the activities are family oriented and the public is invited to join refuge personnel in observing the sights and sounds of nature. News released on the August and September activities will be published in later issues.

Mud Lake reunion set

faces with wet cloths in order to breathe.

The burning peat was dangerous, since the fires could burn underneath the ground and go unnoticed until people or animals stepped through the top soil into the burned out area.

The peat was responsible for other strange things. In an 1892 letter, Walter A. Hayden described what he called "a unique mystery" of the Mud Lake area, the Trembling Bog. "The bog apparently floated with the trees and undergrowth anchored only in the peat mass. Whenever a person stumbled or jumped, the ground would tremble and the trees would move, much to the surprise of the intruders." He mentioned, however, that despite its instability, the Trembling Bog was one of the best berry-picking spots in the area.

In spite of the hardships, settlers came to the Mud Lake area any way they could. In 1904 the Great Northern Railroad came to the area, allowing easier access for the settlers.

In 1909, the government instigated a well-publicized drainage project to attract settlers to the state, including Mud Lake territory. Although the project was supposed to take only three years, it was not until April 12, 1916, that the drained area was opened for homesteading.

Family life in Mud Lake territory was good. Most of the homesteaders were of Scandinavian descent and they brought traditions and values with them from the old country.

Chores and farm work were done by daylight. Nightfall was a time for visiting between families. House parties were rotated from house to house, especially during the winter months.

Families would play cards and dance. Violins, guitars and accordions were brought along to the parties by those who were musically inclined and several homes had pianos and pump organs. Barn dances were held in the summer, with all members of families attending, some coming from several miles away.

"Julebukking" or "Christmas fooling" was another Scandinavian tradition in Mud Lake. Between Christmas and New Year, revelers would disguise themselves and travel to neighboring houses by horse-drawn sleighs. They would enter the house, invited or not, and tease and joke until masks were removed and refreshments served. Scandinavian delicacies such as krumkake, lefse, julekaka, sandbakkels and fattimand were served to the Julebukkers, along with plenty of hot coffee.

Often those who were "visited" would join the Julebukking group and go on to visit as many neighbors as possible during the night. The Julebukking would often continue through several nights of the holiday season.

Basket Socials were held at neighborhood schools, a way of making money for other events. Baskets filled with delicious, homemade treats were decorated with ribbons and other trinkets and auctioned off to the gentleman who made the highest bid. The basket maker and bidder would then share the basket lunch and afterward take part in the dancing that was, invariably, a part of social events.

Ragball Socials were another money-making event. Each lady would sew strips of cloth together and wind these strips around a slip of paper upon which she had written her name. Gentlemen would bid on the ragballs and then unwind them to learn the name of their lunch partners.

A Shadow Social was another variation of the Basket Social. A lantern was placed behind a sheet hung before the audience and each lady would step between the lantern and the sheet so that her shadow was visible to the audience. The lantern holder had an important role because it was his or her job to manipulate his or her own face and body to change the lady's silhouette so that she could not be easily identified.

One more social activity was called a Foot Social. Gentlemen would bid on a set of feet they could see beneath a sheet. Of course a variety of borrowed shoes were visible beneath the sheet, sometimes big brother's work boots or father's galoshes.

(The rest of the story of Mud Lake territory will be in next week's Northern Watch.)

House parties and barn dances were frequent social events for the Mud Lake pioneers. Several of the Mud Lakers were musically inclined and played instruments and some houses had pianos and pump organs. In the above photo, (left to right) Albin Oehl, Selmer Dahl and Sigurd Vik are shown with their instruments of choice. You can bet these fellows were popular guests at the dances.

The Wilson School was built in 1915 to educate the Mud Lake children. It was a one-room schoolhouse set upon a high foundation. The Norwegian School (Norske Skole) was held at the Wilson School for several weeks each summer after regular school was let out to teach students of Norwegian descent how to read and write in their native language.

Project STRIDE to be town hall forum topic

Residents of northwestern Minnesota will have an opportunity to comment on Project STRIDE, a statewide program intended to help AFDC recipients move into the job market, when a town hall forum is held July 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northwest Technical College in Detroit Lakes.

One of seven such forums in the state, it is intended to solicit input from clients, advocates and the general public about the program specifically and job programs for welfare recipients in general.

State officials will consider input gathered at the forums as they develop a proposal intended to strengthen Project STRIDE. That proposal will be presented to the 1995 legislature which convenes in January.

Much of the program's focus has been on education and training. Program participants are teamed with case managers who help them as they work to achieve self-sufficiency. Child care and other support services are also key elements.

Since its inception in 1989, STRIDE has never been able to serve all of those who are eligible. Ways are being sought to help a greater number of clients achieve self-sufficiency more quickly with the funds that are available. With an unemployment rate at a 15-year low in Minnesota, the department of economic security can expect to move people into the labor force more rapidly.

Construction to begin on Highway 75 project

Construction will begin on or about Monday, July 11, on highway 75 between Stephen and Donaldson and in the city of Kennedy, according to Roger Hille, area resident engineer for the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Between Stephen and Donaldson existing surface will be removed and the highway will be rehabilitated. In the city of Kennedy, curb, gutter, sidewalks and sidewalk ramps will be repaired and/or replaced.

Anderson Brothers construction Company of Brainerd is the contractor and the work should be completed in 85 working days.

Traffic will be maintained on the highway during the entire construction project and there is not expected to be any substantial traffic disruption until August 1, at which time paving operations are expected to begin and traffic routed through the constructions.

Motorists are asked to slow down to a speed of 35 miles per hour and to watch for temporary lane closures during working hours. Pilot vehicles will be used to guide traffic through construction.

"The public should also be aware of construction activity from an adjacent railroad rehabilitation projects, as well as from the Lakehead Pipeline expansion project," Hille warned. "Both projects will add construction equipment and trucks in the road construction area."

The department of transportation reminds motorists to slow down in work zones for their own safety and the safety of construction workers.

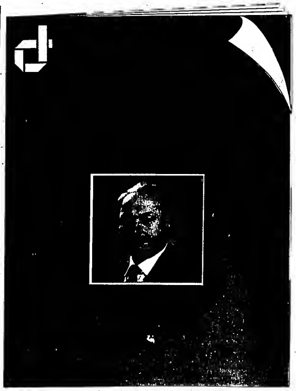
New cellular site is located near Grygla

Rural Cellular Corporation (RCC) has recently located a 500-foot tower three miles southwest of Grygla to provide Cellular 2000 phone service to that area.

Cell sites are comprised of high quality electronic transmitters and receivers, usually mounted on a tower. Calls from cellular phones are received by the cell site from a switching station and transmitted to other cell sites or conventional phone company land lines.

The new Grygla cell site, and other new cell sites in Bena, Big Falls, the Northwest Angle and Northome are the result of RCC's growing cellular phone network in northern Minnesota. RCC consists of 40 Minnesota telephone companies which combined interests to provide cellular services to their customers.

Jeff Hitland, territory manager for RCC/Cellular 2000, said that "factors like distance, outdoor recreational interests and winter road conditions make cellular communication very important to local families, resorts and businesses."



To honor retirees from tech college management dept.

Management center of Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls will host an open house reception Tuesday, July 19, from 8 to 10 p.m. in the cafeteria to honor three instructors on their retirement.

Being recognized at the event will be Don Jonson, former instructor in small business management; Wayne Ditmer and Don Johnsen, instructors in farm business management.

All friends, relatives and present and former enrollees of the small business and farm business management programs are invited.

Big catfish winners

Kennedy — The winner of the annual Catfish Tournament held near Kennedy last weekend was a 21.6 pound fish caught by the team of John Anderson and Phillip Jeffery of East Grand Forks. The duo won a cash prize of $500 for the largest fish and also won $500 for the combined weight prize of 37.16 pounds. Forty-nine teams competed in the two-day tournament.

Greenbush Crazy Days July 28

Greenbush — Rain or shine, Crazy Days will be held in Greenbush on Thursday, July 28. There will be sidewalk sales, crazy bargains, prize drawings by businesses and several food stands. In case of rain, things will be held inside the Greenbush Community Shelter and the Community Center.

-Greenbush Tribune

An act of heroism

Birchdale — A 16-year-old Birchdale girl rescued Cheyanne Farmer from the Rainy river after the eight-year-old fell off the boat ramp and was caught in the current of the swollen river on the Fourth of July afternoon. Shannon Westover jumped into the water, fully clothed, and swam 20 or 30 feet out into the river to rescue the little girl.

Burglary in Karlstad

Karlstad — The Karlstad Farmers Union Oil Company was burglarized the night of July 7. Cigarettes, candy and approximately $600 were taken. Entry was made by breaking the glass on the front door. The Kittson County Sheriff's Department is investigating the incident.

What – more strange lights in the southern skies?

Fertile — The Fertile Fire and Police Departments, Polk County Sheriff's office were called out on a search for a downed airplane last Sunday and three units of County EMS Paramedics were ready and waiting after a call to the police department from Mrs. Tiedemann of Crookston. She said she "saw something pretty strange" on her way back to Crookston from Fertile. She went to the fair office in Fertile and told a police officer, "We were going home, towards Crookston, when I saw something like landing lights on a airplane; then they disappeared and then there was a large cloud of dust." According to her description, it appeared that the lights were east of the Fertile airport. Several private citizens joined law enforcement and fire department personnel in the search, but nothing was found and the search was called off about 4 a.m. The Fertile Journal says "No plane was found, although several theories have sprouted."

Trophy buckles like the one above will be awarded to winning team members in team penning competition finals Friday, July 22, at the Pennington County Fair in Thief River Falls.

Crazy Days

Merchants in Thief River Falls will be open from 7 a.m. to 9 p.m. Thursday, July 21. The sidewalk sale will be on Thursday, but the sale also extends into Friday and Saturday, July 22 and 23. On Thursday, there will be a Crazy Clerk Costume Contest.

Inside this edition of the Northern Watch is a special section devoted specifically to Crazy Days advertisements.

93rd Penn[illegible] Fair to begin W[illegible]

Pennington county's annual fair is 93 years old this year but there will be new things to pique the interest of fair-goers once again. The fair will open Wednesday, July 20, and continue through Sunday, July 24 at the fairgrounds in Thief River Falls.

- There is a new horse barn which will be filled to capacity with more than 90 horses;
- Finals of Northern Minnesota Team Penning competition will begin at 6:30 p.m. Friday, July 22, with saddles and spectacular silver belt buckles to be awarded to the winning teams;
- Model railroad display will be located on the upper level of the Huck Olson Memorial Civic Center Thursday through Sunday;
- Many changes have been made to the photography department to permit more varied and additional entries;
- A raffle will be held for an Arctic Cat Z 440 snowmobile, Tiger Shark personal watercraft and cash prizes of $2,000, $1,000, $500 and 10 prizes of $50 each;
- Murphy Bros. carnival will offer a $25 mega ride pass which will permit unlimited rides for one person throughout the entire five days of the fair; and
- An evening grandstand show Thursday, July 21 at 8 p.m. will feature the Matt Vorderbruggen Orchestra playing old time waltz, polka and schottische music.

Former attractions which have new personalities this year include:

- The country western show this year featuring one of Nashville's hottest new singers, Joe Diffie, with shows at 7 and 9 p.m. Saturday, July 23;
- Free entertainment at the bandshell beginning with a Gospel Music Night Wednesday, July 20, from 6:30 to 9 p.m. and continuing with shows Thursday through Sunday from 1:30 to 10:30 p.m., including magician Craig Carlson, the "Cats Deluxe" trio and the "Sugar Creek" band as well as a Karaoke session Thursday evening;
- A teen dance Friday, July 22, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m., with the band "Numb" providing the music and a number of prizes, including a 20-inch color television set, to be given away;
- Demolition Derby Sunday, July 24 at 5:30 p.m.;
- Horse shows Saturday and Sunday, July 23 and 24;
- Senior citizen day Friday, July 22, with a program in the curling club building at 2 p.m. when the outstanding senior citizens of Pennington county will be given special recognition;
- Pedal tractor pull Saturday, July 23, at 2 p.m.;
- 4-H fashion revue and awards program Sunday, July 24, at 1 p.m.;
- 4-H dog show at 5 p.m. Wednesday, July 20, followed by an open dog show; and
- Bingo in the curling club building during the afternoon and evening Thursday through Sunday.

Entry day for open class entries will be Thursday, July 21, from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m., except that flower exhibits must be entered by 4:30 p.m. Judging of open class exhibits will be done on Friday.

The Saga of Mud Lake continues

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

(This is the continuation of the story of Mud Lake territory from the July 9 Northern Watch.)

The children in Mud Lake attended one room schools, which taught children from grades one to eight. They walked through mud, rain, snow and peat smoke to attend classes, carrying lunches brought from home in syrup pails. Coal or wood stoves provided an island of warmth on cold winter days and served as a place to dry mittens or heat portions of the children's lunches. Toilet facilities were, of course, outdoors.

The Flakne and Golden Valley stores and post offices were built to serve the Mud Lake settlers. The Flakne store was located on the Knud O. Flakne homestead, which was on an island in the drained lake bed. Knud's wife, Julia, became the first postmaster of the territory in 1912. It is said that Knud Flakne was short-tempered and quick to file lawsuits against his neighbors. Julia left Knud and Mud Lake in 1917. Knud also left Mud Lake and went on to open a store in Holt after living in Middle River for a short time.

The Golden Valley store and post office also opened in 1912, with Clarence Larson as postmaster and storekeeper. His wife, Bertha, handled most of the work at the store and monitored a weather station for the government at Golden Valley. In 1919, Cleveland Bergum became postmaster and proprietor of the Golden Valley store.

Mail was first delivered in the Mud Lake territory twice a week by Ole Saastad. As well as mail, postmen often carried grocery orders, cream cans and sometimes passengers. Horse drawn buggies and buckboards carried the mail in the summer, and covered sleighs did so in the winter. Later vehicles used were Model T's and Model A's.

Telephones brought quick communication to the Mud Lake territory in 1920.

Mud Lakers were of many different religious faiths. Catholics attended church in Middle River; Pentecostals held services in their homes; the one Jewish family, the Wallers, had to make their own services; and several Lutheran groups held services in school houses. Zion and Golden Valley were the two congregations of Lutherans in the area. Both were extensions of the Home Mission Field based out of Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran church in Holt.

By 1933, the Great Depression reached as far north as Mud Lake. Farm prices fell, taxes and mortgages went unpaid, and farms were foreclosed upon all over the area.

Friends and neighbors gathered one last time on September 26, 1937, before they were forced to leave their homes in Mud Lake territory. They met that fall at the Hillman Grove located in Section 23, Mud Lake township, to bid farewell to one another and to the homes and farmsteads they would soon leave, as well as to the land they had come to love. Economic Security Commissioner in area

Commissioner R. Jane Brown and staff pay office visits in Thief River Falls and Roseau this week

Earl R. Wilson
Deputy Commissioner
Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

To obtain additional local area information as well as complete a goal of visiting all local offices in the state, Commissioner R. Jane Brown of the Minnesota Department of Economic Security visited her department's offices in Thief River Falls Tuesday and Roseau on Wednesday.

Joining her on the tour, which also included stops at Detroit Lakes, International Falls and Cloquet, were Earl R. Wilson, deputy commissioner; Gary Sorensen, assistant commissioner for Job Service/Unemployment Insurance; and Noreno hale, assistant commissioner for the Division of Rehabilitation Services.

Commissioner Brown said one of the purposes of the visit in this area was to gain additional local information on the reported shortage of workers to fill jobs being created by growth and expansion of businesses in this area of the state. She said there are plans to host a conference with other state agencies this fall to look for possible solutions to the problem.

"We are certainly aware of the situation," she said. "In fact, we could see this coming about a year ago when Polaris Industries contacted Governor Carlson's office in regard to a large planned expansion in Roseau. They wanted assurances in policy concerns and our department was one of those that the governor involved in the discussions."

She said that one of the concerns of Polaris was a rumor that the Job Service office in Roseau might be closed. Assurance was given, she said, that not only would the office be retained but expanded if necessary. As it turns out, expansion is just what took place.

Commissioner Brown observed that finding workers to fill job openings is only one part of the problem. Availability of adequate available and affordable rental housing is a major concern, she said, and one of the primary difficulties faced by workers available and willing to relocate to counties like Roseau and Pennington where job growth is occurring.

Because of the several problem areas that relate to rapid employment increase—desirable and welcome as that might be—the fall conference is being considered to include the Housing Finance Agency and the Department of Trade and Economic Development as well as the Department of Economic Security. Other departments and/or agencies may also be involved.

"Over the past two years, largely as a result of input from the people in our offices around the state, we have developed a focus on employers being our primary customers," the commissioner said. "We found that in the past, in an effort to find work for our applicants, we had often sent the wrong people to apply for available positions. As a result employers became irritated by receiving unqualified applicants and quit listing openings with us."

The reversal in focus from the faces with wet cloths in order to breathe.

The burning peat was dangerous since the fires could burn underneath the ground and go unnoticed until people or animals stepped through the top soil into the burned out area.

The peat was responsible for other strange things. In an 1892 letter, Walter A. Hayden described what he called "a unique mystery" of the Mud Lake area, the Trembling Bog. "The bog apparently floated with the trees and undergrowth anchored only in the peat mass. Whenever a person stumbled or jumped, the ground would tremble and the trees would move, much to the surprise of the intruders." He mentioned, however, that despite its instability, the Trembling Bog was one of the best berry-picking spots in the area.

In spite of the hardships, settlers came to the Mud Lake area any way they could. In 1904 the Great Northern Railroad came to the area, allowing easier access for the settlers.

In 1909, the government instigated a well-publicized drainage project to attract settlers to the state, including Mud Lake territory. Although the project was supposed to take only three years, it was not until April 12, 1916, that the drained area was opened for homesteading.

Family life in Mud Lake territory was good. Most of the homesteaders were of Scandinavian descent and they brought traditions and values with them from the old country.

Chores and farm work were done by daylight. Nightfall was a time for visiting between families. House parties were rotated from house to house, especially during the winter months.

Families would play cards and dance. Violins, guitars and accordions were brought along to the parties by those who were musically inclined and several homes had pianos and pump organs. Barn dances were held in the summer, with all members of families attending, some coming from several miles away.

"Julebukking" or "Christmas fooling" was another Scandinavian tradition in Mud Lake. Between Christmas and New Year, revelers would disguise themselves and travel to neighboring houses by horse-drawn sleighs. They would enter the house, invited or not, and tease and joke until masks were removed and refreshments served. Scandinavian delicacies such as krumkake, lefse, julekake, sandbakkels and flatbread were served to the Julebukkers, along with plenty of hot coffee.

Often those who were "visited" would join the Julebukking group and go on to visit as many neighbors as possible during the night. The Julebukking would often continue through several nights of the holiday season.

Basket Socials were held at neighborhood schools, a way of making money for other events. Baskets filled with delicious home-made treats were decorated with ribbons and other trinkets and auctioned off to the gentleman who made the highest bid. The basket maker and bidder would then share the basket lunch and afterward take part in the dancing that was, invariably, a part of social events.

Ragball Socials were another money-making event. Each lady would sew strips of cloth together and wind these strips around a slip of paper upon which she had written her name. Gentlemen would bid on the ragballs and then unwind them to learn the name of their lunch partners.

A Shadow Social was another variation of the Basket Social. A lantern was placed behind a sheet hung before the audience and each lady would step between the lantern and the sheet so that her shadow was visible to the audience. The lantern holder had an important role because it was his or her job to manipulate his or her own face and body to change the lady's silhouette so that she could not be easily identified.

One more social activity was called a Foot Social. Gentlemen would bid on a set of feet they could see beneath a sheet. Of course a variety of borrowed shoes were visible beneath the sheet, sometimes big brother's work boots or father's galoshes.

(The rest of the story of Mud Lake territory will be in next week's Northern Watch.)

House parties and barn dances were frequent social events for the Mud Lake pioneers. Several of the Mud Lakers were musically inclined and played instruments and some houses had pianos and pump organs. In the above photo, (left to right) Albin Dahl, Selmer Dahl and Sigurd Vik are shown with their instruments of choice. You can bet these fellows were popular guests at the dances.

The Wilson School was built in 1915 to educate the Mud Lake children. It was a one-room schoolhouse set upon a high foundation. The Norwegian School (Norske Skole) was held at the Wilson School for several weeks each summer after regular school was let out to teach students of Norwegian descent how to read and write in their native language.

To honor retirees from tech college management dept.

Management center of Northwest Technical College in Thief River Falls will host an open house reception Tuesday, July 19, from 8 to 10 p.m. in the cafeteria to honor three instructors on their retirement.

Being recognized at the event will be Don Jonson, former instructor in small business management; Wayne Ditmer and Don Johnsen, instructors in farm business management.

All friends, relatives and present and former enrollees of the small business and farm business management programs are invited.

Project STRIDE to be town hall forum topic

Residents of northwestern Minnesota will have an opportunity to comment on Project STRIDE, a statewide program intended to help AFDC recipients move into the job market, when a town hall forum is held July 12 from 7 to 9 p.m. at the Northwest Technical College in Detroit Lakes.

One of seven such forums in the state, it is intended to solicit input from clients, advocates and the general public about the program specifically and job programs for welfare recipients in general.

State officials will consider input gathered at the forums as they develop a proposal intended to strengthen Project STRIDE. That proposal will be presented to the 1995 legislature which convenes in January.

Much of the program's focus has been on education and training. Program participants are teamed with case managers who help them as they work to achieve self-sufficiency. Child care and other support services are also key elements.

Since its inception in 1989, STRIDE has never been able to serve all of those who are eligible. Ways are being sought to help a greater number of clients achieve self-sufficiency more quickly with the funds that are available. With an unemployment rate at a 15-year low in Minnesota, the department of economic security can expect to move people into the labor force more rapidly.

Construction to begin on Highway 75 project

Construction will begin on or about Monday, July 11, on highway 75 between Stephen and Donaldson and in the city of Kennedy, according to Roger Hille, area resident engineer for the Minnesota Department of Transportation.

Between Stephen and Donaldson existing surface will be removed and the highway will be rehabilitated. In the city of Kennedy, curb, gutter, sidewalks and sidewalk ramps will be repaired and/or replaced.

Anderson Brothers construction Company of Brainerd is the contractor and the work should be completed in 85 working days.

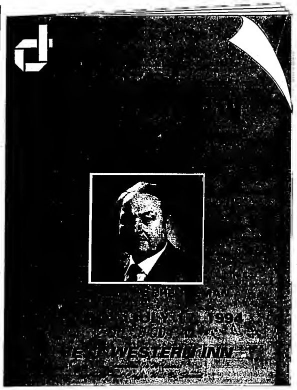
Traffic will be maintained on the highway during the entire construction project and there is not expected to be any substantial traffic disruption until August 1, at which time paving operations are expected to begin and traffic routed through the constructions.

Motorists are asked to slow down to a speed of 35 miles per hour and to watch for temporary lane closures during working hours. Pilot vehicles will be used to guide traffic through construction.

"The public should also be aware of construction activity from an adjacent railroad rehabilitation projects, as well as from the Lakehead Pipeline expansion project," Hille warned. "Both projects will add construction equipment and trucks in the road construction area."

The department of transportation reminds motorists to slow down in work zones for their own safety and the safety of construction workers.

New cellular site is located near Grygla



Rural Cellular Corporation (RCC) has recently located a 500-foot tower three miles southwest of Grygla to provide Cellular 2000 phone service to that area.

Cell sites are comprised of high quality electronic transmitters and receivers, usually mounted on a tower. Calls from cellular phones are received by the cell site from a switching station and transmitted to other cell sites or conventional phone company land lines.

The new Grygla cell site, and other new cell sites in Bena, Big Falls, the Northwest Angle and Northome are the result of RCC's growing cellular phone network in northern Minnesota. RCC consists of 40 Minnesota telephone companies which combined interests to provide cellular services to their customers.

Jeff Hitland, territory manager for RCC/Cellular 2000, said that "factors like distance, outdoor recreational interests and winter road conditions make cellular communication very important to local families, resorts and businesses."

What – more strange lights in the southern skies?

Fertile — The Fertile Fire and Police Departments, Polk County Sheriff's office were called out on a search for a downed airplane last Sunday and three units of County EMS Paramedics were ready and waiting after a call to the police department from Mrs. Tiedemann of Crookston. She said she "saw something pretty strange" on her way back to Crookston from Fertile. She went to the fair office in Fertile and told a police officer, "We were going home, towards Crookston, when I saw something like landing lights on a airplane; then they disappeared and then there was a large cloud of dust." According to her description, it appeared that the lights were east of the Fertile airport. Several private citizens joined law enforcement and fire department personnel in the search, but nothing was found and the search was called off about 4 a.m. The Fertile Journal says "No plane was found, although several theories have sprouted."

The Saga of Mud Lake continues

by Sherry LaCoursiere
Northern Watch Reporter

(This is the continuation of the story of Mud Lake territory from the July 9 Northern Watch.)

The children in Mud Lake attended one room schools, which taught children from grades one to eight. They walked through mud, rain, snow and peat smoke to attend classes, carrying lunches brought from home in syrup pails. Coal or wood stoves provided an island of warmth on cold winter days and served as a place to dry mittens or heat portions of the children's lunches. Toilet facilities were, of course, outdoors.

The Flakne and Golden Valley stores and post offices were built to serve the Mud Lake settlers. The Flakne store was located on the Knud O. Flakne homestead, which was on an island in the drained lake bed. Knud's wife, Julia, became the first postmaster of the territory in 1912. It is said that Knud Flakne was short-tempered and quick to file lawsuits against his neighbors. Julia left Knud and Mud Lake in 1917. Knud also left Mud Lake and went on to open a store in Holt after living in Middle River for a short time.

The Golden Valley store and post office also opened in 1912, with Clarence Larson as postmaster and storekeeper. His wife, Bertha, handled most of the work at the store and monitored a weather station for the government at Golden Valley. In 1919, Cleveland Bergum became postmaster and proprietor of the Golden Valley store.

Mail was first delivered in the Mud Lake territory twice a week by Ole Saastad. As well as mail, postmen often carried grocery orders, cream cans and sometimes passengers. Horse drawn buggies and buckboards carried the mail in the summer, and covered sleighs did so in the winter. Later vehicles used were Model T's and Model A's.

Telephones brought quick communication to the Mud Lake territory in 1920.

Mud Lakers were of many different religious faiths. Catholics attended church in Middle River; Pentecostals held services in their homes; the one Jewish family, the Wallers, had to make their own services; and several Lutheran groups held services in school houses. Zion and Golden Valley were the two congregations of Lutherans in the area. Both were extensions of the Home Mission Field based out of Nazareth Norwegian Lutheran church in Holt.

Economic Security Commissioner in area

Commissioner R. Jane Brown and staff pay office visits in Thief River Falls and Roseau this week

Earl R. Wilson
Deputy Commissioner
Minnesota Department of Jobs and Training

by Marvin Lundin
Northern Watch Editor

To obtain additional local area information as well as complete a goal of visiting all local offices in the state, Commissioner R. Jane Brown of the Minnesota Department of Economic Security visited her department's offices in Thief River Falls Tuesday and Roseau on Wednesday.

Joining her on the tour, which also included stops at Detroit Lakes, International Falls and Cloquet, were Earl R. Wilson, deputy commissioner; Oary Sorensen, assistant commissioner for Job Service/Unemployment Insurance; and Norena hale, assistant commissioner for the Division of Rehabilitation Services.

Commissioner Brown said one of the purposes of the visit in this area was to gain additional local information on the reported shortage of workers to fill jobs being created by growth and expansion of businesses in this area of the state. She said there are plans to host a conference with other state agencies this fall to look for possible solutions to the problem.

"We are certainly aware of the situation," she said. "In fact, we could see this coming about a year ago when Polaris Industries contacted Governor Carlson's office in regard to a large planned expansion in Roseau. She said that one of the concerns of Polaris was a rumor that the Job Service office in Roseau might be closed. Assurance was given, she said, that not only would the office be retained but expanded if necessary. As it turns out, expansion is just what took place.

Commissioner Brown observed that finding workers to fill job openings is only one part of the problem. Availability of adequate available and affordable rental housing is a major concern, she said, and one of the primary difficulties faced by workers available and willing to relocate to counties like Roseau and Pennington where job growth is occurring.

Because of the several problem areas that relate to rapid employment increase—desirable and welcome as that might be—the fall conference is being considered to include the Housing Finance Agency and the Department of Trade and Economic Development as well as the Department of Economic Security. Other departments and/or agencies may also be involved.

"Over the past two years, largely as a result of input from the people in our offices around the state, we have developed a focus on employers being our primary customers," the commissioner said. "We found that in the past, in an effort to find work for our applicants, we had often sent the wrong people to apply for available positions. As a result employers became irritated by receiving unqualified applicants and quit listing openings with us."

Rev. Bare speaks against nude dancing club

Alexandria — An overflow crowd packed the Alexandria City Hall to protect the opening of a nude dancing club, "Bump and Grind," in the city. The council passed a moratorium that will prevent any more adult-oriented businesses from opening in the city and is looking into what can be done about the club that is already open in the city. Rev. Geoff Bare, pastor at Alexandria Christian Church, was spokesperson for the group protesting the nude dancing club.

Norman county is considering curfew

Ada — Norman county officials are discussing a county-wide curfew ordinance for its young people. Police Chief Greg Holmvik said that a new curfew will help address a problem. "There is a definite problem of young juveniles out at 1 and 2 a.m., not only in Ada but the other communities as well. Something is needed for the kid's sake, and to help parents. It would be best if we can do it on a county-wide basis to create uniformity between all the communities."

SOUPCON
Sherry LaCoursiere

Cool salads today for that sunny weather we are going to get ... really soon. If it doesn't stop raining, I'm going to print recipes for homemade soups again because it is starting to feel like fall.

Now if I can just find "junket" in the store, I can make this delicious sounding salad:

RICE ALMOND-INE SALAD
1 quart milk
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 cup cold water
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 package frozen raspberries
2/3 cup rice
1 package Knox gelatin
1 (8 ounce) container Cool Whip
1 package raspberry junket

Cook rice, milk and sugar until rice is done. Add gelatin dissolved in cold water. Cool well.

Mix Cool Whip and almond extract. Add to rice mixture and chill.

Combine raspberry junket made as directed and frozen raspberries, including juice. Pour over chilled rice. Chill.

You can't get much easier than this:

TANGY FRUIT SALAD
1 (3 ounce) box instant vanilla pudding
1 tablespoon Tang
1 can chunk pineapple, reserve juice
2 cans mandarin oranges, drained
2 bananas

Combine pudding mix and Tang in bowl. Mix with juice from pineapple. Add pineapple chunks, oranges and sliced bananas. Mix well and chill.

This yummy fruit salad will go well with sandwiches or a spicy dish:

APRICOT SALAD
1 large apricot Jello
1 (15 ounce) can crushed pineapple with juice
2 cups buttermilk
8 ounce container Cool Whip

Heat pineapple to boiling and add Jello. Cool and add buttermilk and Cool Whip.

Chill in glass loaf pan. To serve, cut into squares and serve with topping of Cool Whip or a mixture of salad dressing, sugar and Cool Whip.

This yummy treat can be served as a dessert or as a salad on a lettuce cup:

GRAPE-NUT WHIP
2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup cream, whipped
1 cup chunk pineapple, drained
1 cup sliced red grapes
2 cups diced marshmallows
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine eggs, sugar and lemon juice in double boiler. Cook over hot water until slightly thickened. Remove from heat and cool.

When cool, fold in remaining ingredients. Chill 5-6 hours or overnight.

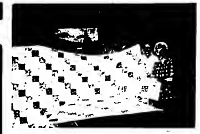
NWRDC offers grants to performing, visual artists

Applications for grants of up to $500 for individual artists are being accepted by the arts council of the Northwest Regional Development Commission.

Supported with funding from the McKnight Foundation, this program provides artists with grants for specific projects which contribute directly to their creative and professional growth and development. Deadline for application is August 1.



Artists may apply for assistance with costs associated with the production and presentation of work, professional training, supplies related to specific projects and other services. Applications are encouraged from individuals working in literary, performing or visual art.

Artists must be Minnesota residents who have resided in the seven-county northwestern Minnesota area for at least one year prior to the August 1 deadline. Counties included in the region are Kittson, Roseau, Marshall, Pennington, Polk, Red Lake and Norman.

Application guidelines and forms are available from Mara Lunde, Arts Council Director, NWRDC, 525 Brooks Avenue South, Thief River Falls, MN 56701 or by calling 681-2637 or 1-800-450-2637.

Advice is given by Fagin (Tracy Sayler) to one of the youthful thieves as Two Rivers Area Theatre cast members rehearse for the summer theater play "Oliver." The play will be presented in the Red Lake Falls community hall Thursday through Saturday, July 21-23, at 7:30 p.m. and Sunday, July 24, at 2 p.m.

Two thieves (Joanne Swentek and Kyle Welter) pick the pocket of Fagin (Tracy Sayler) in this scene from "Oliver," the summer theater production of the Two Rivers Area Theater. The musical will be presented July 21, 22 and 23 at 7:30 p.m. and July 24 at 2 p.m. in the Red Lake Falls community hall. In the background are Seul LaCoursiere (left) and Mike Noel.

This large quilt with matching throw pillows was recently completed by a number of tenants at Skylite Apartments who worked on the project throughout the past winter. Showing the quilt are Fern Kopecky and Gladys Johnson. The Skylite Apartments Tenants Association is conducting a fund-raising raffle on the quilt with tickets being sold for 50 cents each or three for a dollar. They are available from tenants at the apartment complex and the drawing will be held September 13.

Marshall Co. historical society reviews fair and donations

Marshall County Historical Society board met July 11 at the museum office in Warren to discuss the recently completed county fair, Minnesota Humanities Commission presentation July 24 and a donation of $5,000 from Mrs. Delmar Hagen of Gatzke.

"Sports and Our Communities" is the topic of the Humanities Commission presentation scheduled for 1:30 p.m. Sunday, July 24. The public is invited to attend.

Following discussion of the gift received from Mrs. Hagen, the board voted to start a building fund. Anyone wishing to donate to the fund may contact the society's office at P.O. Box 103, Warren, MN 56762 or call 745-4803.

Rev. Bare speaks against nude dancing club

Alexandria — An overflow crowd packed the Alexandria City Hall to protect the opening of a nude dancing club, "Bump and Grind," in the city. The council passed a moratorium that will prevent any more adult-oriented businesses from opening in the city and is looking into what can be done about the club that is already open in the city. Rev. Geoff Bare, pastor at Alexandria Christian Church, was spokesperson for the group protesting the nude dancing club.

Polk County Fair closed due to wet weather

Fertile — Wet weather caused the Polk County Fair in Fertile to shut down last Thursday and Friday. Most of the days' activities were cancelled and concession stands and the midway were inactive all day Thursday. Late Friday afternoon the weather cleared up and activities resumed. Former fair board members said they could not ever remember a time when the fair shut down previously.

Norman county is considering curfew

Ada — Norman county officials are discussing a county-wide curfew ordinance for its young people. Police Chief Greg Holmvik said that a new curfew will help address a problem. "There is a definite problem of young juveniles out at 1 and 2 a.m., not only in Ada but the other communities as well. Something is needed for the kid's sake, and to help parents. It would be best if we can do it on a county-wide basis to create uniformity between all the communities."

SOUPCON

Sherry LaCoursiere

Cool salads today for that sunny weather we are going to get ... really soon. If it doesn't stop raining, I'm going to print recipes for homemade soups again because it is starting to feel like fall.

Now if I can just find "junket" in the store, I can make this delicious sounding salad:

RICE ALMOND-INE SALAD

1 quart milk
2/3 cup sugar
1/4 cup cold water
1 teaspoon almond extract
1 package frozen raspberries
2/3 cup rice
1 package Knox gelatin
1 (8 ounce) container Cool Whip
1 package raspberry junket

Cook rice, milk and sugar until rice is done. Add gelatin dissolved in cold water. Cool well.

Mix Cool Whip and almond extract. Add to rice mixture and chill.

Combine raspberry junket made as directed and frozen raspberries, including juice. Pour over chilled rice. Chill.

You can't get much easier than this:

TANGY FRUIT SALAD

1 (3 ounce) box instant vanilla pudding
1 tablespoon Tang
1 can chunk pineapple, reserve juice
2 cans mandarin oranges, drained
2 bananas

Combine pudding mix and Tang in bowl. Mix with juice from pineapple. Add pineapple chunks, oranges and sliced bananas. Mix well and chill.

This yummy fruit salad will go well with sandwiches or a spicy dish:

APRICOT SALAD

1 large apricot Jello
1 (15 ounce) can crushed pineapple with juice
2 cups buttermilk
8 ounce container Cool Whip

Heat pineapple to boiling and add Jello. Cool and add buttermilk and Cool Whip.

Chill in glass loaf pan. To serve, cut into squares and serve with topping of Cool Whip or a mixture of salad dressing, sugar and Cool Whip.

This yummy treat can be served as a dessert or as a salad in a lettuce cup:

GRAPE-NUT WHIP

2 well-beaten eggs
1/2 cup sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup cream, whipped
1 cup chunk pineapple, drained
1 cup sliced red grapes
2 cups diced marshmallows
1/2 cup chopped walnuts

Combine eggs, sugar and lemon juice in double boiler. Cook over hot water until slightly thickened. Remove from heat and cool.

When cool, fold in remaining ingredients. Chill 5-6 hours or overnight.

PASTOR CURTIS JACOBSON
"COMMUNITY CHURCH"

JOSHUA 24:15 And if it seem evil unto you to serve the Lord, choose you this day whom ye will serve; whether the gods which your fathers served that WERE on the other side of the flood, or the gods of the Amorites, in whose land ye dwell: but as for me and my house, we will serve the Lord.

Who will we serve? We find all kinds of reasons why we can't serve Jesus now. Some of these excuses are: 1. not today, 2. we tried once and failed, 3. I don't need a savior, 4. there are too many hypocrites in the church, etc.

Let's stop making excuses now, and choose this day to serve Jesus with all of our might.
